LOCAL NEWS.

Just arrived a new and elegant line of novelties for summer wear at Kline's. Attorney L. L. Swan, of Albany, visited in this city Saturday and Sunday. Miss Remoh Holland of Salem, is visiting her sister Constance, who is attending the O. A. C.

Smith & Taylor have had the front of their meat market newly painted, adding much to its appearance. Beginning March 19th the Sam T. Shaw Co., will offer a week's amusement to Corvallis theatre goers.

Mr. Wesley Todd visited old scenes and companions in Corvallis this week for the first time in two years.

Miss Adelaide Grefox, is home from her visit in Portland, and has resumed her duties as bookkeeper with A. Hodess. Wells Fargo & Co's delivery has again changed hands. Grant Elgin is the new proprietor, and he will assume charge March 1st.

The freshmen class at the O. A. C. held a reception at the armory Friday evening. The ladies of the Monmouth basketball team were guests.

Miss Kate Gerhard, who for the past eight months has been in Oreg., Oregon, with the family of Sherman Wade, arrived home last week.

Roy Baber and Adolph Peterson left Wednesday for Idaho, where they go to inspect some rich mineral deposits. They hope to be millionaires before they return.

Mr. T. E. Wilson, a former popular Corvallis boy, but now a commission merchant of Portland, was in the city several days the guest of his father, Mr. B. W. Wilson.

Judge W. S. McFadden returned from Portland, yesterday, where he has been acting as counsel for the C. & E. railroad in a damage suit, which was being tried in the Multnomah courts.

The populists have decided to hold their state convention at Portland, Thursday, April 12, at 10 a. m., the same day and hour as the republican and democratic state conventions.

Dr. Thompson will assist in the funeral services to be held over the remains of Captain Geary at Eugene, upon its arrival from San Francisco, where it was brought last week by the steamer Hancock.

Albany is to have a Socialist Club. The object of the organization is not so much for political as for educational purposes. If this main object is fully accomplished, the political features will be entirely eliminated.

The football mania has taken hold of Eastern Oregon towns. The game is now in full blast in that section. A contest has been arranged between Heppner and Pendleton teams. "Pop" McAllister being coach and center for the pigskinners from the former city.

Dr. Carter came out from Toledo, Saturday to hear the lecture in the evening by Joaquin Miller. They were school-mates together at Eugene in the early days, and after the lecture enjoyed a conversation that touched upon events and individuals long forgotten. The Dr. returned home Sunday.

Recorder J. A. Gellatly has found it necessary to remove his family from Sumpter, whither they moved some weeks ago, on account of ill health. The climate in that section they found too severe, and Mrs. Gellatly has returned to Corvallis. Mr. Gellatly is also here for the present, at least.

A Sunday school rally and institute for Sunday school improvement will be conducted by James Edmunds, Sunday school missionary for Oregon and Washington of American Baptist Publication Society, at 10:00 a. m., 2:00 p. m. and 7:30 p. m., in the Baptist church, this city, on March 6th and 7th.

Monday morning D. D. Berman transferred his interest in the City Dry Co. to Captain G. A. Robinson and the firm will hereafter be known as Hebble & Robinson. Mr. Berman has been engaged in the hauling business in Corvallis for the past four years. He is in doubt as to his future movements, but may leave in the spring for California.

The Young America League company is to give a ball on the 17th of March, St. Patrick's Day ball in name and in nature. Green will be the prevailing color, and the Irish will receive special recognition. The Opera House will be decorated for the occasion and the grand march will be to the measure of "The Wearing of the Green." Shamrocks and rocks that are not sham will be charged for admission.

The most hotly contested game of basketball ever witnessed in this city occurred at the armory Friday afternoon, between the ladies of the O. A. C. and Monmouth normal school teams. In team work the home players were vastly superior to their opponents, but the latter played a desperate individual game. The score, 22 to 2, in favor of O. A. C. does not show the difference in the teams, for the local girls should have had a higher score but for a nervousness of the goal throwers in the early stage of the game. The ball was around their basket nearly all the time. The work of Misses Inez Fuller, Minnie Smith and Letia Ownsby, of the home team, and Miss Jennings of Monmouth, is deserving of special recognition.

Dr. Akin, of Kings Valley was in Corvallis Monday and Tuesday on business. Jack Thomas left Wednesday for Roseburg where he has the contract for building an ice plant.

Mrs. Fullerton and Miss Ranney returned home from Portland where they have been purchasing a fine line of Millinery goods.

Emil Zeis is registered at the St. Charles, Portland. He is on his way to Seattle and will sail for Cape Nome on the first steamer for that port.

The little son of Mr. Troxel who resides across Mary's river is quite sick with pneumonia. He but recently recovered from an attack of tonsillitis.

Dr. Cathey assisted by Dr. Farra, has performed a very critical but successful operation upon Mrs. Franklin, and that lady is now in a fair way of rapid recovery.

Frank O. Gunnison, of Salem, and Miss Grace Douglas, were married at the residence of the bride's parents in this city, Wednesday, Rev. Memminger of the M. E. church, officiating.

Rev. H. A. Ketchum D. D. of Salem will occupy the pulpit of the Presbyterian church next Sabbath morning. There will be no service in the evening at this church on account of the Union Christian Endeavor meeting.

Rev. L. Myron Booser will preach in the United Evangelical church Sunday morning on "A Lesson in Christian Service." K. L. O. E. at 6:30 and at 7:30 the congregation will unite in the union service of the C. E. convention.

Mr. Ikeman will institute a camp of Foresters in this city, March 5th with fifty or sixty charter members. The lodge will meet in Fisher's brick. Mr. Ikeman is a rousing organizer. March 6th he institutes a camp at Sheild, in Linn county.

Professor Shaw is in Portland, whither he was called to appear as a witness for the prosecution in the case of the State of Oregon vs The Armour Packing Co., the latter being charged with selling bogus butter as genuine. Several expert chemists from the East will testify for the defense.

We extend a cordial invitation to everybody to call at Healy & Howell's grocery store, and see what a fine line of dishes and presents, 200 articles in number, we give you choice for purchasing goods to the amount of $4 to $15. These are the grandest and most useful articles ever offered as a gift.

A divorce was granted by Judge McBride yesterday to Attorney J. C. Applewhite, of Portland, from his wife Edith L. P. Applewhite on the ground of desertion. The couple were married in San Francisco in April 1897, the wife deserting her husband a year from that date. No defence was made. -Astorian.

W. C. Hoeflein, who has been in the service of the C. & E. as brakeman for a number of years, was united in marriage with Miss Edith Davis, daughter of Tracy Davis, at Newport last Sunday evening. Rev. Dawson officiating. Mr. Hoeflein has been transferred to the east end of the road and will make his home at Albany.

The populists have decided to apportion the representation of the various counties at their state convention at one delegate at-large for every county, one for every 130 votes cast for W. R. King for governor in 1898, and one for every majority fraction. This apportionment will give a coalition of 300. Benton county will have eight delegates.

Complimentary reports concerning Miss Maud Hoffman, in whom Corvallis takes an especial pride, continue to come from England. The following is from a recent issue of the London "Sketch": "A bright and handsome American actress, whose features are known to readers of The Sketch, Miss Maud Hoffman, is to take part in the revival of 'Dandy Dick' at the Criterion, in the role of 'Salome'."

The death of Mr. T. C. Rankin occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs. James Wilkinson, last Tuesday. Mr. Rankin was 83 years of age and his death was the natural result of infirmity. He came to this state from Missouri about twenty years ago and was quite widely known. The funeral was held Wednesday and occurred at Oak Ridge cemetery. His grand daughter, Mrs. E. J. Dunn and her husband arrived from Moro, Sherman county, in time for the services.

H. F. Fischer and sons of the Corvallis Flouring Mills, and Captain Galbraith and crew of the snagsboat Mathloms will co-operate in building a revetment to stop the river's encroachment on the roadway near the mills. Two or three hundred feet of piling will be driven by the Mathloms and the stone and brush will be supplied by the Fischers. This improvement has been long delayed, some doubt having existed as to whom should bear the expense of making it, but with considerable enterprise Mr. Fischer and sons are taking the matter in hand, and Captain Galbraith is lending valuable assistance.

The coming social function in Corvallis is booked for March 17th. The firemen are making elaborate arrangements to entertain invited guests on that evening and the event will be made a memorable one. There will be a variety of social features during the evening, prominent among which will be the tripping of the light fantastic. The proceeds will go to the Coffee Club library, a new feature which all firemen are interested in, as they have free access to the books. If you receive an invitation, go by all means and enjoy an evening with the boys who fight the flames. Lady patronesses are Mrs. J. B. Lee, Mrs. C. H. Lee, Mrs. T. Callahan, Mrs. Selling, Mrs. John Stiever and Mrs. Lewis Wilson.

A meeting of the republican county central committee was held at the court house yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The following committee were present: O. V. Hurt, chairman, Corvallis; Dr. E. Logan, Philomath; H. Bergen, Sunnyside; G. A. Wamsley, Blodgett; H. Pittman, Wren; Wm Tomlinson, Soap Creek; Miles Starr, Monroe; T. Cooper, Corvallis, No. 4; J. H. Wilson, Corvallis, No. 3; Geo Denman, Corvallis No 2; W. G. Lane, Corvallis No 1; T. Maxwell, Kings Valley; Marion Hayden, Alesia; Jas Wilkinson, Willamette. The object of the meeting was to set a time for the holding of the primaries and county convention. March 31st was the date set for the former and the convention will be held a week later.

TONGUE AND SIMON.

Two Members of the Delegation Respond to the Council's Memorial.

At its regular meeting last month, the city council framed a memorial to congress, urging the necessity of immediately granting an appropriation for the continuance of the work now being done on the river.

It was pointed out, that this was the most urgent and important improvement now demanding attention on the entire river; that if the jetty were not extended another 1200 feet, the work already completed might be destroyed by the spring freshets, and a new channel be cut, leaving this city a mile from the river; that in the event of the river changing its course, a greater sum would be necessary to dredge the new channel and make it navigable than was now being asked for, and it would be an act of wisdom and economy for Congress to grant $8,000 for the completion of the present work.

Copies of this memorial were sent to our delegation in Congress and other officials, by Mayor Crawford, and he is in receipt of replies from Senator Simon and Congressman Tongue. The former says, briefly: "I shall take up the matter with the members of the Oregon delegation, and I feel confident that whatever can be done to promote the interest of your city will receive the most considerate attention of each member of the delegation." This is encouraging, so far as the good intentions of the senator are concerned, but the question is more far reaching than the simple "interests of this city" are concerned. We would earnestly impress upon congress that the farms of a host of citizens are in jeopardy; that there is danger of having to expend a vast sum in clearing a new channel, and that navigation is in danger of being long obstructed. The matter is of state importance.

Congressman Tongue says: "This statement in your letter that the money is exhausted is somewhat of a surprise to me. On December 31st, last, according to the report of the chief of engineers, there was available for the works along the Willamette river nearly $25,000. I had supposed that that money was available for this purpose. Upon that, however, it is possible that I may be mistaken, but I will look into this matter at once, and see what can be done. It is exceedingly difficult to procure appropriations of this class outside of the river and harbor bill. It can only be done under peculiar circumstances in great emergency. It would require a very strong recommendation from the engineering department. General Wilson will doubtless refer the matter to Captain Langitt, so that it will take some little time. I hope for success and insure you of my willingness to do everything that is possible to bring it about."

Perfect confidence is imposed in the efforts and ability of the delegation to secure this appropriation, if possible, and as this is a matter of "peculiar circumstances" and a great emergency, it is field probably two weeks prior to the state intercollegiate meet. It is proposed that at this meet competing teams from Salem, Y. M. C. A., W. U., and Chemawa Indian school should participate. This would be nice. Albany and Mt. Angel might be invited to take part in this meeting, and the promising youngsters who win in these events might represent one or other of these schools at the state field meet. And too, as the Statesman very aptly concludes: "A local field meet, under such management would not necessarily in any way interfere with the state intercollegiate meet and would tend to promote athletic sports in the Willamette valley." The state meet could then be held at Corvallis or Eugene where it rightfully should be held, and a step forward will have been taken in making this enjoyable event more popular and successful.

Hold Your Temper. The athletic young gentlemen who are acquiring their education at the expense of the state and general government at the O. A. C. are afraid to let the young men who are educating themselves at Albany college into the Intercollegiate Athletic Association. Likewise the U. O. C. chaps imagine that they are the only one institution on earth. But Albany college and its athletic department will be heard from. We suggest that the Oregon colleges leave out the two big dogs and run the association on strictly square methods. Albany college has employed an athletic instructor and has been to a large expense and expected that it would be admitted to the association. It has a number of athletes who will compare favorably with any in the state. It is a mean piece of spite work to militate against the colleges which voted to do so. -Albany Herald. It is not a far cry to the time when Albany college voted to exclude representatives of the U. A. C. from ornamental contests, and no one said naughty things about it, either.

A Soldier's Burial. The body of Lyman Kelsay is now at San Francisco. It arrived in that city last week on the Hancock and notice is already expected of its shipment to this city. Tuesday a telegram was sent to Quartermaster Long at San Francisco asking when the body might be expected, but as yet no reply has been received. Upon its arrival it will be met at the depot by the K. of P. of this city and be escorted to the opera house where appropriate memorial services will be held. It is the intention if the body comes the latter part of the week to hold it until Sunday.

Dr. E. J. Thompson will deliver the funeral sermon and short addresses will be made by Judge Burnett and Judge McFadden. Appropriate music, both vocal and instrumental, will be provided.

At the grave the beautiful service of the Knights of Pythias will be performed, a squad of Spanish War Veterans, his comrades in arms, will fire a parting volley over the mound, and tape, the last farewell, will be blown.

Oregon Queen. At the reception given Joaquin Miller by Caithorn Hall Club last Saturday evening, the poet was asked if he met the queen in England, his prompt answer to the fair inquirer being, "No, I met her in Oregon."

COUNTY INSTITUTE.

Much of Practical Value Accomplished at this Meeting.

The tenth local teachers' institute for Benton County was held in the public school building of this city last Saturday. A large gathering of teachers was present to take advantage of the excellent program which had been prepared. The exact number of teachers present was 56, a large number of which came from Philomath. The interest and enthusiasm of the teachers ran high during the entire session. The program began at the appointed hour with singing led by Professor W. A. Ginn and his wife in the entire institute joined. Rev. L. M. Booser read an excellent paper on "Moral Training in the Public Schools."

Many good suggestions were offered by the speaker. In the discussion, Prof. J. D. Wood thought that the life of the teacher formed the character of the child. Rev. C. C. Poling urged the teachers to educate the heart as well as the mind of the pupil. Prof. J. B. Horner gave an interesting talk on "School Libraries, How to Use, How to Get." He carefully outlined the plans by which libraries could be obtained; he urged great care to be used in making the proper selection of books; that the children were always too glad to assist in such work and that no district had a feasible excuse for not having a library of well selected books. In the discussion Prof. A. C. Guthrie of Philomath schools explained the plan by which the schools of that city had secured over 200 volumes. Mr. W. E. Yates insisted that a book of fiction written by a good author should not be excluded from any library. "Music in the Public Schools" was ably presented by Prof. W. A. Ginn. He presented the subject as he would to a class of beginners. Lack of time prevented him going into details. It might be well to remark that Supp'Denman has secured the services of Prof. Ginn who will present this subject at the annual teachers' institute for this year. This will give every teacher in the county an opportunity to become familiar with the rudiments of music so that they can use this information in their daily work in the school. Prof. Thomas H. Crawford read an able and interesting paper on, "Daily Duties of the Teacher." Many valuable suggestions were offered by the speaker which if heeded will aid materially in doing efficiently as a teacher. "Written Examinations, Their Use and Abuse," was presented by Prof. W. T. Wyatt in a strong paper. The manner in which he handled the subject showed careful preparation and study. Some points brought out were: It vindicates the teacher from any charges of malice or partiality; it tests the ability of the pupil in composition and grammatical construction; it lessens the burdens of the teacher; and is a true index of the thoroughness of the work gone over by the pupil. State Supp' J. H. Ackerman being introduced made a very enthusiastic and practical talk on "Ideals." He held the ratification of the teachers for nearly an hour.

Prof. Ackerman is doing some excellent missionary work in assisting in these institutes. He is thus coming in contact with most of the teachers of the state which enables him to arouse a greater interest and enthusiasm among them. Our citizens chose wisely when they selected him to lead the educational forces of our state. Under his administration a state course of study has been prepared which is being used in every district in Oregon, many changes for the better have been made in the school law, and new teachers' registers have been prepared which are said to be the best ever prepared. These will soon be ready for distribution among the different districts. The regular institute work was interspersed with music and recitations by Miss Orla Thompson and Mr. Edgar Tully. Their selections being respectively, "Mary's Night Drive" and "Alaska." Both did well and reflected much credit upon themselves and their teacher Miss Helen Crawford of the O. A. C. The next teachers' institute will be held in Fairmount, just across the river from Albany, during the first of May.
