Above is the programme of the exercises of the Teachers' Institute as first mapped out, but it was cut short a day, as the following report will show.

ST. HELENS, OR., May 29, 1884. The Teacher's Institute for the Fifth Judicial District convened to-day at the Methodist church.

The Institute was called to order at 1 o'clock sharp by our worthy State Superintendent of Public Instruction, E. B. McElroy, who proceeded to lay before the teachers the objects of the Institute.

Next came a good discussion of arithmetic by Lafferty, after which many questions were asked by the members of the Institute, which precedent was kept up—each lady or gentleman who opened discussions submitted to a severe cross-questioning by the other members.

Next in order came the subject of Composition, which was logically treated by Prof. W. D. Lyman of Forest Grove. Mr. Lyman thought that we should begin to teach composition as the child learns to read and write, and that the child language lessons should all tend to improve the child's expression of thought, as a store of knowledge without the power of expression was of little value as is the flow of language without any thought.

Miss Holman then did honor to herself in the rendition of the song, "The Deep, Deep Sea."

Prof. N. Davis of Forest Grove—a general discussion on "What motives and incentives ought to be appealed to?" Mr. Davis thought the love of study and the desire to do his duty were the only true motives and incentives to study.

Rev. Mr. Hanna late of Corvallis, thought that the motive to study should be instilled into the pupil's mind by the teachers pointing him to some noble character.

Major Adams of the Columbian was called on and gave his opinion that the teacher should stir up the ambition of the pupil, and no lack of interest would be.

After passing of lemonade by young Mr. Caples of Columbia county a recess of ten minutes was ordered. After recess Hon. G. W. McBride was introduced and delivered an address of welcome in well chosen words. He spoke of the objects of Institute work and assured the teachers that the citizens of St. Helens felt highly honored and would be greatly benefited by the work of the Institute.

Prof. W. W. Johnson responded by thanking the gentlemen, in the name of his fellow teachers and personally for his kind words of welcome. He thought the teachers had not left their posts of duty and come to St. Helens for no purpose, but that they would be fully repaid.

Next in order came an address by Supt. E. B. McElroy upon the choice Literature by our Youth, which should be printed in full and read by every teacher in our State.

After music by the congregation, Prof. D. W. Lyman of Forest Grove delivered a grand lecture upon the Conflict of Forces, which was truly a feast for all present. This closed the exercises of the day.

The attendance was good, there being in attendance about twenty-five teachers. The exercises of the day were interspersed with good music by the young people of St. Helens. The Institute adjourned to meet Friday at 9 o'clock a. m. ONE PRESENT.—Standard.

Second Day, Friday May 30. Opened by singing assisted by Profs. Crawford and Warren of Portland. PRAYER by Prof. Warren. DISCUSSION.

WHAT MOTIVES AND INCENTIVES TO STUDY OUGHT TO BE APPEALED TO? Discussion opened by W. W. Johnson; he said rewards and punishments should not be generally used; that prizes usually produce bad results; that the verdict of most teachers is that prizes should not be given by teachers; that a man who works for the love of knowledge and the love of mental power will be successful, but he who works for physical development expecting to become a banking clerk, a book-keeper or a school-teacher in a few months, will become discouraged, and make a failure; that many people have the idea that education lifts men and women above work, but such should not be the case as an educated man or woman can better fill any position in life if educated.

Prof. Crawford of Portland, said—that merit cards may be properly given to very little pupils but that there is no contest very often, as the winner is known before the contest is begun; that the offering of medals or book-prizes should find no place in the higher departments, that means have been left in some cities for the purpose of giving prizes or medals by private persons which was perhaps proper, but that in our public schools such motives and incentives should not be given, as his reputation as a teacher is often made to depend on the number and value of the prizes given.

Prof. F. A. E. Starr of East Portland said there was no cut and dried rule to govern him to enthrone a school, but that a competent teacher who will teach self-reliance, who is enthusiastic, will make a success.

Prof. R. K. Warren, of Portland, said that there is a principle in our nature which expects a reward, and that any of us who do a good work in a good cause will not refuse a prize; that a reward or prize given for the greatest excellency attained there is no injustice in, that there is nothing radically wrong about offering prizes if they are properly distributed.

Prof. Justus Burnham, of Portland, said that he agreed with most of Prof. Starr's remarks and with those of Prof. Warren with some slight modification, that every teacher has his way of getting at the active qualities of a pupil's mind, that prizes often produce bad effects from the reaction which takes place.

Prof. C. W. Roby, of Portland Central School, said, we will never shoot very high by aiming at a mud-hole or form a good character by holding up Benedict Arnold and Aaron Burr as examples, that had given prizes but had quit it, as he got better results and had a clearer conscience, that giving cards or presents is proper if not given as a prize, but that the giving of prizes was appealing to the lower nature of his pupils.

Miss Marietta Messerve also said she had given prizes, but had quit it and appealed to everything around us that would interest the pupils, that our girls should be taught that there is some usefulness for them beyond school life, that Jack, the Giant Killer and bear stories should not be told by teacher to interested pupils but use higher, better and more moral stories to interest them and keep them from regarding the school-room as a prison.

Hon. F. A. Moore and Dr. Arthur Moore offered a few remarks, Judge Moore asking to be excused until later in the day. Dr. Moore approved of giving prizes to little ones.

Prof. O. W. Roby said that good deportment is necessary in a school-room, and that corporal punishment is a correct principle to resort to when necessary.

Prof. Steers said his first experience was so discouraging in giving prizes that he never expected to resort to them again.

RECESS of 10 minutes. Exercises opened with a solo by Miss Helena Holman: Title, No Sir. (Applause.)

Mr. Wm. B. Dillard, of St. Helens, read an essay on the Teachers' Duty to His State which was well prepared and delivered; it showed that though he was not himself a teacher, he appreciated the teacher's work, and knew what a teacher's duty to his state was. He was well applauded.

A discussion of methods of teaching grammar by Prof. F. A. E. Starr. Prof. C. W. Roby gave a short lecture on teaching History. He said that History is not half taught unless it is associated with geography, and that in many schools it is not so taught, that Geography, which is location of place, is uninteresting unless a History of events is taught in connection with it, that the geography of our own country is uninteresting unless we teach the history of events and biographies of important personages. The most important result of history is the desire created in the minds of pupils to read histories, biographies, and good works, preventing the creation of a taste for pernicious literature, that there is a better chance to teach morality from the history of the lives of noble men and that we should not reach pupils to regard such men as Washington and Lincoln as demi-gods, but that they were only good men and worthy of being imitated in their good works.

Institute re-assembled at 1:30 p. m. The discussion of history continued by Prof. I. N. Lafferty; he stated that where he had sufficient time he preferred written reviews.

Prof. N. Davis, of Forest Grove, said he had no trouble in arousing an interest in a pupil if he was in his charge for any length of time. He commends the use of Peter Parley's History, supplementing it orally in such a way as to interest pupils, that the teacher who does not work nor require work from his pupils will be a great failure, that he finds that a written review is easier and more expedient, as a greater amount of work can be accomplished in a short time, that facts and dates should be taken from books in writing lessons, but use as much originality as possible.

Prof. T. H. Crawford said he had not taught History for several years, but that he observed that the greatest trouble was that pupils commit answers to memory, this should be obviated by the teacher.

Prof. Warren likes any method, better than memorizing. Prof. Steers spoke of object method of teaching History, giving many practical examples of how to apply it.

Miss Marietta Messerve insisted on the other ladies speaking freely as to the fate of the ladies was to be decided on next Monday and they did not want the gentlemen to think them uninterested in educational work.

A discussion on Arithmetic opened by Prof. Justus Burnham; he gave very lucid explanations of methods of teaching primary pupils the operations of Simple Subtraction and Addition, the combinations of numbers interesting to pupils. He was questioned by Profs. Lafferty, Steers, Miss Messerve and others. His answers were plain, to the point, and satisfactory; many fine thoughts and suggestions were produced which cannot fail to be of great use, especially to young teachers.

The accomplished Solo singer, Miss Holman sang a beautiful song, title SATISFACTION.

RECESS of 10 minutes. Opened with music by the Rainier Band.

A recitation was well delivered by Miss Meserve on Temperance, title WRO is NO BLAME?

More excellent music was furnished by the Rainier Band, which is a family band, the members being all children of Dr. Meserve near Rainier, two of them being ladies; they are good musicians, and Miss M. Meserve is an enthusiastic and successful school-teacher.

An excellent lecture was delivered by Pres. J. F. Ellis on the subject of Elementary Instruction in the Science of Civil Government, an effort worthy of the head of such a great institution as the Pacific University.

A committee on resolutions reported as follows: Resolved, That our thanks be extended to the citizens of St. Helens for their generous hospitality and kindness extended to all visiting teachers during the sessions of this institute.

Resolved, That our thanks are due and are hereby extended to the following gentlemen from abroad who have come to aid us in the work of the Institute and to assist in the development of education in the Fifth Judicial District, viz: Supt. T. H. Crawford of the Port-and Schools, Prof. N. Davis and Supt. W. D. Lyman of Wash. County, Prof. F. A. E. Starr of the East Portland Schools; Prof. C. W. Roby, Prof. Justus Burnham and Prof. R. K. Warren of the Public Schools and President J. F. Ellis of Pacific University, Forest Grove and Mrs. J. Burnham, Mrs. R. K. Warren and others from abroad.

Resolved, That we as teachers of the public schools in Columbia Co. and elsewhere will endeavor to practice and carry out the many practical suggestions made by eminent teachers present, and that we feel much encouraged by the interest manifested by school officers and the people in our work, and that we will shall continue to labor more earnestly, trusting that the day may soon come when institute work shall be regularly organized in every County in Oregon.

Resolved, That our thanks be extended to the Committee on music, to Miss Helena Holman and to the Band of Music from Rainier for excellent music furnished the institute also to the local papers.

The utmost good feeling prevailed throughout the whole of the proceedings.

Prof. Justus Burnham's lecture and illustrations in map-drawing assisted by many maps drawn by the pupils of his school in Couch precinct, Portland, could not fail of being appreciated by all young teachers; they were the more valuable being actual work done by pupils. The names of these pupils are Emma Verstag, Lorena Hastings, Maggie Doscher, Carrie Donn, Ida McAllister, Edith Shepherd and Effie Good, of Couch School, Portland, Prof. Justus Burnham, Principal.

The following is a list of Teachers present at the Institute, R. K. Warren and wife, Justus Burnham and wife, T. H. Crawford, J. A. Vergan, C. W. Roby and Miss Helena Holman, Portland, F. A. E. Starr, W. W. and J. J. Johnson, East Portland, Napoleon Davis, W. D. Lyman and Rev. J. F. Ellis, Forest Grove, Misses M. O. Karr and Emma Hildebrand, Scappoose, Alanson W. Steers and Miss Marietta Messerve, Rainier, Mrs. L. M. Redledge, Clatskanie, Miss Georgia Thorn, Kalama, W. T. I. N. Lafferty, Corvallis, W. T. E. E. Quick and Miss Ida Watts, St. Helens, Hon. E. B. McElroy, State Superintendent.

HONORARY MEMBERS. Rev. J. A. Hanna, Knappa, and A. W. Moore and B. M. Caples. SCHOOL DIRECTORS. J. M. Archibald, F. A. Miles, I. W. Detrick, Robert Fullerton and W. J. Fullerton. These Directors represented the following districts, Enterprise No. 20, Scappoose No. 9, Pittsburg No. 21 and Dayview, No. 7.

In the report of the first day of the Teachers' Institute copied from the Standard mention of Mrs. S. E. Giltner's rendering of COVER THEM OVER WITH BEAUTIFUL FLOWERS is omitted. It was done with much grace and beauty, and held the rapt attention of all present.

Major Adams was elected Honorary Member of the Teachers' Institute.

The great excitement of this week outside of election is the trial of D. A. Clounger for the alleged murder of young Pierce. These are the jurymen, J. K. Alexander, A. Davis, J. Moore, J. L. Beahm, T. L. Stewart, Harvey Tingle, Alonzo Clough, Erich Jenson, Josiah Kenkle, Gustavus Petersen, J. C. Dale and H. O. Howard. The prosecution is represented by Prosecuting Attorney McBride and Hon. Richard Williams, and the defense by W. B. Dillard Esq. and Colonel Edinger, some of the finest legal talent in the State. The town is thronged with people. Some thirty witnesses have been examined; at latest accounts it was thought by disinterested parties that the jury would hang.

I. P. Mays has been up from Carrollton. He reports that a week ago a four year old child, named William Houchin son of Al Houchin was killed by the fall of a tree which an older brother was cutting down. The little innocent was literally crushed to pieces. It had started for home on the call of its mother when death overtook it. Mr. Mays is cutting legs by contract, and is doing well, as he is an energetic man.

We went with our family on Sunday up on the Scappoose, and were right hospitably entertained at the residence of James Bacon. We also called at William Beuvers's. His home adorned with nice pictures looked exceedingly pleasant. Scappoose is the banner part of Columbia County. The Dayview school-house is ahead of any other around here.

Hoistater & Co. are taking some very fine pictures of St. Helens. They have not confined themselves to picturing the human face divine, but also take some pictures of landscape. They are well fixed to do the best kind of work. For a background in their gallery they have a splendid sea-view by a first-class artist.

CORRESPONDENCE.

OAK POINT, W. T., May 29th, 1884. EDITOR COLUMBIAN—Here are some "Oak Point" items. The River at this place is rising very rapidly, and if it continues will soon be over the wharf. Hogue & Young's mill is running cutting bills; the lumber market rather dull. Deetz & Beck have their shingle mill running steadily; they cut 20,000 per day, but as they make a first-rate article of shingles, they get sale for all they cut. Ordway's R. R. logging camp is running but with a comparatively small force from what there was last year. Everybody seems to feel the dull times; here is not much doing.

Last Monday evening all the ladies in town seemed to be gathering at Mr. Harris's place, and we thought there was either a picnic or a woman's convention, but we were enlightened next morning when it was announced that there was a fine boy arrived, their first; he weighed nine and three fourths lbs. Harris has grown six inches since the event. Score one for Yamhill County, Oregon.—next!

The weather is fine here now and the late showers have done a great deal of good. More anon. Yours, Ous.

TOLEDO, WASH. TER., June 3d, 1884. EDITOR OF THE COLUMBIAN—We are having fine weather here now, and crops look well. We had a regular old-fashioned thunder-shower Sunday night. Emigrants coming in from all parts. The Steamer Toledo makes two trips a week regular. There was a large turnout here on Memorial Day of the G. A. R. and citizens of Lewis Co. They will have a celebration here on the Fourth. I will send you a program soon.

Our minister that was holding Protracted Meeting here and writing secret letters to young girls, trying to get them to run away with him, found that it was getting too hot for him, and left between two days. He used to follow laughing in Oregon. His name is McLaughlin. You will hear about him from Divine of this place. More anon. TOWN REPORTER.

TOLEDO, W. T., June 4th, 1884. MAJOR ADAMS—Dear Sir: Please publish these few lines in your paper for the benefit of the public. A man by the name of C. C. McLaughlin, traveled around representing himself as a Minister of the Gospel in a bad man. He is in the habit of trying to induce young girls to run away with him for sinister object. I warn the public and especially young ladies to look out for him. C. DIVINE.

ST. HELENS, June 2d, 1884. MR. ADAMS—Dear Sir: Mr. and Mrs. Gill have requested me to ask you if you would address our Sunday School concert on Sunday next; also please publish the Concert (at Dayview School-house) in this week's paper and invite the neighboring Sunday School. The time set is Sunday evening at 4 p. m. June 8th. You will oblige us a Sunday School by assisting, if it is convenient. Bring your family. Yours truly, Mrs. J. T. McNELLY.
