Sunday morn Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Allen's babe, Earl Allen, passed through the gateway of Death to the Land of Eternal flowers, where no drought, no pain, no blight ever visits the inhabitants. It was but 8 months old, but as it stretched forth its little hands, murmured its childish cries and uttered its innocent prattle had entwined itself with the closest tendrils of affection around their heartstrings. It had suffered greatly for some time, but will suffer no more. It undoubtedly would have made a noble man if it had lived, but instead of on Earth, it will grow to manhood in the Paradise of God. O it is sweet when life's toils are over to have some one in Heaven to wait our coming, to not have all the knocking as we come on the outside, to have pioneers in the land of glory.

Father Sellwood stopped on Monday, and delivered a funeral discourse of much pathos and beauty. Mrs. Holman and Miss Lottie May Stewart sang some of the sweetest and saddest of refrains, and the coffin was beautified by wreaths and bouquets of flowers of the choicest kind. A cavalcade of respectable size followed the remains to its last resting place on Germany Hill, where in the cemetery of Angel's Rest it will repose till the silver peal of the archangel's trump when its soul shall rehabilitate itself.

O shed no tears for the loved and lost,
He has joined in his beauty the star-crowned host.
In God's affection he holds a place,
As big as the biggest of his race;
The Heavens shed forth as grand a glare
As the greatest king had been ushered there;
Christ died for this child upon the cross
Though never stained was his soul with dross.
Like a snowflake, the latest of the storm,
There was no spot on his soul or form.
In the sun of God's glory this gem exhaled
And is set in a crown and will never be paled.

Wednesday night at 10 o'clock P. M. Abby A. Howard, wife of H. O. Howard and daughter of C. S. Emerson, departed this life at her residence on Milton Creek. The doctor pronounced it scarlatina. It ended with congestion of the brain. She has left a husband, fond parents, brothers, and sisters, and four babes, the youngest but four months old to mourn her loss. This is very sad, and arouses the tenderest sympathy of the community. She would be 25 years old the 21st day of Dec. next. She was born at Machiasport, Maine.

The Scappoose lodge of I. O. G. T. contains some of the best material on the Upper Scappoose. Mr. King returns every time bringing his sheaves with him. His eloquence seems of the most effective kind His oration at the Court House in St. Helen on Tuesday eve was listened to with profound attention. His description of home culture as a preventive of dissipation was one to arouse the thoughtfulness and better nature of his audience. Home, its pleasures, and its beautification have been too much neglected on this Coast. Good homes are the corner stones in the temple of Liberty. Without them it will fall in a shapeless ruin.

A lodge of I. O. G. T. was organized on the Upper Scappoose by Will C. King, Grand Lecturer, Aug. 12th. with 34 charter members. W. C. Templar, Chas.H. Ramsey; W. R. H. S., Mary Sharringhausen; W. L. H. S. Ellen Corbin; W. V. T. Mrs. Maria West; W. R. Sec'y, A. T. Creecy; W. A. Sec'y, Sarah Sharringhausen; W. F. Sec'y J. G. Watts; W. Treas. Mrs. E. Watts; W. M. C. C. Slavens; W. D. M. May West; W. I. G. Clara Joy; W. O. G. R. Z. Joy; W. Chap. Martha Sharringhausen; P. W. C. T. Harry West; L. D. A. T. Creecy.

Joseph E. Smith received a contract last week for driving the piles for inclines on the west bank of the Willamette opposite Albina, at Coffin Rock and at Kalama, to make through connection between the Columbia system of railroads and Puget Sound. Work commenced last week. The large barge "No. 1," will have her decks raised and will be used for the same purpose at Albina. Each barge will have two tracks and can carry ten cars at a load.—Oregonian.

Work on the Kalama branch is progressing rapidly, a large force of men being employed, and every effort used to have the road ready by September 3. Two locomotives are at work on the line, one at Columbia City and the other at Richardson's place below town, and track laying is proceeding in both directions. The grading will be completed in about two weeks.—Astorian.

LOCAL NEWS.

The late dance at the residence of Thomas Cloninger was a decided success. It was one of the most brilliant affairs of the season. There were 38 ladies in all present, and 47 gentlemen. We noticed these ladies in particular, Miss Lamberson, Miss McNamee, Miss Freeman, Miss Corbin, Miss Bonser, Miss McKay, Miss Ramsey, Miss West, Miss Emma Fullerton, Mrs. McNamee, and Mrs. Stingley. They were all dressed in most excellent taste. For brilliancy, fascination and good sense the Scappoose ladies bear the palm. Thomas Cloninger, the host, was agreeable, affable and pleasant; no one knows better how to entertain company and make everything pass off in the most charming manner. He is a perfect gentleman in his own house, and keeps up such festive parties like a prince.

The cooking was done by Mrs. Mary Cloninger, Thomas' wife, and showed what excellent training in that and all womanly arts her good mother gave her. Throughout, the dance was a most enjoyable affair. Of the gentlemen present George Grant and Dan Balch added by their assiduous attentions and civilities much pleasure to the occasion. We had made a great omission if we had not mentioned Mrs. Grant. Mrs. Stingley deserves particular mention for the piquancy and brilliancy of her conversational powers. This affair is one of those reunions that will be inscribed in gold letters upon the tablets of memory.

A Chinaman not long since hired Mr. Stingley to carry him, bag and baggage, to Gosa's Landing. He agreed to pay him four dollars. When he arrived at his destination he refused to pay but two, and attempted to unload his stuff, but Mr. Stingley drew him to the ground by his pig-tail. Thereat the Chinaman gathered up a club; but just as he was ready to strike, a six-shooter was stuck in his face, and he opened his purse with wonderful alacrity, and concluded he had waked up the wrong Melican man.

We have wished for a photograph machine to get views of the huge steamers stuck just above our house on the St. Helen Bar. We think they would convince Mr. Villard that Frogmore and its harbor was of more intrinsic value as a shipping point for big ships than a dozen Portlands. Things are developing fast to prove that a poor wise man about the size of Major Adams has more brains than all the boasted intellect of the puffed up conceited set that have hitherto run this God-forsaken part of sublunary territory.

Prof. Quick, the County School Superintendent, says Mr. Roussel passed the finest kind of an examination. It is to be hoped he will be employed to teach the public school. He is a very talented young man and of excellent principles. He is so ingenious he can turn his hand to anything. While at work for us one day he found a door lock out of order, he took an old brass wire from a lamp burner, and put in a spring. He is not one of the helpless kind.

Mrs. Lemont had a very nice ride with us and our family on Sunday. We went over to Milton and to Aaron Broyles', who sent a red apple to the Captain who was 71 years old that day. He has looked for the railroad lo! these many years, and lived to behold it. He is one of those crazy men that has lately proved sane, while those who laughed at his wild idea of a railroad now call themselves Adamphool.

Received calls from Mrs. Woodman and children, and Mrs. Watts and children. Mr. and Mrs. Woodman have visited St. Helen, having made a trip to the Sound. Mr. Woodman sold out his tin shop in Albina to Mr. Boos, and is seeking a new location. He thinks he will settle at Vancouver. The whole family look in fine health, and as if prosperity had attended them since their departure from St. Helen.

We met Mr. R. C. Campbell a very pleasant gentleman. He and his friend M. Pomeroy were getting an outfit to go on a pleasure trip to Pomeroy's ranch. He had acted as coroner on a man lately drowned at Rainier called Friday, a Kanaka. Mr. Campbell stated he had a jug of spirit in the boat to accompany him to the spirit world. He ran his boat against a boom, and the sudden shock threw him overboard.

After Major Adams succeeded in his paper the Muckles thought anybody could run a newspaper. So they started one, and soon run it into the ground; result, their lower lips hang down and the "official" wife-beating clique look like a lot of lately weaned calves. Yea and verily they walk as walketh a man in a sling.

At Shintaffer's and Edmonds' Saloon is a splendid billiard table. If you want to know how fine it is just look in and see for yourselves. It gives the saloon a splendid appearance.

NOTICE.

I desire to close all accounts due me before September 1st, 1883. All accounts due July 1st must be paid, or settled by note with approved security before Aug. 25th. This is the last notice to those persons whose accounts were due on or before January 1st, 1882 for the payment of which no arrangement has been made.

G. W. McBRIDE.

D. W. Prentice & Co.'s Musical Journal for August contains the following: songs and instrumental music besides its usual amount of news and sketches of many musical composers: "Yes, Sir!" "The Unforgotten Song." "The Hour of Rest," "Moonbeams on the Lake.' Price, 10 cts. per month, 75 cts. per year, published at 107 First Street, Portland Oregon.

Mr. R. S. Fullerton has sold his beautiful ranch to Mr. McMillen, and moved his family out to his land near the site of Moore's quondam mill. He will create a Paradise of beauty no matter how rough a wild he is transplanted into, and the smiles of his interesting sons and daughters would make any place agreeable.

Judge Moore is attorney of the Division of the N. P. R. R. between Portland and Kalama. This addition to his other business keeps him on the wing. His brother, late a graduate in medicine at a Vermont University is on his way to this Upper Coast, intending to settle at some favorable point.

James Shintaffer has bought Enoch's fine span of horses and a new wagon-rig at Portland of the most approved pattern, and has gone to hauling rock from the quarries. James has got a finer fit out than any of the boys, as a reward of his perseverance and industry. Good luck to Jim!

J. W. Campbell is flourishing. His prosperity is a bitter pill to his enemies. Some men in this community have got so used to taking those kind of pills they walk up now and take them like little men. Our prosperity has physicked the Muckles so bad they look as thin as eelskins.

A lady down the river who has not had access to a Dictionary, spoke of the Muckles as Muckeels. We think their coat of arms, should they ever return to Hingland, should be an eel running through some muck. No wonder they squirm.

☞Dr. J. M. Roberts, Dentist, 183 1st Street, Portland, Or. will visit St. Helens and Columbia City 3d Monday of each month, to remain the three first days of the week at St. Helen and the remaining three days at Columbia City.

Mr. Cooper, the butcher, is almost afraid to go into his meat shop for fear of being butchered by the yellow jackets. He carries his hand in a sling, having encountered sundry and divers of the business ends of those yellow rascals.

We return thanks to Mrs. Giltner and Mrs. Meeker for flowers for bouquets for our children, who tendered them as sad offerings of sympathy for the little babe lately torn from the fond embrace of its parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen.

Mr. Titus H. Taylor is in Vermont. He is engaged in house painting just to take up his mind. If he didn't work he would die right off. His daughter, Lillie, has greatly improved in looks but don't like New England winters.

Josie Copeland was riding horseback at Judge Moore's the other day. After she dismounted she said, "Now stand still till I curry you down," and she went at him with brush and curry comb like a first class livery man.

Captain Lemont has received a letter from his cousin Joseph H. Lunt of Winslow, Maine. He intends to soon visit Oregon. This has been a very prosperous year agriculturally in the East. Mr. Lunt cut 85 tons of hay.

The R. R warned J. L. Benham and family to leave their home, as it was intended to make a monster blast on Tuesday. We listened for the blast, expecting to be lifted clear out of our boots, but didn't hear it.

One of the stones in memory of one of Judge Winton's family in the cemetery has fallen down. The rock in which it was set seems to have become disintegrated by the weather.

N. C. Dale, Sherriff, is at the Hospital in Portland, nearly blind and T. C. Watts, Deputy, has to do all the business. This greatly interferes with his business in Muckles' mill.

The Lewis County Nugget man had his roller eat up by an old sow. He will have to use a horse-collar now. These country editors have to pass through scenes and unseens.

Hon. G. W. McBride and his nephew Byron Caples returned on the steamer Oregon. Everyone greeted them with as much pleasure as they had been absent a dozen years.

NEWS DROPS.

A new scow is building at St. Helen.

Judge Blanchard is driving piles at Ilwaco.

George Frantz intends to start a refreshment stand at the St. Helen Depot.

Mr. Edmonds has gone below, Mrs. Edmonds did not go with him as she expected.

Judge Winton's family have been visiting at their father's, Hon. Nelson Hoyt.

Joseph Copeland is putting up a fine plank fence in front of his residence on the Scappoose.

Mr. Searcy's family and Mrs. Morrison are occupying the house lately built on Columbia Street.

Jeffries & Co. are dissolving partnership which temporarily stops all work on the Milton Quarries

Peter Shannon is sowing grass seed out on G. W. Harris' ranch on Bunker Hill. Peter is a rustler.

Mrs. E. J. Hazen will move into one of the small tenements on Columbia St. so as to be nearer the water.

Received calls from Miss McMurtry, also from Francis Miles, likewise from Calista Moore and Georgia Snelson.

We are sorry to learn of the illness of S. A. Miles Esq. He has had the chills. He is very much missed in public places

We had some excellent items from Milton Creek but mislaid them till they got too old. Will do better next time.

Mr. Vinsonhaler has moved into town. He thinks of returning to Smith Co. Kansas. He will visit the Sound first.

The Walla Walla is to plough out the sand on the St. Helen Bar so as to make a big path for ocean vessels to Portland.

Mr. A. H. Blakesley is proceeding with the painting of his fine hotel. Its outside finish will equal in beauty its inside.

We are not sufferers alone from the Muckles, the cattle are pouring first into our place and then into the lower field of Milton.

There was a fine shower Wednesday night. Nature said "Down with your dust," and deposited the silvery drops on the yearning earth.

Mr. N. L. Grey has bought a new road-cart at East Portland also a new harness to fill the demands of his increasing livery business.

Mrs. T. C. Watts' health has been bad for some time, and she will go to visit the Bonser girls, and recuperate herself in their charming society.

Mrs. Met F. Hazen is much pleased with her new residence. It is near that spring that is on the picnic grounds, and she prizes pure water as of great worth.

Mrs. Godkin is having a fine time at her mother's in Seattle, but Alma cries much for the society of her father, and Norman pouts, and threatens to run away.

Miss McMurtry has started a Private School in the public schoolhouse. She is an excellent teacher, and deserves a wide patronage. Her terms are $1.50 per month.

Mr. Cornelius, nephew of Ben. Cornelius, and son of Colonel Tom Cornelius, was in town lately. He says the crops in Washington Co. are average spite of dry weather.

Georgia Snelson is visiting at St. Helen, also Bert. The Snelsons are living at Albina, Mrs. Snelson keeps a boarding house there. Georgia is having a nice time horseback riding with her friend, Kittie Moore.

Lost.

A Remarkable Circumstance.

In 1875 a very peculiar man in kid gloves arrived at Columbia City. Every one pronounced him an oddity. Owing to the great amount of brush, he became lost in the heart of the city. Nothing has been heard from him until of late, when he cut his way out, dressed rather shabbily, his clothes badly torn, and his pantaloons in his boots. After following up in his trail will be found which he has lately established where can be found as choice a selection of family groceries, dry-goods, hardware, and Yankee Notions, as can be found, at prices that for cheapness astonish all. Orders respectfully solicited.
