TRIP TO PORTLAND.

Oct. 4th we took our family to the Mechanics' Fair in Portland. We went on the Joseph Kellogg. We had Mrs. Adams and the children ride into town on the horses Rosa and Charlie and riding back to turn them out, were too late for the boat. The gallant Captain however rounded in with considerable difficulty, and took us on board much to the delight of Birney who stood with tears in his eyes for fear Papa would be left. Mrs. Yergain, Mr. and Mrs. Giltner, Prof. Quick and wife, Mrs. Cox and daughters and Lena Blakesley were on board. We had a pleasant time going up, and arrived a little past noon, taking an excellent dinner on the steamboat.

As soon as we landed we went out shopping, and then proceeded to the Fair. We will not attempt a description of the Fair. We thought it very good for Oregon. The children were highly delighted and we were interested. We were most pleased of all to meet old friends. We saw Mrs. Woodruff, a lady we knew in Astoria in 1866. We saw Mr. Hardenburg, Rev. Mr. Devore, and Judge Carey Johnson and family of Oregon City. Mrs. Johnson was one of the most brilliant ladies present and dressed in the richest and most appropriate manner. We also saw Mrs. Holman and Miss Maggie Caples. Mrs. Holman wore an elegant dark hat & feathers. Mrs. Mollie Kellogg was one of the most beautiful ladies we saw at Fair. She was accompanied by her sister Josie and her father. The band from Vancouver discoursed sweet music and everything was well arranged with a deal of system and order, and easily to be approached. We had almost forgotten to say we met Mrs. Deseret Martin and her sister Rata Mowe, they have grown into beautiful women, and are a great credit to the excellent training of their mother, Mrs. McElhany.

We met a number of acquaintances on the street and in the stores; among others Judge Strong who was pleased to see our family, and Judge Dady who highly complimented our Fourth of July Poem at Vancouver. He did us the honor to say it was admirable, and that he had cut it out and pasted it in his scrap-book. He too was pleased to meet our family. Surely praise from a man of his intelligence will counterbalance any amount of sneers from certain inimical scrubs around St. Helen. They probably think

Where ignorance is bliss,
'Tis folly to be wise.

Mrs. Adams & Birney did not go out in the night as Mrs. Adams' health was poor. We could get no room at a hotel so Capt. Kellogg gave us his office on the wharf, the room was high and well ventilated and there was plenty of bedding and it was clean so we rested like kings.

We went with our little daughter in the evening to the Fair. The display of prismatic colors at the fountain pleased every one and the waterfall and plants made that room look like fairy land.

The next morning we all had a nice breakfast at the St. Charles, and came home on the Latona. Mrs. Wm. Slaven, daughter and sister were on board, Mrs. C. C. Bozarth and daughters, Mrs. Norman Merrill and the little pet granddaughter, somebody's darling, and Miss Ida Bozarth. Mrs. C. C. Bozarth is a very pleasant lady; she and her husband keep a store at Woodland; she was a John A. sister of Mrs. Maxon. This family has furnished to Washington Territory some of its finest ladies; they are truly helpmeets to their husbands; they are no drones but cheerfully take up the burden of life. Mr. W. H. Musgrove and daughter Irene were landed at his magnificent ranch on Sauvie's Island. Mr. Musgrove has a superior family of children. He takes great pride in their education. His daughter with him was a fine intelligent girl, who appreciated the value of an education. She stated that Annie Knox had taken the medal as the best reader in the Harrison Street School in Portland. This has been a very successful year for Mr. Musgrove on his farm. He has made a great quantity of the finest butter.

The officers of the Latona are very pleasant gentlemen. The boat sets a good table. We arrived home in safety.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTERS.

[From our Regular Correspondent.]

WASHINGTON, D. C. Sept. 30, '82.

In accordance with the act of Congress Secretary Chandler to-day appointed the following board of naval officers to investigate the circumstances of the loss of the Jeanette: Commodore Wm. G. Temple, President Capt. Joseph N. Miller and Commander Frederick V. McNeir, Master Samuel G. Lemly, Judge advocate. The board will hold its first meeting on Thursday, October 5th, at the Navy Department. The survivors of the Arctic expedition at present in the city, Lieut. Danenhower, Engineer Melville and Seaman Ninderman and Norss, will appear as witnesses before the board, and will be thoroughly examined concerning all the particulars of the expedition, from the sailing of the Jeanette until their return here. The report of Lieut. Danenhower, which has been submitted to the Secretary, and the report of Engineer Melville, which is in preparation, will be considered by the board. Secretary Chandler gave an interview of some length this morning to Engineer Melville, Lieut. Danenhower, and the seaman Ninderman. All of the relics and records of the Jeanette expedition which have been in the custody of Engineer Melville were formerly turned over to Secretary Chandler. They are of considerable bulk, completely filling what is known as a musket box and a large Saratoga trunk. "Text books were of little value to us," said Engineer Melville in course of a conversation concerning the cruise of the ill-fated Jeanette. We had two of what are regarded as standard authorities on dog sledging and they failed in almost every particular to agree with our actual experience. We had to determine everything by experiment. The revenue cutter Corwin, he said, "had been remarkably successful in getting as far north as she did, but Capt. Hooper was favored with an unusually open season, whereas the Jeanette had to contend with one of the hardest, even in that region."

A day or two ago the New York Herald had a ten-column attack of the Jay Gould grab. It further bewails and bemoans the fact that that eminent subscriber to the Grant fund of a quarter of a million, raised and kept by George Jones of the New York Times has obtained the control of the N. Y. Associated Press. The N. Y. Associated Press is a decrepit institution which has long since ceased to be of any particular value as a news gatherer. If Gould wants it let him have it. He can put it in a glass case, so its remains won't offend visitors, and keep it on exhibition in his office much as one would an Egyptian mummy, which it resembles so far as possession of vital power is concerned.

Secretary Chandler, who asked last night about the rumor that he was to succeed Mr. Folger as Secretary of the Treasury, said: "You had better deny it. There is nothing whatever in it. If Secretary Folger should leave the department, as is not at all probable that I would succeed him; moreover I do not believe that Secretary Folger will venture to resign, unless compelled to do so, and then the Assistant Secretary New will surely succeed him." It is inferred from this and other statements that Secretary Folger, intends to remain in office until after the New York elections.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of the District of Columbia closed its session at the Congregational Church, at the corner of Tenth and G streets northwest, yesterday. This body of earnest women has done much good in the past, and it is believed that the late meeting tended to still further good. Miss Frances E. Willard, the distinguished temperance apostle, was in attendance on this meeting, aiding the local members with her wise counsels and giving them the benefit of the lessons experience has taught her.

The investigation into the charges of the attempted bribery of jurors in the star-route cases, which has been in progress in the office of the District Attorney, is now so nearly completed that the matter is expected to be brought to the attention of the Police Court in a few days. It is anticipated that the testimony will develop some new facts of an interesting character.

It is understood that a member of a leading free-trade writers will appear before the tariff commission when that body goes to New York. These gentlemen declined to go to Long Branch when the commission was in session there, but stated that if the commission would come to New York they would give their views in regard to the necessity of a revision of the tariff laws. Among the gentlemen referred to are David A. Wells and J. S. Moore. "The Parsee Merchant," who prepared the Fernando Wood tariff bill. Both are well known writers on revenue and tariff reform.

A FATAL MISTAKE.

How a Blundering Judgment May be Responsible for the Most Serious Results.

—Mr. Edwin Booth said recently that he supposed his lungs were affected, having a persistent cough until he saw Dr. MacKenzie, of London who found that this symptom arose from a disturbance of the liver.—N. Y. Herald.

The above item, which has been going the rounds of the press, is of no special significance other than to the personal friends of Mr. Booth, except that it brings to light a truth of the greatest importance to the world. Few people pass through life without the affliction of a cough at some point in their career. In most cases this is considered the result of a cold or the beginning of consumption, and thousands have become terrified at this revelation and have sought by a change of air and the use of cough medicines to avert the impending disaster. It may safely be said that more than half the coughs which are afflicting the world to-day do not have their origin in the lungs but are the result of more serious troubles in other organs of the body. "Liver coughs" are exceedingly common and yet are almost wholly misunderstood. Arising from a disordered state of the liver they show their results by congesting the lungs. In fact, the efforts of the liver to throw off the disease, produce coughing even when the lungs themselves are in a healthy state.

But it is a mistake to suppose that such delicate tissues as the lungs can long remain in a healthy condition when they are being constantly agitated by coughing. Such a theory would be absurd. Consumption, which was feared at first, is certain to take place unless something is done to check the cause. This must be plain to every thoughtful mind. It stands to reason, therefore, that the only way in which "liver coughs" can be removed is by restoring the liver to health.

In this connection another fact of great importance becomes known, which can best be explained by the relation of an actual event. Mr. W., a wealthy cattle dealer of Colorado, became greatly reduced in health and came east to Chicago for the purpose of being cured. He consulted Dr. J., one of the leading physicians of the country on pulmonary subjects and began treatment for the cure of his lungs. But his cough increased while his strength decreased. Finally he determined to consult another physician and applied to Dr. —. After a careful examination he was informed that his lungs were perfectly sound, while his kidneys were in a most terrible condition. He had all the apparent symptoms of consumption but he was suffering from the terrible Bright's disease.

The above truths regarding coughs have been known by the leading physicians for several years but the public have never been informed of them. They are serious facts, however, and should be understood by all, so that dangers which might otherwise prove fatal may be avoided. They clearly prove one great truth which is, that the kidneys and liver are such vital organs that their health should be constantly guarded. The distressing hacking cough, which is often treated as a forerunner of consumption and the wasting strength which accompanies it, in all probability may arise from weakened or diseased kidneys or liver, to restore which would cause returning health. How this most desirable end may be obtained has long been a problem, but few people of intelligence at the present day have longer any doubts that the popular remedy known as Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure has done more to correct, relieve and restore these organs than any other preparations ever before known. There are hundreds of instances which have occurred within the past three months where individuals have believed themselves the victims of consumption, when, in reality it was diseased kidneys and liver, which this remarkable medicine has completely cured, as witness the following statement:

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 6, 1882.—I believe it to be a fact that thousands of cases of so called consumption can be successfully treated by simply using Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure as directed. I was one of the "given up to die" persons—had every symptom of the last stage of consumption—had cough of four year's standing, night sweats, chills, etc., etc. A season south did no good, and the fact was the case looked discouraging. I took Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, and in three months I regained over twenty pounds, and my health was fully restored.

W. C. BEACH,
Foreman Buffalo Rubber Type Foundry.

There are thousands of people in America to-day who believe they are the victims of consumption and destined to an early grave and who are trying to save themselves by the use of consumption cures but are growing worse each hour. Let all such persons stop, and calmly consider whether they are not seeking to check a disease in the lungs when it is located in the kidneys and liver. Let them then treat the disease in its original stronghold and by the remedy which has been proven to be the most effective and then look for the return of health and happiness which such treatment is to bring.

LOCAL NEWS.

We have received The Oregon Short Line Record published at Hailey, Idaho. It is a magnificently printed and illustrated paper, and blows a perfect hurricane. It sent us a map which we have longed to see. The two missing links in the N. P. R. R. are between Missoula and Butte in Montana and Portland, Oregon and Kalama, W. T.; when these are done Hurray for Old New England. We and our family like George Washington Jones, will go on our travels. Hailey is the center of the Wood River Country. It is on a branch road from the Oregon Short Line. By the way George W. Maxwell has made a fortune here. George was always found to get rich, and at last he has made it by padding his own canoe.

We have received a Chinook Dictionary published by J. K. Gill & Co., of Portland. They are the well known firm of booksellers. This Dictionary is the best of the kind ever produced, and as an Oregon classic, worthy the perusal of the literati of this Coast, whose taste would make them appreciate it more than the finest Greek or Latin lyrics. Hyas Kloshe.

Mr. Ransey of Clatskanie called. He has been appointed Justice of the Peace for that precinct by Judge Moore. He appeared like an excellent well-meaning man. He says Miss McCoy and Mrs. McNally are living with Mrs. Frierson, and that Mr. Frierson will put on an addition of two rooms for their special convenience.

If the Muckles say they have supported us or our family at any time they are liars. We have always paid them money or its equivalent for everything we got of them, and according to their own books they are now in our debt. They never hired us to do anything for them except to haul up a few sacks of salt before they had teams of their own.

We buy our milk of Captain Lemont and hire George Strachan to pasture our cow, because the Muckle logs have torn down our fences. They have never been men enough to offer us a nail or a board though for the last four years they have torn down our fences. Benevolence and honesty henceforth thy name is Muckle.

We have received the Ladies' Floral Cabinet published at 22 Vesey Street, New York. Terms $1.25. It is devoted to flowers. Every lover of flowers should take it. The cultivation of flowers is one of those pure pleasures that survived the Fall, and which makes the anticipation of Heaven so delightful.

Dr. Caples says they raise awful big vegetables around Columbia City. How should we know, we have never received any vegetables from that vicinity. We like ocular proof of such matters, before we venture to blow in the paper.

Mr. Turner, of Westport, is a distinguished soldier, his last skirmish was not the Battle of Bridgewater but Dishwater, he met a son of Peter and got pestered out. Turner is a standing candidate for matrimony.

Our enterprising townsman, A. H. Blakesley is laying the foundation of a hotel to be three stories high and 34 by 50 feet. It will be built on the vacant lot between B. F. Giltner's house and A. H. Blakesley's saloon.

Two of our sheep have been lamed. It is reported they were lamed by boys throwing rocks at them. These young reprobates should have a dose of hickory well applied by parental hands.

A widower at Westport says a widow tried to mash him when he was going to his first wife's funeral; he said he could not stop to court her when he had such a dreadful job on his hands.

We got our stove at last. We think it will be of excellent service, and will report so the manufacturers have due credit, when we set it up, and it is in full blast.
