

DALLAS, SATURDAY, MAY, 31.

Supreme Court

The time has fully come when the people of Oregon see and feel the need of a separate supreme court. Under the present arrangement we have but one court in the state. The circuit Judges constitute the supreme bench, and this system never was and never will be satisfactory or successful. It is unpleasant and undesirable, both for the members of the court and for attorneys and litigants, and the people with one voice unite in demanding a separate supreme court. The question of a separate supreme court ought to be freely discussed irrespective of party. The judiciary ought to be treated by the people as something which ought not to be mixed up with party questions, and they should determine at their next election that they will have a judiciary pure and capable. The representatives at the next election should be chosen with that consideration first of all, and as paramount to any and all others, and when convened they should at once reconstruct our judicial system from the ground up, erecting and putting in operation a separate supreme court instanter, composed of at least three of the best jurists and honest men that can be found in the state; men of legal learning and capable in all respects, men who are known to be honest, men of sterling worth and high toned integrity; not biggots or old fogies, but liberal minded, humane, progressive men; men who have correct notions of civil rights to American citizens, and who are willing, yea, anxious to cut loose from the hidebound tyranny of the common law which had its origin in the dark ages, and come up without lagging to the spirit of the age in which we live.

The President and Secretary of the Farmers' State Convention request the committees appointed at the recent session to meet at Salem, June 9th, to prepare their report for the Convention, which will meet the following day.

CORRECT

The Statesman remarks, that the Pantograph complains because the Bulletin and Statesman has been trying to read the Oregonian and Pantograph out of the Republican party, and the Statesman retorts by saying, that the Oregonian and Pantograph are mistaken in this regard. They did not intend to read those papers out of the party at all but would be very glad they should remain and behave themselves, and show no more a refractory spirit, but meekly submit to wear the party yoke if it should gail a little, and the Statesman declares that they have only been administering a full dose of wholesome chastisement to those refractory organs.

The course pursued by the Bulletin and Statesman is entirely correct; lay on Meibels, until the Oregonian and Pantograph, who have hitherto maintained a respectable standing, shall return to your dens of treachery and be content, or following the example of the LIBERAL REPUBLICAN, come out from among you who have by wicked hands and corrupt hearts, defiled the temple of liberty and the political sanctuary of the people, and denounce your high handed corruption by telling the simple truth, so that an honest people can see the gigantic cancer that is gnawing at their vitals, though perhaps unnoticed.

Personal

Capt. Lafollette, called upon us this week. The Captain appears as companionable as ever, and seems to be in high spirits over his present and future prospect on his mountain farm near Grand Round. The Captain without doubt has one of the best stock ranges in Oregon, and one of the most beautiful and picturesque locations in the valley with evergreens always ready to delight the eye on one hand, and the valley of the Yamhill on the other, and sparkling mountain water flowing in one constant rippling laughing torrent at his door, its no wonder he is happy.

The right of women to practice law.

The supreme court of the United States have affirmed the decision of the Supreme Court of Illinois denying the right of a woman to practice law in that State. Justices Bradley, and Field, place their decision upon the ground that she ought not to have or enjoy that privilege simply because she is a woman. This decision, devoid of reason natural justice and common rights, is nevertheless just what we expected in that case, and it is nonsense to further look to old fogyism on the bench for reform or relief on that subject. Women of America must look to the great body of the people for their God given rights, procuring such relief from the legislature of the several States by positive enactment as shall secure to them equal rights, and defend taxation without representation. With in the next decade the supreme court of the United States will overturn that decision and declare that a woman having the necessary and requisite qualifications has as good a right to follow the legal profession as a man and this decision made against Mrs. Myra Bradwell, will, in our opinion be treated without favor.

No Danger.

The Oregonian has an article under the caption of "the smallest on record," in which it is represented that a public functionary of that city who was displeased with a call for the committee of twenty seven, went to one of the merchants of the city who signed the same and said, "make out my bill, I don't want any thing to do with a republican who signed that paper."

The Oregonian remarks: This man is the ring candidate for Governor. They have "sent and dried" the politics of the State as far ahead as that already he is to be elected upon the people a year from this time by exactly the same means that were used a year ago to force Mr. Mitchell upon them. What for a Governor would such a man make?

We know you who mean Mr. Oregonian, you refer to J. N. Dolph, we understand him up here in Yamhill and Polk counties; he can't sell three hundred votes in both, so you may rest content for he can never touch bottom on that line, the people in the cow counties regard him as a self conceited legal simpleton, with far more whiskers than brains.

Safe Management.

The Oregonian says in substance this, the last meeting of the ring was held at the office of Holladay's attorney, on last Saturday night and that there were in attendance three members, Scott, Denny, and Bob Leid. The trio held their counsel while J. H. Mitchell stood out side guard to see that no spies enter. It is supposed that Mitchell was selected as guard because he is better acquainted with men and ropes in the city than any other person, and because he is supposed to be more sagacious in judging human nature.

All Right.

The political cauldron in the city of Portland still continues to boil. The Bulletin is much chagrined in view of the fact that it is unable to whip in all who have ever heretofore voted the republican ticket to tamely submit to the dictation of Holladay, Mitchell, Dolph and the Herald thinks it very unwise for any one who has ever voted with democrats to espouse with the republicans for the purpose of electing a peoples ticket irrespective of party name to govern the city. The Oregonian thinks the election of a peoples ticket the only salvation for the city.

We are satisfied that in this particular fight the Oregonian is right and that the only way to save that city from the fate of Solon is the election of pure men irrespective of party to govern its finances and affairs; and of course this will be opposed by the ring because it tends directly to weaken party feelings and might injure the present prospects of Dolph, for Governor.

The good substantial citizens of Portland are in a good cause by their effort to break up these corrupt party rings and the people of the State will follow their example in the next general election by kicking out both the old organizations and establishing the state government once more upon the basis of honesty and economy.

An open enemy paper is green enough to allow to "Hill" as the editor of the Oregonian. This is entirely a misapprehension; "Hill" was merely placed in the editorial chair to keep it vacant till an editor could be found.—Statesman.

That may be so, but it has been universally noticed throughout all Oregon that the vacant chair above referred to, has given the Holladay organs more uneasiness and nervous perceptibility, than all the occupied editorial chairs in the country put together.

STATE NEWS.

From the Jacksonville Sentinel: The unfortunate men who were burned by a caving bank on Sutter Creek, mention of which was made last week, were dug out, but not in time to save their lives. Johnson was badly crushed and lacerated, and was the first one found, his body having been recovered some two or three days before that of his companion. Casey, when found, was holding a board above his head and standing upright, with his back against the drift. He was not mangled or bruised, and looked as unscathed as if he were having evidently perished from suffocation.

The town of Pendleton boasts of the champion female foot racer—age eight—weight 123 pounds.

Seven cents a head is the ruling price for shearing sheep in Eastern Oregon.

From a gentleman who just returned from a tour in Washington county, we learn that much of the fall sown wheat is nearly waist high. The spring crops are also in splendid growing condition and will yield well, without any more rain before harvest. The fruit trees are full of young fruit, and the aggregate yield will be enormous. Farmers are greatly elated over the prospects.

The La Grande Sentinel of the 24th inst, says: "On Saturday last six Indians visited the residence of Masterson on Rock creek about 14 miles from Willow creek and 30 or 40 miles from Umatilla landing in the absence of the husband and father. They first proceeded to the mouths of the children with dirt, probably to prevent an outcry, and then attempted to ravish the wife and mother. But providence ordered otherwise, and before the vile crime could be accomplished the husband returned, and the Indians fled. Mr. Masterson fearing to remain at his home with his family, retired to Umatilla where they probably now are. This information we get from Col. H. C. Page, and have full confidence in its truthfulness."

Amputation Necessary.—Mr. George Lair, who lives in Washington county near the Tualatin river, met with a very painful and serious accident a few days since while engaged in shearing sheep. Being left handed Mr. Lair went to work rather awkwardly, and while so engaged the sheep, which was tied, suddenly sprang up and gave a vicious kick. The heels of the animal struck Mr. Lair's left hand, and drove the point of the shears into the muscle of the right arm, before he could shift his arm or check the force of the blow, the point of shears penetrated to the bone of the limb, inflicting a severe gash and severed the brachial artery. Dr. Bailey was summoned, and an effort made to staunch the flow of blood; but before the physician arrived Lair came near bleeding to death. A tight bandage finally stopped the blood when the artery was taken up. Amputation, however, it is thought will be necessary, in consequence of gangrene which has set in. Ere this time it is probable that Lair has lost his limb.

Stages now run through from Roseburg to Redding in 52 hours.

Last Monday evening Judge Thornton delivered a lecture at Salem on Salem titles. This is a matter of much interest to property holders at that place.

Insane.—An order to send George Francis Train to the State Lunatic Asylum has been made out by Judge Ayllon of New York.

The Benton county farmers are building a warehouse at Spring Hill, on the river, three miles below Albion. It will have a storage capacity of about 15,000 bushels.

Dr. S. Parker of this city has recently received the appointment by the Government of Surgeon of the military post at Sitka. He will start for his future field of labor on the return trip of the California now due here.

On the Friday morning train thirty or forty immigrants came up and scattered themselves all along from Gervais to Albany. They were all from Arkansas, and we learn from passenger that they all started from reading a letter written by Rev. Mr. Dawne, of this city.

A son of Wiley Sparks of Lane County has been missing for several days. He was out herding sheep. His family are alarmed for his safety.
