First Farmers' Institate. The first farmmers' institute of the season under the auspices the season under the auspices of the Agricultural College was held at Stafford, Tresdas. Dr.James Withycombe and Professors Kent and Coote were the principal speakers. Prof. Ken replied to the address of welcon and spoke on "Creameries and and and Ohese Factories,", while Pro eggtable Garden. In discussing "Conmmon D seases of Herses" Dr. Withy combe stated that present time is due to errors i feeding. Some are under-fed ut more commonly the troubl duoing acute indigestion. Trea menty mechanical Wast immediately after feeding is one of the mest proific causes of the disease. The proper way to feed is to allow the horse to first have a good drink. If the animal quite warm it is not best to low him to have all he will drink. Then give him some hay and follow with grain, Exeroise during winter is con Tucive the the health of horses known as heaves is due to ove feeding, usually on bay. Clov hay is bolieved by many to productive of this disease, the reason for this belief is th clover hay is very palatable, a on the opportunity Hunt Hudre glight sprinkling is advisable gilght sprinkling is advisabie, but not to stch an extent as to nake it wet. If a horse becomes offected with heaves, feed abong and inorease the grain fee

Sawbuck to Supreme Court

In the month of July, 1858 , youth entered the store of Alex ander & McEwan in Corvallis, and enquired for work. Mr. McEwan, a good natured "Scot," kind of work he was sceking. The answer was, "I am willing o do any kind of work." sizing the applicant up (proba tramp or not) he said, "I have nothing for you to do, unles store and clean up my woodshed, cut up some wood and goods y aceepted and the young man half day to finish it up, and when he called his employer ou oinspect it, he was so we and said, "I think I can get yo nother job; come with me.
So they went across the street meat market of Maurer & Brown now stands a handsome bric blook afterwards built and now owned by this same young man Mr. McEwan said to Mr do this young man will yen a good job." "In answer ying for some time to get man to make some fence post
