S. E. Young & Son, Albany, Oregon.

LOCAL NEWS.

Mrs. F. A. Helm went to Albany Wednesday to visit friends.

Carl Michaux, son of Dr. Michaux, of McMinnville, arrived during the week to attend the O. A. C.

Underwood & Kerr have secured the contract for painting the tank of the Corvallis Water Works. This is getting pretty high up.

Miss Myrtle Shonkwiler, who has visited friends in this city for the past few weeks, returned to her home in Salem, yesterday.

Mrs. M. M. Davis came out from the bay, Tuesday, to attend the Eastern Star function on that evening. She returned home Wednesday.

Attorney H. C. Watson, of Albany, was in Corvallis on legal business. On his return he was accompanied by Attorney W. E. Yates, of this city.

A marked copy of the Oregon weekly has reached our desk. This is the paper published by the students of the U. of O. and is fully up to the standard of the former volume.

Hunters should remember when they go after China pheasants that it is unlawful to kill more than fifteen birds at one outing. It is only on exceptional occasions that caution is necessary.

Lawrence Kaarsburg, the famous football player of Berkeley, Calif., has arrived in Eugene, and will be coach of the varsity eleven this year. He will have first-class timber to work with.

Work on the Baptist church is not yet finished, but regular services will be held on Sunday, Grand Sunday School rally at 10 a. m.; preaching at 11 a. m. and at 7:30 p. m.; B. Y. P. U. at 8:30 p. m. All heartily welcome.

Rev. C. C. Poling, presiding elder of the United Evangelical church, will preach at the following places: Alexander school house, Kings Valley, Saturday, at 7:30 p. m.; Blodgett, Sunday, at 11 a. m.; Summit, Sunday, 3:30 p. m., and at Tum Tum at 7:30 p. m. Sunday. All are welcome.

The O. A. C. band is now going through a series of rehearsals, with Ernest Redd as band master. There is some very creditable new timber in the band this year and the boys expect to maintain a good organization. Among other things, they are to be supplied with a tuba, of C. G. Conn manufacture.

Those farmers who think that college professors don't know anything about work had a good opportunity to get a more correct opinion on the subject by watching Professor Kent at work in the dairy building at the State Fair. Any farmer who can hold his own with Prof. Kent through a long day's work has reason to rejoice in his strength and staying ability.—Oregon Agriculturist.

The general opinion is that the Mongolian pheasant is wild and untameable, but according to the Eugene Register it appears that there are exceptions now and then. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Ray Delano heard a noise on her porch and opening the door found a China pheasant making an effort to get into the house. She bid it welcome and the bird is quite at home in its new environment. It is a wild bird and is evidently seeking safety.

Hon. H. B. Miller has written to Colonel Doseh from Shanghai, and has the following to say of the peaches grown in that part of the world: Peaches are quite plentiful, and fairly good if picked when ripe. The Chinese don't realize the difference between ripe and green fruit, and seem to eat the hard, green fruit with the same relish they do ripe, hence most of the fruit is unfit to eat, being many times only half grown. Good peaches could be produced here, but the peach worm is very bad, and in three-fourths of the peaches. It is a worm that operates exactly like the codlin moth, and looks like it, but is some smaller. It eats into the peach anywhere and spoils the fruit, doing more damage to the fruit than the codlin moth does to the apple. So far as I can learn, nothing is done to destroy or check them.

Mr. Will Hodes, of Eugene, paid Corvallis a business visit this week.

J. H. Gallagher, a member of last year's graduating class of O. A. C., visited his alma mater this week.

The weather permitting, Dr. Thompson will preach at Oak Ridge Presbyterian church Sabbath afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Revival service every night next week in the Evangelical church. Rev. G. L. Lovell, of Independence, will be present to assist.

Mrs. Telt Burnett and son, Leo, arrived home Wednesday from an extended visit with relatives in Baker City and vicinity.

According to the latest report, Mrs. J. F. Steiner, who has been seriously ill at her home in Jefferson, is improving rapidly.

It gives us much pleasure to state that Mr. L. G. Kline, who has been seriously ill for the past several weeks, is much improved.

S. L. Kline, shipped a carload of Cascara bark to New York, Tuesday. It came from Alsea and points along the line of the C. & E.

Regular Sunday service in the United Evangelical church morning and evening. Rev. L. M. Booser will preach. A cordial invitation to all.

Fred Kruse, who was compelled by sickness to return from New York, where he had gone to enter Cornell, will visit in Corvallis until Monday.

A couple of maple trees standing on the north side of the Occidental hotel have recently been pruned down to a large extent. The improvement is quite noticeable.

J. R. Scrafford and wife left yesterday for Elk City, where they will remain for a week or more. John has some stone work over there that he is obliged to complete.

A reception will be given by Alpha Rebekah lodge in their hall this evening at 8:30 o'clock, in honor of Mesdames Shaw and Smith who soon take their departure from Corvallis.

Chas. McKnight, a former popular student of the O. A. C., is visiting with friends in this city on his way home from Salem, where he has been taking an examination to be admitted to the bar. He will practice law at Marshfield.

The grand lodge of Oregon Knights of Pythias will convene in Astoria next Tuesday, for a three-day session. Robert Johnson and B. W. Johnson are delegates from the lodge in this city. They will start for Astoria, Monday.

While Oscar Doidge was taking his brother, Sam's, large 10-horse power Buffalo Pitt traction engine along the road just beyond Monroe last Tuesday, the machine pitched over a five-foot embankment, and at last accounts had not been righted.

Services at the Presbyterian church next Sabbath as follows: Sabbath school at 10 a. m.; public worship at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Preaching by the pastor. Y. P. S. C. E. at 8:30 p. m. A very kind welcome is extended to all; seats especially for students.

Dr. M. M. Davis expects to move his family out from the bay with a view to wintering in Corvallis. Just when he will make this move is not determined, as "Doc" is interested in the salmon fishing industry at Yaquina, and does not care to leave there before the close of the season.

During the week C. K. Spaulding has been moving his logging outfit from the Santiam to the Looklamute. Mr. Spaulding has discontinued operations on North Santiam for this season. Two carloads of logging outfit and a force of twenty men were brought down by the C. & E., Tuesday.

Dr. Withycombe gives as the cause of the partial failure of crop the large amount of rain which fell during the spring, and the manner in which it fell. He says that the land was packed so hard that it was impossible to receive proper nourishment, and cites the fact that the more finely pulverized the soil of the summer fallow last fall, the harder the ground was packed and the poorer the crop. There is no doubt but that it was due to some climatic influence.

Robert Lanka is once more enrolled on the books at the O. A. C. As a pencil artist he has an enviable reputation and some of his work in designing is worthy of more than ordinary mention. During the Philippine campaign he was a member of the corps of engineers of the Second Oregon Volunteers, but got no further than the Sandwich Islands, as it was decided that their services were not needed and they were held there in reserve.

Professor E. C. Hayward, who has held the chair of assistant professor of mechanical and electrical engineering at the Agricultural College for the past three years, has handed his resignation to the board of regents to take effect December 1st, of this year. At that time Prof. Hayward will leave with his family for Victoria, B. C., where it is understood he will engage in business for himself. Professor Hayward is considered one of the most efficient instructors in the college, and his loss will be greatly felt by both faculty and students.

Buggy Upset.

Last Tuesday, Clyde Trapp, employed as driver for the McMahan Stables of this city, came near having quite a serious run-away with his team at Albany. He left here with a buggy team to drive a gentleman who had been hunting birds in this section to Albany, where he was to catch the afternoon train. They reached the depot in season for the train. The gentleman in boarding the train forgot his "grip" and called to Mr. Trapp to hand it to him. In doing so the driver was of course obliged to leave his team standing. Something occurred to frighten them and they started to run away. Mr. Trapp was quite equal to the occasion, and by jumping pretty lively, succeeded in getting one of the horses by the bit. This partially stopped the team and started it turning in a circle. The Albany street car was standing near by, and on the first round the outfit missed it a few feet, and circled on. The second time around the circle was getting smaller and the street car had a closer shave, being missed by about three feet. On the third and last round the circle got so small that the momentum caused the rig to topple over. To this fact, perhaps, is due the safety of the car. Mr. Trapp stuck like a leech to his team, and although they got loose from the buggy after it upset, finally succeeded in stopping them. Everything considered, the termination of the adventure was much different than it was expected to be at one stage of the game. Little or no damage was done.

French Fruit.

Prof. E. R. Lake, of the O. A. C., writing to the Rural North-west recently, from France, contributes much information of interest on various subjects. Among other items, he mentions the fruit conditions of France, in which connection he says: This year the fruit crop of France is something marvelous. Almost over the whole country trees are breaking beneath their loads of fruit. Strange as it may seem, tons of it is rotting on the ground and hundreds of tons of it is of inferior quality. Whenever any reasonable price is paid for fruit it is all gathered and put to some use, but this year all varieties have borne so much that the people are not prepared to care for it all.

Of the new plantings four-fifths must be vines for wire and table use and of these nine-tenths are for wine. Few orchard trees are being planted, that is, relatively few. On the whole the plantings of orchards and garden fruits will each year amount to many thousands of trees, but these are in a large part to replace dead or dying trees. The acreage of trees cannot be said to be increasing, but the vineyards are steadily growing larger. When asked, "What will you do with all this wine," the Frenchman shrugs his shoulders (did you ever see a Frenchman shrug his shoulders?)—it is one of the most expressive movements and means volumes, and says, "Just drink a little more."

Large Sale of Prunes.

For some time prune-buyers have been quite numerous in this section and they have shown much activity. The prunes dried this season in this vicinity have been unusually fine, taken as a whole, and will command a good price in any market.

Henry Stone sold two carloads of prunes a few days ago to H. Cobb, who is buying for E. C. Ward, of Newberg. D. C. Rose dried a good many hundred bushels of prunes, both Italians and Petites, this year, and he disposed of his crop along with that of Mr. Stone.

Robert Johnson, manager of the Benton County Prune Company, closed a deal with Mr. Cobb, Wednesday, whereby the latter receives the entire product of the big prune orchard. Manager Johnson estimates the amount of dried fruit that he will supply Mr. Cobb at somewhere between 80,000 and 90,000 pounds. For the prunes delivered at the car Mr. Cobb pays 5 1/2 cents per pound, and he takes the fruit ungraded. In this he takes no risk, as the fruit is all first-class.

Music Lessons.

Lessons given on the piano and organ in a manner that trains the ear, mind and hands and saves years of needless drudgery. M. A. GOOSBORN.

School Apportionment.

The quarterly apportionment of school funds of the county was made last Monday by Supt. Denman. The total amount dispensed was $5,800. The following are the several amounts received by the several school districts of the county:

Victor Moses went to Kings Valley, Wednesday, to attend the wedding of Rev. Hyatt.

Wednesday was the Day of Atonement and it was generally observed by Jewish people of this city.

Will Stone, son of Manager Edwin Stone of the C & E, has gone to Eureka, California, to accept a position on Mr. Hammond's railroad.

Night officer C. B. Wells burnt some powder in quest of China pheasants, Monday, and as a result the Gazette staff has done justice to a spread of this toothsome game bird.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Toole are back from their Bohemia trip. They will return to that section next spring to live. Mr. Toole owns one of the richest claims there.

Owing to the serious ailment of Miss Luella Wagner, her parents were obliged to summon a physician a few days ago. She was found to be suffering from an enlargement of the liver.

The wedding of Mr. A. W. McDonald, of this city, and Miss Bessie Settlement, was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, near Tangent, September 26th, Rev. S. E. Memminger officiating.

New crosswalks have been laid across Madison street south from J. C. Taylor's residence and across 3rd street west from the Eglin stables. Chief Flett is placing some tiling under these walks connecting with the sewer to drain surface water.

Attorney J. K. Weatherford has returned from Richmond, Virginia, where he has been attending the supreme grand lodge I. O. O. F. Mr. Weatherford says according to reports received by the Sovereign Grand Lodge the Odd Fellows are increasing in numbers all over the United States and the organization was never so prosperous.

Dr. A. C. True, who is at the head of all the experiment stations of the United States, arrived in Corvallis yesterday on his annual tour of inspection. Last night he held a meeting with the staff of the O. A. C. station at the president's office. Dr. True will probably leave for southern points today.

Corvallis has been a little short on theatrical entertainment this fall, but Manager Groves promises some good attractions before the winter is over. Beach & Bowers' Minstrels will appear here about the 20th inst., and a strong company presenting "Sapho" is booked for the near future. Gorton's famous minstrels are also to visit Corvallis during the season.

The roll showed 353 students attending the O. A. C. yesterday. Of this number, 124 were women and 229 were men. Last year at this date 304 students were enrolled. That was the third week of school. College opened a week later this year, so at the end of the second week there are 49 more students than at the end of the third week last year.

One of the funniest items going the rounds of the democratic press, says the Eugene Register, is a purported interview with Harvey Scott of the Oregonian, in which he is quoted as saying that the outcome of the presidential election is doubtful. Not long ago a reputable resident of Eugene was in the Oregonian office and asked Scott if Bryan would be elected. In language more forcible than eloquent Scott replied, "Hell, no!"

The names of Senator John Daly of Corvallis, Principal Wilson of Portland Academy, County Supt. Lyman of Astoria, John Gavin of The Dalles, Harvey Scott of the Oregonian, Senator Daly of Lake View, President Strong of the State University, Rev. Kellogg of Portland, D. C. Latourette of Oregon City, and Prof. Hitchcock of Southern Oregon, in connection with the textbook commission.—Salem Journal.

J. H. Roberts, Neil Murry, Fred Tway, Harry and Tom Shea, Will Stone, and Clyde and Lou's Fox went to Corvallis Friday night on their bicycles, to attend a whist party, returning about 4 o'clock the next morning. The first five played with five Corvallis crack players, of whom J. M. Nolan is the leader, and carried off the honors, Harry Shea taking the first prize, while Neil Murry captured the booby prize. They played 34 hands and finished about 2 o'clock, when they were given a feast before returning home.—Democrat.

County court has been in session since Wednesday morning. At the time of going to press no matters of great importance had been passed upon. The court had not yet considered the matter of graveling roads leading from Corvallis to Philomath and Monroe. Prior to the death of Commissioner Buchanan, that gentleman had charged the improvement of the special fund on the road leading to Monroe, and upon the appointment of Commissioner Irwin supervision of the matter was placed in his hands. He is a competent and reliable man and there is no doubt but that the court will act upon his recommendation.

Sheriff Burnett was called to Albany by a telephone message from the sheriff of Linn county, about nine o'clock Thursday morning, and he left immediately by buggy for that place. The authorities in Umatilla county had wired the officers of Linn to arrest a certain party then believed to be in the latter county. The party was in Benton county, however, and it was Sheriff Burnett's duty to arrest him. Mr. Burnett had been gone but a short time, when a message came to Deputy S. L. Henderson, stating that the arrest had been made by the sheriff of Linn. It was too late to recall Sheriff Burnett, and he has his trip for nothing.

The marriage of Rev. C. A. Hyatt and Miss Mayme Winnifred occurred at the residence of the bride's parents in Kings Valley, Wednesday morning, Rev. F. A. Lark officiating. After the wedding the couple took the train at Wren station and departed for their home in Southern Oregon. Rev. Hyatt was formerly pastor of the M. E. Church, South, of this city, but has been assigned to work in this field at Coquille City, where the bride and groom have gone to make their home. Miss Winnifred was a student at the O. A. C. last year and represented that institution most creditably in oratorical work. Many friends in this section unite in wishing the newly wedded couple every blessing.
