Free Schools.

That there is no one thing which tends more to the permanence of our cherished institutions than the intelligence of the people, is being more fully realized in our own State than it has ever been before. From all parts of the country we hear of free schools, supported by taxation, being established by the votes of the citizens by large majorities. This question is, by force of circumstances, going to be brought more directly before the people in the present campaign than formerly. In fact, it will undoubtedly be one of the leading issues. No party can expect to succeed merely by making war upon the personal character of political opponents. The issues must be clearly stated and fairly met. Issues which come directly home to us, which can be easily seen and forcibly felt. That the question of free schools is one which comes home to us, cannot be denied, and we expect our Legislative Candidates, on both tickets, to define their positions definitely on this as well as other issues. It is not sufficient for them merely to say that they are in favor of free schools, but it will be required of them to show in what way they expect to establish this principle and give it a tangible form. Give a synopsis of a law which shall meet the wants of the people and secure a school system adequate to their necessities. Nothing short of this will do. The time for abstract assertions and useless quibbling has gone by. Our people are in earnest in this matter, and want men to represent them in the Legislature who are able to act in the matter intelligently, and willing to show in what way they propose to act.

WHAT CAN YOU DO?—Though this may not seem of much importance to the casual observer, yet, when we come to examine the present state of society it is of vast importance. A boy applies to an office for a situation, this is the question which greets him. Almost anything, he replies. This, he thinks, is comprehensive and should entitle him to a position. The contrary, however, is the result. To the practical business man, one who is thorough, this implies that he has an indistinct idea of what he ought to do, and no definite rule for doing anything. Should a man apply to a railroad company for a situation, and upon being asked what he could do, should make the above reply, he would be laughed at and be forced to leave in self defense. To the young, particularly, should it be made a matter of great moment that they thoroughly understand some branch of business, so that when the question, What can you do? is asked, then they can tell clearly, and convey to the one to whom they apply, a distinct idea of what they can do, and how they can do it.

Political Notes.

The Mercury says: "That man, in our opinion, is strong who will unite the Democracy." We should say so—the thing can't be did, Bro. Mercury; the game is up.

The New York World hopes the Democrats of the country will have nothing to do with the Cincinnati Convention.

Chief Justice Chase is urging the Democracy to make a straight Democratic nomination.

The Legislature of Wisconsin has passed a temperance bill similar to that of Illinois, but excepts from its provisions the sellers of native wines, and owners of buildings in which liquors are sold

Corrupt Legislation.

We can hardly pick up a Democratic paper but we find long leaders charging the Republican party with all manner of corrupt legislation. If Republican legislation had been so notoriously corrupt, would not the condition of the country, financially and otherwise, show the effect? The claims of any writer that certain things would have been better, done in some other way, or left undone, is of no moment unless backed up by positive facts. At no time in the history of our country have we experienced such marked prosperity in all branches of business, under similar circumstances, as is evidenced now. The close of the Administration of Van Buren found the country hopelessly bankrupt. Capital was entirely locked up and labor went begging for work to keep hunger from the door.

The close of Polk's term of office found the Mexican war debt on our hands, which prevented us from any reduction of the Tariff and marred our prosperity. The disgraceful termination of the reign of Buchanan is too well remembered to need a reference. The close of all Administrations show conclusively that corrupt legislation is not confined to Republican rule. But a careful comparison of those referred to, the standing of the country and everything connected with governmental Administrations, shows conclusively that however much may be said against the party in power, yet, never in the history of our country, has the nation been in a more flourishing condition. That there has been stealing and corruption, no one will deny, but history proves that stealings under Republican rule, dwindle into insignificance when compared to that of Jackson's, Van Buren's or Buchanan's Administration. And further, that more pains are being taken to bring culprits to justice and protect the rights of citizens. We have said nothing of the inconsistency of the Democratic party in sending Tweed to the Senate of New York, after his wholesale plundering, from the fact that that was a local, or State matter, and we proposed to confine ourself in this to national affairs. Enough has already been said to warrant the conclusion that the less said by the Democratic press, about stealings and corrupt legislations, the better it will be for that organization.

Suggestive.

"At a dinner at Eugene City, Oregon, where Joaquin Miller was chief lion, a well known citizen, Mr. Jesse Applegate, was one of the guests. Not paying His Genius much attention, the host introduced Mr. Miller to him as the poet of the Sierras, who, after winning laurels in Europe, had returned to Oregon to grace it with his presence, etc. Mr. Applegate bowed, saying: 'I have known Mr. Miller before. He edited a secesh paper during the war, which was suppressed by the government for its rebel principles.'"—Bloomington (Ill.) Pantagraph.

The old adage that "one must go from home to hear home news," is very applicable in this case. It will be news to many that Mr. Miller was the "lion" of any particular locality, or that he edited a paper within this State during the war.

Soldiers' Homestead Bill.

The following is a summary of the above bill as it finally passed:

It declares that the public lands shall be disposed of to actual settlers, provided that the act shall not interfere with any obligations heretofore incurred by the United States, or with the granting in limited quantities, of public lands for educational purposes, or with granting lands in limited quantities the proceeds of which shall be used for purposes of internal improvement, such lands to be sold to actual settlers only, in quantities not exceeding 160 acres, at not more than $2 50 per acre. In the cases of soldiers it is provided that the time of services in the army shall be deducted from the required five years residence, the settler being compelled, however to reside on the land two years, and is allowed twelve months after locating his homestead within which to commence his settlement.

NOISY.—The Enterprise complains of a "noisy" individual in Clackamas county who is working against the Democratic ticket. This is rather suggestive, coming from a Democratic paper. The Clackamas Democracy are not the only ones afflicted in that way; it will be found at the June election that many others have been working against that ticket, with success, too.

The Dalles Convention.

[From the Oregonian.]

The platform consists of nine resolutions. The first favors a strict construction of the Constitution, and protection of individual rights. Second, opposes corruption in every shape. Third, is the motto: No privileged classes and no privileged capital. Fourth, favors a tariff to raise only what money is necessary for the General Government, and not any for monopolies. Seventh, favors the appropriation of money from the sale of swamp lands to internal improvements. The eighth approves the Lock and Dam law. The ninth thanks the State Administration for its able efforts.

For Congressman, on the first ballot, Helm had 30; Hayden, 21; Burnett, 32; Slater, 33.

Sixth ballot.—Burnett, 71; Helm, 47.

For Presidential Electors, L. F. Lane, Helm and Gates were nominated

Delegates to National Convention—J. T. Glenn, E. F. Colby, Al. Zieber, O. S. Savage, J. W. Virtue, A. Bush.

Dr. Chapman is Chairman of the State Central Committee.

The next Convention is to be held at Portland.

Judge Prim is nominated.

For Prosecuting Attorneys—W. B. Lasswell of the 5th District; Bellinger of the 4th; J. J. Shaw of the 3d; C. W. Fitch of the 2d; J. R. Neil of the 1st; are nominated.

Adjourned.

Oregon in Washington.

In the Washington correspondence of the Eugene Journal we find the following:

"Attorney-General Williams is winning golden opinions on every hand by his successful administration of the Department of Justice. Col. Chapman is still here trying to get a land grant for the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake R. R. Alexander Blakely, formerly connected with Democratic newspapers at Jacksonville and Eugene City, left here a few days ago for his present home in Fairfield, Iowa. On the 5th of this month he obtained a patent for a new improvement in railway track cleaners,' invented by himself. It is intended to brush sand from the rails behind the locomotive to prevent impeding the train when the track is 'sanded' for the engine."

INDEPENDENT.—And now comes G. W. Lawson and announces himself an Independent Candidate for Representative, for Marion Co. His platform is good and no doubt he means what he says, yet it seems to us, if we are correctly informed, that the regular Republican Representative ticket of that county, is composed of good men, and as the principles of the Republicans are well understood, we fear friend Lawson has made a mis-cue. Few, if any, of the Democracy will support him, and by weakening the vote of the Republican party of that county, he may be the means of throwing the Representative of the county into the hands of the Democracy, an ultimatum which we think he would wish to avoid.

Some idea of the cattle trade of Texas may be gained by noting the fact that there are 750,000 calves raised and branded every year. It is estimated that there are about four million head of cattle on the great plains of Texas These extensive plains cover an area of about one hundred and fifty-two millions of acres..

POLITICAL ETHICS.—To be active you must be "passive."

To be on hand every time, you must take frequent "departures."

To be wide awake, and up to the true interests of the party, you must act the "'Possum."

RE FORM.—A re-form of the Democratic party is really needed. What with New Departures, Passive Policies and Coalition Conventions, there is but little of those "time honored principles" left. Hope is deferred and prospects dimmed.

A few days since an Illinois farmer sold at one time 14,000 pounds of wool at 65 cents per pound. He has been storing his wool clip for five years, and sold it all at once. It brought him the neat little sum of $9,100.

WHAT TWO?—The Albany Democrat speaks of "two careless and credulous voters," who have been misled by published statements of the decrease of the public debt. Wonder what two he means?

AFTER THEM.—Jas. D. Fay, in the Jacksonville Times, is after the Jackson County, Democratic Convention. Fay won't be "passive" no how.

We furnish the REPUBLICAN and Wood's Magazine for $2 50 per year.

The price demanded by Mr. Holladay for moving the depot and track as desired is only $20,000, an amount that will probably not cover more than one third the entire cost of the change.

The West Side says in the County Court proceedings of last week: "An order was entered directing the Clerk to cut off the coupons attached to the bonds given by the county to the O. & C. R. R. Co. for the amount of $75,000, in the year 1858, and destroy the same in the presence of J. Gaston, on the part of the Railroad Co."

The Oregonian says a movement is now being made to celebrate, in an appropriate manner, the coming fifty-third anniversary of the establishment of the Order of Odd Fellowship in the United States, by a grand mass picnic, in which the Odd Fellows of all the principle towns in the State will participate. Aurora is the place suggested for the celebration.

THE

HOUSE WE LIVE IN

AND THE

Inhabitants of the Human Body,

WORMS.

The cause of a great many diseases that have been pronounced incurable by the most eminent physicians, for the very reason that they overlooked the cause, and as Dr. Van Den Bergh has made the Entoza a life long study, he would inform the sick generally that by close observation and great experiments he has come to the conclusion that there are more acute and chronic diseases caused by Worms, Hydatids, Animalculae or other species of Entoza. The public generally, or the profession at large, are not aware of the number of patients who are treated by eminent physicians for this, that, or such a complaint, without any relief. If the disease had been understood, a few doses of Dr. V's Sovereign Worm Remedy would have immediately cured the complaint and have saved a great many lives.

Inhabitants of the Human Body!

What think you, reader, of your body being a planet, inhabited by living races, as we inhabit the earth? Whatever may be your thoughts on the subject, it is even so. Your body may be but a home for parasites that crawl over the surface, burrow beneath the skin, nestle in its entrails, and riot and propagate their kind in every corner of its frame.

The following is from the San Francisco Bulletin, of January 26th, 1872—a recent date:

Carl Martins recently died in Cleveland, Ohio, from eating meat affected with the Oca of Tunaca Solium. At the Coroner's Inquest, on Tuesday, January 2d, it was shown that three weeks before Christmas, Martins purchased a carcass of pork. Some of the meat was eaten the same day, and some was made into sausage. About ten days later some of the sausage was eaten, and in a short time the whole family were taken sick. Martins died on Sunday Dec. 31st, 1871. Mrs. Martins and her two children are now very sick, and the former is not likely to recover. The verdict was in accordance with the facts. For further particulars, see Cleveland, Ohio, papers of the above date. A Coroner's Inquest brought this fact to light.

Now I would ask how many more such deaths an inquest would bring to light? Ponder well, reader, upon this, and think of the thousands that die every year and no cause can be assigned for their death. Now the question that would naturally enter the mind of the reader is, what shall I do? The advice of the Doctor would be to go to some one that is competent of treating such complaints. And who is there more competent than the one that has made Worms a specialty.

TENIAS.—Yesterday, Dr. Van Den Bergh exhibited to us a number of parasites which had been removed from persons afflicted. There were several different species, one of which appears to be entirely unknown to the medical profession. This new Tabenia is shaped something like an orange seed, but perfectly flat, or rather like a cucumber seed, with a tail about a quarter of an inch in length. Another was a tape worm 87 feet in length, and consisted of 9,680 joints. Among medical men there exists no little difference of opinion relative to the origin of these Entoza. One class of writers believe that these parasites, or at least many of them, originate in the endowment of animal molecules with vitality from the parent body, favored by certain states of the vital forces of that body; the states originating their organization and promoting their growth and propagation. That all descriptions of entoza are met with far more frequently where animal food is used in greatest abundance is an indisputable fact, especially where the food is the flesh of the "unclean beasts," which the Jews and Mohammedans are forbidden to partake of. But our intention is not to write a thesis on this subject; we only wish to chronicle the fact that Dr. J. W. Van Den Bergh has found a medicine—a simple vegetable, which grows in abundance in California, which is a dead shot to all entoza, of whatever description, generally accomplishing its object in from an hour and a half to six hours.—Morning Call.

Had we space here, hundreds of testimonials could be produced testifying to the truth of the assertions that have been made, but it would be useless, and would occupy the reader's time.

The following are some of the diseases that Worms are often mistaken for:

Dyspepsia, Chronic Affections of the Liver and Kidneys, Consumption, White Swelling, Palsy, Spermatorrhœa or Local weakness, Nervous Debility, Epileptic Fits, Rheumatism, Neuralgia; Diarrhœa, Incontinence of Urine, Gravel, Flor Albus, Diabetes, Dropsy, etc.

Dr. V. would advise those ladies troubled with any Irregularities of the Uterus to try his new remedies and get cured.

Dr. Van Den Bergh's Infallible Worm Syrup for children. Warranted to expel the worms. Price $1. Sent everywhere upon receipt of price.

Dr. J. W. Van Den Bergh's Hair Tonic—a sure cure to destroy all animalculae of the hair follicles, prevents falling out, and promotes the growth of the hair. Price $1 50. Warranted.

By Consulting and Undergoing a

SIMPLE EXAMINATION

The afflicted can learn if their disease is caused by Worms or not; at all events, Dr. Van Den Bergh can tell them from what disease they are suffering.

Symptoms of Worms,

Alternate paleness and flushing of the countenance, dull expression of the eyes, drowsiness, itching of the nose, a swelled upper lip, tongue whitely furred and thickly speckled with red points, fœtid breath, an enlarged abdomen, a partial or general swelling or puffiness of the skin, a starting in the sleep and grinding of the teeth, a sensation as if something was lodged in the throat, a gradual wasting of the flesh, sickness of the stomach, vomiting, a short and dry cough, appetite sometimes voracious, at other times feeble, bowels sometimes costive, at other times loose, great fretfulness and irritability of temper, pains in the stomach and bowels, colic, fits, convulsions and palsy.

If the Worm Syrup is not to be had in your town, send orders to the manufacturers, and it will be sent to any address. Direct orders to Dr. J. W. Van Den Bergh, P. O. Box 172, Salem, Oregon.

Letters describing the symptoms will be promptly answered, and persons living at a distance will be saved the expense and trouble of calling upon the Doctor.
