the West Side franchise, and now the people can take the consequences. He seems to think he could not afford to build a road further south than Eugene City, if the West Side people are to be happy together.' - Punch. have a road. How does all this come about? What now has come over the spirit of his dreams?

Two years ago all he asked was that the Legislature should make a new signment of the grant, so that the East Side could continue their advantages over us, ane make us trib stary to them; and he would rush a railroad to the State line before the people of this val ley could prepare to ride; but when next Congress set then what? Oh! he must have extension of time and Con gressional legislation to aid him in fulfilling his promise to the people of Oregon. The grant which he obtained from us so wrongfully, extended to the State line. Was not that enough? or was it necessary, in addition to the grant, that no other road should ever be put in operation in the State? can't see it. If Mr. Holladay is to carry the interests of the people of Oregon in the palm of his hand to trifle with at pleasure, then we had better surrender at once and become his slaves. It remains to be seen whether or not he controlls the next Legislature, irrespective of party. Let the people look well to the acts of their servants, and do it now, for there is no valid excuse for the manner in which the people of the West Side have been treated.
