

Ladies' Silk Waists

Good material. Good workmanship. New Styles. $7 to $10 each.

Underskirts

Mercoized cotton. Looks like silk. Wears as well as silk. Popular colors. $1.50 to $2.25 each

Taffeline

For fine skirt linings and for shirt waists. Twelve shade. 50 cents per yard.

S. E. Young & Son.

Albany, Oregon.

LOCAL NEWS.

G. W. Vanderpool, of Lebanon, visited Corvallis during last week.

Nolan & Callahan's Premium Dishes have arrived; present your coupons.

S. G. Irvin, of Newport, passed through Corvallis Friday on his way to Portland.

County Judge Woodward and family went to the coast Saturday to remain a week.

Mrs. K. K. Krein, of Corvallis, is visiting relatives in this place.—Lebanon Express-Advance.

From the Register it is learned that Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Franklin, of this city, are visiting with the parents of Mrs. Franklin, and Mrs. Holcome, in Eugene.

F. D. McLouth, a brother of Mrs. A. B. Cordley, arrived from New York, Thursday. He has been selected as the head of the drawing department of the O A C.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Porter returned home from Independence Saturday. They will take up their residence for the present with the bride's parents in this city.

Saturday, just before noon, Miss Lulu Daniel lost her purse containing several dollars. It was picked up by Judge Burnett and left at Graham & Wells' drug store until the owner was found.

Ed Crawford came up from Salem Thursday evening and returned to his duties in that city early Friday morning. Ed came up especially to trip the "light fantastic" at the Fireman's dance Thursday night.

James E. Durham arrived from the coast Saturday. Mr. Durham declares that he had the finest time imaginable during the two months he was over there. He is now at his old post at the Times office.

Miss Hortense Greffoz, who arrived home a few days ago from an extended visit with Southern Oregon friends, stopped a few days in Eugene on her way home. While there she was entertained by Mrs. F. W. Prentice.

Miss Dixon, of Philomath, on whom surgeons recently operated for the removal of an ovarian tumor, is reported to be getting along nicely. This was a most delicate operation, requiring great skill, and much credit is due the surgeons.

Prof. F. L. Washburn and family passed through Corvallis Friday, en route to their home in Eugene. They have been at the bay all season and the professor has been conducting a series of experiments on oysters and they were not in the soup either.

In a couple more weeks cyclists can again ride over most of the sidewalks of the city. October 1st, the ordinance which at present prohibits riding on sidewalks will be annulled for a season, and then with a few reservations, bicycle riders can pedal over the walks to their hearts' content.

A. F. Hershner returned last week from Hood River, where he had been to investigate the field with a view to opening a store. He states that he found an opening for the establishment of the business he wished to engage in, but had not yet determined whether he will go there or not.

The state fair opened at Salem yesterday, and from the extensive preparation made by the managers of the big fair, and the local co-operation of the local managers of the various counties of the state, it is safe to say it will undoubtedly be the finest fair ever held in Oregon.

Thursday evening, Joseph Ritter, of Wells Station, had the misfortune to seriously injure himself while operating a steam wood saw. In some unaccountable manner his left knee came in contact with the saw and was badly mutilated. It is feared that he will be crippled for the remainder of his days.

J. M. Nolan and family returned home to Corvallis this morning from their summer vacation. Mr. Nolan, while here, combined business with pleasure by opening a sample room, and exhibiting a fine line of Gents' furnishing goods, boots, shoes, etc. Mr. Nolan expresses much gratification at the large number of orders received.—Yaquina Bay News.

Nolan & Callahan's New Fall Stock has arrived. Its a big one.

Dr. L. G. Altman went to the coast Saturday for a vacation of a week.

Ira Hunter is at present in Portland taking care of Charley Hodes, who is an invalid.

Ladies are respectfully invited to call and inspect Nolan & Callahan's New Fall Stock.

B. W. Johnson gathered his prune crop Thursday. He had his fruit dried by the Benton County Prune Company.

Next Monday the Agricultural College will open for another year's work. Students are already beginning to arrive.

Our Men's and Boys' New Fall Stock of Clothing is the largest and best we have ever owned. Nolan & Callahan.

The carpenters are finishing up the rooms in second story of the Zierolf building in the brick addition erected during the summer.

Mrs. Geo. A. Weggoner and family, who have been visiting at Harrisburg for the past several weeks, returned home Saturday evening.

In response to a telephone message announcing the illness of his wife, John F. Steiner left hurriedly Saturday afternoon for his home in Jefferson.

Robert Huston and William Bogue went to Salem yesterday to attend the races. Their two-year-old colts trotted in the race for produce stakes.

In the course of a couple of weeks Rev. P. Moses and wife will again be domiciled in Corvallis. They have spent the summer on the farm near Tangent.

Mrs. Anna Schlosser received a check for $2,000, Friday, in payment of the life insurance policy carried in the A O U W by her husband, the late Peter Schlosser, of Albany.

Miss Ida Maxwell, of Linn county, arrived Friday in order to get comfortably located before the opening of the public schools, in which she holds a position as teacher of one of the grades.

Word has been received in this city from Robert Lamberson and family, who have been in Union county all summer. They will soon be home. It seems that times have been pretty good over there during the harvest season, for the family report having cleared $5 per day above expenses.

Merton Clark arrived in Corvallis, Saturday, for a brief visit with relatives and friends. He is down from Baker City, buying goods in Portland, and took a run up here. He states that the family in Baker are all well and that financial affairs in that section are very satisfactory. He will start home today.

The Gamecock left recently for Portland with cargo of 4,000 sacks of grain. On the way back she brought a party of emigrants, who were on the way from the Eugene neighborhood to the Grande Ronde valley. They had eight prairie schooners and twenty-two head of horses, and proceeded overland from here.—The Dalles Chronicle.

The public schools of Corvallis opened yesterday with a good attendance. During the week just passed Principal McDonald has been very busy arranging everything ship-shape for the opening day, and with the exception of a few minor details, he was well prepared yesterday morning to meet the responsibilities of his position.

Miss Jewel Wells, daughter of C. B. Wells, is undoubtedly the proudest little lady in Corvallis at present. She is soon to go to live with her sister, Mrs. Waggoner, who resides near Dusty, and as the school house is two miles and a-half from where she is to live, her father has purchased her a nice little pony, sidesaddle, etc., and she will ride back and forth.

Cal Thrasher arrived home Saturday night from Portland, where he attended a series of lectures given by the deputy organizers for the order of Modern Woodmen of the America. The deputies were royally entertained during last week, as follows: Monday night by Evergreen Camp, Tuesday night by Spruce Camp, Wednesday night by Oregon Fir, Thursday night by Mayflower Camp and Royal Neighbor.

About three months ago, C. H. Friendly, of Corvallis, lost his valise here. It was supposed at the time to have been stolen from the Little Palace hotel. Tuesday morning L. C. Gilmore, while rummaging around in the bushes back of the water station, found Mr. Friendly's valise. It had been thoroughly ransacked, but was easily identified through a 2000-mile ticket on the Southern Pacific system.—West Side.

George E. Waggoner arrived in Corvallis, Saturday, from the coast, where he had been enjoying his vacation. He stopped for a brief visit with old-time friends in this city, and he returned to Portland, where he holds a responsible position in the Surveyor General's office. He stated that he had just heard from his father, George A. Waggoner, and the latter was well, and was still stationed at White Pass, Alaska.

CAMPAIGN OPENED.

Hon. Binger Hermann delivers an Able Address to an Enthusiastic Audience.

The presidential campaign was formally opened by the republicans of Benton county, at the court house last Saturday evening with a vim and vigor that eliminates all idea of apathy among supporters of McKinley and Roosevelt in this section.

Prominent republicans, and many democrats, who have known Mr. Hermann for years began arriving in town early in the afternoon and by evening the streets were fairly crowded. An excursion train from Albany accompanied by the excellent band of that city arrived at eight o'clock, and when the exercises of the evening began the large court room was thoroughly filled, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather.

A short program consisting of songs by the Filipino quartet and Albany band preceded the address of the evening, and hearty encores followed each number. The quartet is one of the best organizations of the kind ever heard in a campaign in this county, and Albany's band is a credit to itself and the city to which it belongs.

Attorney J. H. Wilson presided over the meeting and in his announcements stated that the meeting had been called to organize a McKinley and Roosevelt club.

After "America" had been sung with much enthusiasm by the entire audience, Mr. Hermann was introduced as the speaker of the evening. He was greeted with hearty applause, and during his remarks was frequently interrupted with shouts of approval. The speaker said in part:

"Our opponents attempt to create issues when there is no basis for them. They charge us with imperialism when there is no such thing as imperialism in this proud republic of ours. There is no democrat or populist who is honest who will falsify his conscience with the statement that imperialism or militarism has been introduced by a republican administration, for if they do we can remind them that there was more militarism far back in the beginning of the century; that there was more militarism then than there is now under the administration of William McKinley. Statistics will show us that there is now but one soldier to every thousand people who make up this republic. There is a smaller standing army in this country today in proportion to its population than in any other country in the world.

"They claim that we favor expansion; but there is no such issue at this time as expansion—that has become an established fact. We have expanded already. It is now a question of contraction. "The real issue today before the people of the United States, plain and undisguised, is, Are the principles of the republican party to be approved, and under a republican administration is there to be a continuance of our present prosperity and a maintenance of our national honor?

"It is not enough that we have good laws, but we should have a good administration to enforce these laws. Every pledge made by the republican party to the people four years ago has been redeemed. Never since the days of Grant has a president been confronted by exigencies and crises so important and so delicate as has William McKinley, and never has a chief magistrate met these grave responsibilities with more unflinching fidelity and noble, manly action than has President McKinley. We may look at his 40 years of public career, and we find not a single blemish. During the administration of no other president do we discover greater results than those attained by William McKinley.

"When they talk of imperialism, they forget that the republican party is the party that has made free homes for the homeless all over this country and was the party that struck the shackles from over 3,000,000 slaves; further, that it was the republican party that arose in its might and preserved the Union from destruction; that it was the republican party that drove imperialism from Mexico and saved that country; that it was the republican party that saved Hawaii from a monarch's rule and raised over that people the Stars and Stripes, the emblem of liberty, that the immediate predecessor of William McKinley, as president, hauled down, but which has again been raised to the place where it now proudly floats. It was President McKinley and the republican party that removed Spanish domination from Cuban soil, and it was under a republican administration that the old flag was floated in remote lands where until lately floated the emblems of empire and royalty. Is such a party a party of imperialism? Point, if you can, to a single president under a republican administration who has failed to perform the duties imposed upon him. The records speak for themselves. Along with the record of the immortal Lincoln, Grant, Hayes, Garfield and Harrison, we point with pride to the statesman, diplomat and soldier—William McKinley.

"When McKinley was inaugurated president he found the treasury depleted, the country bankrupt, smokeless factories, armies of idle men marching over the country, with their families crying for bread. Confronted with these conditions, he brought order out of chaos, plenty out of want and brought the country up to its present degree of prosperity. It was necessary for him to take up the thread where the republican party left it in 1892, and carry out the principles and doctrines of republicanism, and again redeem the pledges of the republican party. The difficulties growing out of the Spanish war were conducted with diplomatic and military skill that will cause the acts of the president to live in the best history of the country. Hardly had these trying difficulties been adjusted when there arose the complications with China. These complications have been promptly met, and there is promise of an early solution in a manner befitting the exalted dignity and national pride of the Nation.

"You don't hear any more about the crime of '73; no more about 'per capita'; no more about the gold bug, and still less about the bloated bondholder—all these have disappeared like the fabric of a dream. "In 1896 we were a debtor nation; today we are a creditor nation. Three years ago there were three men to every job; today there are three jobs for every man. Three years ago there was much sadness; today there is much gladness. Three years ago many people were talking much without much thinking; today many people are thinking much and talking little.

"So, in order to catch the labor vote, the Bryan party has in some states inserted a plank in their platform for shortening the hours of labor. We do not deny that if Bryan is elected that the laborer's hours would be shortened. In fact, a democratic administration would make the hours of the laborer so short that he would have no hours at all.

"It would have been better if we had to have Mr. Bryan, to have elected him in 1896 than in 1900. But now, when the magnificent temple of American industries has been erected, we are asked to tear down this wonderful monument of our national prosperity.

"Mr. Bryan says the republican party 'puts the dollar before the man,' and we take him to mean what he says. The republican administration in the last four years has put more dollars before the man than he ever saw before, and the best part of it is that when we put that dollar before the man there is 100 cents in the dollar. One-fifth of the world's gold today is in the United States."

At the close of the address the organization of a McKinley and Roosevelt club was effected. Mr. J. B. Irvine was chosen, president; W. S. Linville, vice-president; J. H. Wilson, secretary, and J. R. Smith, treasurer. A vote of thank was extended to Mr. Hermann, and the Albany band which had so kindly assisted in the exercises. The meeting adjourned subject to the call of the chairman.

Home From Cook's Inlet.

Henry Howell, A. L. Baldwin and others, arrived in this city from Cook's Inlet Sunday, coming via San Francisco. They have been up there all summer in the employ of the Alaskan Sample Company which is engaged in the salmon canning industry. They did not succeed in doing a very large business in the way of canning, as they were obliged to build their cannery before they could put up any salmon. However, they did a fair business. They report that all the canneries heretofore established on the Alaskan coast did a fair business. Fish were so thick at times that when rowing in a boat it was almost impossible to get the oars in the water. As to whether they will return to the North again depends on circumstances. Mr. Baldwin, whose home is in Waldport, states that he was very agreeably surprised by the appearance of the country around Cook's Inlet. He says there is some pretty good land there, and seems to think that it is capable of producing crops if properly cultivated. The party went over to Waldport yesterday.

Shingles and Doors.

We are overstocked with shingles and are offering standard A for $1.25; also cedar doors for $1.25 apiece. CORVALLIS SAWMILL CO.

To the Mothers.

Buy your boys clothing here and you won't have to buy so often. Boys' school suits with double seat and knees; just the thing for hard wear. Boys' all wool double seat and knee pants, 50 cents per pair. S. L. KLINE.

Present!

Nice rings make a very acceptable present; I have a very fine assortment at very reasonable prices. E. P. GREFFOZ, The Leading Jeweler.

Boiler and Engine.

Sixteen-horse power boiler and ten-horse engine for sale. For particulars inquire of M. S. Woodcock.

Musical Instruction.

Pupils taught piano and organ after Dr. Mason's celebrated Method. Parties desiring instruction will please leave orders at Daniel's Book Store, or confer with the undersigned. Terms reasonable. MORRIS GOODENOUGH.

Additional Local

Elegant Tailor-Made Suits, Golf Caps, Jackets and Wraps, New York made, just received at Nolan & Callahan's.

Tom Monteith returned Saturday night from a sojourn of a week in Portland and the valley cities. It is safe to say that Tom would like to go again.

In a letter recently received by C. B. Wells, from his sons, who are now at Le Duc, N. W. T., it is stated that snow had fallen at that place August 15th, to the depth of two inches.

Families who can accommodate young lady students of the O A C with board and lodging, or who wish to secure the services of young lady students for their board and lodging, will kindly notify Dean F. Beachhold of the faculty.

The improvement recently made by W. S. Gardner on his photograph studio and residence property is worthy of special mention. The building has been remodeled and enlarged, is attractively painted, and plainly shows that Mr. Gardner is well to the fore in the march of progress.

H. W. Hall has just received an elegant assortment of campaign buttons. They are all the rage now in the East, and a political rally isn't considered complete without them. They make as much noise for one party as another. Local campaigners should secure a supply from Mr. Hall immediately. They are vote-getters.

A day or two ago a party carried some ashes out and threw them down back of the Occidental hotel. There they were left, the party being under the impression that they contained no fire. By chance they were noticed later, when fire was very much in evidence. Persons having occasion to throw ashes out cannot use too much caution as to where they place them and whether they contain fire or not.

George Eglin is in receipt of a card from Joseph Gratha, of Allenton, Mo., in which the latter expresses a desire for information regarding the general resources of this country. Mr. Gratha wants to know how land rents, the price asked for land improved and unimproved, wages of men and women, something about the hop industry, fruit, potatoes, etc. He states that he is going to move to this county and wishes to bring a few families along with him.

Prosperity item clipped from the Albany Democrat: "A man traveling through the country between Albany and Harrisburg counted thirteen new barns, six new houses and ten new windmills, all put up this year. Seven of the windmills by the way, were Aermotor. This is a pretty good sign of prosperity regardless of poor wheat crop and low wheat prices. Farmers have turned their attention to other things sufficiently so that they are not completely dependent upon their wheat crops."

While so much that is dismal is being chronicled concerning the failure of the wheat crop, it is pleasant to publish an item like the following. Mr. Jas. Wilkinson, who lives a few miles south of town, recently cut his crop of 26 acres of timothy hay, the yield being 130 tons. Last week he sold 102 tons of it for approximately $1,000. Mr. Wilkinson has realized $40 per acre for his 26 acres of hay. Speaking of the general failure of the wheat throughout the state, Mr. Wilkinson said the theory advanced that failure was due to impoverished soil is not a correct one. He planted a small strip of wheat on virgin land last year and its yield was no better than that of land that had been sown in wheat for years. While continued growing of wheat will in time impoverish any land, present failure is due to some other cause.

Lost, Saturday, on road between Monroe and Corvallis, ladies purse containing $8.25 and a gold ring. Finder leaves at this office and receive reward.

Patronize the Magnolia.

During the past two months the business of this laundry has doubled. This is proof positive that all work is satisfactorily done and that prices are very reasonable. All laundry called for and delivered. Call on I. K. Daniel at Book Store.

Cotswold Rams.

Persons wishing to purchase, will find a few yearlings two miles west of Corvallis, at the home of John E. Wyatt.

For Rent.

Will rent 200 acres of land west of Monroe and take part payment of rent in work and improvements on the place. Address M. S. Woodcock, Administrator, Corvallis, Oregon.

$50 Reward

Is hereby offered for the arrest and conviction of the thief who broke into the "Jersey Creamery" building, about one mile west of Corvallis, on the night of August 7th, 1900, and stole therefrom 18 or 20 cheese, size "Young America." M. S. WOODCOCK.

The Right Place To Buy BOY'S CLOTHING.

Our line of Boys', Youths', and Little Fellows Clothing is the largest, best-made, most stylish that we have ever shown before.

See our Little Fellows' Suits with fancy and plain vests; age 3 to 8. Price, $1.50 up.

See our Swell Little Reefer Top Coats

very handsome; age 5 to 10. Price $5.00.

Our Line of Boys' and Youths' Overcoats and Ulsters is the perfection of style and wearing qualities, at lowest prices; $3.50 up.

A nice line of Youth's Suits in Black and Blue Serge.

Boys' Fancy Vests. Very neat and dressy; $2.00, up.

Large line of Knee Pants; 25 cents, up.

S. L. KLINE, Corvallis, Or.

Every Boy

in town will have to have a new suit for school.

The Mrs. Jane Hopkin's Suits

Have Five Points of Perfection

Perfect Fitting
"Hold-Fast" Buttons
Elastic Waistbands
Double Seat and Double Knees
Warranted not to Rip.

Cost no more than inferior make.

F. L. MILLER

Corvallis,

Oregon.

The Paint Store.

C. A. Barnhart, Manager.

Paints, Oils and Varnishes

WALL PAPER

RAMBLER AND IDEAL

Bicycles, Maestic Lamps, Mossberg Chime Bells, Etc.

PLANING MILL AND BOX FACTORY

... We Manufacture Boxes Of ...

Sugar Pine, Cotton Wood, White and Yellow Fir

THE BOSSI BOX

Is made of Pine Ends and Cottonwood Sides. We have sold thousands of them and never a complaint.

We Carry a Full Planing Mill Stock.

Our Lumber Sheds

Contain TEN times more dry fine Yellow (mountain) Fir flooring, rustic and finishing lumber than any other yard in the county. Call and be convinced.

We buy all kinds of logs, Red and Yellow Fir, etc., and our prices range accordingly. When you buy of us, you patronize Home Industry. Our prices are as low as the lowest and our stock is the best.

CORVALLIS SAWMILL COMPANY.