A Woman from Austria.

Near the village of Zillingdorf, in Lower Austria, lives Maria Haas, an intelligent and industrious woman, whose story of physical suffering and final relief, as related by herself, is of interest to English women. "I was employed," she says, "in the work of a large farmhouse. Overwork brought on sick headache, followed by a deathly fainting and sickness of the stomach, until I was unable to retain either food or drink. I was compelled to take to my bed for several weeks. Getting a little better from rest and quiet, I sought to do some work, but was soon taken with a pain in my side, which in a little while seemed to spread over my whole body, and throbbed in my every limb. This was followed by a cough and shortness of breath, until finally I could not sew, and I took to my bed for the second, and, as I thought, for the last time. My friends told me that my time had nearly come, and that I could not live longer than when the trees put on their green once more. Then I happened to get one of the Seigel pamphlets. I read it, and my dear mother bought me a bottle of SEIGEL'S SYRUP, (Shaker Extract of Roots) which I took exactly according to directions, and I had not taken the whole of it before I felt a change for the better. My last illness began June 3d, 1882, and continued to August 9th, when I began to take the Syrup. Very soon I could do a little light work. The cough left me, and I was no more troubled in breathing. Now I am perfectly cured; and oh, how happy I am! I cannot express gratitude enough for SEIGEL'S SYRUP (Shaker Extract of Roots). Now I must tell you that the doctors in our district distributed handbills cautioning the people against the medicine, telling them it would do no good, and many were thereby influenced to destroy the Seigel pamphlets; but now, whenever one is to be found, it is kept like a relic. The few preserved are borrowed to read, and I have lent mine for six miles around our district. People have come eighteen miles to get me to buy the medicine for them, knowing that it cured me, and to be sure to get the right kind. I know a woman who was looking like death, and who told them there was no help for her, that she had consulted several doctors, but none could help her. I told her of Seigel's Syrup, and wrote the name down for her that she might make no mistake. She took my advice and the Syrup, and now she is in perfect health, and the people around us are amazed. The medicine has made such progress in our neighborhood that people say they don't want the doctor any more, but they take the Syrup. Sufferers from gout who were confined to their beds and could hardly move a finger have been cured by it. There is a girl in our district who caught a cold by going through some water, and was in bed five years with costiveness and rheumatic pains, and had to have an attendant to watch by her. There was not a doctor in the surrounding district to whom her mother had not applied to relieve her child, but every one crossed themselves and said they could not help her. Whenever the little bell rang, which is rung in our place when anybody is dead, we thought surely it was for her; but Seigel's Syrup and Pills (Shaker Extract of Roots) saved her life, and now she is as healthy as anybody, goes to church, and can work even in the fields. Everybody was astonished when they saw her out, knowing how many years she had been in bed. To-day she adds her gratitude to mine for God's mercies and Seigel's Syrup. MARIA HAAS.

Shaker Medicines are now being sold in all parts of the world, and are working wonders, as shown in the above case. A. J. WHITE, 54 Warren St., New York.

DOM PEDRO IN PARIS.

AN AMERICAN CORRESPONDENT'S INTERVIEW WITH AN EMPEROR.

The Amiable Ruler of Brazil Still Pursuing Knowledge and Making Friends Everywhere—Kindly Recollections of Our Centennial Exhibition.

I nudged some one in the back and asked which was Dom Pedro. The individual thus accosted turned to me with a glance of astonishment and indicated a tall, broad shouldered man, a little on the plan of Abraham Lincoln. I proceeded to study that man. His hair was silver white, as well as his long full beard, and he was dressed very simply in black, without the slightest mark to distinguish him from any one else. He received standing, and the order of business appeared to be to kiss the back of his hand, say a few words and back off. I moved along slowly with the others, waiting my turn, and meantime turned my attention to the empress.

I have heard since then that the emperor got sadly taken in when he selected her for his better half, and I believe it. They say that she was a Neapolitan princess and that he married her by proxy on the strength of a beautiful photograph which had been sent him, and of course when she arrived in Brazil and he found after the ceremony that she was not only not beautiful but lame it was too late to do anything. Theresa Christiana Maria is a sort of triangular woman, i. e., she begins at the bottom with very broad-flowing skirts and tapers upwards to a small-pointed head, surmounted by a little black cap, which is profusely decorated with roses in pink, yellow and red.

I decided to devote myself to the emperor, who was now quite close to me. I nudged the man ahead of me again, and he did not appear to like it. However, as he was not the emperor I had no hesitation in pumping him a little.

GREAT MEN OF FRANCE.

"That long haired, thin faced man who has just kissed the emperor's hand," began my new made friend, "is Ravaisson, the philosopher, and one of the curators of the Louvre museum. That tall, spare individual, with a black wig, sallow complexion and Indian features—that is Herve, editor of The Soleil and member of the French academy. He is one of the Count of Paris' chief advisers and fuglemen. You see by the easy way in which he kisses the emperor's hand and salutes the empress that he is accustomed to being in the presence of royalty. Contrast Herve's graceful movements with the awkward air of Prime Minister Rouvier, who is just coming up to Dom Pedro. There is De Lesseps saying bright things to the empress. How heartily she is laughing. But the old count is aging rapidly. His mind is as young as ever, but don't you see how shaky his legs are getting, especially the right one?"

And so my neighbor talked on, while I was so interested in thus seeing pass before me the greatest men of France that that I did not notice that I was at last right next to the emperor. I now began to feel nervous about what I should say to him. But as necessity is the mother of invention here in France, as elsewhere, I was suddenly struck by a bright idea. When my turn came I stepped forward, and, mustering up my whole stock of coolness, I remarked very quietly in English (all the others had spoken in French): "I suppose your excellency has quite forgotten me, but I had the honor of meeting you when you were in the United States."

Scarcely had this little introductory speech escaped my lips, when I remembered that at the time of Dom Pedro's visit to America I must have been about 13 years old! However, I had got the conversation started, and that was something.

"What name?" inquired my imperial interlocutor in very bad English.

"Moffett, sire," I answered carelessly, quite ashamed of having at first addressed his majesty as simply "your excellency." But Dom Pedro didn't seem to mind this faux pas. In fact it appeared to me that he rather liked this evidence of "democratic simplicity."

A TWO MINUTES' CHAT.

"Yes, I have forgotten you," he continued, in a very kindly tone, holding my hand all the time in his own, which put me quite at my ease, and immediately awakened in me much admiration for the fatherly and unpretentious "ruler of men;" "yes, your name has escaped my mind. But tell me what are you doing in Paris?"

"Writing for English and American newspapers," I answered, frankly.

"Ah," he said, with a little surprise, as if he scented an interview; "I read your American newspapers with assiduity, but unfortunately I cannot speak English with any fluency, as you perceive. Ne parlez-vous pas francais?"

"Oui," I quickly replied, quite forgetting to add any title of address, so delighted was I at the thought of really having gained my point and at perceiving that his imperial majesty was quite willing to talk.

"Tell your countrymen for me," the emperor continued in French, "that I can never forget the visit which I made to the United States at the time of your grand Centennial exhibition. The many courtesies then showed to me are still fresh in my memory. Everywhere I went I took careful notes of all that I saw and heard, and as I traveled considerably and met most of your leading statesmen, authors, scholars and scientists, you will readily perceive that this record must be valuable. I cannot tell you how precious this journal is to me. Sometimes, even at this late day, I con it with pleasure and profit. For instance, on my recent voyage from Rio Janeiro to Europe I took it out and thus whiled away many an hour that would otherwise have been long and profitless on shipboard."

"And when may we expect the pleasure of another visit, sire?" I put in to keep the conversation a-going.

"I am not sure yet whether I shall go to the United States this trip or not," was the answer. "I should like to, however, for I entertain the warmest and pleasantest recollections of the great republic."—Cleveland L. Moffett in Philadelphia Times.

Republican Tariff Bill.

Members of the republican caucus committee are deliberating upon the policy to be pursued respecting the tariff. Many republican representatives declare that they will not vote for Randall's bill, because it reduces the tax on whisky, and there is general dislike to such support of any measure that has originated by a democrat. A republican leader in the house, says that a separate bill would, in all probability, be prepared within a few days by the minority members of the ways and means committee. This bill will simply abolish the taxes on tobacco of every form, and possibly repeal the tax on fruit brandy. It will, he said, reduce the duty on sugar one-half, and give a bounty of 2 cents per pound to domestic growers. No further changes would be recommended. Such a bill, he said, would command all but, possibly, four republican votes. The question then would be whether Randall and his followers would vote for the republican bill rather than the Mills bill.

THROUGH THE FOREST.

The Old and Young Danced All Night—Our Hardy Ancestors.

Old men live in the past.

Perhaps it would be better for the young men of the present, if they lived a little bit more in the past, and drew less on the future.

The log cabins of primitive times would seem very cheerless habitations to the people who live in the finely constructed, furnace heated mansions of to-day. But our grandparents took a great deal of comfort in these rude homes.

They were rugged and healthy. The men had stalwart and hardy frames, and the women were free from the modern ailments that make the sex of to-day practically helpless slaves to hired foreign help.

White-haired grand-sires frequently took their life partners and on horseback rode a score of miles through the forests to enjoy the lively pleasures of a frontier ball, danced till daylight, rode home again in the early morning, then put in a good day's work.

Middle-aged folks of to-day couldn't stand that sort of a racket.

To these mud-chinked log cabins doctors' visits were a rarity. The inhabitants lived to a rugged and green old age.

Sometimes these log cabin old-timers were taken ill. They were not proof against all the exposures to which they were subjected. They found the effective remedies for these common ailments in the roots and herbs which grew in the neighboring forests and fields. They had learned that nature has a cure for every ill. These potent remedies assisted their sturdy frames to quickly throw off disease and left no poison in the system.

The unpleasant feature of modern practice with mineral medicines is the injurious after effect on the system. May not modern physical degeneracy be due to this feature?

A drug-saturated system is not in a natural, consequently not in a healthy, state. If any of the main organs are clogged with traces of the mineral poisons used to drive out a particular disease, the whole machinery of life is deranged and early decay of natural powers is the inevitable result.

There can be no question that remedies from the laboratory of nature are the best. If they are as efficacious, they have the advantage of leaving no after sting.

Their efficacy, if properly compounded, and the proper remedy applied to the proper disease, will not be doubted. The experience of ages proves it.

Their disuse has come about principally through the rapid congregation of people in cities and villages, rendering these natural remedies difficult to obtain. Progressive business enterprise has lately led to putting these old time remedies within reach of all classes.

The proprietors of Warner's safe remedies, in the faith that the people of to-day would be benefited by using the simple remedies of log cabin days, have caused investigations to be made and secured the formulas of a number of those which long and successful use had proved to be most valuable.

They will, we learn, be known under the general title of "Warner's Log Cabin Remedies." Among these medicines will be a "Sarsaparilla" for the blood and liver, "Log Cabin Hops and Buchu Remedy," for the stomach, etc., "Log Cabin Cough and Consumption Remedy," a remedy called "Scalpine," for the hair, "Log Cabin Extract," for internal and external use, and an old valuable discovery for catarrh called "Log Cabin Rose Cream." Among the list is also a "Log Cabin Plaster" and a "Log Cabin Liver Pill."

The treatment of many thousands of cases of those chronic weaknesses and distressing ailments peculiar to females, at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has afforded a vast experience in nicely adapting and thoroughly testing remedies for the cure of woman's peculiar maladies.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the outgrowth, or result, of this great and valuable experience. Thousands of testimonials, received from patients and from physicians who have tested it in the more aggravated and obstinate cases which had baffled their skill, prove it to be the most wonderful remedy ever devised for the relief and cure of suffering women. It is not recommended as a "cure-all," but as a most perfect Specific for woman's peculiar ailments.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womb. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a legitimate medicine, carefully compounded by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. It is purely vegetable in its composition and perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system. For morning sickness, or nausea, from whatever cause arising, weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia and kindred symptoms, its use, in small doses, will prove very beneficial.

"Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhea, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness in ovaries, accompanied with "internal heat."

As a regulator and promoter of functional action, at that critical period of change from girlhood to womanhood, "Favorite Prescription" is a perfectly safe remedial agent, and can produce only good results. It is equally efficacious and valuable in its effects when taken for those disorders and derangements incident to that later and most critical period, known as "The Change of Life."

"Favorite Prescription," when taken in connection with the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and small laxative doses of Dr. Pierce's Purgative Pellets (Little Liver Pills), cures Liver, Kidney and Bladder diseases. Their combined use also removes blood taints, and abolishes cancerous and scrofulous humors from the system.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

Large bottles (100 doses) $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

Fred Hambleton, Planter, Van Tromp and Glen Dudley

Will Stand for service the Season of 1888 at the Fair Grounds, Hillsboro, Washington County, Oregon.

FRED HAMBLETON 6463.

5-year-old record, 2:26.

Sire of Fritz Hambleton, winner of the 2-year-old stakes at Salem and Spokane Falls of 1887

He is a chestnut horse, 7 years old.

Sire HAMBLETONIAN MAMBRINO, sire of Jane L.—2:19¼.

1 dam Springfield Maid (dam of Van Tromp, 3-year-old stallion record 2:40¼), by Lakeland Abdallah, full brother to Harold, sire of Maud S. (2:08¾). 2 dam Saluda by Alexander's Abdallah, sire of Goldsmith Maid (2:14). 3 dam Friday (sire of dam of Geo. Cootey, 2:27), by imp. Trustee. 4 dam by imp. Bellfounder, sire of the dam of Rysdyk's Hambletonian.

Fred Hambleton has substance, endurance and speed. His record of 2:26 was made as a 5-year old after a season in the stud, and is not the measure of his speed. He has shown a 2:14 gait, and in a brief racing career has distanced Kitty Lynch, Jane L. (to wagon), Altamont, Lady Maud, Oleander, Melrose and others. Last year severe sickness in August rendered him unfit for racing. Fritz Hambleton, his only colt ever trained from a mare without standard blood, won at Salem with ease over a large field of standard-bred colts. In three years of stud service but one mare bred to him has failed to produce a living colt.

PLANTER is the immediate descendant of animals, on both sides, that inherit speed, possess speed themselves, and transmit it to their descendants. His breeding needs no comment. Planter has never been trained, but during the stud season of last year, in which he covered 48 mares, he trotted miles in 2:51. His colts, though not old enough to be trained, are large, well formed, and show excellent gait.

The Thoroughbred Stallion,

GLEN DUDLEY.

Full brother to Judith, winner of 8 races in 1880.

Sire of Dudley Howard, Laura D., Minnie D., Flavello, etc.

GLEN DUDLEY is a handsome bay, 16 hands high, and weighs 1150 pounds.

Sired by imp. GLENELG.

1 dam Madam Dudley, winner of the Champagne Stakes at Jerome Park in 1870, by Lexington. 2 dam imp. Britannia 4th, (dam of Brigand, winner of the Jersey Derby in 1874), by Flying Dutchman, winner of the Derby and St. Ledger. [See Bruce's American Stud Book].

Imp. Glenelg, a magnificent race horse himself, is in rank the first sire of Thoroughbreds in America. He has been four times at the head of winning sires—1879, 1884, 1886 and 1887, and has sired more winners than any stallion in America.

GLEN DUDLEY, after receiving severe injuries at 2 years old, was still an excellent race horse. As a 3-year-old he started seven times, won three races, was second in one and third in two. At Washington, D. C., November 26, 1877, in a 1¼-mile dash, he beat, among others, Lady Saylers, the dam of St. Paul, winning easily by half a dozen lengths. Glen Dudley's colts have size, style, speed and an excellent disposition. None of them have had thorough training for races.
