Hermann Breyer received a postal card from Carl Hodes. Carl announces that he will remain at his old home in Herstelle, Germany, all winter.

Miss Lettie Wicks returned a few days ago from a visit of several months duration in California. She was accompanied home by her eight-year-old niece.

If the weather continues favorable for another week nearly all of the hops will be gathered. Growers expect to realize 15 cents per pound for their crop.

The large fan recently purchased in Portland by Manager Johnson, of the Benton County Prune Company, for use in the company's drier, arrived Wednesday.

There was a firemen's dance last night at their hall. Quite a nice time resulted. Fred Overlander, Eugene Simpson and Miss Olive Thompson furnished the music.

Elwyn Brown, of Tacoma, Wash., arrived a day or two ago and will attend the O A C this year. He will stop with Mrs. V. Esby and family, being a relative of theirs.

Attorney J. F. Yates and wife are home from their outing in the vicinity of Belknap Springs. Fred killed two deer and caught speckled trout galore. This is the kind of a vacation to take.

The census takers of Oregon have made a clean record. So far not a single report has been returned from Washington for any explanation. Few states of the union will equal this.

Miss Leona Smith will leave Monday for Portland, where she will enter St. Helens Hall. While in Portland she intends to take up the study of the violin, which she has somewhat neglected of late.

Principal McDonald wishes to impress upon patrons of the public school, the importance of students being present on opening day, next Monday. The school is all ready to begin work in earnest on that date.

G. W. Thompson reports that a few days ago, while driving over the bridge just south of Philomath, the structure began cracking so loudly that he was startled and hurriedly lashed his horses and crossed safely.

Services in the United Evangelical church on Sunday as usual. Rev. L. M. Booser will preach at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.; Sunday school at 10 a. m. and K. L. C. E. at 6:30 p. m. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Shortly before noon Wednesday the marriage of Carl Porter and Miss Allie Whitaker, both of this city took place at the residence of the bride's mother. Rev. Memminger performed the ceremony. The young couple took the West Side train for Independence, where they will pass a brief honeymoon. Both Mr. and Mrs. Porter have spent the greater part of their lives in this city and have hosts of friends who hope for their success during their journey through life.

Bert Bowersox paid Corvallis a short visit Tuesday evening.

Emil G. Trachsel moved his household effects to this city from Summit, Tuesday. He will take up his residence on the dairy farm of M. S. Woodcock, not far from Corvallis.

Mr. Thomas Cooper completed threshing on his place west of town, Thursday. While the grain promised well while standing, it yielded but an average of twelve bushels to the acre.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Wigle will leave today or tomorrow for their home near Prineville. They are to drive over and the route they are to travel over is nearly 260 miles long. Mrs. Wigle has been here the greater part of the season, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Wilkins.

Prof. A. L. Kniseley, chemist of the O A C, received word a few days ago that a son had been born to his wife, who is at present in Michigan. Hitherto the professor has shown some reluctance to state the date that he expected his wife to join him in this city, but he looks for her in October.

Wednesday evening a party of ten or a dozen young ladies of Corvallis secured a turn-out and amidst much laughter, blowing of tin whistles, tooting of fish horns and jangling of bells, drove over to Albany. They went to attend the band concert. The only man in attendance was the driver—what a pity!

J. M. Cameron and family arrived home from Portland Wednesday. He speaks in highest praise of the street fair, and among other things, reports that he saw the carriage that President Lincoln rode to the theater in the night he was assassinated. The carriage is the property of the Studebaker Wagon Company.

Joseph Yates drove out of Corvallis early yesterday morning, and to judge by his equipment, one would have thought that he was starting across the plains. In response to an inquiry as to what he was up to, as he drove away, he called back that his son "Fred" had killed two deer over yonder in the mountains, and where he can kill two, I can kill a back load." This was all the information he vouchsafed.

The public schools at Philomath open October 1st. Principal Pratt is prepared to move to his new home in that city immediately, but is detained by the illness of his cousin who has been confined to his home for the last 33 days with an attack of typhoid fever. He is nearly convalescent, however, and may be moved shortly. The elegant new public school building is now ready for occupancy, and is a credit to Philomath and its enterprising school patrons.

Mr. W. H. Kinder, a former resident of this city, who left Corvallis 25 years ago, is here visiting with relatives, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Rebekah Kinder, and sixteen-year-old son. Mr. Kinder was at one time engaged in the dry business in this city. Since leaving here he has lived at Walsburg and Dayton, Wash., but for a greater period at the latter place which is now his home. He expects to remain about two weeks visiting with his father-in-law, Sol King, and cousin, Thomas Cooper. While here he will inspect the Agricultural College, with a view to sending his son to school.

Dr. Jas. Withycombe, who is now in Sacramento acting as judge of the stock show at the California state fair, has written a letter stating that the cream of the California fair is coming to Salem. A telegram from Dr. Withycombe states that the following noted breeders will be at Salem: Glide, of Sacramento, 20 sheep; Davis Bros., of Dyer, Indiana, 40 hogs; Sessions & Co., of Los Angeles, 30 hogs; John Sparks, of Reno, Nevada, 20 Hereford cattle; Davis Bros., are the largest American importers of Victoria hogs, a fine breed that has never been seen on the Pacific coast before; they are also the largest importers of Rambouillet sheep in the United States.

Killed by S. P. Train.

The Southern Pacific passenger train, leaving Portland Tuesday morning ran into and killed Mrs. Nettie Nalles, near her home one-fourth mile west of Carlton, a small station seven miles north of McMinnville. The accident occurred about 9:45 a. m., and the unfortunate woman died from the effects of her injuries a short time afterward.

When first noticed by Engineer Joseph Kehoe, from his seat in the cab, she was standing by a team that had been stopped in the middle of the wagon road, which parallels the railroad at that point. She was talking to her brother, when she suddenly started to return to her home just across the track. At that moment the train was not more than 25 or 30 feet away from her. Unmindful of its approach, she darted onto the track in time to be struck by the pilot of the engine and hurled to one side. When picked up, she showed no signs of the contusion, and was still breathing. She was at once removed to her home, toward which she had been running when the accident happened.

The movements of the woman were so quick and unexpected that Engineer Kehoe had no time to stop his train, and was only able to shut off steam and reach for the air lever, and no blame is attached to him for the fatality. The inquest was held at Carlton Wednesday morning and was attended by Engineer Kehoe, Conductor M. C. Webster and other members of the train crew.

Still No Bidder.

The city council met in regular session last Monday evening. President Avery presided in the absence of Mayor Crawford, on account of sickness.

No bids were received by the sewer committee in answer to the "call to contractors" now being published, and the time for receiving bids was extended until the next regular meeting of the council.

Two remonstrances were presented to the council, against certain lateral sewers, and they were laid on the table.

Bills, amounting to $469 on the general fund and $112 on the street fund, were allowed.

A motion to the effect that the chief of police be ordered to open the alley in the Spangler-Shaw block was defeated.

"A Circus Girl."

The Macy Comedy Company, consisting of 30 clever artists, band and orchestra, will give two exhibitions only in this city, commencing Monday, September 17th. The opening bill is the uproariously funny farce comedy entitled "A Circus Girl," full of fun from start to finish, not one dull moment. The second night they will produce the much talked and read about "Sapho," the fad of the day. The version by this company is pure, clean and refined; it is bright, crisp, and witty, and can be witnessed by the most fastidious person without the fear of being shocked. The company travels in its own special cars, carrying all required scenery for each production, and they also carry a novelty in the shape of their own canvas theatre. They come direct from Portland, where they played to big business for one solid week—25 and 35 cents.

An Incident.

Three Corvallis gentlemen, the only clue to whose identity we have has been given in their surnames, rode over to Albany on their bicycles Sunday afternoon, while in search of the big prune orchard. While straying around the city, they wandered aimlessly into the telegraph office, of which conveniences Albany has but one, and one of their number, whom we shall know as Farmer, being an operator, sent the following message to Corvallis: "Tom Monteith. Bring conveyance to Albany. Barnhart and Cronise are unable to get home."

Business would not permit Mr. Monteith to go to Albany in person, but he rushed to the Brick Stable and ordered the fastest and safest team sent post-haste. The gentlemen for whose benefit the outfit had been ordered, were unconscious of the solicitude for their welfare, and knew nothing of the rig having been ordered. After seeing the sights they mounted their wheels and started homeward. When three or four miles out of Albany, the party met the carriage which had been dispatched to their assistance. Later, when the trio met Tom in Corvallis, explanations were demanded on both sides. Barnhart and Cronise resented the insinuation that they were not able to go ten miles from home, without having to be brought home in an ambulance, and Monteith produced the telegram as evidence of his good intentions. Mr. Farmer pleaded guilty, and promised to settle the livery bill, and hostilities were suspended.

County Court.

The business transacted by the county court has been crowded out on account of other matters. Business was transacted as follows:

In the matter of Wm Castle and others asking for a contribution of $89 from the county for the Wyatt road, on the grounds that a like sum had been contributed by the citizens, the court appropriated $25.

A contract was awarded S H Peterson for building a bridge across Rock creek near the Henkle place at $165.

In the matter of repairing Alsea bridge near the farm of D R Tom, in Alsea, the contract was awarded D R Tom, at $40. For repairs to be done on Starr's stock bridge, near Liverpool mills, W F Starr was given contract at $17.50.

Petition for assistance on the road around Oliver mountain was denied.

In the matter of the bill of Franklin Iron Works for one-half interest in a row boat, the court saw fit to reject it.

The matter of purchasing a gravel loader was referred to Commissioner Irwin.

In the case of the State vs R B Edwards, the cost bills of J. H. Edwards, justice of the peace, for $22.60, and E R Bryson, deputy district attorney, for $8.80 were allowed.

Harvest Festival.

The Salvationists are now busy preparing for their annual harvest festival. Everyone should be interested in this effort to alleviate the bondage of souls and the suffering of bodies. God has wonderfully blessed the people of our country. Many are complaining, but compare condition with the nations stricken by famine and pestilence and truly we should send a shout of thanksgiving to the Lord of the harvest. The army harvests give us a chance of returning unto God for his goodness, the first fruits of our increase, to the support of God's work through the Army in our own land.

Will every reader kindly assist with a gift of some kind. Money or salable produce will be thankfully received.

During these special days for the Army, (from Sept. 21 to 23) the hall will be decorated with grain, vegetables, etc. Special meetings will be held illustrative of harvest. Program will be published next week.

MORNAUNT GOODNOUGH.

O. A. C. Students' Reunion.

Someone has been kind enough to send the GAZETTE a marked copy of the Baker City Democrat, containing the following interesting item:

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Eppinger gave a reception in their parlor to the Oregon Agricultural College people and President Gatch's former students who happened to be in the city. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kittridge, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Johns, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Payton, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Wishert, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Merton Clark, Mr. and Mrs. L. Holgate, Mr. and Mrs. John Davis, W. L. Patterson, Marvin Chandler, Prof. John Fulton, Miss Lyle Lawrence, State Supt. Ackerman, Prof. J. B. Horner, Miss Lois Stewart, Ross Finley, Miss Anna Hannah, Miss Lillian Ackerman, Mrs. Jeannette Wimberly and Rev. J. R. N. Bell, who was an active member of the board of regents that organized the new Oregon Agricultural College.

The evening was delightfully spent amidst delicious music, furnished by Professor Fulton, who is a rich tenor soloist, Mesdames Johns, Palmer, and Wishert and Miss Lyle Lawrence at the piano. At the close of refreshments many toasts were proposed, but among them all no responses met with heartier applause than the two great college presidents, Gatch and Arnold, responded to by Mon. C. A. Johns and Rev. J. R. N. Bell. Merriment, chatter and song continued till the approaching morning hours when the happy reunion was brought to a close.

Additional Local

Prof. Berchold visited Portland this week.

Henry M. Stone began operating his dryer near the S P depot last Tuesday.

Wm. Faber, owner of the big brewery at Albany, returned last week from a six months' absence in Europe and Albany welcomed him by blowing whistles for an hour.

The stone quarry belonging to George W. Davis, located on Yaquina bay, in Lincoln county has closed down for this season. The quarry has had a very busy year having furnished large quantities of stone for local use and also exporting thousands of tons to California. It will be remembered that the San Francisco Call building, one of the highest and most expensive buildings on the Pacific coast, was made of stone from this quarry. This summer an addition to the building was erected and has taken a great deal of the product of this quarry.—Statesman.

In order to insure better attendance at the last annual teachers' institute, Supt. Denman promised to have a list of those teachers who were neither absent nor tardy printed in the papers of the county. In compliance with this promise the following teachers were neither absent nor tardy: Maggie Caster, Minnie L. Hodes, George W. Leeper, Ferdinand Brady, W. J. Gilstrap, N. Tartar, Lulu C. Thornton, W. C. Reese, R. P. Goin, O. B. Long, Ena M. Kyle, Etta Agnes Smith, Clara L. Lane, Rose Horton, G. W. Denman, Lottie E. Herbert, May Nelms and Mary I. Gellatly.

To Hop-pickers.

The parties who wish to pick hops, but dislike to camp at the yards, I desire to state that I will convey all who assemble at the Occidental hotel corner at 5:45 every morning, to the yards by wagon and bring them home every evening. I will pay pickers 42 cents per box.
