

The Liberal Republican.
DALLAS, SATURDAY AUG. 30
FACTS AND FANCIES.

A press gang—printers' devils.
Growing—Railroad monopolies.
A sour parent—Mother in Vinegar.
Irredeemable bonds—Vagabonds.
The blacksmith's game—Old sledge.
The original water works—Eve's eye.
A standing nuisance—Corner loafers.
Light employment—Building air-castles.

How to keep square with the world—Don't be round too much.
The greatest bet that was ever made—The alphabet.

The most stupid "gal" in Europe—Portu-gal.
Why is a young lady like a hinge—because she is something to a-dore.

Perpendicular drinking—Whiskey straight,
A young man's friends object to his being loose, but somehow they have an equal objection to his being tight.

What is home without a cradle? Well, as a general thing, without a baby.

A school boy defines flea: 'Flea, flow, fled—when you put your hand on it.

A calf with a foot shaped like a human hand is one of the sensations in Texas. Calves with two hands are common in the north.

It is a curious fact that while beaux are permitted to go in the way they are bent, belles are expected to go the way they are told.

A cotemporary asserts that half the married women wonder who their husbands will marry next, the other more sensibly wonder whom they will marry next.

An exchange is sarcastic. It says: "The man who thought he could do business without advertising has been compelled to give in. His first advertisement was headed 'Sheriff's Sale.'

In the depths of a forest there lived two foxes. One of them said, "let's quarrel."

"Vary well, but how shall we begin?" "O, it cannot be difficult," said fox one, "two-legged people fall out, why not we?"

So they tried all sorts of ways, but it could not be done, because each one would give way. At last no one fetched two stones.

"There!" said he, you say they are yours, and I'll say they're mine, and we will quarrel, and fight, and scrawl. Now I'll begin. Those stones are mine.

"Very well, you are welcome to them."

"But we will never quarrel at this rate!" cried the other, jumping up and licking his face. "You old simpleton didn't you know that it takes two to make a quarrel?"

So they gave it up as a bad job, and never tried to play at this silly game again.

WANTED HIS RECEIPT.—In a city not a thousand miles from this locality there lives a lawyer, crafty, subtle, and cute as fox. An Indian of the Choctaw tribe, Kiser by name, owed him some money. He had waited long for the tin. His patience at last gave way, and he threatened the Indian with law suits, processes and executions. The poor Choctaw got scared, and finally brought the money to his creditor. He waited for the lawyer to give him a receipt.

"What are you waiting for?" said the lawyer.

"Receipt," said the Indian.

"A receipt!" said the lawyer, "a receipt!" What do you know about the receipt? Can you understand a nature of a receipt? Tell me the use of one, and I will give to you."

The Indian looked at him a moment and then said:

"S'pose maybe me die; me go to heben; me find the gate locked; me see the Apostle Peter; he says 'Kiser, what do you want?' Me say, 'Want to get in.' He say, 'You go! man?' Me say, 'Yes, He say 'You pay Mr. A. that money?' What me do? I hab no receipt. Hab to hunt all ober heil to find you."

He got his receipt.

FOR ULTIMATE FIRE INSURANCE
APPLY TO THE OLD

PHENIX OF HARTFORD because

First, It has complied fully with the Oregon State Law

Second, Its contracts in Oregon are backed, under a re-insurance contract, by its own and the united assets of the Home Ins. Co. of New York and the North British and Mercantile Ins. Company of London, aggregating $2,500,000,000 offering the best security of any Fire Insurance Company or Association in the world.

Third, It can carry large risks, as its policies are re-insured by the above mentioned Companies, so that the PHENIX alone can carry the same line that all three companies would take separately.

Fourth, It requires but one set of proofs in case of loss; thus giving the security of three Companies without the trouble of dealing with separate Corporations.

On these solid merits, viz: Capacity to carry the largest risks, The simplest possible security, The prompt and equitable payment of all just claims, The Phenix Insurance Company solicits your patronage.
