THE INDEPENDENT.

FOREST GROVE. May, 14, 1874.

Local News.

The Eugene Journal says: On last Saturday Miss Adelaid Couey, daughter of Mr. Thomas Couey, was drowned in the McKenzie river. The particulars, as near as we have been able to learn, are as follows; Miss Couey and Miss Ella McCornack went out to take a walk, and in their rambles came to the river bank, where was tied a skiff. They heedlessly stepped into the skiff and seated themselves to rest and amuse themselves. The skiff not being securely fastened, the rocking of the boat slipped it from its fastenings and floated out into the current, which soon carried them over some rapids, just below where the boat was tied, capsizing the boat and throwing both young ladies into the swift current. Miss McCornack, after sinking once or twice, caught a limb projecting over the water and thus saved herself, while Miss Couey passed out of sight. Her body had not been found up to the time our informant left yesterday noon. Miss Couey was a young lady about sixteen years of age, and very highly respected in her neighborhood.

Our Forest Grove readers will remember that Miss McCornack mentioned in the above item attended school at this place two years ago.

Tillamook

George Hines returned Monday from Tillamook. He reports that there are about three miles of snow four feet deep on the mountains which makes traveling difficult, the snow being soft. The people of Tillamook are out of meat except game, and they subsist mostly, on milk, bread and potatoes. A bachelor by the name of Keys went over there in company with George and took up a homestead. George got some old gears and fixed up a sled and hauled enough timbers to make the man a house. Our informant says that there are about thirty old bachelors in Tillamook and that they are opposed to having any more of that kind of men come into that country. Vegetation there as in the Willamette valley and stock of all kinds look quite poor. Mr. Hines rode from the foot of the mountains on the other side in a day—a distance of fifty miles, and considering the snow and roughness of the trail and that his horses walked the whole way, that was pretty fair traveling.

PRECINCT TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.

Forest Grove, May 9th 1874.

Pursuant to a call made by the Washington Co., Temperance Mass meeting, held at Hillsboro, April 25th 1874, the Forest Grove Precinct convention met at the Dist. School house of this place and organized by calling L. Bilyeu to the chair, and electing J. T. Martin secretary. The object of the meeting being to elect delegates to attend the County Temperance convention to be held at Hillsboro, Oregon, May 16th 1874, a motion was made to elect by acclamation. The following gentlemen were elected: Wm. McLeod, L. Bilyeu, G. H. Collier, A. L. Johnson and A. J. Anderson. A few spirited remarks were then made by Messrs. Wm. McLeod, A. L. Johnson, L. Bilyeu and J. G. Stevenson. A motion was made to empower, those of the above named delegates, present at the county convention, to cast the full vote of the delegation.

On motion Adj.

L. Bilyeu Chairman.

The Grange at this place held a long session Saturday last. They assembled just after noon and did not break up until after six o'clock. They must have something good to eat at these meetings as well as to talk about, else they could not hold such long sessions. It is hard that editors are debarred from the Grange, especially such a one as us who have been plowing up the ground with a shovel and sowing potatoes for a whole week. We know what sorrel, mullein, "ferrin," toadstools, oak grubbs and all such weeds as well as any granger that ever lived, and we repeat it that it is an outrage that we are shut out of the Grange. We had intended to make application for membership but Bro. Davis of the late Progressionist was denied and that discouraged us, for if they would reject a man of such Websterian intellect and beautiful form our chances would be desperate indeed.

Jerome Porter returned from the Stickeen mines last week. He left the mines about the 15th of April. He proposes to return in a month, and advises no one to go up there for a month yet. The ground is frozen which prevents prospecting or mining and the price of provisions is beyond the means of most men. Mr. Porter says there were 300 men in the mines when he left but hundreds are pouring in all the time. Some gold hunters attracted by the report have already arrived there from the Atlantic and Western States. Mr. Simpson of this place is up there and has located claims. Mr. Porter has claims both on Dease and Tibbetts creeks. He states that one company was taking out ten ounces of gold per day when he left, and they had to thaw the ground that they worked by building fires upon it. Men who go up there will have to hunt mines for but little paying diggings have been discovered yet.

Editor.—The following is Josh Billings' definition of an editor: An editor iz a male being whose business iz to navigate a newspaper. He writes editorials, grinds out poetry, inserts deaths and weddings. Sorts out manuskripts, keeps a waste basket, blows up the "devil," fites other people's battles, steals matter, sells hiz paper for two or three dollars a year, takes white beans and apple sass for his pay when he can get it, raises a large family, works nineteen hours out of every twenty-four, knows no Sunday, gits dammed by evrybody and once in a while whipt by somebody, lives poor, dies middle-aged and often broken-hearted, leaves no money, iz rewarded for a life of toil with a short but free obituary puff in the nuze papers. Exchanges please copy.

Mr. Leabo our townsman has put in 80 acres of grain on the Jo Davis farm this spring. Now we would like to see the man who would put his fingers to his nose and say Mr. Leabo is not a Granger.

Dead, Dead, Dead.—None of our exchanges have noticed the demises of the Progressionist, and it has been dead for three weeks. This is explained by the fact that the Progressionist was not a local paper and its puerile attempts for prominence in State journalism made it so worthless as a medium of news or public opinion that its death is unknown except by its two dozen subscribers. Its outside was printed in San Francisco, and the inside as well have been printed in China for all the news or opinions it contained.

House-Cleaning days have come the saddest of the year, when wives with stormy elbows and mops and brooms appear. Men stand and eat cold potatoes looking mild and subdued, taking jaw-bone and stovewood with becoming [illegible] [illegible] on the streets and talk in voices sad and low, and slip to bed at midnight when sleeps the sudsy foe. (Now we have a copyright for this item and the man that steals it without giving us credit will catch lightning.)

Lecture.—Last evening a gentleman lectured at the Congregational church. We have not seen any one yet who knows what the lecture was about and as we were not present we know nothing about it. The boys say that he used a new sort of multiplication table, and made it appear that 6 plus 7 equal 12, which proves that the gentleman has surmounted a difficulty that has been a stumbling block to philosophers.

The Stickeen Mines are all the excitement now. Reports are somewhat conflicting of late and we would advise those in our county who think of going up there to wait until we get more satisfactory reports. It seems that living in that frozen country is pretty expensive. Flour sells at $1 per pound, bacon $1, tea and coffee $3, and sugar not to be had. The ground was still frozen as late as the fifteenth of April.

Notice.—Mr. Robinson our Photographic artist has rented his rooms to Mr. DuVall who will conduct the business of photography in all its departments, and who solicits the patronage of the Grove and county. Mr. DuVall was engaged in this business at this place last year and consequently you know him better than we do. Give him a Call and he will give you satisfaction.

Gone.—Dr. Davis late editor of the dead Progressionist departed for his home in Missouri last Saturday. His brother-in-law Z. Taylor went with him. Mr. Davis was an honorable man in his business and did as nearly right as he knew how, but he got into the hands of the Ring and he necessarily became their tool in this county.

Temperance Lecture.

Rev. R. G. Hawn, will deliver a lecture at the Congregational church Friday evening at half past seven o'clock on the subject of temperance. Mr. Hawn is Lecturer and Organiser of the Champions of the Red Cross of this State and will try to organize an Encampment at this place. The Public is cordially invited to attend.

Isaac Whealdon who used to go to school here three or four years ago was in town this week. He and his brother Jo have located homesteads near Shoalwater Bay in W. T. where they have been living ever since they left school. He has not changed much in appearance save that he is heavier, and has a young whisker on his chin.

Mr. Loosingall, who lives up on the Lakes several miles north of this place, killed a large fat bear in his neighborhood last week. It was in a tree when he shot it. He killed it at the first fire. It had an inch of fat on its loins and would have weighed three hundred pounds easily, though Mr. Loosingall did not weigh it.

Did not Understand it.—When Mr Butler & Carey agents for the Continental insurance company were here last, Mr Butler approached a man from Tillamook county and asked him if he would like to take out an insurance policy. Tillamook told Butler that he would take some bacon. Butler gave it up.

We learn that Rev. D. B. Gray who was invited lately by the Congregational church at this place to accept the pastorate of said church has declined, owing to bad health. This is a disappointment to the people here.

Here is a puzzle. Can you solve it? The Boston Journal has settled the Adam and Eve apple question. It says:

Eve said C. I. 81	150,181
Adam replies C. I. X. L. I. 82	10,011,050,182
	10,001,150,363

Grouse, ducks, pheasants, etc. are growing tame and fat in the woods, and shotguns rusty. The boys are becoming quite proficient at croquet and the girls likewise at coquette.

Miss Hattie Condon who is teaching school out in the country was in town Sunday. Chas. Collier teaches at Russell and Manning's mill and stays at home nearly every Sabbath.

See the last amendment of the Hog Law. The one which was published a short time ago virtually killed the ordinance, putting the whole matter into the hands of the Marshal.

You cannot get better photographs in Portland than Robinson takes. His work here this spring proves him to be a first-class photographic artist.

The Early Rose is the proper kind of spuds to plant for early potatoes. The "King of the Earlies" is another excellent variety for early table use.

Forest Grove has got them at last. Mr. N. E. Goodell's children have got the measels. We have not had them yet and would not go across the street to get them.

Extremes Meet.—A married couple in this county weigh in the aggregate four hundred pounds, the wife weighing about 275 and the husband 125.

Mr. Hurd is getting ready to make brick. He has erected three mortars and is preparing the yards. The location is in the eastern part of the town.

We planted a bed of parsnips this spring and we have about concluded to pull up the few parsnips that have sprouted and let the weeds have a fair show.

It is the talk that an independent candidate for the office of Clerk in this County will be announced soon.

YAMHILL LETTER.

Newberg, May 1st, 1874.

Editor Independent:

The report came this morning from Champoeg that a Mr. Thomas Hubbard was shot through the neck by a half breed by the name of Cousin. It seems that the man Cousin had taken a contract of Mr. Hubbard and getting tired of the job threw it up and demanded pay for what he had done. Hubbard refused to pay anything until the job was completed. The half-breed answered saying that he could d—d soon finish the job, and drawing a revolver shot him as stated above. The wound is very dangerous if not fatal. At last accounts Cousin was at liberty. Hubbard is much respected and the community is shocked not a little by the savage affair. There may be another side to the story that we have not yet heard, but so far the people sympathize deeply with Hubbard and his family.

My readers I hope, will excuse the want of elegance in the above and following items, for the store where I am writing is full of men one of whom is just drunk enough to feel eloquent and is giving the Woman's Crusade a noisy showing up. If only a fourth of his noise was argument as he thinks it is, wouldn't those brave and earnest women suffer—surrender—haul down their colors and quit?

Circuit Court is what ails the people of this County just now. Deputy Sheriffs are seen riding in hot haste in every direction hunting jurors and witnesses. It is just a little too rainy to plow and harrow, and as the grouse now have license to hoot, everybody and his boys goe courting.

The good people of Dayton at their annual meeting voted to build a twenty-five hundred dollar school house. It is a thing that they have long needed there, and have long contended for, but have failed to get until this year.

We were informed to-day, by Robert Putman, who by the way, was on his way home to nurse his right knee which he had cut pretty severely with an ax, that the preliminary steps were taken to organize a new School District on the line between this and Washington county, on Chehalem Mountain. There are now about three would-be teachers to one school house in this county. A few more new districts with the necessary four walls, roof and floor, would give some of these broad shouldered, deep chested, well muscled, sound limbed, hearty invalids useful employment by which many of them can get their necessary tobacco and cigars.

Your compositor made me say "Bear predominates" where I wrote "fear predominates" in my last communication.
