TWELFTH ANNUAL CONVENTION.

The twelfth annual convention of the Oregon State Woman Suffrage Association will be held in Portland on Tuesday and Wednesday, Februrary 12th and 13th, 1884, at Turn Halle.

Woman Suffrage Associations, equal rights clubs, and societies in sympathy with the suffrage movement, of whatever name or order, are earnestly requested to send delegates.

The usual reduction of forty per cent in the fares will be made to visiting delegutes by the various transportation companies, and entertainment will be provided for all who come from without the city.

This convention will be by far the most important ever held by the Association. Upon it will devolve the work of preparing plans for a vigorous campaign in support of the pending Constitutional Amendment. Arrangements must be made to present the justice of the Amendment fairly to the electors, that they may know the whole truth about the purposes of women who seek recognition of their rights as citizenship; who hold with our revolutionary fathers that representation and taxation should go together, and that every citizen of a country is entitled to a vote in its affairs; who assert their right to a voice in the laws affecting themselves, their children and their homes; who claim that, as woman's part in the world is fully as important as man's, she should have equal opportunities with him to do her best and receive equal pay for equal work; and who see that political rights are necessary to the enjoyment and protection of all other rights.

Let the friends of equal suffrage come promptly forward and make this convention a memorable one.

H. A. LOUGHARY, President
MARY E. COMBS, Secretary.

State Temperance Alliance.

The Oregon State Temperance Alliance will meet in the 13th Annual session in the city of Portland on Wednesday, Feb, 20th, 1884, continuing three days. The sessions will be held at the First Baptist Church beginning as half past 10 A. M.

The Alliance shall be composed of Delegates elected annually and duly accredited from temperance Societies and other organizations devoted to the interests of the Temperance cause.

The basis of representation being one for every twenty members, and one for each fraction over ten. Also any person of known temperance principles may become a member by paying into the Treasury the sum of one dollar.

It is important that all Blue Ribbon Clubs, Lodges, Societies, Unions, Churches, Sunday Schools, Bands of Hope, etc., elect delegates immediately on receipt of this circular and that such members be elected as will best represent you in the Alliance.

All delegates passing over the O. R. & N. Co's and O. & C. R. R. Co's lines and having paid full fare will be returned at 80 per cent off the usual fare, on presenting the Secretary's certificate at the Portland offices, which certificates will be issued during the session.

Now, fellow-workers, in the cause of humanity let us come up to this meeting with renewed zeal and a fixed purpose to press the battle to the very gates as above all previous years. When most important elections both State and National are in the near future, when the people are thinking and acting upon the question of questions, the total Prohibition of the cursed liquor traffic, when every man and woman should be actively engaged in this fight for our country and our Homes, through a more systematic organization, that we may be the better prepared for the IRREPRESSIBLE conflict, for the combat deepens and now is the time for action, ACTION, ACTION.

CORRESPONDENCE.

COAL CREEK, Jan'y 23, '84.

EDITOR OF THE COLUMBIAN—Sir: Your valuable paper is at hand, we hail its coming with great joy. I thought a few items from our region might interest its many readers, here they are:

Coal Creek is booming, so are the people, they are preparing for the spring opening—getting supplies and fixing up camps. Our principal business man here is John Weist who runs a big wood yard and logging camp. The freshet tore out a portion of his chute but he he has a large force of men at work and will soon have it fixed.

Stanwood, our invincible friend from the hills is on hand; he returned to-day from Portland with a force of men for his camp.

Micheals, our rustler is busy putting in piles.

Fowler Bros.' large and commodious bark Louetta is lying off Weist's wharf doing a rushing business. Her senior partner, the jovial F. M., leaves for Portland Monday to get supplies. Look out for him. His royal highness, James is at my elbow. James is the pet of the fair sex for many miles around; his winning smile and ceaseless tongue can be found almost anywhere. Jim's a dandy. By the way, his chum Jess has joined the lodge. Hurrah for Jess! Keep it up old boy!

Speaking about coons, I see by your paper that one of the inhabitants of Neer City was at Coal Creek for coons. Well, so he was, but as for coons, he did not go far; he took his gun and sooner dog and took a turn around for about a mile and returned, reporting coons scarce. May be some more of the coons will come down and try their luck at hunting, if so, come on, we have got plenty of pork and beans down here and do not have to depend upon smelt or freeze out either. I think the Prop. of Neer City had better come down and get a few points. Come and give us a visit Abe, we would like to see you. We can give you a good reception if you will come.

Miss Alice Anderson returned from a visit to Astoria a few days ago.

James Fowler was out taking in the country yesterday.

Wm. Fowler has been sick for the last two days with a bad cold.

Wild Bill of the hills gave us a visit this morning. Yours truly,

SOUR KROUT.

SCAPPOOSE, OREGON. Jan. 21st. 1884.

EDITOR COLUMBIAN—I thought as you had not heard from me for some time, I would send you a few items. Hand-car rides and dances are all the rage. We all have quite a time as to who has the prettiest girl, but at last the prize was awarded to W. Sharringhausen. Success to Bill!

W. B. Wilson, a gentleman lately Missouri, had the misfortune to fall and break his arm last Friday evening.

J. Corbin, of Woodland, has been visiting at his mother's, Mrs. McNamee's, for a week past.

Mrs. E. Watts has been quite sick for a week past, but is on the high road to recovery we are glad to learn.

At the birthday dance of John Lamberson last Monday night we had quite a sniptious time. Your Corresp. enjoyed himself to the fullest extent..

J. E. Lamb, of Texas, is visiting with his cousin, Miss Ella Corbin of this place. Mr. Lamb is a railroad engineer by profession, and is a thoroughly refined gentleman.

Fearing this should find the wastebasket, I now close. Your Obedient Servant,

JIMMY TOUGHBOY.

H. H. CROSIER.

Miss May Waud will accompany her parents to Alaska, where she will take sketches of the magnificent scenery. She has received $35 for an oil painting she executed.

The painter Hill, son of the celebrated artist, Thomas Hill has lately come to Portland. He married a daughter of Almon Smith who used to reside here.

Rev. J. A. Hanna will preach in the M. E. Church on next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

Gustavus Adolphus thought he would resemble a dryad, and so secretly went out to Broyles' pond the other night, and crept into a hollow tree where he could see but not be seen. He witnessed the many coming and going, and, not a person escaped his eye. He had his ears open too, and listened to every silvery word that dropped. Two ladies approached, and one said, "How does my dress set?" "Just like a lily on the stalk," responded her companion. "How do those little spit curls on the side of my face appear?" "Languishly beautiful. See that tall dark-looking gentleman. He is just dead gone on you. How he walls out his eyes!" "Do you think we create a sensation?" "You bet.. See that short fellow with the top of his head like a flat tombstone. Don't he look wishful? I bet you get a letter from him inside a week with a little "i" and nary a "t" crossed, he is in the last stages of admiration." Gustavus Adolphus witnessed these two ladies leave the ice for home. One sung out "Drot the old pond! my feet are skinned, my curls are straight as a rat's tail dipped in cream, and I feel as if I had been run through a thrashing machine. That dark-eyed fellow is waiting on that dowdy whose dress sets like a mustard plaster and whose hair looks like a brush pile just before the time of burning. I admire his taste, but condemn his judgment." These two ladies were not all who drew the attention of Gustavus. He saw many youngsters who sat down in a hurried manner on the ice, exclaiming "oh" with puckered mouth and hand thrown back alas! too late to break the force of the blow. Next he saw some fellows who ran against each other and fell on their "helbows" as an Englishman would say. They were badly demoralized, and made up a fire in a hollow stump, and sat hugging their arms as if they were sick babies and secretly cussing each other with faces sour enough to turn sweet milk. He saw two or three old stiffs that stood around and watched everybody as if they expected a dynamite explosion, and took the ladies' wraps on their arms, regulated the time of departure, and acted attendant when the fair made their final light out. Gustavus saw one fellow give a girl a sly kiss, as he kept her from upsetting on the ice. It was so loud, one chap ran away thinking the ice had cracked, and he would be swallowed up in the chasm of a waterquake. He looked back expecting to see a regular sinking and screaming, and will wonder all the days of his life what that noise was. Gustavus staid till he heard the last giggle die away in the distance, then kicked himself till he felt warm, went home and dreamed he was in a warm place down below and the devil (printer's devil) was punching him for copy. He heard another ask him if he would have an ice-cream. He woke, exclaiming, "I'll take mine warmed over."

Vashon Island.

A correspondent of the Ledger, of Jan. 14th, says: We are at this date eating huckleberries picked fresh from the bushes. We have had a constant supply of wild berries for nearly eight months. But the crop of 1883 will soon be among the things of the past, for the crop of 1884, with its buds and blossom, is pushing it from the bushes. If some man with experience, money and brains would come here and plant an orchard, and stay with it until it came into bearing, he would surely be a banker, as well as a benefactor to the country. All stock on the island, excepting cattle used in logging camps and cows that are giving milk, are getting their own living. In the garden of our nearest neighbor, still stands the last year's crop of vegetables, such as carrots, beets, cabbage, etc., all sound, and only harvested as wanted for the table. The above statements, the orchard planting excepted, might seem incredible to people living in the same latitude, further east, but the doubtful ones need only come here to be convinced of their truthfulness.

All There Was to It.

The following conversation, overheard in the market by a reporter recently, was absolutely all there was to it. It is given verbatim:

"Good morning, Mrs. O'Flynn."
"Good morning, Mrs. McGaragle."
"What is the news, Mrs. O'Flynn?"
"There was a fire last night."
"Was they?"
"They was."
"Was the engynes there?"
"They was."
"Was they?"
"They was."—Ex.

An observant negro says: "De man who takes up do moas sidewalk am not allus de posson ob de moas consequence. A 15-cent drunkard wants mo room in dis world dan de judge of the supreme court."—Ex.

We have received an illustrated paper called the New York Graphic. It has pictures of Chatauqua and vicinity, the former home of Horace Greeley.

LOCAL NEWS

Everybody appears since Villard's downfall as if they had been paralyzed. But we have the railroad, and shall have the development. The flush times of last summer will be nothing to the excitement of another summer in Columbia County especially. Portland may mourn, but we shall rejoice. Some act as if they should never have another dollar, and faces are so long it wouldn't take more than two of them to build a plank road the whole length of the county. Such people now as the Muckles feel very swelly, but another season will take the puff out of them. They will go up like mist in a sunshiny day.

Sunday we were out hunting our stock to get them home. We called at Clarence Garrison's. Clarence and a young man from Portland were out hunting and Joseph Harris, Clarence's wife and youngest were at home. We asked where the little boy Ephraim was, and Joseph said he was at his grandfather's half the time, as he didn't wish to run up too big a board bill at one place! Joseph intends to go to the mines in May. We saw many fine photographs of the Walker and Harris families.

Miss Dora Copeland is sitting up, but looked quite feeble from her long illness.

Josie Copeland is a little womanly thing, as soon as her father came in, the other day when we were there, she grabbed his hat to give it a brushing. She wipes dishes, brings in wood, and is the champion egg-hunter.

The N. P. R. R. stock and that of the other companies associated with it have gone up, so everybody is happy except those that unloaded too quickly. Perhaps this scare was purposely got up to separate the sheep from the go-its. The goits have got it and the sheep have lost their fleeces. Money now will probably be easier, and everything will boom as usual. Portland has lost her terminus, she has nothing now to sit on. She will have to sit standing up.

Enoch Shintaffer will give a Ball on St. Valentine's night at the Masonic Hall. Everything will undoubtedly be first-class, as Enoch is a rusher in such matters, and understands how to get up a boom

Tom Welles will be one of the musicians at Enoch Shintaffer's Ball St. Valentine's night. Another celebrated musician will probably be obtained across the Columbia.

Mr. J. Alexander will be one of the managers at Enoch Shintaffer's Ball on St. Valentine's night. The tickets will be $1.50.

J. Press Walker reports that T. A. Cloninger will give a ball on St. Valentine's Day and Washington's Birthday. He just knows how to bring a big crowd, and interest them after he gets them there. Tom is a splendid entertainer, and a rusher when he starts in. He has acquired deservedly a big reputation, and his wife can just take the cake in the matter of splendid cookery.

Joseph Copeland obtained 50 of the German carp which were distributed by a U. S. Commission in Oregon. He has kept them in a tub, changed the water, often, and fed them contintually. 20 have died; he hopes to winter the rest through. He will prepare a pond for their reception. They are said to grow as big as salmon and make delicious eating.

The other evening we were passing by the Court House when a man came out to the gate. Our poodle-dog, Fanny barked at him furiously. He hesitated to come out on the sidewalk. and asked if our dog would bite, in tremulous voice. We told him she was not the least dangerous. We came on, and did not stop to see whether he fainted dead away.

The Chinese New Year was last Sunday, the 27th of January. Cho G. Yong presented us a blank book such as he has for sale, and an elegant card-receiver, variagated straw is pressed and fastened upon it like mosaic work, and altogether it displays great ingenuity in its construction as well as beauty.

There is to be a Teachers' Institute here in February so School Superintendent Quick informs us. Mr. Quick has been to the Washington County Institute where he was Secretary. He reports there were some teachers there from Portland.

It is amusing to see the men in this country skrimp up, and tie themselves up in a knot, and hug the stove when a little snow comes. Their faces assume a longitude equal to the poles, and they look as crestfallen as a dog with a tin-can tied to his tail.

Dr. C. G. Caples of Columbia City has started or will soon to California to look up his land he bought of Dr. A. G. Cook, and to enlist capitalists of San Francisco in the way of opening the coal mines near Columbia City.

We call attention to the Matthews local. They are excellent people.

REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

A meeting of the Republican State Central Committee of the State of Oregon is hereby called, to be held in the city of Portland on Thursday, February 21, 1884, at 11 o'clock A. M. A full attendance is earnestly desired.

The impression, says the Seattle Herald, that the Territory will be admitted this session of Congress is gaining strength. And it is suggested that meetings be held in favor of it in the various towns and cities of the Territory, and thus strengthen the position of Senator Dolph, who has introduced the bill for admission.

Quite a number of toothless individuals in Iowa are out gunning for a traveling dentist who pulled out their teeth free, and collected half the price of new sets which he forgot to bring around.

The Grand Army of the Republic has now on its rolls a quarter of a million members in good standing. The society is composed of a magnificent lot of men.—N. W. News.

Mr. G. E. Tyskiewicz, of Bachelors' Island, is lying quite ill with typhoid pneumonia at the house of Judge Lancaster, in this city.

Mr. S. C. Archilles has not been off his bed since he entered the hospital, but he is in good spirits and expects to "pull through" in time.

A couple of gentlemen by the name of DuBois, who recently came here from Wisconsin, are building a sawmill on Salmon Creek. above Marble's. The new mill will have a capacity of about five thousand feet daily, and as the projectors are practical mill men, the enterprise will prove a success.

Sometimes a fellow will stop his paper, and order out his "ad" from a newspaper under the idea that he will smash the paper, but afterwards he discovers the paper is still flourishing, then he gets mad and swears at the paper awhile, by and by he goes out in the back yard and vigorously kicks himself.—Register.

Rev. Bruce Wolverton, former pastor of the Christian church in this city, and and late a professor in the agricultural college at Corvallis, is now pastor of the Church of Christ at Seattle. He is now in the midst of an interesting revival.—Telegram.

A Valuable Publication.

Each number of The West Shore is an improvement upon its predecessors and a pleasant surprise to the subscribers. „Pro-gress" is the publisher's watchword and perfection his aim. With its January number the Journal enters its tenth year, and will then appear in an intirely new dress of type, be generally remodeled and have eight pages added to its present size. More attention will be devoted to general literature than formerly, and its artistic features will also be improved The improvements will make it almost indespensable to every family in the Northwest. The Daily Oregonian of November 27th speaks of it as follows: "The sketches are admirable and the workmanship would do credit to any city in the Union. Well written descriptions of the scenery illustrated are given, and the number also contains concise and interesting articles on mining, agriculture, fishing, transportation, etc. It is exclusively an Oregon production, and has done a great deal towards making the rescources of the Northwest known abroad, having been devoted especially to this work. Mr. Samuel has just purchased at a large expense a complete new dress for his journal, and from the advance sheets of the January number it is deemed safe to assert that it will be the handsomest work ever published in Oregon." The Northwest News of the 28th says: "The West Shore is recognized as the most powerful instrument in drawing desirable immigrants and in making known abroad the resources of the Pacific Northwest. With the Jan. number it begins its tenth year, and will then be entirely remodeled and enlarged, and will be made far more attractive artistically and in its literary features. While it will continue to devote as much attention as formerly to the resources of our country it will enter more fully the general field of literature. The improvements will make of it a journal that should find its way into every counting room and family circle on the coast." By all means secure this source of information and pleasure for 1884 by sending $2 to the publisher L. Samuel, Portland.Or.

We have received the Pacific Coast W. B. Bancroft & Co., Publishers, San Francisco, Cal. It is issued monthly, and its price is $2 00 per annum. It is illustrated, and devoted to the interests of this Coast, its ancient, its modern, history, its industries, its resources its development and growth. It is very interesting and a perfect God-send to one who wishes to be posted on this part of God's moral vineyard. It is a good kind and good of the kind.
