Business in Dallas of late seems very lively. Twenties plenty and small change scarce.

Mr. J. M. Campbell has recently received another lot of furniture and now is the time to purchase.

Married.—By J. M. Waller October 19, 1873. M. P. White and Mary H. Myer, all of Polk County.

The farmers of this county are busy plowing and sowing, the weather is fine, and everything promises comfort and happiness to the people of Oregon.

A new bridge is in course of construction across the Yamhill River a short distance above Amity, under the management of John Taylor.

There will be a meeting held next Friday night at the Court House for the purpose of organizing the organization of a new legislature. Let everybody interested turn out.

Mrs. Chamberlin's lectures are proving a great success. She is logical, forcible and yet retains all the modesty that belongs to her sex. She is undoubtedly the best female speaker that has ever visited this coast. She handles her subjects, which are given her by persons selected by the audience, in a masterly manner and answers all questions with an ability seldom witnessed, and all this, she says, is done under spirit influence. Surely these are wonderful days, and this a wonderful age.

We call attention to the new advertisement of N. & J. D. Lee in this issue. This house established in 1862 has become a permanency in Dallas and for a general assortment of merchandise is not excelled, if equaled in the country. These gentlemen are men of well known integrity and fair dealing being able to pay cash down for their goods, they purchase at such rates as enable them to sell perhaps three per cent less than ordinary dealers. Special attention is called to that portion of their advertisement relating to School Books of which they are in receipt of a large number which will be sold for a short time at reduced rates. All who intend to purchase school books for the winter term should call immediately and make their selection.

As we buy our goods in the Eastern Markets for cash, we shall continue to sell at such prices as to defy competition. For the next 30 days we shall sell 50 pieces new styles prints at twelve cents worth 15.

100 pieces Bleached and Brown Domestic, at 12 cents, worth 15.
