

Mrs. Pinkham

The one thing that qualifies a person to give advice on any subject is experience—experience creates knowledge.

No other person has so wide an experience with female ills nor such a record of success as Mrs. Pinkham has had.

Over a hundred thousand cases come before her each year. Some personally, others by mail. And this has been going on for 20 years, day after day and day after day.

Twenty years of constant success—think of the knowledge thus gained! Surely women are wise in seeking advice from a woman with such an experience, especially when it is free.

If you are ill get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once—then write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

According to a return of the imperial customs authorities the total number of foreigners resident in the open ports of China, was 13,421 at the end of the year 1898.

The tripping feet—the sparkling eye—the graceful movement—be-long not alone to the budding maiden.

These graces are the right—aye duty of every woman until the hair whitens—and regal dignity replaces them.

The mother who guards her strength has so much more to devote to the care and education of her dear ones. She should be a comfort—a cheer—always.

Yet how many feel that they have the strength to properly balance the home? The world is listless, weary and morbid. Its blood moves sluggishly and is full of impurities. It needs a kindling, invigorating tonic to set it afire—it needs Pe-ru-na.

THE ONE MEDICINE

in the world which women may rely upon positively. Pe-ru-na is good for everyone, but particularly for women. The various weaknesses which afflict their delicate organism spring from inflammation or catarrh of the mucous lining, and Pe-ru-na is a specific for catarrh in any organ of the body. Any congestion of a mucous membrane simply means catarrh of the organ affected. This is why Pe-ru-na cures all sorts of troubles where other remedies fail. If there is a catarrhal affection the matter with you anywhere Pe-ru-na will cure you.

PISO'S CURE FOR BILIOUSNESS, COLIC, CONSTIPATION, AND ALL THE BILIOUS AFFECTIONS OF THE DIGESTIVE SYSTEM.

ANECDOTE AND INCIDENT

The watering-carts of a certain Irish town are decorated with patent-medicine advertisements. An innocent Irishman from the rural districts looked at one the other day and remarked: "Faith, it's no wonder D—is healthy, when they water the streets with Jones' sarsaparilla!"

Upon beholding some life-like snapshots of himself for the first time in the papers during the campaign of 1892, the day after he had spoken in the Academy of Music, Philadelphia, Senator John Sherman is said to have remarked to a friend: "Well, well, our time for criticising the newspaper men is over. They have us to rights now. Here I am just as I am, and I'm a caricature of what I have always thought I was."

About the time of the collapse of the Confederacy, ex-Senator Wigfall was crossing the Mississippi, making his way to Texas. He assumed the character of an ultra-Union man. On the ferry-boat with him was a Federal officer, with whom Wigfall got into conversation. The officer confided to him that he was chasing Wigfall. "If I fall in with the traitor, I'll hang him to the first tree." "Yes," vehemently remarked Wigfall, "and I will be pulling at one end."

There was one occasion when Sir Henry Irving received from one of the superintendents of the Lyceum Theatre in London an answer which seemed to satisfy him. It was the man's duty to say simply, "The enemy is upon us," which he uttered at rehearsal in a poor, whining way. "Can't you say it better?" shouted Irving; "repeat it as I do." And he gave the words with dignity, with all his well-known dramatic force. "If I could say it like that," replied the man, "I shouldn't be working for twenty-five shillings a week."

A clergyman who gave evidence in a horse-dealing case became somewhat confused in his account of the transaction in dispute, and the cross-examining counsel, after making several blustering but ineffective attempts to obtain a more satisfactory statement, said, "Pray, sir, do you know the difference between a horse and a cow?" "I acknowledge my ignorance," replied the reverend gentleman; "I hardly know the difference between a horse and a cow, or between a bull and a bullock, but I am told, has horns, and a bullock—here he made a respectful bow to the advocate—"luckily for me, has none."

When the gallant Welsh captain, David Gam, was sent forward by Henry V. to reconquer the French army before the battle of Agincourt, he found that the enemy outnumbered the English by about five to one. His report to the king is historic: "There are enough to be killed, enough to be taken prisoners, and enough to run away." This quaint forecast of the result of the battle at once spread through the camp, and doubtless every yeoman-archer of the valiant company felt an inch taller. We know that it was almost literally justified by the event. Poor Gam's dry humor was equalled by his courage. He was killed while in the act of saving the life of his prince.

Just before "Max O'Rell" (M. Paul Blouet) recently delivered a lecture to the students of a religious college in the East, one of the professors stepped forward and offered a prayer, in which he said: "Oh, Lord, Thou knowest that we work hard for Thee, and that recreation is necessary in order that we may work with renewed vigor. We have tonight with us a gentleman from France, whose criticisms are witty and refined, but subtle; and we pray Thee to so prepare our minds that we may thoroughly understand and enjoy them." "I am still wondering," said O'Rell, "whether my lectures are so subtle as to need praying over, or whether those particular auditors were so dull that they needed divine assistance to help them out. Of one thing I am morally certain—that they showed, by their appreciation, that the professor's prayer was not in vain."

BIBLE OF THE MORMONS.

Its Origin as Explained by Mrs. Diadama Chittenden.

Mrs. Diadama Chittenden, of Utica, Mo., was born at Shilpton, Lower Canada, May 31, 1813, her maiden name being Whitney. In 1852 she was married to Roderick M. Chittenden, and located in Utica in 1860, where she has resided continuously ever since. She was for many years engaged in the mercantile business with her husband, and in the early '90s did much buying and purchasing supplies at Quincy, Lexington and other points.

Mrs. Chittenden made many long trips on horseback in those days, and encountered many difficulties and adventures, always being active and alert and able to cope with all obstructions. This activity she still retains, and at her present great age she is able to do all her own work, to sew and read without the aid of glasses, and, being a highly educated lady, she keeps fully in touch with the events of the day. She is an entertaining conversationalist, and relates many interesting incidents connected with her early life.

One of her vivid memories is of the origin of the Mormon Bible. As she remembers, there was a Mr. Spafford, a millwright and miller in the employ of Esquire Wright, of Conneaut (then called Salem), Ohio. He was afflicted with consumption and did but little manual labor, though he had the oversight of several industries. In general conversation with some associates one day he made the assertion that they knew nothing about the Bible, and to prove it he said he would write a chapter of his own and then read a chapter from the Bible, and he claimed they could not tell which was which. The tests were many, and chances were against Spafford, but he won, and it helped much to relieve his last days.

In the employ of Esquire Wright was a boy named Joseph Smith, who was observed to be an attentive listener at many of the readings.

Shortly after Spafford died, and although these papers were diligently searched for, they were never found.

Some years after the Mormon Bible, said to have been "revealed" to Joseph Smith, appeared, and the three acquaintances of Spafford—Dr. Hart, Esquire Wright and Zaph Lake—after examining it, made an affidavit and published it in the Salem Reporter to the effect that the greater part of the Mormon Bible was identical with the manuscripts written by their friend Spafford.

All of these parties were well known to Mrs. Chittenden, whose memory is very clear and distinct.—Kansas City Journal.

ANAM RAISES EXCELLENT TEA.

French Colony Promises to Become a Competitor of China and Japan. In a recent report to the State Department United States Consul John C. Covert at Lyons writes of the tea and coffee production in Anam and Madagascar. He says:

"The year 1894 was the first in which tea from one of her colonies was offered in France. In that year 7,500 pounds were received from Anam. In 1896 the receipts jumped up to 10,296 pounds, in 1897 to 13,000 pounds. In 1898 the imports of tea from Anam into France were 42,262 pounds. The figures for 1899 are not accessible, but it is estimated that the exports will be not less than 140,000 pounds.

"Up to 1892 Anam tea was cultivated only for use among the natives, and the proposition to cultivate it for European consumption seemed a chimera. But the consumption of tea in France was increasing very rapidly. From 1,147,655 pounds consumed in 1892 the quantity rose to 1,794,832 pounds in 1898, and it is believed to have increased by nearly another 100,000 pounds in 1899. The supply was almost entirely from China and Ceylon.

"This tea from Anam is said to equal the finest article produced in China. It is in very general use in the French army and in Anam, and it is believed to be only a question of time when it will fill the entire demand in France. The production is daily increasing. The old colonists are going into the business of raising tea, finding it more profitable than any other occupation.

"The production of coffee on the eastern coast of Madagascar is expected to soon develop into important proportions. In the past it has been insignificant, but the government has published figures setting forth the estimated crop for 1894 at 713,475 kilograms (equal to 1,573,000 pounds). This estimated result is considered very satisfactory. Inasmuch as the area planted is not half the cultivatable territory of the island. The receipts of coffee from all the French colonies in 1899 were only 963,000 kilograms (2,123,000 pounds)."

WOULD SUPPRESS SWEARING.

Regarding Rights of People Who Object to Profanity.

What reason under the sun can be given why men should be permitted to curse at their own pleasure in public places to the discomfort of some and to the shame of others? We recall an incident last summer which struck us forcibly as an illustration of what should happen everywhere in this free country where the circumstances are the same, says the New Haven Register. A tipsy loafer named the cat at Savin Rock and took a front seat. Almost incidentally he began to talk, using language which was both profane and indecent. There was no reason why the women and children present should be obliged to listen to his talk. Although the man had paid his fare, the demand was made that he be put off, which, after some delay, was done, to the relief of every passenger.

The philosophy which justified the ejection of the profane swearer from the car justifies his suppression wherever he makes others uncomfortable. Not one of us would hesitate longer than was necessary to take the legal steps against a swearing neighbor who made himself a terror and nuisance from morning till night. A man or a woman has a perfect legal right to walk freely about the city and demand that his or her ears shall not be assailed by oaths and indecent speeches. It is not at all a question of boarding-school government. It is as legitimate a function or obligation of the authorities as it is to keep the streets clean. Of course does not follow that because a man freely uses profane language he is an evil member of society. It is in a majority of cases, a habit pure and simple, and even habits are to be condemned which make other people uncomfortable and wretched.

The Power of Music.

"Music has charms to soothe the savage breast," and it has other uses, as will appear from the following anecdotes:

A famous musician was spending a short holiday in the country. On Sunday he went to church and asked the organist if he would let him play the organ "exodus."

Consent was given, and the stranger produced such wonderful and beautiful music that everybody kept their seats to enjoy it. This vexed the regular organist, who had his own ideas of what an exodus was intended for.

"That kind of playing," he whispered anxiously, "will never get the people out. I'll show you how to do it."

With that, he pushed the volunteer aside, took his place, and began droning away in his usual style. Speedily the congregation arose from the pews and fled.

"There!" cried he, with a self-satisfied smile, "that is the way to play them out!"

Prussian Millionaires. At the head of the list of the big millionaires of Prussia stands M. Rothschild with £10,740,000 and an income of about £350,800. In one year his fortune increased by more than half a million sterling. After him comes M. Krupp with £8,400,000 and an income of £450,000. After them come two landed proprietors with £4,200,000 and £3,200,000 respectively, and a third with £2,000,000.

Monument to Potatoes. A seven-foot granite monument in the upper Harz, Germany, has an iron tablet inscribed: "Here, in the year 1847, the first trials were made with the cultivation of the potato."

BAD BLOOD, BAD COMPLEXION.

The skin is the seat of an almost endless variety of diseases. They are known by various names, but are all due to the same cause, acid and other poisons in the blood that irritate and interfere with the proper action of the skin.

To have a smooth, soft skin, free from all eruptions, the blood must be kept pure and healthy. The many preparations of arsenic and potash and the large number of face powders and lotions generally used in this class of diseases cover up for a short time, but cannot remove permanently the ugly blotches and the red, disfiguring pimples.

Eternal vigilance is the price of a beautiful complexion when such remedies are relied on. Mr. H. T. Shobe, 3704 Lucas Avenue, St. Louis, Mo., says: "My daughter was troubled for years with a disgusting eruption on her face, which resisted all treatment. She was taken to several celebrated health springs, but received no benefit. Many medicines were prescribed, but without result. I finally decided to try S. S. S., and by the time the first bottle was finished the eruption had almost entirely disappeared. The second bottle completely and left her skin perfectly smooth, and the third bottle cured her. She is now 21 years old, and not a sign of the embarrassing disease has returned."

S. S. S. is a positive, unfailing cure for the worst forms of skin troubles. It is guaranteed to give a smooth, soft skin, and the only one guaranteed purely vegetable.

Bad blood makes bad complexions. S. S. S. purifies and invigorates the old and cures the new. It cleanses the blood, and keeps the skin active and healthy and in proper condition to perform its part towards carrying off the impurities from the body. If you have Eczema, Tetter, Acne, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, or your skin is rough and pimply, send for our book on Blood and Skin Diseases and write our physicians about your case. No charge whatever for this service.

Cape Nome is situated on the shore of Behring sea at the mouth of Snake River, Seward peninsula, central-western coast of Alaska. It is situated at latitude and 166 degrees west longitude, and, by ocean route, distant from its base of supply, Seattle, 2,700 miles. In making the ocean trip from Seattle one steams westward for 1,900 miles to Dutch Harbor, on the Aleutian archipelago, and thence northward 800 miles to the land of gold, passing en route the government's sealrookeries on the Pribilof islands.

In Utica, N. Y., a block of new apartment houses has just been furnished with complete installation of electric cooking utensils in each flat. The electric kitchen furniture consists of three round platters or "stoves," an oven and a broiler. It is declared that meats broiled on the electric gridiron are much more palatable than those scorched and charred over red hot coals. The electric "stoves" are placed on an ordinary kitchen table when in use, and when their work is over, they are stowed away in a drawer or on a shelf.

A new use for the phonograph has been found in New South Wales. A candidate for office found it impossible to visit all parts of the sparsely settled region he wished to represent in the legislature, dictated his speech into a phonograph, had an orchestra play a few pieces into the machine, and then sent a number of the machines out over the country in the hands of political workers. He sent a picture of himself with each machine, and had the workers give the people a description of his life and his ability. That man deserves success.

Siberia is not such a desert as you may think. The limited trains on the Siberian railway have most everything a candidate for office could desire in comfort. They have a library, a piano, a barber shop, a gymnasium, hot water as well as ice water, double windows to protect the passengers from dust, heat and cold, a writing room with all necessary materials, and an observation car at the end of the train. Each train has a doctor, who remains aboard to administer to the care of passengers free of charge. "The time from Irkutsk to St. Petersburg is seven days.

A vagrant lad was arrested in Philadelphia the other day for some misdemeanor, and in response to the questions of the police justice, he declared that he was 14 years of age and an orphan. "How long have your parents been dead?" asked the sympathetic justice. "Over 20 years," was the prompt reply of the little liar.

The police force in London is an army itself. An official report issued by the city shows that the force numbers 13,564 men. That is 19 policemen to the square mile.

Cats sometimes prove worthless in the destruction of rats, but it is due to the feeding of the cats. Not being compelled to work, they will not do so. The best cats are those that are not allowed to come to the house, being given a little milk once a day [at the barn]. They will then spend a large portion of their time seeking rats and will work industriously.

Supreme Court Sustains the Foot-Ease

Justice Laughlin, in Supreme Court, Buffalo, has ordered a permanent injunction, with costs, and a full accounting of sales, to issue against Paul B. Hudson, the manufacturer, of the foot powder called "Dr. Clark's Foot Powder," and also against a retail dealer of Brooklyn, restraining them from making or selling the Dr. Clark's Foot Powder, which is declared, in the decision of the court, an imitation and infringement of "Foot-Ease," the powder for tired, aching feet to shake into your shoes, now so largely advertised and sold all over the country. Allen S. Olmsted, of Le Roy, N. Y., is the owner of the trade-mark "Foot-Ease," and he is the first individual who ever advertised a foot powder extensively over the country. He will send a sample Free to any one who writes him for it. The decision in this case upholds his trade-mark and renders all parties liable who fraudulently attempt to profit by the extensive "Foot-Ease" advertising, in placing upon the market a spurious and similar appearing preparation, labeled and put up in envelopes and boxes like Foot-Ease. Similar suits will be brought against others who are now infringing on the Foot-Ease trademark and common law rights.

In the course of a speech at the reformed Episcopal church at Baltimore, Bishop Stevens rather astonished his coworkers by declaring his fondness for tobacco. "I smoke," he said, "and I shall continue to smoke. I don't believe the use of tobacco is as bad as it has been described; I believe it is all a piece of will worship. God has never said anywhere that we shall not be ministers of His Gospel if we do use it. God provided for every need of our nature, and I thank God for my cigar."
