

FOR THE OREGON REPUBLICAN.
The Prisoners of the Bastille.

It was night; the reeking battle's o'er;
In silence hushed the cannon's roar.
The ghastly dead lay on the field,
And some not dead yet, tried to yield To Death's cold grasp.—To some, indeed, Like brooding angels softly come,
Cast into dungeons—dark as night.
There nature now gave way,
For we had battled well that day.
We sank to sleep, 'mid filth and slime;
How long we slept, or at what time,
The morning broke, I could not tell,
'Twas dark as doubly darkest hell.
At length, I to my father spake,
I shook him thrice, he did not wake;
I turned him on his slumbering bed,
Felt for his heart—my God! he's dead!
A glimmer faint now broke the gloom,
And threw a bar across the room.
Of golden light, dim did I trace
The features of my father's face;
Calm and peaceful, with a smile O'er spreading, it would beguile Me almost into the belief
He were not dead. That grief Had turned my brain; I turned his head, But long ere this his spirit fled.
Despair now seized upon my mind,
I was left by all my kind,
Slowly to die amid the gloom,
Drink to the dregs a felon's doom.
A spider from a niche came out,
All bloated, grim, and gazed about At nothing, at intruders that Could find a way to this dark spot;
He never came, then on my knee Crept softly on his surveying eye,
The twinkling of his glittering eyes,
At other times I would despise.
But in this darkness, filth and gloom,
I gazed him freedom, made him room
To crawl about my form and look Till, tired at length, he sought his nook.
I sought about the prison walls,
For spade or shovel; then with calls,
I pleaded aloud for aid to come.
(The child and damsel made me numb)
For I would fain before I died, My father from the yermine hide.
Time flew on; the day it fled;
The sunbeam shown with deeper red;
The rats from out the crumbling walls, Ran frightened. Then, with timid calls, Closer came—Oh! horrid thought!
They would eat the dead. I wrought With all my strength. They fled Away, and left me with the dead.
A shade came o'er my window bars;
I gazed my head, the glittering stars Had begun to deck the sky.
Ha! What is that? I heard a cry,
A mournful, wailing melody:
I looked again, my brain awhirl;
The cry was hushed; a little girl
Sat in the niche, outside the bars,
And gazing upward to the stars,
In a sad and wailing strain, Thus uttered sweet her low refrain—
"In the cradle by the brook, In a loved and shaded nook,
When the earth was filled with bloom, Round the base of Mother's tomb."
As she sang, I closer drew,
That I might get a nearer view,
Of a face that sang so sweet,
And hark, mayhap, a chance to greet,
And ask her aid. I spoke to her,
I trembled as a deadly fear seized my frame.
The vision fled.
It was my sister, long since dead;
As it fled I heard a cry Call "father, father," from the sky.
"Welcome, welcome to God on high."
This was the last of earth I knew,
Till wakened by a cherry rind,
A door flew wide, and to my view, Exposed lay all the growing spring;
Kind hands had nursed me back to life,
A-fresh to meet the world's mad strife.

Whitfield, when flattered, said:
"Take care of fire—I carry powder about me."
None but a fool is always right. He must be a thorough fool who can learn nothing from his own folly.
Advice that is given sharply or arrogantly, can scarcely be expected to be received with humility or gratitude.
To live nobly we must be noble, and we become noble by resolutely banishing every unworthy thought and feeling.
The higher the order of intellect with which one is brought in contact, the less one has to fear; true goodness is least charity, and true genius is least presumptuous.
Every hour comes to us charged with duty, and the moment it is passed it is registered for or against us, in the final account which all must give of their actions.
Men's lives should be like the day, more beautiful in the evening; or like the summer, aglow with promise, or like the autumn, rich with the golden sheaves, where the good works and deeds have ripened on the field.

Facts and Fancies.

A warlike tune—pon-toon.
Persistent ants—mendicants.
A sharp penny—a keen scent.
Strange waters—Bay Rum.
A strong habit—eating onions.
The page of equality—equippage
A fast-walking stick—a horri-cane What to do with the uneducated classes.—Bring 'em to book.
A proper dance for a tin-wedding—the can-can.
The lock which a woman gives a man to hold him—a lock of hair.
For a man who is ruined by woman there is no law and no judge.
Why is a colored man who has gas-conaded like a bruise? Because he is black, and blew.
It is said that the reason the Siamese twins keep away from Chicago, is, they don't want to be separated.
Why is fish-peddling, morally considered, an objectionable business? Because one sells what he knows has been hooked.
Some books are like small, cheap dictionaries; you find everything there—except what you want.
"This is a sweeping catastrophe, as the man said when his wife knocked him down with a broom." Teacher—"If a man gave you a hundred dollars to keep for him, and died, what would you do? Would you pray for him?" Candid pupil—"No, sir; but I would pray for another like him" Old typographical errors are occurring constantly. A paper recently made the surprising statement that "two thousand and four loads of cats had come East over Western railroads." The editor meant to say "cats."

A western editor thinks if the proper way of spelling this is "though," and bo "beau," the proper way to spell potatoes must be "poughtteaux." The new way of spelling softly is "psoughtleigh."

The last definition of the word
"demi monde," and which, as usual, has been attributed to young Alexander Dumas, is, demi-monde (the half-world) is the world to which a husband goes without taking his betterhalf with him.

A Yankee lawyer, who was pleading the cause of a little boy, took him up in his arms and held him to the jury, suffused in tears. This had great effect until the opposition lawyer asked the boy:
"What makes you cry?" "He's pinching me," said the boy.
"Everything has its use," said a philosophical professor to his class.
"Of what use is the drunkard's fiery red nose?" asked one of the pupils. "It is like a lighthouse," answered the professor, "to warn us of the little water that passes underneath it."

A grocer in France not long ago subscribed toward a statue of Voltaire.
"Idiot!" said his wife, "what did you do that for?" "Polite, my dear," said he, "Polite! I've read somewhere that he's very fond of coffee, and perhaps he'll trade with us!"

In a class of little girls in one of the schools of Boston the question was asked, "What is a fort?" "A place to put men in," was the ready answer.
"What is a fortress, then?" asked the teacher. This seemed a puzzle, until one little girl of eight summers answered
"A place to put women in."

Doctor—"Well, well! And what's the matter with my young friend Christopher?" "Anxious Mother—"Why Doctor, he is not well to-day. He was at a little party last night and ate some ham and sandwiches, and coconut cakes, and tarts, and currant cakes, and jelly pie, and hot biscuit, and calves-foot jelly and ice cream, and—"

Questions in geography for the Civil Service Commissioners.
Why does the noise made by a rustily swung door resemble a tributary to the Ganges?
Because it's a creek in the 'Ingos How would you change its similitude to an Egyptian river?
By putting in Nile.

An Ohio school girl went through her calisthenic exercises at home for the amusement of the children. A youthful visitor, with interest and pity on his countenance, asked her brother
"if that gal had fits." "No," replied the lad, contemptuously, "that's gymnastics." "O, 'tis hey?" said verdant;
"how long has she had 'em?"

A left handed compliment—Young Lady (to Tim with thin legs)—"Tim, I always admired your courage; I knew when I first laid eyes on you that you were brave to rashness." Tim (coming up smiling)—"Oh, don't my dear. Why do you say that?" Young Lady—"Why, any man has courage who can trust himself long on such legs as yours."

A good story is told of Dr. O. W.
Holmes, who having been called upon and considerably bored by a gentleman who had devoted himself to lecturing in New England without much ability for doing so, inquired, "What are you about at this particular time? The answer was, "Lecturing, as usual," I hold forth this evening at Roxbury."
The Professor clapping his hands together, exclaimed, "I am glad of it; I never liked those Roxbury people."

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

The originator of this wonderful medicine claims to have discovered and combined in this medicine more of Nature's most sovereign medical properties than was ever before combined in one medicine. The evidence of this fact is found in the variety of most obstinate diseases which it has been found to conquer. In the stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and hundreds of the best physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. By its great and thorough blood purifying properties it cures all Humors from the worst scurvy to a common Blotch Pimple or Eruption. Mercurial Diseases, Mineral poisons, Syphilis and Venereal Diseases, and their effects are eradicated and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short all the numerous diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying and invigorating medicine.
For Liver Complaint, Bilious Disorders and Habitual Constipation, it has produced hundreds of perfect and permanent cures where other medicine had failed.
The proprietor offers $100 reward for a medicine that will equal it in the cure of the diseases for which it is recommended. Beware of counterfeits and worthless imitations. See that my Government Stamp, which is a positive guarantee of genuineness, is upon the outside wrapper. This medicine is Sold by Druggists at one dollar per bottle. Prepared by R. V. PIERCE, M. D., sole Proprietor, at his chemical Laboratory, 133 Seneca street, Buffalo, N. Y. June 3d, 1871.

The Great Medical Discovery!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS,
Hundreds of Thousands Bear testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
WHAT ARE THEY?
THEY ARE NOT A VILE
FANCY DRINK.
Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholics Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and LIFE GIVING PRIN-CIPLE, a perfect Restorative and invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell.
For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Biliousness, Constipation and Intermittent Fevers, Disorders of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION.
Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Congestion of the Chest, Bloating, Sour Eructation of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.
They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.
FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blisters, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever nature or origin, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the Blood pure and the health of the system will follow.
PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectively destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle.
