IN MEMORIAM. How can I comfort you, sorrowing Mother, What will I say that will bring you relief, Dear little Harry he sings with the angels, Let your own words, my friend, lighten your grief.

Sings with the angels oh! highest of honors, Sings to the Savior glad arthens of praise, Think of it, no more, thine own little Harry, Chanting glad songs to the Ancient of Days.

Swift as the arrow that speeds on its mission, The pure little spirit ascended above, And there ever more for his loved ones he waiteth, And rests sweetly on the bosom of love.

Never to know aught of sin or of sorrow, Never to feel aught of trouble or pain; But ever to roam o'er the bright hills of glory, Oh! say wouldst thou take him to earth back again.

Oh! weep then no longer, the Savior will help thee, He knows all thy sorrow, He marks every tear, He waiteth to give thee the place He hath promised, He says, "If ye love Me that be of good cheer, Look up through the clouds, see the sun is still shining,

THE ABOVE LINES were written on the death of Harry Taylor Wiggins, born March 1st, 1879; Died at Oak Point, May 22nd, 1883 of Scarlet Fever. The lines were written by a dear friend of the mother. He was a very bright child was loved dearly by all and was a great pet of the writer.

PRESENTATION AT FORT ADAMS—At dress parade at Fort Adams yesterday afternoon there were exceptionally pleasant proceedings in connection with the departure of a member of Battery G, Fourth Artillery to a Second Lieutenantcy in the Ninth Infantry, reached by hard study and proficiency in the profession.

ADJUTANT DYER and Lieutenant Thomas having exchanged positions, the latter replied as follows: I, Mr. Dyer, as the representative of G Battery, accept from you this very generous gift with my most heartfelt thanks. In this generosity I can plainly see the best wishes of all for my future welfare and career. They will always recall fond recollections of the past and when required to use them in defence of our country, may I never prove unworthy of the honor conferred upon me here to-day. Again I thank you.

THE PARADE was then dismissed and the newly commissioned officer was heartily congratulated. The pleasant scene was witnessed by several hundred persons, including the summer residents. Lieutenant Thomas leaves to-night for Fort McKinney, Wyoming, where he is to report by August 6. He has been studying three years, and has been examined at Fort Adams and also at Fortress Monroe.

WILL C. KING will lecture Saturday Evening at Columbia City and next Tuesday evening at St. Helena. CONFERENCE of the M. E. Church will commence at Vancouver, W. T., Aug. 22d.

A NEW SAWMILL.—For some time it has been known that steps were being taken for the building of a first class sawmill at Vancouver. The arrangements have now been completed and the mill is to be built. Eugene Semple, of Portland, is at the head of the enterprise. The mill will be located on Lot No. 6, on the river bank below town, the land being a donation to the enterprise from Mr. Wm. Ranck. The machinery, which is direct from the factory at St. Louis, Mo., is of the most improved make and of 74 horse power, was brought over from Portland on the Lurline on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, and will be set up immediately. It is expected to have the saws running within five or six weeks. The mill will have the same capacity as the St. Helen mill—20,000 or 25,000 feet every 12 hours. This is an enterprise that we wish to see succeed. Mr. Ranck deserves credit for his public spirit in making so liberal a donation to this enterprise.—Register.

THE MEANEST MAN YET.—A certain man separated from his wife visited lately his children, and gave them ten cents apiece. Before he left he took back the ten cents from the baby to buy him a drink of whiskey. ANOTHER.—Noble old John Gunn packed on his back a big load of vegetables, once upon a time, to St. Helena and carried them to a certain store where an old man was clerking, and offered it for sale. The old man said he would give a bit, and John delivered them over, and received his bit. He then went all over town found a man with a three cent piece, and procured it, went back to the store presented to the old man aforesaid the bit, the three cent piece and vegetables as a gift saying he had found the meanest man in Oregon.

THE SALMON FISHING SEASON by law expired on Tuesday, July 31st. "Chas. Muckle, of St. Helens, made his appearance in Vancouver on Monday looking after business and things. The family of Geo. Tyskiewicz, on Bachelor's Island, has been suffering a visitation of scarlet fever. All the children are improving.

THE BUILDING for A. S. Marble's new mill on Salmon creek is about completed but the machinery will not be ready for grinding until about Sept. 1st. Miss Ella Stoughton arrived at New York July 20th, from her foreign voyage. She will remain in the East, visiting friends for some time to come.—Independent.

LOCAL NEWS

HENRY MONTGOMERY KNIGHTON, son of Segarlin Knighton, and grandson of Capt. Knighton, founder of St. Helena, has returned from the occupation of boat-puller at Eagle Cliff with $450 clear cash. He is a very fine young man, steady as a clock, and a perfect hero. When a small boy he endured without a wince, pieces of skin to be cut from his arms to be inoculated in the body of his father who had been dangerously burnt on Chelatchie Prairie. This feat of surgery was successfully accomplished and the father is living and well today, and the child is blossoming into a noble manhood, the pride of his other grandfather, the venerable Edward Henric.

THE MILES-McBRIDE camp has been moved from Tide Creek to the South Fork of the Scappoose near Mr. Van Cleve's. It consists of Dr. Richardson's family, Hon. T. A. McBride's family, Mrs. Dr. Yergain, and Mrs. Orville, Mrs. Morse and Miss Annie Merrill. Mr. Miles is the purveyor and main stay of the camp, and keeps up the connection with the outside world. If you want a good time, and everything to move right along have S. A. Miles for the motive power. He is like the mainspring to a clock. Francis and Cora Miles have been out but have returned. It is hard for them to stay away from their beautiful home. Georgia Gilmer is the pet of the campers, also Mrs. M. Helman.

JUDGE MOORE, Captain Lemont, James Muckle and A. H. Blakesley were commissioned by the N. P. R. R. (we suppose this but don't know certain) to pick out the site of the St. Helen Depot. It was determined to be on the land of Aaron Broyles. The place selected is a very good one, and we believe will be well liked by residents of St. Helena and vicinity. Our office will be much nearer to it than of the mist, and East Street, where our office is, will be more centrally located than that of the mist on Cowlish Street. It is a short half mile from it to the Depot.

THERE are some people upon their first advent in a community make a great blow of trumpets but after a short time are compelled to take a back seat, not so Mr. and Mrs. Godkin. They have gradually and surely worked into the esteem of the community and spite of innate modesty are reckoned among our first citizens. They are people of culture and refinement, and everyone was pained at Mrs. Godkin's accident, and the testimonials of interest and solicitude were marked; for which Mr. & Mrs. Godkin return their sincere thanks.

THERE was quite an excitement near the printing office Thursday evening. The sheep came rushing up to the house the children cried out "the wolves are after them", a pistol shot was heard, and this Major, gun in hand, rushed out to the rescue, when lo and behold Strachan's poodle dog, with his front cut long and his hind cut short, hove in sight, resembling a small British lion. Wm. Strachan and J. W. Campbell soon appeared "enveloped in a mist," the dog was summarily castigated, and the scene ended with "all hands round."

THE NEW EDITOR of the mist went out where the pot holes were blowing on the R. R. The Chinamen told him to run, but he was deaf or numb, at least he didn't hear or if he heard he didn't understand. All expected when the smoke cleared off there would be only thin air, but instead stood Ayres alive and "twice as natural" as before.

THE MUCKLES after running their logs over our lowland went, and sailed on two boards on our fence; this astonished us. It must have been a dreadful strain on their penurious disposition. They will have to use some fried sea bass instead of salmon to get even with their purses.

MR. ALLEN's little girl Ethel started out to hunt her father the other morning. She went away beyond Milton Bridge, and was still going when overhauled by Miss Moore on horseback and Mrs. Stickle on foot. She was brought back much to the chagrin of herself but to the great relief of her afflicted mother.

ABE NEER has sold over a thousand dollars worth of lots at Neer City which contains an area of ninety acres. Abe is not married yet, but in a fair way to get one of the likeliest damsels of the land, as he will have lots of cash to keep her up. In his city enterprise Mr. Wingerup is his assistant.

MR. J. S. DAVENPORT has for sale the finest collection of house-plants we ever saw. They are potted in little pails, and his place is fragrant with the delicious perfume of these beautiful children of Nature. James is very tasty, and knows how to make his place attractive. Money to loan on real estate security by F. A. Moore Esq., St. Helena, Oregon. The Strachans have resumed operations on the quarries.

EMMA COX and Frankie Moore gave us a horse back call. Emma rode her Aunt Mary's horse Birnie. It reminded us of old times when we used to go out riding with the girls.

MR. W. H. WHITNEY is doing a rushing business in nuts, apples, fruit and candies at his stand on River Street, St. Helena. The boot-black stand of his little son is also in full blast, and they are just gathering in the dollars as well as dimes.

Lost.

A Remarkable Circumstance. In 1875 a very peculiar man in kid gloves arrived at Columbia City. Every one pronounced him an oddity. He was dressed in a very peculiar manner. He was in the heart of the city. Nothing has been heard from him until after following up on dressed rather shabby, his clothes badly torn, and his pants in his boots. After following up in his trail which he has lately established, we can be found as a choice selection of family groceries, dry-goods, hardware and notions, as can be found, at prices that for cheapness a touch all. Orders respectfully solicited.
