DO NOT NEGLECT A COLD. Thousands have been carried to early and unnecessary graves by not resorting to some sure and reliable means of cure. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry is offered as a cure of nearly half a century's standing, and is in all respects the best for coughs, colds, bronchitis, whooping-cough etc.

having disposed of his Blackberries and woods has regretted his hasty step. He is now anxious to buy more.—Dr. Jack Davidson reports that there is not much sickness at Independ-

MORE TROUBLE ON THE LA CREOLE.—On Tuesday morning after the Circus performance we were informed by Mr. Igo, who drives the stage between here and Lafayette, that as the performance broke up, Glaze was standing between him and McCann while the crowd was passing out, a pistol shot was fired by some one in the crowd, the ball passing through the cloth of Glaze, breaking the skin on the left side causing quite a flow of hemorrhage. Mr. Igo stated to us that it was impossible to tell where the shot came from, except, it came from some one in the crowd, and

DEATH OF WM. H. SEWARD.

An Auburn (N. Y.) dispatch of the 11th inst. gives the following particulars of the death of this distinguished statesman:

Auburn, N. Y., Oct. 11.—Hon. Wm.
H. Seward died at his residence in this city at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was taken ill on Wednesday of last week with ague fever, and latterly a catarrhal affection set in. The immediate cause of his death was the latter.
His family were all with him at the time of his death, with the exception of his two sons. Yesterday morning Mr. Seward rode out, and in the afternoon dictated several items about his new book, relative to his recent travels, which he has been engaged in writing for some time past, and, in fact, he was considered in no danger till about 11 o'clock last night. He retained his senses to the last, and died in the full possession of those sterling faculties which for years marked his life. He died peacefully at the age of 71.

Mr. Seward having taken cold, and been somewhat unwell for a day or two was on the evening of Saturday, the 5th seized with a severe chill, and his physician was summoned to him. He had been during the summer in his ordinary good health, suffering only from the inconvenience of muscular paralysis of his arms, and had been engaged in preparing for the press his account of his recent journey around the world. His illness was that of an ordinary tertian ague, accompanied by harassing catarrhal cough. It was followed by fever and delirium, which lasted until late in the night. On Sunday, he was up in the afternoon, took his dinner, and passed a comfortable night. On Monday, with the exception of his cough and catarrh, he was comfortable, and dictated as usual to assistant in completing his book. He played whist Monday evening, but at 10 P. M. a slight chill occurred, followed by delirium fever, with an aggravated catarrhal disturbance of the chest which lasted nearly all night, his physician seeing him on this account after midnight. On Tuesday morning, after some sleep he again felt better, and drove out in the afternoon, but the fever, delirium and restlessness returned with the cough on Tuesday night. On Wednesday he drove out for two hours and dictated to his amanuensis as usual, though harassed all day with cough and Catarrhal efflusion in the chest. On Wednesday evening his cough seemed abated for a while and then the cough returned at bedtime. He was nearly sleepless until five o'clock in the morning. At 4 A. M. to relieve the tedium of lying sleepless, he had his son William read the New York Times to him of Wednesday morning. He slept after 4 A. M. pretty well till 11 A. M. of to-day though his fever kept up without any real remission. At 11 o'clock he was seized with great difficulty in breathing caused by a sudden catarrhal efflusion into the lungs, commencing with the right lung and soon involving the left also, which occasioned his death in about two hours. He entertained no apprehension but that he should recover from the attack of the catarrhal ague till last night; and this morning at his age, and with the condition of the mus lar palsy, from which he has suffered so long, the fact that the fever was increasing upon him, together with the catarrhal disturbances, led his physician to apprehend a fatal result in the course of a week or more. Yet no immediate fear was felt, and his dissolution was sudden and unexpected.

Seward's intellectual faculties were clear and vigorous to the last save when disturbed by paroxysms of fever. Just after the effluion from the lungs to day and thinking it would relieve his breathing, he was at his own desire placed upon a lounge and bolstered up, and removed from his adjoining bedroom into his study, where, in the midst of his books and his literary and other papers and surrounded by his relatives and a few friends and all his devoted dependents, he breathed his last. For the last hour of his life, as the powers of nature were giving away, his condition became easy and he spent the time in affectionate leave-taking of his relatives and dependents, and finally sank quietly to his last rest as if going to sleep.

THE ALMANAC Publishers complain that their business is destroyed by AYE'S American Almanac. The people prefer it to any other, the Farmer's, Western, Southern,

A BEAUTIFUL PICTURE
GIVEN AWAY
"CUTE."—This is the name of the picture its size is 16 by 20 inches, it is printed in oil colors from 16 stones, and as a specimen of art, is equal to any chromo ever published in America.
Its price and market value is ten dollars, and the enterprising publishers, Messrs. Waters & Co., Chicago, give it away, to every yearly subscriber to their popular family weekly, OUR FRISBIE'S FRIEND. The chromo is an exact reproduction and perfect fac simile of an oil painting by one of England's greatest artists, Sir Joshua Reynolds. The subject is life like, exquisite and pleasing. It is a picture of a little girl, with waving, sunny hair, a rosy, happy face, cherry lips and soft, earnest blue eyes, seated upon the grass under the shade of weeping trees; the little four-year old, fairy has her round, plump little arms clasped about the neck of her faithful attendant, playmate and friend—her little dog, while he nestles comfortably in her embrace. In the entire range of subjects of this character, and works of art delineating happy childhood, we have seen nothing which approaches this in beauty of design or excellence of execution. We feel perfectly free to say that it has only to be seen to be pronounced superior to anything of the kind which has yet appeared; and yet it is given away to every subscriber to a valuable family weekly, full of reliable, instructive and interesting reading matter, news and miscellany—just suited to the wants and wishes of every family—every man, woman and child in America, whether living in city or country. Subscription price $3 per year. We should think local agents and canvassers could make a mint of money taking order for this paper and picture. The publishers give large cash pay with exclusive territory to the Agent, and will send free to any address specimen copies, circulars, terms, etc. Write for them. The address of the publishers is Waters & Co., Cor. State and 16th

Ayer's
Hair Vigor,
For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth.
This hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed.
But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous.
Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,
nothing else can be found so desirable.
Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,
FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.
The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures of many of which are truly marvellous. Inverious cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it.
Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination which they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.
Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unknown enemy undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of emboiling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcers, or on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this Sarsaparilla:
I. A. St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dispepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Erysipelas, Neuralgia, and the various Ulcerous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.
Syphilis or Hereditary and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine.
But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhoea or Whites, Urinary Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Doses for each case are found in our Almanac, which caused by accumulations of extraneous matter in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity of Digestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the ranking poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system.
Those who are Languid and listless, Depressed, Dont, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions, or who are afflicted with any of the symptoms of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.
