

REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS FOR 1872.

For President, U. S. GRANT. For Vice-President, SCHUYLER COLEMAN. PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS. A. B. Meacham, of Umatilla County, W. D. Hale, of Washington County, Jas. F. Gazley, of Douglas County.

To the Young.

At no time in the history of our State has there been greater inducements held out than at the present, for our young people to prepare themselves for the great battle of life. To fight that battle successfully, the one who expects to win must be prepared for the conflict.

The Boston Journal, a paper which is a reflection of the political sentiment of the people of New England, calls attention to the fact that the attacks of the disorganizers, and Democrats combined have failed to make any impression.

Another victory granted! The requiem of the Republican party had been sung so much by so many of our would-be influential journals, that we had almost begun to look upon it as a settled fact that the death knell of the party had been sounded and all that was left to do was to inter the remains.

THE PRESIDENCIES.—The Lynchburg (Va.) Republican, says: "If Vice-President Colfax should be re-nominated and re-elected it will be the first time, with a single exception, that a Vice-President has been his own successor in the history of our Government."

George W. Smalley, London correspondent of the New York Tribune, states that business circles in England are depressed by anticipations of probable trouble growing out of the hitch in the settlement of the Alabama claims.

"One fact moreover, cannot be too clearly stated. All the American business and American enterprise which have either their headquarters or their agencies in London are at a complete stand still. A month ago they were in the full tide of activity, and there was a flow of British capital to America, where much had gone before it, to build our railways, and work our mines, and enrich new States. I need not remind you with what brilliant success Messrs. Jay Cooke, McCulloch & Co., had engineered our Funded Loan, and the Northern Pacific Loan, and what they hoped to do in connection with the Rothschilds, with their gigantic joint offer to take six millions of the American securities. There were scores of American applications of every sort in London for capital. Not only Jay Cooke, McCulloch & Co., but others of the American financial houses newly established in London, were doing a prosperous business, and daily extending their connections. The disagreement about the treaty has postponed everything. More than one banker has said to me that the losses already incurred on account of this difficulty far exceed anything we shall ever get or hope to get on account of the Alabama claims. This is no argument for wavering any of them; but I repeat it as showing the practical way in which some business men strike a balance-sheet in politics and diplomacy."

Well Put.

The Boston Journal, a paper which is a reflection of the political sentiment of the people of New England, calls attention to the fact that the attacks of the disorganizers, and Democrats combined have failed to make any impression.

"The general tone of the Republican press of the country is substantially harmonious in the same direction. The spirit of the canvass in New Hampshire plainly indicates that there is no division of Republican sentiment there. Nothing is more refreshing than clear and thorough-going vindication of President Grant's administration and the exposure of assaults made upon it. The reason of this is evident. If the Republicans everywhere were to act upon no higher sentiment than to 'let well enough alone,' they could not help rallying around the Administration. What could they get from any other President that they do not have from Grant? They have an economical rule, the national faith triumphantly redeemed, peace kept abroad, and the laws everywhere enforced at home; could Mr. Triunbull or Mr. Greeley—particularly if borne into the Presidency by the votes of repudiators, Tweed's friends and the enemies of the anti-Ku Klux law—do any better than that?"

Colefax and the Presidency.

In a recent letter to Hon. J. H. D. Henderson, published in the Eugene Journal, of the 16th inst., Mr. Colefax expresses himself very plainly concerning the Presidency, Grant, and his Administration. He says:

"My interest in the continued ascendancy of Republicanism is greater than any personal consideration, and if the convention propose some one else for the Vice-President (and there are many able and worthy), no man in the United States shall exceed me in the cordiality and earnestness with which I shall support him. I am not a candidate for the Presidential nomination, being just as decidedly as ever in favor of General Grant's re-nomination, and hope our convention on the 22d will so declare unanimously. I beg for the sake of harmony politically, and to save me personally from the suspicion of bad faith toward one with whom my relations are and have always been so cordial, that my name may not be mentioned by any one in our State convention in opposition to General Grant, whom I believe to be the first choice of a very large majority of the Republicans of the United States."

THE PRESIDENCIES.—The Lynchburg (Va.) Republican, says: "If Vice-President Colfax should be re-nominated and re-elected it will be the first time, with a single exception, that a Vice-President has been his own successor in the history of our Government. The exception was that of Daniel D. Tompkins of New York, who served as Vice-President under the two terms of President Monroe, one of which terms occurred in what is historically known as the 'era of good feelings'—from 1821 to 1825. The instances in which a Vice-President has stepped from that position to the Presidency are six, to wit—John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, Martin Van Buren, John Tyler, Millard Fillmore and Andrew Johnson—the latter three succeeding to the Presidency on account of the demise of the regular incumbents while holding office."

Republican triumphs this spring will certainly confirm the Democratic party in the "passive policy," and make them bid more loudly than ever for a coalition with sorehead Republicans.—Ex.

Republican State Convention.

[From the Statesman] PORTLAND, March 20, '72. Convention called to order at 11 A.M. by T. B. Odeneal, Chairman State Central Committee.

F. A. Chenoweth, of Benton, was chosen temporary President; and W. Lair Hill, of Multnomah, temporary Secretary. Following Committees were appointed: Credentials—Dowell, Kelsay, Mallory, Parrish and Moody. Permanent Organization—Simpson, Willis, Meacham Davenport, Rhinehart, Harry and Bristow.

W. Parrish was designated as Chairman of the Committee.

CORRESPONDENCE.

ED. REPUBLICAN:

I was at the M. E. Church, in this place, last Sabbath evening, and listened to a very excellent sermon from Rev. N. Lee. I think his idea of whisky drinking and whisky-selling very good, and the able manner in which he handled the subject, showed that he clearly understood the question. I should like to hear him again, and would suggest that, at no very distant day, he deliver another sermon, taking for his subject "Tobacco—Its Sale and Use." I am sure he understands this question also, and I would like to have him show the people which is the greater evil.

THE HOUSE WE LIVE IN

AND THE Inhabitants of the Human Body,

WORMS.

Inhabitants of the Human Body!

What think you, reader, of your body being a planet, inhabited by living races, as we inhabit the earth? Whatever may be your thoughts on the subject, it is even so. Your body may be but a home for parasites that crawl over the surface, and go to some extent, in its canals, and riot and propagate their kind in every corner of its frame.

The following is from the San Francisco Bulletin, of January 26th, 1872—a recent date:

Carl Martins recently died in Cleveland, Ohio, from eating meat affected with the Ova of Taenia Solium. At the Coroner's Inquest, on Tuesday, January 24, it was shown that three weeks before Christmas, Martins purchased a carcass of pork. Some of the meat was eaten the same day, and some was made into sausage. About ten days later some of the sausage was eaten, and in a short time the whole family were taken sick. Martins died on Sunday Dec. 31st, 1871. Mrs. Martins and her two children are now very sick, and the former is not likely to recover. The verdict was in accordance with the facts. For further particulars, see Cleveland, Ohio, papers of the above date. A Coroner's Inquest brought this fact to light.

Now I would ask how many more such deaths an inquest would bring to light? Ponder well, reader, upon this, and think of the thousands that die every year and no cause can be assigned for their death. Now the question that would naturally arise in the mind of the reader is, what shall I do? The answer is, first, to be careful of the food that we eat, and to be particularly careful of the meat that we eat. And who is to be blamed for this? The one that has made Worms a necessity.

Yesterday, Dr. Van Den Bergh exhibited to a number of parasites which had been removed from persons afflicted, there were several different species, one of which appeared to be entirely unknown to the medical profession. This new Taenia is believed to be a new species, and is named after the name of the discoverer, Dr. Van Den Bergh. It is a worm which is found in the human body, and is believed to be a new species. It is a worm which is found in the human body, and is believed to be a new species. It is a worm which is found in the human body, and is believed to be a new species.

Had we space here, hundreds of testimonials could be produced testifying to the truth of the assertions that have been made, but it would be useless, and would occupy the reader's time.

The following are some of the diseases that Worms are often mistaken for:

Dyspepsia, Chronic Affections of the Liver and Kidneys, Consumption, White Swelling, Palsy, Spermatorrhea or Local weakness, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy, Fits, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Hysteria, Inconvenience of Urine, Gravel, Flat Ulcer, Diabetes, Dropsy, etc.

Dr. V. would advise those who are troubled with any of the above diseases, to try his new remedy and get cured.

Dr. Van Den Bergh's Infallible Worm Syrup for children. Warranted to expel the worms. Price $1. Sent everywhere upon receipt of price.

Dr. J. W. Van Den Bergh's Hair Tonic—a sure cure to destroy all animalcules of the hair follicles, prevents falling out, and promotes the growth of the hair. Price $1.50. Warranted.

By Consulting and Undergoing a SIMPLE EXAMINATION

The afflicted can learn if their disease is caused by Worms or not; at all events, Dr. Van Den Bergh can tell them from what disease they are suffering.

Symptoms of Worms.

Alternate paleness and flushing of the countenance, dull expression of the eyes, drowsiness, itching of the nose, a swollen upper lip, tongue whitely furled and thickly speckled with red points, foetid breath, an enlarged abdomen, a partial or general swelling or puffiness of the skin, a starting in the sleep and grinding of the teeth, a sensation as if something was lodged in the throat, a gradual wasting of the flesh, sickness of the stomach, vomiting, a short and dry cough, appetite sometimes voracious, at other times feeble, bowels sometimes constive, at other times loose, great fretfulness and irritability of temper, pains in the stomach and bowels, colic, fits, convulsions and palsy.

If the Worm Syrup is not to be had in your town, send orders to the manufacturers, and it will be sent to any address. Direct orders to Dr. J. W. Van Den Bergh, P. O. Box 172, Salem, Oregon.

Letters describing the symptoms will be promptly answered, and persons living at a distance will be saved the expense and trouble of calling upon the Doctor.
