An Invitation to Women

All the world knows of the wonderful cures which have been made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Com-pound, yet some women do not realize that all that is claimed for it is absolutely true.

If all suffering women could be made to believe that Mrs. Pinkham can do all she says she can, their suffering would be at an end, for they would at once profit by her advice and be cured.

There is no more puzzling thing than suffer great pain month after month when every woman knows of some woman whom Mrs. Pinkham has helped, as the letters from grateful women are constantly being published at their own request. same derangements which make painful or irregular periods with dull backaches and headaches, and dragging-down sensations, presently into those serious inflammations of the feminine organs which completely wreck health.

Mrs. Pinkham invites women to write freely and confidentially to her about their health and get the benefit of her great experience with the sufferings of women. No living person can advise you so well. No remedy in the world has the magnificent record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for absolute cures of female ills. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn,

I still have the discharge and am sore across the ovaries, but not so bad. Every one thinks I look better since taking your Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. J. F. BROWN, Holton, Kans., Aug. 13, 1898.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM-I think it is my duty to let you know the good that Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound has done me. After I took three bottles, menses appeared, and I began to feel stronger and all my pain was gone. Yours is the only medicine that ever helped me. I am able now to work around the house, something I did not axpect to do again."—Mrs. J. F. Brown,

RACKS THE JOINTS MIGHTILY.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Is a Complaint No One Need Covet. The name rheumatism is applied to a great variety of affections accompanled with pain in the joints or muscles, some of them more of a gouty or urle acid nature, others probably of infec- an settlement on the outskirts of New tious origin, and others still the expres- York, which shall be nameless, as the sion of some disease of the nervous structures.

Acute articular or inflammatory rheutime of the year. In England it is said to be most frequent in the autumn.

It attacks persons between the ages of 15 and 40 more commonly than those who are older or younger.

Physicians are not yet agreed as to its nature, although many now incline home? to regard it as a germ disease. It begins gradually, with slight aching in the limbs, sore throat and a general him? feeling of depression. The appetite fails, the tongue is heavily coated, often there is complaint of headache, and of chilly sensations and the sufferer is life insurance. I am a medical examgenerally "out of sorts." There is fev- iner. erishness, and as this increases, pain and swelling appear in one or more of the large joints. The joints attacked are hot, red and exquisitely painful and have every appearance of being severely inflamed. All these symptoms may disappear in a single night from one joint and appear at the same time in another; and so the disease may go on, attacking one joint after another, those first affected recovering much of their tone and function. One of the characteristic symptoms is profuse perspiration; the skin is not red and dry, as in most fevers, but cool, moist and sometimes actually dripping with sweat. The disease may come to an end in a week or ten days, or it may go on attacking joint after joint and when all have suffered it may begin over again and so go on indefinitely. As long as the rheumatism is confined to the joints there is little danger, although occasionally death results from excessive fever; but there is always danger that it may attack the lining membrane of the heart and cripple the organ permanently. Rarely it attacks the membrane of the brain, causing violent delirium or death.-Youth's Companion.

CALLED ENGLAND'S BLUFF.

Russian Diplomat Won Port Arthur by a Coup After a Peace Rumor. Count Muravieff's most famous

"coup" was the grabbing of Port Arthur. Concerning that bit of active diplomacy on the part of the late Russian Minister, the following story is being told: Muravieff, it is said, heard at the psychological moment in the negotiations during the Chinese crisis of two years ago of Queen Victoria's avowed determination never to sign anther declaration of war. With this knowledge at command he held the key of the situation in the far East.

He knew that Great Britain would not "risk a war," and, therefore, he ular Menstruation, Leu- read the brave talk about the "open door" with a smile, and received Lord Salisbury's protests thereby as signitying so many pretty phrases and his velled threats as simply bluff. They were sent as an ultimatum, but the Admiral "DEAR MRS. PINEHAM-I want to discovered that there was nothing at

The Central Christian Church of Columbus, Ind., resolved that the children of the world shall not enjoy a monopoly of the good things of existence, has just opened a roof garden upon the church edifice, which is to serve as a resort for members and the general public during the hot weather, and as a place of worship whenever it shall be deemed advisable. This roof reek. It was illuminated with electric ights and decorated with palms, flowers and fancy lanterns. Refreshments were served on small tables throughout the garden and the place resembled a genuine roof garden as closely as it could consistently to be upon a church Another concert will be given soon.

TERM "MOB."

It feems to Have Been Used as Far Back as Chancer.

As indicating the populace, proverhially fickle and easy to be moved (mo bile, from Latin mobilis) the expression 'the mobil people" is as old as the time of Chaucer; but, in its later sense, that of a disorderly crowd, and in its contracted form, "mob," it is not c'der than the post-Restoration period. In Roger North's Examen, 1740, valuable for the many original anecdotes of English history that it contains, reference s made (Page 574) to a certain club (the Green Ribbon Club, 1680-82), and the writer adds: "I may note that the rab ble first changed their title and were called the mob, in the assemblies of this club-first mobile vulgus, then contracted in one syllable." It was used hesi tatingly at first by Dryden (Don Sebastian, 1690, Durfy (Commonwealth of Women, 1686), and Shadwell (Squire of Alsatia, 1688), and Richardson points out that Dryden uses both "mobile" and "mob" in the sense of rabble; the former in the stage directions as the common word, the latter as if it had not ong been-introduced. In 1711 the Spectator instances "mob" as an example of the popular tendency to curtail many of our words in familiar writings and conversation. The verb, "to mob," derived, of course, as above, does not occur until the period of Horace Walpole many years later, and Shakspeare's expression, "the mobiled Queen" (Hamlet), refers not to the "mob" (mobile), but to the headdress in disorder.

Too Late for His Appointment. George Canning and a friend were looking at a picture of the Deluge, in which an elephant was seen struggling in the waters, while the ark had floated some distance away. "I wonder," said the statesman's friend, "that the elephant did not secure an inside place." "He was too late," suggested Canning; "he was detained packing up his

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
