We are pleased to announce that the well known optician Dr. Love will be in Corvallis soon.

Miss Irene Zierolf left Wednesday for Pendleton where she will be employed in a large millinery establishment.

E. Holgate, administrator, has made final settlement in the J. M. Applewhite estate, and has been released from his trust.

Born, on the 9th inst., to the wife of Robert Hughes, of Oak Ridge, a son. "Bob" is a friend of ours and we extend congratulations.

For the past week, Mr. McKane, of Pittsburg, Penn., has been visiting with his cousin, Supt. G. W. Denman. Mr. McKane is highly pleased with Oregon and her people.

E. J. Lea went to Salem Wednesday where he will be a member of the orchestra which will accompany the choruses in the great musical jubilee held in that city yesterday and today. A popular concert was given by the orchestra Wednesday evening, Mr. Lea being one of the violinists.

Mr. Biber, the genial proprietor of the candy factory next door to Heukle & Davis, has enlarged his quarters and added fruits, tobacco, cigars etc., to his stock. Mr. Biber has enjoyed a large share of the student patronage for his choice candies and now bids for the general trade.

Commissioner's court convened Wednesday morning, but aside from auditing bills, transacted no business. After ordering that resolutions of respect to the late Commission Buchanan be spread upon the journal, court adjourned. The work of the session was taken up again yesterday morning.

In the county judge's office at the courthouse last Thursday morning, Mr. Mathew George and Miss Josephine Tilbury were united in the holy bonds of wedlock by Judge E. Woodward. Both are residents of Bellfountain, where they are well and favorably known. Mr. George owns a small farm near the south boundary of Benton, and here they will make their home.

Next Sabbath morning at the Presbyterian church Dr. Thompson will preach by request a sermon on the following fundamental doctrines of the church, viz: "Election, Regeneration and Perseverance of the Saints." In the evening the topic of discourse will be "Where the path leads." Sabbath School at 10 a. m., Christian Endeavor at 7 p. m., evening service at 8 p. m. A very cordial welcome to these services is extended to all.

At the good old age of more than 80 years the death of Robert D. Lewis occurred in this city Monday evening, from la grippe. He arrived in this city twenty-five years ago and has resided here continuously until called by the Great Power to the unknown. He was highly respected by many friends and acquaintances. Four children survive him. Funeral services were held yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at the M. E. Church, conducted by Rev. Hyatt. The remains were laid to rest in Crystal Lake cemetery.

Mr. Levi Meyers, formerly of Iowa, but for the last year or more a resident of Oregon, paid us a fraternal visit last Tuesday. Mr. Meyers is a native of Indiana. Almost his entire life has been spent in the newspaper business. From 1853 to 1890 he was actively engaged in this work, but since that time has been employed as a correspondent for the large journals of the east. He is now engaged in writing up Oregon, and his headquarters are in Portland. His only respite from journalistic work was a term as United States consul at Victoria. He filled this position when the high-handed smuggling of opium into the United States attracted the attention of the authorities and as a result Tom Jordan, Mulkey and other prominent men were exposed and found to be implicated in this unlawful enterprise. Some of the most damaging evidence was furnished by Mr. Meyers and as a result a number of these gentlemen found lodgment in the penitentiary.

Rev. L. Myron Boozer will preach in the United Evangelical church at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m. K. T. C. E. at 7 p. m. A cordial invitation to all.

Miss Meda Holman, of Dallas, is now employed as clerk at Hall's. Miss Holman was a former Corvallis young lady, having lived here with her family several years ago.

Mrs. Wm. Buchanan, wife of County Treasurer Buchanan, of Corvallis, visited the family of H. J. Wilkins in this city the latter part of the week. Mrs. Buchanan is enroute to Ashland to visit a sister.—Roseburg Review.

May 28th there there will be a total eclipse of the sun. This is regarded as an astronomical event of the first importance by experts at the Washington Naval Observatory, and many weeks have been spent in preparing for the phenomenon.

The Rev. Isaac Peart, pastor of the Methodist church of this city, will leave on an extended to the East tomorrow, says Tuesday's Astorian, visiting his familiar haunts in Indiana and Ohio. Mr. Peart has been in poor health for several months, and hopes to recuperate by a change of scene and climate.

The East Willamette Association of Congregational Ministers will hold its annual meeting in this city next Tuesday and Wednesday. Rev. Kantner, formerly pastor in this city, will deliver the sermon. Representatives of fifteen of the valley churches will be in attendance and an elaborate program has been prepared.

Geo. F. Reed has the contract for laying the foundation for the new school building at Philomath. He began work yesterday and expects to complete the job in about eight or ten days. George is a good workman. Since his return from the Philippines, where he saw service with the 2nd Oregon, he has been in poor health, but is now regaining his old time strength and hardiness.

After an illness of more than a week, Paul Claire, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Grefoz, died May 9th, at 9 a. m., aged 1 year, 6 months and 25 days. The funeral will occur at 2 p. m. today; the services will be held at the family residence, conducted by Rev. L. F. Stephens. Interment will take place at Crystal Lake cemetery. The cause of death was thought to be a combination of brain fever and spinal meningitis. The parents have the sympathy of the entire community in this, their greatest bereavement.

In Memorium.

Miss Ruby Anna Vanhousen was born September 12, 1881, at Central City, Nebraska and came to Oregon with her parents in 1888. She united with the Baptist church February 3, 1895 and became a member of the B. Y. P. U. at its organization, continuing to be a good, active member till sickness compelled relinquishment of her efforts for its advancement. After several months of great suffering from consumption she passed quietly and easily to her rest Saturday, May 5, 1900. Beloved by all her family, the church and numerous friends, her departure is deeply mourned, though it is fully realized that our sorrow is not for her but for ourselves, since she has entered the realms of the blessed and shall be ever with her Lord. Funeral services were conducted at the residence on Monday. A large number of friends were present and manifested their sympathy and esteem by an abundance of floral tributes and tears. Rev. M. Noble preached from Rev. VI, 9-10, as most appropriate to her memory. Thanks of bereaved are heartily extended to all.

ALBERT G. MULKEY.

A Pioneer of 1845 and a Resident of Benton County for Over 50 Years.

Albert G. Mulkey, a pioneer of 1845, and one of the most highly esteemed citizens of this county, has felt the icy had of death and passed to the great beyond. For years he has been troubled with an affliction of the heart. Last February it became so severe he was confined to his home. Later he sustained paralysis of the tongue and arm, and although his mind remained unimpaired, he was rendered perfectly helpless. Slowly his condition grew worse, and last Monday evening, at 7 o'clock his spirit took its flight.

Albert G. Mulkey was born in Buchanan county, Missouri, October 18, 1838. Together with his father and nine brothers and sisters, his mother having died in 1842, he started across the plains in 1844, arriving in Oregon in the spring of 1845. In December following, the father, together with Johnson Mulkey, came to Benton county and took up a claim two miles northwest of Corvallis. Here he built a cabin, and in March brought his family to this farm, where he resided till his death, which occurred April 25, 1882. During his residence in this state he served a term in the first territorial legislature and was otherwise publicly honored. Albert's mother was Miss Mary Dinsmore. She was a native of Alabama, and she was united in marriage with his father while the latter was an instructor in an academy in that state. After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. James Mulkey moved to Missouri, and Mr. Mulkey became quite prominent. He was county judge for several terms and was an intimate friend of Tomas Benton. Albert loved the home of his early boyhood, and death found him upon the farm his father located near this city 55 years ago. He was a man of sterling qualities; a substantial citizen, sincere friend, obliging neighbor, devoted husband, indulgent father.

The surviving members of the family are, the widow; four sons, Grant Mulkey, Elbeton, Washington; Virgil Mulkey, Pasadena, California; Hamer and Fred Mulkey, Corvallis; six daughters, Mrs. Laura Hill, Los Angeles, California; Mrs. Anna Strong, Mrs. Etta Quigley, Mrs. Alice Patton, Mrs. Erna Burdick, all of Pasadena, California; Gladys Mulkey and a stepson, Mordaunt Goodnough, Corvallis.

In the presence of many friends of the deceased, Rev. Menninger conducted the last sad services at the Methodist church Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment was made in Odd Fellows cemetery.

Hilda's Double.

For the past few days Albany, Eugene, Salem and other towns in the valley have been visited by a young lady whom all are declaring is Miss Hilda Holson, who gained some notoriety in Corvallis some weeks ago. She is now in Portland, but the Telegram declares she is not Hilda. It says: "Although several railroadmen and a policeman or two are ready to swear that the girl in the short skirt and shirtwaist is Hilda Holson, who 'worked' this section very thoroughly, the chief of police and others who had interviewed Hilda upon the occasion of her former visit, declare positively that she is not Hilda, and this is a fact. This girl gives the name of Miss Lottie Smith. In several ways she resembles the notorious Hilda Holson. Both Hilda and Miss Smith use a single crutch each, but whereas Hilda's affliction was pure sham, that of Miss Smith is genuine. They are about the same height and build. Miss Smith is prettier, however, and her features are more regular.

"No person can exactly tell Hilda's age. When the hard lines of experience and knowledge of the world are drawn about her mouth, she looks old, possibly 30. But when she is posing as a helpless waif, storm tossed by the neglect and heedlessness of a cruel world, then it is that Hilda appears at her best. There is a world of helpless tenderness in her eyes, and the soft lines of her face make her appear young and innocent. It seems a pity that so tender a plant should be exposed to the harsh blasts of a selfish, mercantile life, and the sympathizer parts his money and is sorry that he cannot spare more. At such times Hilda appears very young—possibly 18.

Amos Bogue.

After an illness of a week, the death of Amos Bogue occurred at noon last Monday at his residence three miles east of this city. He was 74 years of age and his death was the result of an attack of pneumonia. Funeral services were held at the family residence, Tuesday at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and were conducted by Rev. Henderson. Interment occurred at Oakville cemetery.

Amos Bogue was a native of Ohio and has resided during his life in the states of Indiana, Illinois and Iowa. In Illinois he married Miss Mary Hayworth, who died in the Goose Lake country in 1874. Mr. Bogue came from Iowa to Oregon in 1866, and settled in Polk county. He purchased the farm on which he died, in 1872, and resided there during the remainder of his life, respected and esteemed by his fellows of high and low degree. The surviving children are William Bogue, Corvallis; Joseph Bogue, Wasco county; George Bogue, Ashland; Mrs. Lucetta White, Portland.

FROM SAGUAY.

A Returning Pilgrim—Events of Interest—Business Circles Quiet.

Dr. E. H. Holland and son arrived in Corvallis, Wednesday, direct from Skaguay. They favored this office with a call and gave quite a detailed account of present conditions in the north. Everything there is quiet, very quiet, at present. Some of the most substantial business men of Skaguay are going out of business voluntarily and from necessity, occasioned by lack of business, or on account of everything being overdone. Some few are leaving Skaguay for Nome, hoping to secure in that locality the wealth that failed to materialize for them in Skaguay. Others, as in the case of the doctor, are coming south, heartily sick of the whole concern. The same lines of steamers are flying between Seattle and the ports of the north that have operated for the past two years, but the expected rush to the interior did not take place; and as a result, the transportation companies having Lynn canal as a terminus are doing a slack business compared with their harvest of the past. The White Pass & Yukon R. R. Company are at work on the extension of the road to the interior and at present are employing about 1,200 men. The work is being done at the north end of the Watson valley, near the far-famed White Horse rapids. As a whole, the masses in Skaguay are disheartened with what has been, and the future does not offer great inducements. Still, there will always be a town at the head of Lynn canal, and Skaguay will be the place. Business will settle to legitimate proportions and into channels that are certain of remuneration.

The doctor is on his way to Southern Oregon, where he is well known, and only stopped here to meet a friend residing in this vicinity. The truth about Mr. Gellatly's trip is in short as follows: About two years ago Mr. Gellatly lay sick at his home in Corvallis several weeks with typhoid fever which, as in nearly every case of that disease left him in a condition of weakness and so that at times he needed more exercise than the confinement in the recorder's office gave him. His doctors advised him to stir around out of doors to avoid another spell of sickness. So Mr. Gellatly first made a trip to Yaquina bay, then went to Baker county to visit a short time with some relatives and while on such last visit his investigations led him to make some investments there, but in doing so Mr. Gellatly did not wrong the Times or any of the democratic or other candidates, or any of the people of Benton county or other person, but it simply concerned Mr. Gellatly and the persons with whom he dealt.

SPREAD EAGLE TACTICS.

The Times and Its Legal Luminary in Their Favorite Role.

The Corvallis Times publishes a great "cock and bull" story concerning some investments which it claims the present candidate for clerk, J. A. Gellatly, made in and about Sumpter, Baker county, and the legal luminary and adviser of the Times previously writes another article on the same subject entitled "Golden Eagle Candidate" and first sent and published it in the Albany Democrat in the attempt to obscure its paternity and to give the Times the excuse to republish it under the insincere disguise that it originated outside of the Times and the knowledge of its advisers, which is untrue.

Mr. Gellatly was born and raised in this county near Corvallis on his father's farm, adjoining which Mr. Gellatly now owns and has owned a nice farm for many years. He has always been a sturdy, prosperous, industrious, upright man and farmer. His services in the recorder's office attended with his genial, kind and obliging manners, and work is so well known to everybody in this county that it would seem a "bone" for this paper to inflict the public as to his good and excellent qualities as a public officer. Without doubt Mr. Gellatly has been one of the best and most competent officers which Benton county has ever had. The same ability in a man which will make him a good recorder will enable him to make just as good a clerk. But the Times would have you to infer that because Mr. Gellatly made some investments in Baker county that such investment would disqualify him and impair his qualification for clerk. If so, is every man disqualified to hold office because he has made some investment outside of Benton county? If so, how many electors will we have in the county otherwise qualified to hold any office but who must be disqualified because they have investments in another county? Those who have not invested in Lincoln, Multnomah, Baker or some other county will please hold their hands. No one holds up his hand; then we must infer that we have no candidates who should run for office.

Then the Times claims because Mr. Gellatly sold his home just before taking a trip to Sumpter it should disqualify him and cause the people of Benton to disregard him. Mr. Gellatly performed the duties of recorder two years and a half before he owned a house in Corvallis. We presume Mr. Gellatly found a satisfactory chance to sell his house and sold it, but we have not made any particular inquiry about it, because it is none of our business, simply a private business transaction of Mr. Gellatly's which does not concern us neither does the public care. Mr. Gellatly owns and has owned his farm in this county for years. The fact stands out bold and undisputable, that Mr. Gellatly is preeminently qualified to make equal to the best clerk that Benton county has ever had. Then the tales unfolded instead of being arguments against Mr. Gellatly simply show up an imaginary disposition in the Times to convert "molehills into mountains" and to "strain at a sawmill to swallow a gnat."

The truth about Mr. Gellatly's trip is in short as follows: About two years ago Mr. Gellatly lay sick at his home in Corvallis several weeks with typhoid fever which, as in nearly every case of that disease left him in a condition of weakness and so that at times he needed more exercise than the confinement in the recorder's office gave him. His doctors advised him to stir around out of doors to avoid another spell of sickness. So Mr. Gellatly first made a trip to Yaquina bay, then went to Baker county to visit a short time with some relatives and while on such last visit his investigations led him to make some investments there, but in doing so Mr. Gellatly did not wrong the Times or any of the democratic or other candidates, or any of the people of Benton county or other person, but it simply concerned Mr. Gellatly and the persons with whom he dealt.

SOLE PROPRIETORS S.C. WELLS & Co. LEROY, N.Y. TORONTO, CAN.

Sold by Graham & Wortham.

THERE'S PROFIT IN TRADING HERE.

Every item offered below is proof of the above assertion.

The quotations are only a very meagre representation of the values which place this store unquestionably in the lead. This store is crowded with the most complete and comprehensive stock of dry goods we have ever shown. Every line was bought at close prices, and the goods will be passed along to our customers at the usual small margin of profit which has made this store so successful and popular.

The New Spring Parasols Are Here.

This store offers many attractions to economical buyers.

A store that relies solely on low prices to win and hold trade is playing "a losing game." To win such success as this store is winning it is necessary that the low prices should represent goods of strictly reliable quality. Every woman in this city who is posted on dry goods, and who takes the time to compare goods and prices will admit that our values are superior. We make and hold customers by treating them right. We lead; others follow.

LADIES who wish to avoid the bother of home work, or the details of dressmaking, will be interested in our new line of dress skirts. All the fashionable fabrics of the season are included in the line, and the skirts have the fit and "hang" at the best dressmaker's. Take a look at them and you will agree with us.

WHENEVER you find a properly organized and rightly conducted men's furnishing stock in a dry goods store there you will find a successful one. Men no longer shun dry goods store furnishings, for they know they can get correct styles at close prices. We invite the attention of our customers to an especially fine and complete line of neckwear just opened.

SHOE value consists in wear, style and comfort. If any of the three are lacking the footwear is not good value. Our shoes are strictly reliable in quality, therefore long wearing; they are stylish, as can be seen at a glance; they are comfortable, because fitted by an expert. All our customers will bear out these statements. We believe this is the best place for you to buy shoes, and solicit your patronage.

Prices from 45c to $6.50.

GROCERY selling in a department store no longer attracts attention because of its novelty, but for the reason that the best of food products costs less there than the exclusive grocer charges. This store is easily in the lead in this respect. Our grocery department is appreciated by well posted buyers because it offers an opportunity to supply the family needs in this line at closest prices. Country produce taken.

IF you want a stylish spring hat for $3.00, just as good as the $5.00 kind, come here. The only difference is in the absence of the name, and "what's in a name." If you are willing to pay two dollars for a name, buy the five dollar hat. If you want to pay only for the hat, come here. Agent for Kingburry hats.

OUR glove stock is the best patronized and most popular in this vicinity, because we make a constant effort to show a larger line, and offer better glove values than any other local dealer. It is not easy to do a satisfactory kid glove business. It requires long experience, careful buying, conscientious selling and a willingness to be content with a small profit. We recognize all these requirements and conform to them. That's why Corvallis women can get better gloves here for the price than elsewhere.

BEFORE your spring gown is fitted a new corset will be needed. That goes almost without saying, for everyone knows that an ill-fitting or worn-out corset spoils the fit of the dress. Our corset woman can help customers select the proper model—one that will improve the figure. Consult her and you will be better satisfied with your corset, and the fit of your dresses.

Prices from 50c to $1.50.

RECENTLY advances have taken place in all lines of cotton goods. Before the advance we stocked up with cords of domestics—shirtings, sheetings, gingham, prints, and other cotton goods. We are now selling these goods at just about what other merchants have to pay for them at present prices. You will find this store a good place to supply your needs in this line.

F. L. Miller.
