Mr. Nelson Hoyt fears his wife is no We are having fine weather at present, and all should try and enjoy it.

Hon. Geo. McBride is getting along quite well. We hope to see him all right again, before many days.

Shattuck is a valuable citizen, and one that it would be hard to spare. Who tried to beat a county treasurer out of $2.50? Short rolls may be good for kittens, but not for tall men. Dr. Davis, of La Centre, will purchase

In lian relics-especially rare ones, and will pay a good cash price for the same. Mr. W. H. Whitney and Mr. Met F. Hazen, have both fine farms, a little rough perhaps in the start, but bound to develope into splendid places. Mr. Larsen has started a store at Warren, near the place where picnics used to be held, He has a nice stock of goods and is very popular among the settlers. Young Mr. and Miss Stephens now occupy the residence of Mr. Copeland, on the Bay, till winter sets in. Mr. Copeland occupies his place on the Slough meanwhile. The roads of Columbia county are im- Maine. proving. The ridge just out of town is improve ed, and a fine bridge has been built near Mr. Joseph Copeland's place on the Bay, Mr. Nelson Hoyt camedown on Wed nesday to meet his wife and daughter, who came down on the Telephone, from Astoria. We did not learn whether Mrs. Hoyt was improving o

Mr. and Miss Stephens' place contains 315 acres. Their father was tormerly county judge of Columbia county, and much respecte in his day and generation, and his memory i

The New Northwest has the following The Adams-Flagg-Columbian-Mist-imbroglio, a St. Helens, has taken a new turn, this time by Fingg having one of the Adamses arrested fo just a little left. Charles C. Slavens and brother, ar house-builders at La Cama-, W. T. They hav built a beautiful school house in Joy's neighbor hood that knocks the spots off of any school house in the county. The Major and his nephew, in the firs round, pulled down their opponent's flag, and i is now at half mast. He dropped the doctor con cluding he was a bad pill, and now hopes to swal low the Major whole without pepper or salt, bu he may get cayenned before he gets through Hofsteater & Co, still live on their ar palace and take those magnificent pictures that everyone admires. They spare no expense and are always making improvements in the art of Hops, taking pictures. They are two of the finest men we ever knew, and have the entire confidence of the community.

Mr. Amos Slavens has one of the finest | Prunes and plums farms in Columbia county, It does us good away down to the deepest corners of our heart to think Mr. and Mrs. Slavens will have such a princely place for their old age. Such beautiful land re minds us of Illinois, and don't much resemble | Salmon, b'rls, the generality of Oregon lands.

Mr. John McNulty killed a big bear the other day, and we got some of the meat which is fat and juicy. We are fond of all kinds of meat-especially bear. The bear had a bigger paw than Flagg, and our devil threw it out this morning, it had maggots in it, we mean the paw.

Mr. Baker, of the Mercury, is a live man, and when he appears you may be sure there is music in the air. That nice black beaver he wears does not rest on a numb skull, you may be certain. Sinners hoary and young beware, lest the Recording angel catch you just as you slip. A child's among ye takin' notes, and faith he'll print it.

The Oregon Scout, a first-class paper published at Union, Oregon, in its issue of the 26th, has the following to say: The COLUMBIAN, published at St. Helens, Columbia county, Or., and the Centervillian, published at Centerville, Umatilla county, Or., have been placed on our exchange list. Both of these papers are bright and spicy and reflect credit upon their managers.

Mr. W. R. Strouble, editor of the East Portland Vindicator, is one of the finest writers on this coast, or any other coast. That paper has been on the advance every since he took the editorial helm. His brother editors in West Portland will have to look out for their laurels. Mr. Strouble besides being so fine a writer is a big hearted gentleman, and a man worthy of the kindly consideration of the noblest men.

W. B. Dillard, Esq., is soon to leave for the States. He has formed a partnership with one of the most prominent lawyers of Norfolk, Virginia. We have many acquaintances in that chivalrous city, and while we shall miss him here, we congratulate them in such an acpession. He has won hosts of friends by his courteous manners while in Oregon, and bids fair, if he remains here, to become one of the most prominent lawyers in the state. He is a highly educated gentleman, and possesses besides a great share of mother wit, inherited from an intelligent ancestry.
