

I am an American.

There is no spot beneath the sun, Free, but the land of Washington;
In laws each man himself was made,
His own will simply is obeyed;
His servants rule—but wear no crown—Who sets them upon pluck them down, Should they prove faithless to their trust, They're in the balance common dust,
There is no prouder boast of man, Than—I AM AN AMERICAN!

No lord or master will be own, Save the Almighty on His Throne, And him he worships as inclined,
By dictates of his heart or mind; Demands the right, resents the wrong, Protects the weak, nor dreads the strong,
No matter whence his father came,
He shares the birthright with the name—
The poorest, humblest man's a man, A sovereign if—American.

It is that little heaven, said To sweeten all our daily bread—It is that spark of Heavenly fire, Which shall electrify the earth,
That flame divine, which yet shall mould
The truest type of man is gold; Before whose test fictitious rank Shall melt, and chains shall cease to clank, And the great benefactor of man, Be hand and heart American.

It is not bounded by degrees, Nor limited by shores or seas; Nations, their system shall combine, As stars and constellations shine,
And in harmonious numbers move, Around the Sun of Truth and love—For Union, Liberty appears The endless music of the spheres, And man's millennium—the planet—Is the whole world American.

Enigma No. 10.—I am composed of 15 letters.

My 1, 7, 12, is a small insect.
My 5, 10, 13, 14, 8, is a common plant.
My 3, 14, 3, 15, is a man's name.
My 4, 1, 13, 10, 2, is a biblical name.
My 11, 6, 9, 3, 6, 2, is not an idea.
My all went do tie to.
Answer next week.

Answer to No. 9.—LOVE THY NEIGHBOR AS THYSELF.

The Critical Periods of Human Life.

From the age of forty to that of sixty, a man who properly regulates himself may be considered in the prime of life.
His matured strength of constitution renders him almost impervious to the attacks of disease, and all his functions are in the highest order. Having gone a year or two past sixty, he arrives at a critical period of existence; the river of Death flows before him, and he remains at a stand still. But at that point this river is a viaduct called the "Turn of Life," which, if crossed in safety, leads to the valley of "Old Age," round which the river winds, and then flows beyond, without a boat or causeway to to affect its passage. The bridge is, however, constructed of fragile materials, and it depends upon how it is trodden, whether it bend or break. Gout, apoplexy, and other bad characters are also in the vicinity to waylay the traveler, and thrust him from the pass; but let him gird up his loins, and provide himself with perfect composure. To quote a metaphor, the "Turn of Life" is a turn either into a prolonged walk or into the grave. The system and powers, having reached their utmost expansion, now begin to close like flowers at sunset, or break down at once. One injurious stimulant, a single fatal excitement, may force it beyond its strength, whilst a careful supply of props, and the withdrawal of all that tends to force a plant, will sustain it in beauty and vigor until night has nearly set in.

ANONING WITH OIL.—When a child, or an adult for that matter, takes a heavy cold which settles on the chest, or in the throat, or in the head in the region of the nose, one of the first things to be done is to anoint the parts affected with sweet oil. The oil should be heated, which can be easily done by pouring a little into an iron spoon, and holding the latter over the flame of a lamp for a minute, and then rubbed in to the skin of the patient with the hand. Do this always at night, and at other times in the day when the case is a severe one. It is a certain relief, and will do a little toward effecting a cure.
Incipient influenza and croup may not unfrequently be warded off in this way.

CLOSING CRACKS IN STOVES.—It may be convenient to know a ready method of closing up cracks, which are not uncommon in cast iron stoves, and we are assured that the following recipe is a reliable one: Good wood ashes are to be sifted through a fine sieve, to which is added the same amount of clay finely pulverized, together with a little salt. The mixture is to be moistened with water enough to make a paste, and the crack of the stove filled with it. This cement does not peel off or break away, and assumes an extreme degree of hardness after being heated.

The following lines, written in the delicate hand-writing of a lady have been sent to us, with an urgent request for publication: "He took her fancy when he came; he took her hand, he took a kiss; he took no notice of the shame that glowed her happy cheek at this. He took to coming afterwards; he took an oath he'd never deceive; he took her father's silver spoons, and after that he took his leave." A wag was requested by an old lady to read the newspaper for her. He took it up and read as follows: "Last night, yesterday morning, about one o'clock in the afternoon, before breakfast, a hungry boy, about forty years old, brought a big custard for a levy, and threw it through a brick wall nine feet thick, and I jumped over it, broke his right ankle off above his left knee, and fell into a dry mill pond and was drowned.
About forty years after that, on the same day, an old cat had nine turkey gobblers; a high wind blew Yankee Doodle on a frying pan, and killed a sow and two dead pigs at Boston, where a deaf and dumb man was talking to his Aunt Peter. Whereupon the old lady, taking a long breath, exclaimed, "du tell."

A Kentucky paper protests against Southern toleration of Harpers Magazine, with the horrid statement that it has for years hung above Kentucky like a harpy, burying its talons in the quivering flesh of the martyred South.
This being thus, shall we hereafter call that periodical the talon-ted Harpy's magazine?

Facts and Fancies.

A pair of tights—two drunkards.
Backgammon—A lady's waterfall.
Deeds are fruits, words are leaves.

Keep your rakes in good order—Reformed rakes made good husbands.
Your fields may be "harrowed with care," but you cannot be "harrowed by the recollection."

Even your grief may be of a moving character, for when there are no horses the farmer's (s) tears will move the plow.

Farmers are not expected to be men of letters, but it is generally understood that you will make A while the sun shines.

Be prudent in planting; one corn is often enough for an acher, and if you must leave anything out, why, drop your potatoes.

Keep in mind the active ones, beans will run, you can see the cornstalk in the field, and one vine that you plant you may find hop when it comes.

"A man who'd maliciously set fire to a barn," said good Old Elder Poyson, "and burn up a stable full of horses and cows, ought to be kicked to death by a jackass, and I'd like to be the one to do it."

A gentleman from London, on a visit to a friend in the country, speaking of the times, observed that his wife had lately expended £20 for a habit. His friend replied: "Here in the country we don't follow our wives to get into such habits."

Rich Maiden Lady—"Well, May, why are you looking so hard at me?" May—"I'm looking for your other face."

Lady—"What other face, child?" May—"Why, ma is always saying you have two faces?"

"Hallo, Bob, how are you?" Bob, who had been in jail for some months past answered:
"Very well, thank you; but I have been in trouble, you know."
"What trouble ailed you?"
"A trouble past in duration."

That was not an enthusiastic eulogy which the Cincinnati paper showered upon a lecturer there the other evening when it conceded that "in the matter of expelling words from the gullet of the throat the lecturer was a complete success." That notice was evidently not paid for.

Just as an auctioneer was saying "gone" a few evenings since, his audience went through the floor into the cellar, happily without hurting any of them. The auctioneer, as soon as he found his legs, remarked that the accident would enable him to sell lower than before, and called for a "bid," and they bid him "Good night."

The familiarity of Emperor William with God, in his dispatches to his wife Augusta, has given rise to the annexed epigram, which, though unorthodox, is quite neat:

By will Divine, my dear Augusta,
The troops have had another bustle; Ten thousand Frenchmen sent below, Praise God from whom all blessings flow.

A Cleveland, Ohio, paper apparently believes in "sena-iot" head lines, if the following is a fair specimen: "A well known citizen drowned in a cistern! He is beaten to death with a club! His skull crushed by a brick bat! Is stabbed, shot, and again drowned in a canal, and still lives! The most wonderful tenacity of life on record!"

At Binghamton, N. Y., a favorite mode of winning the drinks is for a sharper to bet with a yoke, that he can stand an egg on end "right out on the floor," and that the yoke can't break it with a half bushel measure. The bet is taken; and the fiend in human shape puts the egg precisely in the corner, and, if you wish to know how it is yourself, you would do well to try the experiment.

Dr. PERRAULT'S studies have been almost exclusively devoted to the cure of the various forms of Nervous and Physical Debility, the result of injurious habits contracted in youth, which usually terminate in impotence, and sterility, and permanently induce all the complaints of old age. Where a secret infirmity exists, involving the happiness of a life and that of others, reason and morality dictate the necessity of its removal, for it is a fact that a premature decline of the vigor of manhood, matrimonial unhappiness, compulsory single life, etc., have their sources in causes, the germ of which is planted in early life, and the bitter fruits lasted long afterward; patients labouring under this complaint, will complain of one or more of the following symptoms: Nocturnal Emissions, Pains in the Back and Head, Weakness of Memory and Sight, Discharge from the Urethra on going to stool or make water, Intellectual Faculties are Weakened, Loss of Memory ensues, Ideas are clouded, and there is a disinclination to attend to business, or even to reading, writing or the society of friends, etc. The patient will probably complain of Dizziness, Vertigo, and that Sight and Hearing are weakened, and sleep disturbed by dreams; melancholy, sighing, palpitation, fainting, coughs and slow fevers; while some have external rheumatic pain, and numbness of the body. Some of the most common symptoms are pimples in the face, and itching in different parts of the body.
