The public installation and supper at the Odd Fellow's hall last Saturday night, is said to have been a brilliant affair.

The editor of the REPUBLICAN is still at Salem, in attendance upon the Supreme Court, which will account for the want of editorial matter.

The Science of Health for January, has come to hand, filled with most valuable and useful information and suggestions.

Another copy of the Woodhall and Claffin Weekly has been issued filled with burning words and scathing sentences.

In its half century of usefulness Wistar Balsam of Wild Cherry has saved thousands from destruction. A half hour exposure, a few moments of draft will often create a cold which will lead to an incurable consumption. Use the Balsam in time; you will not regret.

The attention of our readers is called to the 'aid' of DeFrance and James. They were burnt out by the late fire in Portland, but they are again in good running order, having purchased a new set of furniture and fixtures.
Their address will be given by reference to their 'aid'.

G. B. Spiles has bought out his late partner, Phil Merriam, and will be found as ever, at his old stand and selling goods cheaper than ever, and ten per cent less than any house in Polk County. Give him a call immediately if you want the worth of your money. Attention is called to their dissolution notice in another column.

SUPREME COURT.—Supreme Court now in session, has before it quite an amount of business, and many of the most important questions are to be determined that have ever been raised in the State. It has performed a large amount of work this early in the session, and has made several very important decisions.

Physical infirmities are the lot of all Millions are always sick. No man, woman or child is uniformly in perfect health. Much, however, of the sickness and suffering which renders life a burden to so many of our fellow beings is due to carelessness and neglect. A mighty antidote to the leading cause of disease has been provided. It is as harmless as it is efficient.
No poisonous drug enters into its composition.
It is an undefiled stimulant, tonic and aperient of which every ingredient is vegetable. This unexceptionable preventative and restorative medicine is not a new thing under the sun.
Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will soon have been before the world a quarter of a century, and it is not too much to say that thousands, aye, tens of thousands, are now using it who would have been in their graves years ago had they not been strengthened and sustained by this wholesome stimulant. The rapidity with which minor ailments often become, when neglected, obstinate diseases, is well known.
This tonic is famous for the immediate check which it gives to these breeders of deadly diseases. The sensation of languor, the sick headache, the nervousness, the indisposition to exercise, the tremors, the confusion of brain, the physical debility, which are intended to premonish us of the approach of serious danger, are invariably removed by a few doses of the Bitters. The frame of preparation as a genuine specific for dyspepsia, bilious complaints, malarious fevers, rheumatism and chronic debility, is as wide as the world, and in these days of infamous charlatanism, when fierce cathar-tics, that rob the invalid of the last remnants of his strength, are advertised as invigorates, it is indeed a blessing to mankind that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are everywhere procurable, and everywhere popular.

THE EDUCATION FOR THE TIMES

The Importance of a Practical Education Was never more Apparent than Now!

IT IS UNIVERSALLY ACKNOWLEDGED that as we grow in position we grow more practical, and it is required of men that they educate themselves practically—educate themselves in the best manner possible—to meet the demands of the times.

When Agassius, King of Sparta, was asked what things he thought most proper for boys to learn, he replied: "Those things which they should practice when they become men."

"Deliver all things in number and weight, and put all in writing that thou givest out or receivest in," is a precept of universal application; and there is a special necessity for strict observance in all business transactions. Young
