

THE INDEPENDENT.

THURSDAY, FEB. 16, 1888

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

—The Portland News is getting a vigorous scoring from the public of Walla Walla for its continued assaults upon Prof. Rigler. The letters from "Mother," published in that paper, are said to be wholly untrue. This statement is vouched for by the directors and the patrons of the public schools in that town.

—Messrs. O'Neal and Moore, of Washington county, Oregon, are looking for a place to locate—Goldendale Sentinel.

—Miss Morse has organized a class in German, which meets at the schoolhouse three times a week, immediately after dismissal of school. It is well patronized by the juvenile fraternity of Hillsboro.

—Strangely enough, Miss Sarah J. Hale, who was for many years the editor of Godey's Lady Book, and did a vast amount of literary work, is to-day best remembered by her verses: "Mary Had a Little Lamb."

—It is claimed by some medical men that smoking weakens the eyesight. Maybe it does, but just how it strengthens the breath.

—The Oregon Siftings Publishing company, of Portland, has filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state. Incorporators—T. J. Fitzsimmons, A. T. Ambrose, and J. C. Cronin. Capital stock, $10,000.

—No other spring medicine has won for itself such universal confidence as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is the most powerful combination of vegetable alteratives ever offered to the public, and is acknowledged by the medical profession to be the best blood purifier.

—Chas. Reis gives in the American Jeweler the following useful receipt: Immerse steel or iron in a solution of carbonate of potash for a few minutes, and they will not rust for years, not even when exposed to damp atmosphere.

—The farmers of Jackson county will test the virtue of their soil in raising sugar beet this season. Josephine county brings forth immense beets of sugar variety—Rogue River Courier.

—Douglas county has turned over to the state treasurer the full amount of her taxes of 1887, amounting in all to $15,009.59. The last payment, $1536.90, was made Wednesday, the 8th. Marion county has paid $10,000 of her taxes, which amount in all to about $23,000. Some counties have not paid a cent yet.

—A German citizen of Hoboken was informed that a lady had called to see him in his absence. "A lady," he mused aloud, "a lady." Upon an accurate description, he suddenly brightened up and added: "Oh, dot vos no lady; dot vos my wife."

—One of our western exchanges says that a practical revivalist requested all in the congregation who paid their debts to rise. The rising was general. After they had taken their seats, a call was made for those who didn't pay their debts, and one solitary individual arose, who explained that he was the editor, and could not because the rest of the congregation were owing him their subscriptions.

—Multnomah District Pomona Grange will meet at Milwaukie, Oregon, on Saturday, February 18, 1888, at 10 o'clock. Installation of officers and other interesting matters should insure a full attendance.

—The keys for the new postoffice at Tigard were received by the postmaster, Chas. F. Tigar, last week. This is the office reported by the telegraph as a "fire-bill," and which was completed by us at the time. We should have a mail line at once reaching from Hillsboro to Portland via Laurel, Schells Ferry and Tigardville. Our laxity in such matters as this, serves to divorce the county seat town from its outlying districts, and causes discontent among people, who fail to discern any common interest where there is no such thing as even communication by mail over feasible routes.

—A sad accident occurred at Vincent & Spaulding's mill last Wednesday. Charles Scott, while working in the mill, was caught in the machinery and so terribly mangled that he only lived about fifteen minutes. He leaves a wife and four children in very poor circumstances, and they have the heartfelt sympathy of this entire community. His remains were buried at Middleton Thursday, February 2d. Rev. Mr. Pratt preached the funeral sermon.—Lafayette Register.

—Speaking of the late poultry exhibition at Portland, the Oregonian says: J. M. Garrison, of Forest Grove, is entitled to the credit of making the finest exhibit of fancy poultry now on exhibition. His fowling 115 birds in the show room. His fowling prizes are as follows: Wyandottes, 1st and 3d on breeding pen; 1st and 3d on pair; 1st and 3d on pullet. Brown Leghorns, 1st on pair; 1st on trio; 1st and 3d on hen; 1st on pullet. Light Brahmas, 1st on breeding pen. White Minorcas, 1st on breeding pen. Black Minorcas, 1st on pair; 2d on pullet. Partridge Cochins, 1st on trio; 1st on pair; 1st on pullet. Hamburgs, 1st on pair. White Cochins, 1st on trio. Rose Comb Brown Leghorns, 1st and 3d on trio; 1st on pair.

—As a toilet article, Ayer's Hair Vigor stands unrivaled. It cleanses the scalp and removes dandruff, cures itching humors, restores the original color to faded and gray hair, and promotes its growth.

—Grand Medal awarded to "Davies the Photographer," for the best display of photographs, Mechanics Fair, 1887. Gallery, Cor. First and Taylor Sts., Portland, Ogn.

—Marriage licenses granted since last issue: William G. Lohman and Lillie May Cave; Charles Bishop Handley and Laura Estella Stewart; William C. Jackson and Annie Fletcher; John Northrup and Henrietta R.E. Beauchamp.

—John Henry has returned to Hillsboro.

—Remember the masquerade ball at Opera house next Wednesday evening. A fine supper will be served at the Tuatua hotel.

—The proprietors of the Hillsboro Pharmacy have consulted on the requirements necessary to make their establishment of the best possible service to the public. Dr. Bailey went to Portland yesterday for this purpose. They are determined to buy only the products of the most reliable manufacturers of high repute, and that all new drugs and medicines approved by the crucial tests of experience will find a place beside them. Their aim will be to avoid ordering large inventories, but rather to send frequently so as to have their goods continually fresh.

—The Hillsboro new brick Grange hall will be dedicated next Tuesday.

—Mask and go to the Silver Cornet Band's grand ball, at the Opera hall, on the evening of Washington's birthday.

—Real estate transactions are crowded out this week.

Application of S. S. Bateman for citizenship: Ordered that he be admitted to citizenship.

A Reason for All Things. "Why do you fill up your paper with such nonsense as this?" he said to the editor: "John Smith, of Pogueville, is in town, calling on his many friends."

Just then the office boy poked his head in the door and said: "Mr. Smith, of Pogueville, wants fifty extra papers."

"That's why," exclaimed the astute editor.—Harper's Bazar.

FOREST GROVE NOTES. (From our Regular Correspondent) Following is a list of exercises which were given at public recitals last Friday: Book review, Clay Macnamre; recitation, "The Willamette bridge," O. S. Kidder; oration, "Poland," Horace Stewart; recitation, "Dignity of labor," H. Walker; essay, "May Day," Emma Brown; essay, "Intelligence," Penn. Patton; recitation, "Gossip," Otis Young; essay, "Oregon Weather," Dolly Hinman; "Blaine's eulogy on Garfield," L. L. Bush; oration, "John Howard," G. W. Nelson; essay, "Anne Boleyn," Miss M. Canfield; essay, "Longfellow," Miss Soehren; essay, "Beggars," E. Godfrey.

The exercises were interspersed with music, a vocal duet, "In the Sweet Long Ago," by Day Smith and Laura Griger, with guitar accompaniment, being especially well received.

James R. Marsh and Miss Nora Davis were married last Saturday, at the residence of the bride's parents, near Gaston. Rev. Mr. Fairchild officiating. Mr. Marsh is a graduate of Pacific University, classical course, class of 1886.

The political bee has begun its biennial hum in the Grove, and it is said that quite a number of our citizens have "got it." A Young Men's Republican club was formed here last Saturday night with a very favorable membership. The club, however, has made one very serious mistake in pledging its members to "support the republican candidates for the county offices," which is causing some of the best element in the party to stand aloof from the organization, and it is to be hoped such pledges will be left out, at least until the ticket is nominated.

Such a pledge is the very essence of the spoils system, and is sure to be taken advantage of by some political tricksters in the nominating convention. Indeed, we fail to see where the least advantage can result from it; if the ticket is made up of the best timber, as it should be, it will give the united support of the party; if not, any one could honorably withdraw from its support by quitting the club, and doubtless many would do so. Such things have a rather strong odor of political jobbery also. Let the young men—the new voters—give both parties to understand that their candidates must be up to the standard in ability, and whose characters will require no "whitewashing." The party whip will doubtless be used quite freely, since this is a senatorial year, but it should scare no one.

The presiding elder of this circuit conducted services in the M. E. church last Sunday evening.

B. H. Moore has quit school and has accepted a position as "drummer" for Watters' nursery in The Dalles.

Following is a programme of the "Art exhibition" which will be given this (Friday) evening in Vert's hall: Instrumental. Part I. Miss Merges and Miss Geiger Life pictures (after old masters). Solo. Miss Day Smith.

Dramatic tableau (three scenes)—The crowning of Montezuma (king of Mexico). Instrumental music. Mrs. Edwards.

This evening the Gamma Sigma society will discuss the question, "Resolved that Grecian civilization was more beneficial than Roman." Oratorical. Nelson, colleague; Lyons, negative; Snider, colleague; Smith. On Friday evening March 9th, the society will hold a public debate in the Congregational church, on the question, "Resolved that Free Trade is preferable to High Tariff for the U. S. A." Affirmative, J. U. Smith, W. H. II. Myers, Jr., and J. W. Lyons; negative, A. B. Snider, G. W. Nelson and Ed. L. Naylor. The public are cordially invited.

The members of the Forest Grove base ball club are preparing a drama, "The Little Brown Jug," which will be presented within a short time.

Last week we neglected to mention a "surprise party" which was given the G. A. R. by the Relief corps. At the latest meeting of the post the women of the Relief corps surprised the members of the post with a bounteous supper. It is said the surprise could not have been more genuine.

In the absence of a regular provision for such matters by our county, the bridges around here, which were washed out by the recent rains, have been largely repaired by private funds. This is unsatisfactory, however, and besides being wrong in principle, necessitates considerable delay in the repairs.

Mr. Hudson, who has been employed as blacksmith in the Indian training school ever since its foundation here, will move his family back to the Grove shortly. He says the present location of the school at Chemawa is very unhealthy, and there is now so much prejudice against the place, on account of this, among the Indian tribes, that new scholars are secured with great difficulty. The present superintendent, Mr. Hudson says, would favor a move to get the institution back to the Grove. Would it not be well for our citizens to agitate the question?

The political pot has begun to boil in both political camps at the Grove. The republicans are especially active and are determined that the claims of Forest Grove shall be recognized in the nominating convention; they say that this place has never had its quota of the county offices, and they want at least a share this time. The trouble heretofore has been largely, we think, that the delegation from this place has been so divided it could not agree on anything itself. It has gone into the convention with two candidates for clerk, for example, which easily allowed Hillsboro to slip her candidate in. We have been informed that Hillsboro will not oppose the claims of the Grove, provided it can agree on what it wants. We do not know of the existence of any "ring" at Hillsboro, but still such will be talked of as long as she presses her own candidates forward for the most important of the county offices.

We hear Henry Jackson's name mentioned in connection with the county clerkship, and certainly the republicans could do no better than to put him on their ticket. He has been president of the town council for two years past, and would command a large vote here.

E. C. Hughes is in the real estate, insurance and collecting business in the Grove. And is also spoken of in connection with the county clerkship. He pays special attention to collections.

Mr. McDonald showed us a few days ago plans and specifications of a residence which he has drawn up for Dr. Bailey. The design is very neat and will be a real ornament to Hillsboro. The contract price is expected to range from $8000 to $10,000.

As we predicted, Forest Grove took the lead at the chicken show in Portland last week. Prof. J. M. Garrison retired with 16 first, 7 second and 7 third premiums on his fowls, and Geo. Sloan took 7 first and 2 second premiums.

Joseph Davis, a young man who attended Tuatua academy last winter, died of consumption last Saturday. He went to California a few weeks ago in the hope of being restored to health. He was of his way home, however, when he died on the train. His parents live near Gaston and his body was brought home for burial.

Rev. H. S. Lyman, of "The Pacific Express," was in the Grove a few days this week.

John Griffin, our postmaster, had something over $80 taken out of his trunk a week ago last Sunday evening. His room was entered and the trunk broken open sometime between 5 and 9 o'clock p. m. It was a most daring robbery and was evidently done by some one who understood the premises. The matter has been kept as quiet as possible, except among a few who were trying to ferret it out, but it is impossible to accomplish much when no one will assist in such matters. There has been a system of petty thieving going on in the Grove for months past, and it would seem that it is time something was done by the citizens generally. Mr. Griffin proposed to go about this in a systematic manner, but could get no assistance and so was compelled to drop it.

Our business men seem to be a unit in favor of an evening mall if it can be secured, but no one seems to care enough about it to set the ball rolling.

Mrs. Frank Sealy, of Portland, was visiting with Mrs. Macrum this week. Charley Hudson, of Gaston, was in the Grove a few days ago.

CONNELLY ITEMS. FEBRUARY 14.—Scott Cornelius and family contemplate moving on their farm near Glenwood soon. This will leave a clerkship to be filled in the Colonel's store, and considerable speculation as to who will fill the vacancy is going the rounds.

L. S. Fairchilds has started a peddle wagon, but says the roads are in a poor condition for his business.

J. F. Hendrix's little son, Harry, got kicked by a horse last week, which makes an ugly gash in his face.

I. F. Bradley has sold two of his town lots to Wm. Goodin, who intends building here soon.

D. T. Phillips spun one yarn too many last Thursday morning, and got left but managed to cut it one short Friday morning and made it to the station just in time to catch the train for Portland.

The railroad carpenters are lowering the entire walk near the station. We learn it is to allow the cars of the Southern Pacific to run on this line as the steps of those cars are lower than those of the O. & C. R. R.

Little Robbie Hartman is very sick of lung-fever. Dr. Clark Smith is attending.

A telegram from San Diego, California, announces the death of A. Couture's boy baby, but does not state from what cause.

A number of boys are piling lumber on the side-track for Col. Cornelius. They are quite jubilant over their wages, eighteen cents per thousand.

Fine weather to-day; but Cornelius is dull and money is scarce.

C. A. Ennis and John Neep are cutting railroad wood for Frank Hendrix.

W. S. Ingles is still on deck.

A brother of Geo. Bacon is here on a visit.

C. H. Roberts, proprietor of the Cornelius saloon, is fitting it up this week and is adding a pool table, pictures, etc.—O. K.

MORTALITY STATISTICS. Oregon the Most Healthy and Fertile State in the Union—Washington her Best County.

Many letters are being received by THE INDEPENDENT regarding our soil, timber and the possibility of securing desirable homes at reasonable cost. We have written many articles respecting the productiveness of our soil, enumerated the conditions upon which pleasant homes can be had at reasonable outlay; enlarged upon Washington's superior advantages for stock-breeding and dairy purposes, and challenged any state west of the Rocky mountains to make as good showing from any county possessed by them as can be made by pure Washington, and stock-breeding superiority count as naturally to us as to the counties of famous Kentucky.

We have taken figures from the Roseburg Plasterer respecting the healthfulness of our climate, which is compiled from the Census Report of 1880. It will be observed by this compilation that the highest rate of mortality in the states, is in Massachusetts, it being 18.9 for every one thousand of population, and that Oregon is the lowest, being 10.6 for every one thousand. While among the territories, the District of Columbia is highest, being 23.6 and Idaho the lowest, being only 7 to the thousand. The average rate of mortality for the United States is 15.1 to the thousand:

Visitation Good News. Under the above caption, the February number of "Our Dumb Animals," published at Boston, says: Our readers will remember that we petitioned the National Convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union to use their influence to have stricken out of Steele's Hygienic Physiology, which is being introduced into American schools to teach temperance, all statements calculated to lead boys to perform cruel experiments on living animals. The result appears in the following very welcome letter from Mrs. Mary R. Hunt, national superintendent of the department of instruction of the W. C. T. U. in schools and colleges.

HYDE PARK, MASS., Dec. 31, 1887.
MR. GEO. T. ANGELO,
Dear Sir,—I am happy to inform you that all allusions to Visitation are to be omitted in the next edition of Steele's Hygienic Physiology. In hearty sympathy with your noble cause,
Very truly,
M. R. HUNT.
