It is Purely a Business Proposition and Must Be Disposed of in a

Much undue agitation, it would see s being indulged in over the matter of removal of bridges that span the Long Tom river. Citizens of Monroe and vicinity who have products stored which they wish to ship via steamer over this water way are justly anxious to have all obstructions removed from the stream to the end that steamers may reach Monroe and way points. Citizens of all parts of the county who see an indirect benefit from having the Long Tom a navigable stream, second the efforts of those who are directly interested. But, there is a proper and necessary method of proceedure in this matter. First, the stream must be declared navigable; second, the the court must be instructed to remove such bridges as obstruct navigation, and then the court will order such obstructions removed. Or, to be more exact: The navigation interests will apply to the engineers, who will inform the secretary of war. He in turn will instruct completion of the sewer until spring was the engineers to hold a public meeting, when the interests of the navigation companies and taxpavers of the county will be considered. This meeting will determine whether the county shall in-

The government has appropriated certain sum to be used in improving the Long Tom river to the end that it may be made a navigable stream. While the engineers have given it as their opinion that this improvement would render the stream navigable, it does not necessarily fotlow that it will be, nor has it yet

Mr. Skelton, the engineer who was employed by the court last summer to determine the proper kind of bridge to however, having additional evidence in build over the Long Tom and the approximate cost, reported that the span bridge would have to be 60 feet high which is alleged to have existed between where it crossed the stream and the cost Dr. Chapman and the alleged wife in of either this or a draw would be con-

The sums due too long to admit of her making the short turns which the meanderings of the stream make necessary and arrangements are being made to secure the Gypsy to cover the route. Just east of Finleys is a place which is considered the worst on the river and it is somewhere about this point that the Eugene stranded, The Bonauza, City of Salem and Champion, have gone as far as this and taken 2,500 sacks of wheat from Finley's at a trip. So the attempt of the Engene throws no light on the problem as to whether the stream is navigable or not.
