French keeps railroad time. Sauer krant at Parker Bros. Engineer E. J. O'Connor is in the city. Finest line of syrups in the city Parker Bros. Ask C. B. Winn for rates on Eastern tickets. A. Boenike has returned from a trip to Portland.

Graham and wife came up last evening from Portland. Messrs. Harper Crano and John Ison, Jr., are on a trip to Astoria. Mr. and Mrs. Dr. E. L. Irvine, of Portland, are visiting in the city. Attorney General Chamberlain's words of approval from all sources. F. E. Allen returned last evening from a business trip to the metropolis. Great reduction in sugar, consult Gradwohl's advertisement for particulars.

Call at French's jewelry store and see the "Lunar" clock. The latest thing out. Hon. Allen Parker and John Priest, of Yaquina bay, were in the city yesterday. Prof. J. B. Horner has purchased the Corvallis residence of State School Superintendent McElroy. The city council met last night, but no quorum being present an adjournment was taken until Wednesday evening. J. H. Doty, of Alsea valley, living at the mouth of the river, was in the city this week looking after business matters. The Corvallis Marine Band will give a grand masque ball on Christmas night, which promises to be a brilliant affair.

The former Mrs. Foster, who received a divorce from her husband and over $6000, the Corvallis Times says, has left for her former home in Wisconsin. Look at G. W. Simpson's display of holiday goods in his show window. Then step inside and see his splendid stock of beautiful goods for Christmas. Mr. Alfred Drury, of Mabel, in Lane county, a resident of Linn county until the legislature took off a slice into Lane county, was in Albany yesterday.

Those wishing to rent wigs for the masquerade ball, apply to the lady hair dresser, corner Third and Calapooia streets before Tuesday night, Dec. 15. One of the most beautiful scenes in Belahazar is that in which the angel appears and sings to Cryus, everybody should see it. Look out for display of costumes. Call and see the brilliant display of library lamps at C. E. Brownell's. Not one kept over from last year but all this year's styles and will be sold at the lowest living prices.

The Chapel car "Evangel" will be here to-day at noon, and will be side tracked at the depot. Evangelistic services will be held in the car by Rev. E. G. Wheeler, "conductor," at 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. All are invited to attend. W. S. Phillips has the agency for the Salem Steam Laundry, and those who do not wish to employ Chinese laundrying, can have their clothes sent every Tuesday morning and returned Saturday noon. See him at T. L. Wallace & Company's.

The city of Albany has a complete democratic city government, and Salem is republican or nearly so. Watch the two towns.—Salem Journal. That is a mistake. Albany government is neither democratic nor republican, the officials being divided. Politics does not figure. Messrs. J. M. Taylor and C. H. Bursholder, of Cottage Grove, have been in Eugene the past week trying to prevail upon the board of trade to appropriate $500 to complete a trail to the Bohemia mines. They gave flattering reports of the richness of the mines and of the big returns from their work.

The Astorian refused to advocate the election of Mr. Crosby for mayor of Astoria, thereupon Mr. Crosby got mad and discontinued his advertisement. Poor Crosby, that shows plainly that he is not fit to be mayor of Astoria. A business man does not carry his advertisement in a newspaper as a testimonial of his regard for that particular paper, we hope, but rather because it is profitable for him to do so.—Pendleton East Oregonian.

Mrs. Duniway, in the Coming Century, notices the attorney general for Oregon as follows: General George E. Chamberlain is now the distinguished incumbent, who has performed the duties of his office with credit to the state and honor to himself. Mr. Chamberlain is a bright and talented lawyer, and the governor could not have selected a man more worthy of the office, and one who will more ably and conscientiously perform the duties thereof.

ALBANY AND THE OREGON PACIFIC.

The People of Albany Show Confidence in Col. Hogg and the Future of the Road.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD. There has been a disposition in many portions of Oregon to attack Col. Hogg, president and receiver of the Oregon Pacific railroad, as well as the road itself, but I desire to enter a protest against such a feeling being ascribed to Albany. The growth and marked advancement of this city during the past few years has been directly due to the building of this road. Although the work of construction has been stopped recently on account of some disagreement among the bondholders, it is reliably stated that these differences have been settled, and I am credibly informed that the coming summer will witness the active resumption of the work of pushing the road eastward on a basis that will insure the completion at an early day. As a citizen of Albany I wish to vigorously object to any hostility to the road or its managers being ascribed to Albany.

CITIZEN. In this connection the HERALD desires to say that it has heretofore felt justified in criticizing the management of the road on the point of the delay in the payment of its employees, but this must not be construed as an hostility to the road or its managers. The men are now being paid, and they have faithfully stood by the road at all times. The HERALD can only say what it has said on previous occasions, that Col. Hogg has spent the best part of his life in this undertaking. He has mapped out a great work, in which he has associated with himself some of the wealthy and influential railroad men of New York. They own extensive property interests in Albany and it would be to their interest to advance and promote the growth of this city.

Recent developments indicate that they will hereafter be in a position to carry out their plans for the extension of the road, which has heretofore been retarded by a quarrel among the bondholders. The people of Albany have confidence that Col. Hogg and his associates will have the ability to do this, and they are entrusted by the men whose millions are backing the road with the work of carrying forward this great undertaking under the most favorable conditions. The people of Albany will hope to see them succeed, and will in the future, as in the past, do all in their power to assist the undertaking and promote the interests of the road, which are identical with those of the city.

Oregon Fruit. Mr. J. P. Backenst, having read of the Talamoc story of ripe berries in December, walked into our office yesterday morning with some bushes of the red raspberry variety, complete with leaves and with the largest and most perfect samples of the most delicious berry. Mr. Backenst makes a regular business of having a winter crop of these berries. They grow in all sections of Oregon except the extreme north and south. The Siuslaw West says that "Mr. Chas. Sherbondy, comes walking into our office and presents us with an armful of red raspberry bushes which were loaded down with luscious ripe berries. Mr. Sherbondy informs us that he has a large patch of these bushes which bear regularly two crops each year. The second crop is nearly as profuse as the first and the flavor is equal if not more palatable than the first. On the branches shown us are berries in all stages of growth—from the bloom to ripe berries."

A Church Blows Down. The Barger Bros. and John Bigelow, of Eugene, says the Guard, are contractors for the building of the C. P. church at Seaside, in Linn county. They had the frame up and most of the rustic and shingles on when a heavy wind, Dec. 3, blew it down. They put on more men and had got the frame up again Monday, the 7th, when the wind again leveled it to the ground. They do not propose to give up and are tackling it for the third time.

Public School Literary. The literary society held its regular meeting on Tuesday evening, and although the weather was bad a very fair attendance was out and an interesting programme was rendered. The question discussed was, which has done this most good in the world, money or love. Love gained the day, as it usually does. The next meeting will be in two weeks.

The River. The river, which has been swollen, showing a rise of about 15 feet, began falling last night. The mills have been temporarily shut down on account of high water, and the electric light dynamo were propelled last night by the big engines. A little of the false work of the bridge was washed out, but no serious damage has been done, except to stop work.

Brownsville Election. At the city election on in Brownsville Monday the following officers were elected: Mayor, F. M. Jack; councilmen, E. L. Power, L. L. Say, C. H. Cable, J. C. Bilyeu, J. K. McFague and J. J. White; recorder, O. P. Coshaw; marshal, F. M. Powell; treasurer, C. E. Stamford.

To Be Given Away. An elegant dressed doll will be given away by the Ladies' Bazaar on Christmas Eve. It will be that beautiful French doll now on exhibition in their show window. Every purchaser of one dollar's worth of goods will receive a ticket. Don't miss this opportunity of securing the prize doll of Albany.

NEWS OF THE COAST.

Interesting Items from Exchange Throughout the Northwest.

The Ashland woolen mill has shut down and will probably remain so until the beginning of the year. A woman named Mrs. Solberg, a "grass widow" and the mother of four children, left Elgin last week with a Chinese paramour. She and her Mongolian were driven out of Enterprise, Walla walla county, a few days previously. At the recent term of circuit court held in Canyon City, D. I. Ashbury, editor of the News, recovered damages for $20,000 against a villain by the name of M. S. Hellman for invading the sanctity of the plaintiff's home. Hellman is said to have property to cover the amount. R. S. Whiteman has been missing from Elgin since the 14th of last month. He has a brother at Walla Walla, and all efforts to ascertain his whereabouts have proved futile. There is no apparent reason why he should leave the country, and on the other hand, he has a family living in Missoula, and there is no apparent reason why he should remain.

The trial of Frank Coleman, who was jointly indicted with Abner Hall, for the crime of murder in the first degree for the killing of Patrick Sheehan in Union county, was concluded Tuesday and the jury returned a verdict of assault and battery. Coleman was fined $200. Hall's case has not yet been called up for trial, and probably will not be at the present term. Preparations are being made already throughout Marion county for the general election, will be according to the Australian ballot system. Fourteen thousand pounds of steel are on the way to Salem, to be used in constructing booths for voters, which will be used in that county at the next election. At the January term the county court will name the judges and clerks of election, and make changes in the election precincts, as under this law there must not be over 250 electors in a single precinct. Four booths are allowed each precinct.

During the storm at Astoria Monday the sawdust furnace and chute leading thereto, belonging to the Clatsop mill, blew down, the damages being in the neighborhood of $300. The roof of the roundhouse belonging to Taylor's motor line at Smith's point blew off. The Russian-Finn church, near the old gas works, and its foundation, at Clatsop, while the train was coming up from Seaside, a tree fell and crashed through the cab back of the engine, bandily smashing it. At Skippan the storm was very severe the Methodist church being blown off its foundation. The large barn of F. M. Warren was blown down to pieces, also the roundhouse at Warrenton. The residence of H. Harrison was blown off its foundation, and the fences and trees were blown about like pieces of paper. The electric works at Clatsop, while the train was coming up from Seaside, a tree fell and crashed through the cab back of the engine, bandily smashing it. Increased Assessment. The assessors of twenty-five counties out of thirty-one have handed in their assessment rolls to the secretary of state, and all show an increase over 1890, with the exception of Grant and Baker counties. The total returns by the twenty-five assessors show a total taxable property amounting to $102,081,768, and estimating the six counties not yet heard from—Yamhill, Morrow, Lane, Douglas, Clatsop and Benton—the same as 1890, there will be a grand total of $122,150,498, as against a total of 144,077,788 for the thirty-one counties in 1890. From reports received these counties will show an increase, and it is presumed the aggregate taxable property returned to the state board of equalization for adjustment and equalization for this December meeting will fall little short of $130,000,000.

The Weather To-Day. For Oregon and Washington rains and warmer in western Washington and northwestern Oregon, extending eastward.

Bazaar Entertainment. The ladies of the Congregational church are busily engaged making preparations for the bazaar entertainment to be given at the opera house Friday next. Refreshments will be served and a short programme of music, recitations, etc. will be rendered. Miss Edith Harris, of Salem, has been engaged to sing. Dolls, nicely dressed will be for sale from 25 cents to the finest to be found anywhere, and fancy articles of many kinds will be on exhibition and for sale. An admission of 10 cents will be charged at the door.

Holiday Presents. Remember that the Ladies Bazaar have their full line of useful holiday goods displayed and ready for inspection. This line embraces all the novelties and staples in fancy goods, handkerchiefs, kid gloves, silk mittens, fans, gloves and handkerchief cases, throws, scarfs, banners, shawls, aprons, purses, beads, photo cases, hair ornaments, and an endless variety of dressed and undressed dolls ranging in price from ten cents to ten dollars. Latest styles and lowest prices. No trouble to show goods.

Solaville water is kept constantly on hand by the bottle at G. L. Blackman's drug store. Ladies wishing kid gloves in delicate tints for evening wear should call at the Ladies Bazaar. At Will & Stark's can be seen some of the most beautiful ladies gold watches, which have just been received.

That Lane County Justice.

Mention has been made of the peculiar findings of the Lane county justice of the peace, in committing a 14-year-old girl to the county jail. The Eugene Register says Miss May Shanks, a girl aged 14 years, had trouble at Fall Creek recently and was about to serve a term in the county jail for not paying a $50 fine imposed by the justice there. It seemed that there was scarlet fever or diphtheria in Miss Shanks' home and the postmaster had forbidden her entering the postoffice, which is a private residence, and said he would place her in a box outside. According to the story she went to the postoffice one day recently and found the door locked against her. She offered a boy six bits to unlock it and he did so. She then went in and had a row with the postmaster's wife and gave her a black eye. She was arrested and tried before a jury on a charge of assault and battery and was found guilty. The justice got hold of the circuit court statute and fined her $50, the lowest penalty. But the lowest is in justice, court for the offense is $5. The girl would not pay the fine and was brought to Eugene to be placed in the jail. Here the matter was adjusted and she agreed to pay a fine of $5 and so was taken back.

The Coming Century. We are in receipt of The Coming Century, a new literary magazine, which has just made its initial bow to the public at Portland, Oregon. It is a first class, high toned literary magazine, furnished at the very low price of $3 00 per annum, and is under the editorial control of Mrs. Abigail Scott Duniway, without doubt the best known and ablest know lady journalist on the Pacific Coast, and one of the best in the world. No woman of the west is better known than Mrs. Duniway, and no matter how widely opinions may differ as to her peculiar hobby—woman suffrage—all must admit her power as a journalist to please, interest and hold her readers. Among the many first class writers, novelists, poets and thinkers who have been engaged to contribute to The Coming Century are Mrs. Abigail Scott Duniway, editor in chief, Naomi McDonald Phelps, Geo. P. Wheeler, James A. Carey, Wm. Lyons Metcalf, Ella Higginson, Eugene L. Thorpe, Rev. Olympia Brown, James G. Clark, Alice Stone Blackwell, Mary Anne Livermore, and many other celebrated writers from both east and west. We welcome Mrs. Duniway back to her familiar haunts in journalism, and bespeak for The Coming Century a success unparalleled in the annals of similar publications. The terms of The Coming Century are $3 00 per annum, in advance.

ENORMOUS ELEVATORS. The Great Lifting Machines at the Falls. The largest elevators for carrying passengers in the world have just been completed on the banks of the Hudson, near Weehawken. The high table land in New Jersey, opposite New York city, and between the Hudson river and the Hackensack, has up the time, been used for a general purpose for pleasure and residence as it should have been. This elevated plain, known as the Palisades, is at its beginning some 150 feet above high tide, and is over a mile wide at the same point. It stretches north for many miles up the Hudson river, and naturally rises in elevation as it proceeds. This high land has been accessible only by steep grades for wagon roads and by means of stairways which climbed laboriously up the steep cliffs.

The Hudson County Railway Company, which operates the elevated road at Hoboken and controls many of the street car lines in that neighborhood, has of late years been extending these lines and increasing the facilities for riding on top of the Palisades and from one part of this high plateau to another. The most recent addition to the plant of this company has been the building of huge elevators at Weehawken, where the ferries boats from Forty-second and Jay streets, New York city, discharge their passengers, and where also the West Shore Railway starts north and west to Albany and Buffalo.

These elevators are the largest ever constructed for passengers, and in planning them the engineers have used the most modern devices to secure their safety against accidents. From the elevators, which rise just from the water's edge, there is an immense viaduct, or elevated railroad, which runs some 800 feet back to the hill where connections will be made with the various steam and horse cars which will run in one direction and another.—Harper's Weekly.

I am an old man and have been a constant sufferer with catarrh for the last ten years. I am entirely cured by the use of Ely's Cream Balm. It is strange that so simple a remedy will cure such a stubborn disease.—Henry Billings, U. S. Pension Atty., Washington, D. C. For eight years I have suffered from catarrh, which affected my eyes and hearing; have employed many physicians without relief. I am now on my second bottle of Ely's Cream Balm, and feel confident of a complete cure.—Mary C. Thompson, Cerrito Gordo, Ill.
