As Farmers See It.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—Will you please grant us space in your paper to present the views of a number of citizens of this county relative to some proposed amendments to the game and fish laws of this state.

In the Weekly Oregonian of December 14th appears a synopsis of a bill to be presented to the legislature; and in this synopsis it is proposed to have the shooting season for Mongolian pheasants closed till 1905. Now, we as farmers protest against this, for at least Benton county. For should this become law, and be enforced, grain fields would be alive with them, and without doubt vast areas of grain would be totally destroyed by the voracious birds. We could not, neither would we endure it.

Again, it is proposed to open the shooting season fifteen or thirty days earlier; but the farmers of this locality demand that it be made fifteen or thirty days later, for the very good reason that our rush of work will then be over, so that the farmer with his boys can take a hand at the birds along with the gun clubs. Now, we might suggest to our lawmakers that what we need is a good thing. For this whole game law business is of doubtful benefit, since it breeds contempt and disrespect for the laws of our country, for both gun club men and their hired men, as well as their sons, openly violate these laws. We include in the gun club all the town and city gentry who jump in their chaises and drive throughout the country and shoot from their vehicles every bird that breaks cover, and that, too, upon the public highway, and shooting upon or from the public road in violation of the law.

Now, Mr. Editor, what are our individual rights in this matter of game beasts and birds? Where has the city and town man a right to shoot game? Certainly not on the premises of land owners, except where permission is given. Certainly not on the public highways. Well, then, where? On the public domain, along and upon meandered streams, lakes and upon alien lands, and as above stated where John Farmer and Widow Smiles give permission. The farmer on his own premises, at least. Now, if the law indirectly forces the farmer to raise birds so plentiful as to overflow the fields, and go out into the mountains and hills, and beside the lakes and rivers and keep up a never-failing supply upon the Widow Smiles farm, the nimrods of town and city must therewith be content.

A word about fish. It is further proposed to not allow any salmon trout taken with line and hook during January, February and March. Now, would it not be better to close all markets to that fish than that which will result in self repeated law breaking, for the people will take them during these months for their own table, law or no law. And, by the way we will ask fish wardens or Mr. Reed if saw dust is hurtful to fish, and if so, why are saw mill men allowed to dump the dust from their mills into our streams. Into the beautiful waters of the Alsea three saw mills dump their dust. That stream once teeming with fish, from some cause is fast becoming depopulated of its finny tribes, and Marya River, once alive with the best of fish is no longer attractive to the angler. Dams and sawdust have done the work.

Southern California. Notable among the pleasures afforded by the Shasta Route is the winter trip to Southern California and Arizona. Recreational acquaintance with this section will ever develop fresh points of interest and added industries, in its prolific vegetation and among its numberless resorts of mountain, shore, valley and plain. The two daily Shasta trains from Portland to California have been recently equipped with the most approved pattern of standard and tourist sleeping cars, but the low rates of fare will still continue in effect. Illustrated guides to the winter resorts of California and Arizona may be had on application to C. H. MARKHAM, G. P. A., Portland, Oregon.
