HUNDREDS OF PEOPLE INJURED

Heap and Fired-Tumultuous Crowd Gives the Police a Hard Fight.

Paris, Aug. 22.-Paris was today the scene of most serious disturbances recalling some aspect of the commune. The police had taken precautions, and there seemed to be no dan-Captain Stamper informed Jiminez ger of disorders. Sebastian Faure and Faberot, well-known revolutionary anas possible, and, after Jiminez and his archists, were the ring-leaders. Faure, standing on the pedestal of the statue which rises in the center of the Palace de la Republique, adressed the crowd. Among other things he said that the anarchists should be masters of the streets. The police then interfered and dislodged Faure and Faberot, making three arrests. The crowd at this point dispersed, but a column of demonstrators, headed by Faure and Henri d'Horr, made for the Place de la Nation. The police broke through the column and a struggle for the mastery followed. Shots were fired, and M. Goullier, commissary of police, was twice stabbed with a knife. The rieters proceeded toward th Fauborg du Temple, at the corner of Rue Darberi and the Rue St. Mauri-Popincourt, they formed up into a compact body. Hatchets were suddenly produced, with long knives stolen from the counters of shops, and a concen trated rush was made upon the Church of St. Joseph.

The aged sacristan, seeing the mob, hastily closed the outer gates, but these were soon forced with hatchets and bars of iron. The massive oaken doors were then attacked. According to the first account, the wild horde burst into the church, which instantly became a scene of wild pillage and sacrifice. Altars and statues were hurled to the floor and smashed; pictures were rent, candlesticks, ornaments and hosts from high altars were thrown down and trampled under foot. The crucifix above was made the target for missiles and the figure of the Savior was feastured in several places. Then, while this stage was reached, the crucifix was pulled down and thrown into the flames. Suddenly the cry was raised that the statue of the Virgin had been forgotten, and the crowd returned and tore this down also. An attempt was made to fire the choir of St. Joseph's with petroleum and the firemen were called in to quench the flames. Several parishioners were severely mauled in their efforts to defend the church from sacrilege. The church is situated in the poorest quarter of the city. No disorders of any kind occurred in the fashionable district. Meanwhile the sacristan, who had been captured by the anarchists, escaped, and called the police and republican guards, who promptly arrived, with many constables. They were compelled to fall back in order to form

The report that President Kruger has proposed new-terms is somewhat verified by the guarded comment of the colonial office officials and the irritability displayed there. There is not the slightest doubt that they now believe war is the only way to set-

It has developed that the war office has been aware of the nature of the Transvaal government's answer for several days and that it was communicated to the war office, hence it is probable that Great Britain will delay denouncement as little as possible. Beginning shortly after noon, the fire raged until evening, consuming everything in its way. It had its origin, it is thought, in the Merchants' Cafe, adjoining the Bank of Victor, on the corner of Third street and Victor avenue. A strong wind from the south

utes all the surrounding houses were Creek, but the town had been built in the early days of the camp, and was of pine timber for the most part, and burned like paper. Efforts were made to stop the progress of the flames by blowing up buildings by means of dynamite, and all afternoon the streets have roared with the explosions, but

The residence portion of the city has suffered comparatively little, but the business portion is paralyzed, and suf-iering is bound to follow. The burned area may be roughly designated as the space between the head of Fourth street and Victor avenue, extending from the Gold Coin mine buildings, on the west, to a point near Second street, and down Third street almost to Diamond avenue.
