Signor T. H. O. Mascat, a celebrated baritone, who has been giving free concerts in our town for some nights past, and whose ability as an attracter of public attention is evidenced by the many benefits he has received, was severely injured the other night by a brickbat which, intentionally or unintentionally, had been thrown to him as a token of regard. If he should recover, we hear it rampred that he will change his base.

The Canvass. Tuesday morning at an early hour, we noticed considerable stir upon our streets, horsemen, single and in pairs, came filing into town from different directions until we began to fear that the Ku Klux or some other dreadful calamity was about to befall us Upon making inquiry in breathless haste, however, we learned that the "candidates" were assembling to start out upon the county campaign. They soon got under way, and as they marched out of town in all their glory, it filled us with patriotic (we mean political) emotion, and we almost wished ourself an as, pirant for political bonors .- That is, if we could be sure of being on the winning side. The canwass opened at Douglas precinct,

The Taylor Family. This amusing troupe gave two entertainments in the Court House during the week. Mart's jokes were highly appreciated by the crowd, his local songs contained some excellent hits, and the performance of Mr. Mills on the violin was well executed . but to our petion, the recitations by Mrs. Taylor were more in keeping with the tastes and inclinations of the age. Her selections were excellent; her voice, although weakened by illness, was clear and expressive. Mrs. Taylor will always draw out an appreciative feeling from the better class of people, which cannot be reached by the nonsensical, though mirthprovoking, jokes of Taylor himself.

Took His Own Way. As Frank Simpson started out last Tuesday morning with the Alsea mail, the bridle bits broke, leaving the horse at liberty to take his own way. He went down Main street on double quick, Frank's bat flying in the air and leaving his hair floating gracefully in the breeze. Frank, however, kept his seat in the sulky and held to the reins thereby keeping the horse in the middle of the street, until he was finally stopped on the bridge below town on the Salem road. The bits were soon replaced and Frank returned through town and went his way. Tom Richmond seeing the situation, mounted his grey, and started in hot pursuit, but was too late, the show being over before he caught up. A little excitement was created, but no damage done.

A MODEL COMMERCIAL COLLEGE!! THE EDUCATION FOR THE TIMES.

The Importance of a Practical Education Was never more Apparent than New!

IT IS UNIVERSALLY ACKNOWLEDGED I that as we grow in prosperity we grow more practical, and that it is required of men that they educate themselves practically-educate themselves in the best manner possible -to meet the demands of the times.

When Agesilaus, King of Sparta, was asked what things he thought most proper for boys to learn, he replied: "Those things which they should practice when they become men." " Deliver all things in number and weight and put all in writing that thou givest out or receivest in," is a precept of universal application : and there is a special necessity for its strict observance in all business transactions. I. R. MOORES,

Every year increases the popularity of this valuable. Hair Preparation; which is due to merit alone. We can assure our old patrons that it is kept fully up to its high standard; and it is the only reliable and perfected preparation for restoring GRAY OR FADED HAIR to its youthful color, making it soft, lustrous, and silken. The scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean. It removes all eruptions and dandruff, and, by its tonic properties, prevents the hair from falling out, as it stimu lates and nourishes the hair-glands. By its use, the hair grows thicker and stronger. In baldness, it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, and will create a new growth, except in extreme old age. It is the most economical HAIR DRESSING ever used, as it requires fewer applications, and gives the hair a splendid, glossy appearance. A. A. Hayes, M.Du State Assaver of Massachusetts, says, "The constituents are pure, and carefully selected for excellent quality; and I consider it the BEST PREPARATION for its intended purposes." Sold by all Druggists, and Dealers in Medicines.

Buckingham's Dye FOR THE WHISKERS.
