Miss Edith Howard left Wednesday for Capitola, California, as a delegate from O A C to the national convention of the Y W C A.

Mrs. B. L. Eddy, of Tillamook, has been visiting Corvallis friends the past week. Mrs Eddy was formerly Miss Laura Applewhite.

Mesdames Lewis Wilson, W. A. Wells, G. A. Covell and Jas. Withycombe were the guests Tuesday of Mrs S. I. Pratt, of Philomath.

Berry's Bros. bicycle and general repair shop was opened to the public Tuesday, in the room one door north of the Western Union office.

The usual services will be held at the Congregational church tomorrow. Members and friends are invited to attend the Saturday evening meeting at 7:30.

At their home Tuesday evening, a party was given by Dr. and Mrs Farra in honor of Miss Louise Cooper, of Portland. The event was enjoyed by a large number of young people.

Surveyor George Mercer, of Beaver Creek, was in Corvallis Tuesday, enroute to Soap Creek where he was to survey the John Smith farm in order to settle some difficulty over a boundary line.

From January 1 to April 1, according to Head Consul Northcutt's report, the solicitors for the Modern Woodmen society secured 21,517 new members and organized 449 new local camps or lodges.

In honor of Mrs Eddy, Mrs John Smith gave an "afternoon" Monday to a dozen lady friends. The rooms were beautifully decorated with May flower and roses, and dainty refreshments were served.

Mrs J. K. Weatherford, of Albany, accompanied by Mrs Hardman, visited the Rebekah lodge Monday evening. Mrs Weatherford is Grand President of the order, and during the evening made a very pleasing address.

Will Edger expects to leave Corvallis in a few days for Portland, where he will have employment as a painter. He will work for the same contractors that R. A. Bowman is painting for. Later on Mr. Edger expects to go to Eastern Oregon.

A letter from them to Corvallis friends announces that the Greffozs are comfortably located in their new home in Portland, that they are pleased with the change, although they miss the familiar faces of old friends, and that they have met numerous Corvallis acquaintances in the metropolis.

After having ordered rations for his men through a local grocer, and making all other arrangements, Major Frank Edwards has been obliged to abandon the cadet encampment. Information received Tuesday from Vancouver, was to the effect that the necessary number of tents could not be secured. Therefore, the O A C boys will be spared the ordeal of three days' camp duty at Cardwell hill.

NOLAN & CALLAHAN.

Mr Madole and family, recent arrivals from the East, returned Wednesday from a fishing expedition to Alsea.

Tuesday, Ben Martin began the erection of a dwelling house on the McElroy prune orchard, west of Corvallis.

Mrs. George Mercer returned Wednesday to her home at Beaver Creek, after a brief visit with Corvallis friends.

Fred Overlander returned, Monday, from a two-weeks' sojourn in the the Big Elk section. He reports good trout fishing in the Big Elk river.

The subject for Ella M. Humbert's sermon at 11 a. m. next Lord's Day is, "The Urgent Life;" at 8 p. m., "The Church." You will be welcome.

The steamer Ruth was put into service, Wednesday, between this city and Portland in place of the Modoc. She will most likely continue on this run until the close of the season.

Miss Belle Ranney, former partner in the millinery establishment of Fullington & Ranney, was in Corvallis Tuesday, removing her household effects to her home south of town, where she will spend the summer.

A few "commemorative series of 1901" postage stamps have made their arrival in this city on letters to private parties. The two-centers are very neat and represent the fast express, an express train at full speed being depicted.

William Corbett made preparations to begin operations in his brick and tile yard yesterday. At present he intends running but one crew, which will consist of seven men. It is presumed that the rain will cause a delay of a few days.

Tuesday, Mayor Crawford received an invitation to attend, as Mayor of Corvallis, the dedication ceremonies that will formally open the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo. The invitation is very neat in appearance and is nicely worded.

There will be an open session of the grange, a week from tomorrow, May 25th, at 2 o'clock p. m., at the college chapel. The general topic of discussion will be "Horticultural Notes." Profs. Knisely, Cordley and Coote will take part. Everybody invited to attend this meeting.

Conrad Sandstrom, the baker at H. W. Hall's establishment, who was obliged to leave hurriedly last week for Portland to be at the bedside of his wife, arrived back in Corvallis, Tuesday. Mr Sandstrom states that his wife recovered sufficiently from her illness to warrant his return to his business.

Work was commenced, Tuesday, on a new walk at the O A C campus. This walk will begin near the mechanical hall and take a southerly course, connecting with the main walk leading down town. The new walk will be built on a curve, and is to be covered with gravel, well rolled and packed. When completed, it will be a great improvement.

Allen Wilson, former partner and miller at the Benton County Mills, now in charge of the flouring mill at Turner, Marion county, left for home Tuesday, after a brief business trip to Corvallis. Mrs Wilson accompanied her husband as far as Jefferson. She is not enjoying the best of health, although nothing serious is apprehended.

Numerous Corvallisites are looking forward with interest to the picnic at Riddet's grove, near Wells, a week from tomorrow. The attendance promises to be very large, and a delightful time is assured to those who enjoy a day in the woods. A grand ball, given by the Artisans in their new hall at Wells, will be the concluding feature of the day.

At the meeting of the city council Monday night, the matter being placed in Mayor Crawford's hands to act upon, the following delegation was selected to represent Corvallis at the reception of President McKinley, in Portland, May 22nd: Hon. John D. Daly, Judge E. Woodward, S N Wilkins, M S Woodcock, H W Hall, Dr. E H Taylor, B W Johnson, J R Smith, R E Gibson and George L Paul.

Harry Beard, son of J. J. Beard, of Tangent, recently returned from Manila, having served as principal musician in the 35th Vol. Inf. during the campaign in the Philippines. He has been the guest of Corvallis friends during the week. He brought many curios home with him, among other things, a piece of Aguinaldo's Mason chart, some specimens of needle work on raw silk, so finely wrought that it might readily be mistaken for a painting. He also brought some very large and beautiful translucent shells, such as are used by the Filipinos in lieu of window glass.

Saved Pussy's Life.

A delicate surgical operation, which terminated successfully, was performed on a cat by G. Cathey and a fellow student about three weeks ago. Pussy had been ill for several weeks. Her case refused to yield to allopathic doses of kind treatment, and no amount of caressing improved her condition. A consultation was held, and it was decided to try surgery where medicine had failed. Farewells were made by earthly friends and cholroform was applied to pussy's nose. When unconsciousness came she was placed on the operating table, and the knife was put in play. An incision was made in the abdominal cavity and it was discovered that a hard substance had formed in the descending colon. How to remove this, gave the surgeons pause. An opening in the intestines is made only in a case of life and death. Pussy's condition was desperate. The step must be taken. A slight incision was made, the foreign substance removed, and the wound carefully stitched up. The outer wall was closed and sewed, and the operators waited anxiously to see which would pass away, pussy or the effects of the anesthetic. Happily it was the latter. The erstwhile invalid has now taken a new lease on her nine lives, and surgery has again triumphed over medicine.

Strictly Confidential.

It is evident from a letter received this week by Miles Young, of this city, that counterfeiters still flourish. Miles received a letter "in strictest confidence" that was mailed May 8th in New York City. The writer grew very confidential and told of quickly acquired fortunes, lack of risk, and his honorable and business-like dealing. The counterfeiter seemed to take a positive pride in his work, and declared his goods to be far above "the inferior article of Italian make." He states that his goods are made from genuine plates. He is very particular about whom he unbosoms his confidence too, and would not have written Miles had he not felt assured that he was a man of honor and would not betray him. The confidential gentleman was very desirous that no letters be addressed him and stated positively that in case a written communication reached him it would be returned to the postoffice and forwarded to the sender, possibly opened. All communication was to be made by telegraph, and the following message transmitted would indicate that Miles was willing to enter into the scheme: "Mr. G. E. Howard, Pratt's Junction, Mass. Mr. Emil still lives at 993, same street."

After the telegram has been received it will then be necessary to arrange a face-to-face meeting between the counterfeiter and Miles. Above all is emphasized the fact that the recipient of the communication must not attempt any betrayal and great stress is laid upon the implicit confidence reposed in Mr. Young.

Died.

Mrs. Mary Emerick, nee Maupin, wife of George G. Emerick, died in Salem, Monday, May 13, 1901, aged about 60 years.

She was born in Missouri in 1841, and crossed the plains to Oregon in 1847. In 1854 she married George G. Emerick. For 35 years she was a sufferer and required the closest care and attention. This was given her by him who loved her in the early days and who was faithful to the end.

The remains were brought up from Salem, Tuesday, and were interred in the Emerick cemetery, a couple of miles west of Philomath. Rev. F. A. Lark, of this city, conducted the funeral services.

Alsea Items.

Mr. Orange Ruble, one of Alsea's prosperous mill owners, recently became the father of handsome twins. For a time he was boastful of the fact that they were the "only ones," but lately Orange's pride has taken a fall, as numerous little strangers have appeared at different homes in Alsea. Linn Headrick can also boast of being the father of twins. Marion Hayden says, "I have a bran new boy," and he really looks happy when he says this. The families of G. Sebrell, F. Fullerton, Sam Warfield, and others too numerous to mention have become the happy owners of babies. Orange looks disgusted now and has come to the conclusion that he is not the "only toad in the puddle."

Miss Grace Tom celebrated her 18th birthday last Monday with a candy pulling party at her home in Upper Alsea. Quite a number of friends were present and an enjoyable time passed. Miss Grace received many nice presents. As she is of age now Dave had better look out.

They have a new school teacher at the South school house. He is from Corvallis and reported to be one of the best. Don't be rash, girls, they say he is a married man.

Ely Hammersley is stopping a few days in Alsea, en route to Lake creek, where he has work. Don't stay long, Ely.

Mrs. Childs is no better and it is hoped that the county judge will do something soon toward having her sent to the hospital where she can have good care, for her many friends are anxious to see her about again.

TROT.

McKinley is Not Coming.

"Owing to the serious illness of Mrs. McKinley, the president has abandoned his trip to Oregon, and will return direct to Washington. He desires that his regrets be expressed."

This is the message to Oregon from President McKinley, now in San Francisco, which blights the hopes of all citizens of the state, who were anxiously waiting the opportunity to cordially welcome the nation's chief executive.

Mrs. McKinley's condition is most serious. She has taken nothing but liquid refreshment for several days, and is unconscious much of the time. The latest message states that there ss no abandonment of the hope that she will rally. Anxiety for the speedy recovery of the sweet lady of the white house overshadows our disappointment in having to forego the pleasure of meeting her and her devoted husband.

Will of E. B. McElroy.

The last will and testament of the late Prof. E. B. McElroy was filed for record in the county clerk's office Tuesday. It is dated June 12, 1900, and provides for distribution of property as follows: One-third of all property to his wife, Agnes C. McElroy, the other two-thirds to his children, Willis, Lucian G. John C., Agnes Alicia and Lillian, share and share alike. W. S. McFadden, B. J. Hawthorne and Agnes C. McElroy are named as executors without bonds. The estate is valued at $12,625 and include 550 acres of land in Benton county and other valuable property

Clause 7 reads: "It is my special desire that each and all of my said children shall attain to an honorable and worthy manhood and womanhood in society, and to that end I do, in this my last will and testament, enjoin on each and all of them to live honorable and worthy lives, and to treat each other with kindness and consideration."—Register

Demand for Normal Graduates.

The State Normal School at Monmouth reports that the demand for its graduates during the past year has been much beyond the supply. Graduation from this school practically assures a place worth from $40 to $75 per month. The students take the state examinations during the regular course and are easily able to pass on all subjects required for state papers before graduation. The school has a well-equipped training department consisting of a nine grade town school and of a typical country school.

"I had a running sore on my breast for over a year," says Henry R. Richards, of Willseyville, N. Y., "and tried a great many remedies, but got no relief until I used Banner Salve. After using one-half box, I was perfectly cured. I cannot recommend it too highly." Graham & Wortham.

Johnson Porter has placed an order for a bill of lumber to be used in the erection of a new barn on his farm north of town.

A farmers' institute is being held at Monroe today under the auspices of the O. A. C. An especially strong program has been prepared.

While romping with playmates last Monday afternoon, the eight-year-old son of Chas. Wheeler had the misfortune to fall and break his left forearm. Dr. Farra reduced the fracture, and the little patient is getting along nicely.

There is going to be a greater demand during 1901 for pure bred Angora bucks says the Northwest Farmer. The demand is coming mainly from the middle west and south but scattering orders will be booked from as far east as Maine, thence along the northern tier of states to Minnesota. If breeders who have first-class stock will use good common sense and not get wild, they can cause the industry to trebel in 12 months' time.

At its regular meeting Monday night, the council instructed the sewer committee to ascertain where lateral sewers were desired by property owners, and report at a special meeting of the council to be held Saturday night. The chief of police was ordered to notify property owners to repair sidewalks. The alley in the Spangler block was ordered opened. Bills were allowed, amounting to $370 on the general, and $16.45 on the street fund.

City election occurs next Monday. Thus far little interest has been manifested in the result, although the various candidates have been doing much quiet work. But one candidate has appeared for the office of treasurer. Asa Alexander and Capt. Robinson aspire to the position of chief of police with honors about even. The three-cornered race for police judge has been simpified by the withdrawal of Miles Starr, announcement of which appears elsewhere in this paper. Judge Greffoz and Attorney Bryson will enter the contest on even terms.

The closing exercises of the 1901 graduating class of the public school occur at the opera house on the evening of June 6th. The valedictorian is Mary Nolan; the salutatorian, Kate Daniels. The class flower is the marguerite, which will be used extensively for decorative purposes. The class color is cardinal, and the motto is, "Wisdom is better than rubies." The graduates are: Mary Nolan, Kate Daniels, Addie Bray, Alice Jones, Sopha Elgin, Lulu Newhouse, Hazel Raber, Edna Osburn, Leona Webber, Georgia Herbert, Percy Finley, Claude Swan and Theodore Garrow.

To Whom It May Concern.

For Chief of Police.

I respectfully announce myself as a candidate for the office of chief of Police, subject to the will of the voters at the coming city election. If elected, I pledge myself to faithfully enforce all city ordinances without fear or favor.

A. B. ALEXANDER.

For Chief of Police.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for chief of police, subject to the decision of the voters at the coming city election. If elected, I promise to discharge the duties of the office, enforce the city laws of the council, promptly, efficiently and impartially.

Respectfully,
GEO. A. ROBINSON.

You will waste time if you undertake to cure indigestion or dyspepsia by starving yourself. That only makes it worse when you do eat heartily. You always need plenty of good food properly digested. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the result of years of scientific research for something that would digest not only some elements of food but every kind. And it is the one remedy that will do it. —Graham & Wells.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mother and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to cleanse out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Get Green's Prize Almanac.—Graham & Wortham.
