

THE INDEPENDENT.

THURSDAY, JAN. 5, 1888

The opposition to the appointment of Lamar to the supreme bench is growing stronger and more determined. His known opposition to the amendments to the constitution, growing out of the late war of the rebellion, makes him especially odious to loyal statesmen. The following comment made upon a speech by Lamar in Mississippi during the days of reconstruction, published in the Vicksburg Herald, is greatly to his discredit, and places him clearly in the line as opposed to the amended sections to the constitution:

At Aberdeen last Saturday, Colonel Lamar made an eloquent speech. A better democratic speech we do not care to listen to, and in many and ringing tones he declared that the contest involved the supremacy of the unconquered and unconquerable Union. We were glad to hear this bold and manly avowal, and we were greeted with deafening plaudits. We have never seen men more terribly in earnest, and the democratic white-line speech made to them by Colonel Lamar aroused them to a white heat.

The celebration of the pontifical mass in Rome last Sunday was an event of great importance to members of the Catholic faith throughout the world. Forty-eight cardinals and two hundred and thirty-eight archbishops were present at mass, and it is estimated that at least thirty thousand people were present in the audience. The pope fainted twice during the ceremonies. This uncontrollable human weakness opens up a question of serious thought for the consideration of the most conservative believer in the omnipotence of his ecclesiastical highness. The fallibility of infallibility is most clearly defined in this weakness of human mind over mortal body.

The oldest pioneer in the United States is Rev. Geo. S. Rogers, who lives at Shelbyville, Ky. He is also the oldest Methodist minister in America, all his contemporary ecclesiastics have succumbed to a surfeit of yellow-legged chicken. He was born in Virginia in 1793 and is therefore 95 years old. He was living near Crab Orchard springs when the war of 1812 broke out, when he was among the first to volunteer. He became orderly sergeant of Captain V. S. Grayson's company and went through the war without receiving a wound of any kind. Mr. Rogers can read and write.

During March, April and May of last year 237,000,000 pounds of wool were exported from the colony of Victoria to England, and this is one of the smallest colonies of Australia devoted to this product. Perhaps Victoria produces one-seventh of the wool of Australia, and if this immense clip is thrown upon the markets of America, without the protective duty on the native product, it can easily be understood what a depressing influence it will have upon the industry.

Mr. Charles Dickens, Jr., says that he has "learned more of American politics in the last three weeks by reading the American newspapers than he had obtained from a thirty-years' study of books." He should come over and follow the bandwagon next summer if he desires to really get the inside track on information.

The San Francisco Examiner's Christmas issue had a description of Jerusalem and surroundings that was very agreeable reading for the day. It distanced all competitors and has become, in the short space of eighteen months, the foremost journal of the Pacific Coast. The Examiner in its career reports the old story of the automatic chess-player—"there's a man in it."

The postmasters of this country are making a strong effort to have their salaries raised. Third and fourth class postmasters to the number of 200, in convention at Washington, passed a resolution asking that the rent, light and fuel of their offices be paid by the government, and also asking other changes in the direction of better compensation for their services.

Miss Logan, daughter of General Logan, married a Mr. Tucker; Ex-Congressman Tucker's daughter married a Mr. Logan. A son has been the fruit of marriage in each instance, and the boys bear respectively the names Logan Tucker and Tucker Logan.

Old and reliable Medicines are the best to depend upon. Ayer's Blood Elixir has been prescribed for years for all impurities of the Blood, in every form of Scrofula, Syphilis or Mercurial disease, it is invaluable. For Rheumatism, has no equal.

At Night always have Ayer's Baby Soother at hand. It is the only safe medicine yet made that will remove all infantile disorders. It contains no Opium or Morphine, but gives the child natural ease from pain. Price 25 cents. Sold by W. L. Weathered, Hillsboro; Dr. Bowley, Forest Grove.

The reason why Ayer's Blood Elixir is so successful, is because it is the best Blood Preparation known. It will positively cure all Blood Diseases, purify the whole system, and thoroughly build up the constitution. Remember, we guarantee it.

A meeting of the young people was held here on the 2nd inst. Quite a number assembled and spent a most enjoyable and profitable time in listening to recitations and singing by the young people. Notwithstanding the short time they had for preparation, they acquitted themselves admirably.
A letter was read from Mr. Chalmers, who was unavoidably absent, in which he gave sound advice to old and young, assuring them that they could be happy only by being Christians. He based his appeal on his long life of experience, he having entered on his 71st year.
A number of pieces of appropriate music were finely rendered by the choir, under the leadership of Mr. F. Chalmers, with Miss Chalmers presiding at the organ.
Cake, candy, nuts and new year's cards were distributed to all. Every one seemed well pleased and voted the meeting a success.

By virtue of an execution, docket and order of sale, issued out of the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Washington, wherein P. M. Dennis, administrator of the estate of said Caleb Hunt, deceased, was plaintiff and Isaac Hunt et al, were defendants, and commanding me therein to satisfy the sum of $2480.82 with interest thereon from December the 5th, 1887, at the rate of 8 per cent per annum, and the further sum of $230 attorney's fees, and the sum of $27.35 costs and also the costs and expenses of said sale and of this writ, and by virtue of said execution I have made levy of the same upon the following described property to-wit: Beginning at a stake 50 rods east of the S. W. corner of section 11 on the line between sections 11 and 14, T. 1. south of range 4 west of the Willamette meridian, and running thence north on a line parallel with the west line of section 11, 80 rods to a stake, thence west 100 rods to the S. E. corner of the S. E. quarter of section ten, 90 rods to a stake, thence east 80 rods to a stake, thence north 10 rods to a stone, thence on the line of and including lots 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 of section 11, to the south-east corner of lot 5, thence west to the place of beginning, and containing 165.65 acres more or less, and by virtue of said execution and of said levy, I will, on TUESDAY, January 31st, 1888, at the hour of 2 o'clock P. M., sell the above described real property at public auction, at the South Door before the Court House in Hillsboro, in County and State aforesaid, to the highest bidder, for cash in hand, to satisfy the heretofore named sums.

Witness my hand, this Dec. 22d, 1887.

WASHINGTON COUNTY.

A Rich Agricultural District.

The New Year's edition of the Oregonian gives the following facts regarding our county, which is pretty correct except as to the population of Hillsboro, which, according to recent local census, gives us a population of nearly eight hundred inhabitants:

This county, which lies west of Multnomah and east of the Coast range, is a very different country from the river and coast regions above described. Much of this county is taken up by the Tualatin plains, a northern extension of the Willamette valley. Washington fronts neither on river nor ocean, and is purely a farming country. Like all of Western Oregon, it is finely watered and wooded. Its rich soil produces everything that grows in temperate latitudes, including the whole range of field, garden and orchard products. The settlements in Washington county were among the earliest in Oregon, and it is in no sense new country. There are good roads, fine dwellings, schools and churches everywhere. Washington county has very little to offer to the emigrant in the way of vacant lands, but the big farms of early days are being broken up into small tracts, and a farm sufficiently large can be bought at reasonable cost. The price of land ranges from $5 to $50 per acre, and the sellers are willing usually to make long terms of payment. In the foothills there is still some vacant land, and within the past two years there has been a considerable settlement of new comers in the foothills.

Washington county is connected with Portland by the west side branch of the O. & C. railroad, and much traffic is still done in wagons into Portland. The following figures from our last state census are from 1885:

Acres cultivated 69,967
Wheat, bushels 37,080
Wheat, bushels 300,929
Oats, bushels 556,808
Barley and rye, bushels 7,668
Hay, tons 18,379
Butter and cheese, lbs. 37,110
Potatoes, bushels 77,430
Apples, bushels 169,378
Prunes and plums, bushels 14,282
Lumber, feet 6,735,000

The returns for 1887 show a school population of 3774. During the year 195 teachers were employed, and the sum of $19,697.17 was expended for the maintenance of public schools. Besides these schools, there is at Forest Grove a college, in which higher branches are taught.

The assessor's report for 1887 shows the following figures respecting property and values:

Land $2,427,800
Horses, 3716 175,239
Cattle, 3633 139,000
Sheep, 6209 7,190
Swine, 1502 7,280
Gross property valuation 4,093,575

Washington county has many villages and two considerable towns, Hillsboro and Forest Grove. The former is the county seat, having a population of 800, and local districts, and a school of 100 pupils.

Scrofula
Is one of the most fatal scourges which afflict mankind. It is often inherited, but may be the result of improper vaccination, mercurial poison, uncleanness, and various other causes. Chronic Sores, Ulcers, Abscesses, Cancerous Humors, and, in some cases, Emaciation and Consumption, result from a scrofulous condition of the blood. This disease can be cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Entirely Cured
and, for the past year, have not found it necessary to use any medicine whatever. I am now in better health, and stronger, than ever before.—O. A. Willard, 218 Tremont st., Boston, Mass.

I was troubled with Scrofulous Sores for five years; but, after using a few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the sores healed, and I have now good health.—Elizabeth Warnock, 54 Appleton street, Lowell, Mass.

Some months ago I was troubled with Scrofulous Sores on my leg. The limb was badly swollen and inflamed, and the sores discharged a large quantity of offensive matter. Every remedy failed until I used Ayer's Sarsaparilla. By taking three bottles of this medicine the sores have been healed, and my health is restored. I am grateful for the good it has done me.—Mrs. Ann O'Brian, 135 State st., New York.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,
Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists. Price $1; six bottles, $5.
