WAY DOWN ON THE CLATSKANINE.

Air—Ten Thousand Miles Away.

One Sunday morn not long ago
Two boys both dressed so fine,
They got their horses caught and saddled
For a trip to the Clatskanine
They bid their mother and sister, Good-bye,
As they waved their hand behind
And went hunting girls in that far off world
Way down on the Clatskanine.

CHORUS

They both did look so fine
As they left us far behind
Were hunting girls in that far off world
Way down on the Clatskanine.

When they got to the Doctor's house
They thought that they would land,
And go in and rest for awhile
And hear them play the band
But when they got in the house they say
The boys were sitting in a line,
But the girls they say both hid away,
So they went on to the Clatskanine

When they got on the Clatskanine
Jimmie's horse began to kick
When Arthur saw a little girl
And he said, "Look there Jimmie quick!"
And Jimmie said "I cannot look
For my horse won't give me time."
And through that horse what fun Jimmie lost.
Way down on the Clatskanine.

At last they saw a pretty girl
They say she is about eighteen,
They both commenced to talk to her
And they called her a little queen
And when her daddy heard all this
He thought them most too kind
And with his gun he made them run
Way down the Clatskanine.

And when they got back home that night
They both went straight to bed
They put mustard plasters on their feet
And a poultice on their head,
And now when you see the boys they'll say
That they had a splendid time
A-hunting girls in that far-off world
Way down on the Clatskanine.

The Public Herald is a Godsend. It goes after the frauds with a picked stick. Mr. Lum Smith makes the bogus advertisers gnash their teeth with rage while he pulls off their lying disguises, and shows them in all their naked deformity. He ought to be pensioned, for there was never a more gallant soldier against fraud and its perpetrators. They are sniffen and fly like affrighted wild asses of the desert when he approaches. His Herald costs 50 cents per annum, and is published at 706 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Penn.

THE enterprising publishers of DR. Foot's Health Monthly have, by the liberality of their premium offers, outdone all their previous generosity.

The list to select from includes useful articles, standard books and scientific literature, such as one usually expects to pay well for, but here they are thrown in with a year's subscription to the most popular and widely greeted Health Monthly at only fifty cents a year. Try it before you buy it by sending for a free sample copy and illustrated premium list to the Murray Hill Publishing Co., 129 E 28th St., N. Y. City.
