Some of the handsomest college souvenir dishes ever seen in Corvallis, are on display at Zierolf's. The ware is most exquisitely wrought and fine colored views in relief of the main buildings of the Agricultural college, are given.

The confederated conductors' excursion, which has come to be an annual affair in Oregon, is set for June 9th this year. The excursion is to be from various points in the state to Salem, where great preparations will be made to entertain the excursionists.

From the vicinity of Hillsboro comes the complaint that there is a small grub working on the roots of hop vines, with the effect of eventually killing the vines. It appears that new vines are escaping the havoc wrought by these worms and only old vines are molested.

Mrs. Lyman G. Goodell and family wish us to express for them their appreciation of the many acts of kindness on the part of neighbors during the recent illness and demise of Lyman G. Goodell. They tender their heartfelt thanks in acknowledgment of these deeds of kindness, sympathy and consolation.

At 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, Corvallis Grange will hold an open session in the assembly room of the Agricultural college. A very interesting program will be given and topics of interest will be freely discussed. The subject of "Fruit Culture" will be handled by Prof. George Coote; "Apple Pests," Prof. A. B. Cordley; "The Composition of Water" (illustrated), Prof. A. L. Kniesly. It is hoped that a good attendance will greet this session of the grange, and it is desired that everyone will understand that he is cordially invited to be present.

Miss Adelaide Greffox, for the past three years bookkeeper in the store of A. Hodes, left Tuesday for Portland, to join her mother and Miss Rosalie in their new home. Many Corvallis friends regret the departure of this estimable family.

A meeting of the Corvallis bicycle Club is called by the president, E. R. Lake, for Monday evening, May 27th, at eight o'clock at the court house. Important matters are to be acted upon, and it is urged that all bicyclists in the city, whether members of the club or not, attend said meeting.

Henry Reis and wife, who have been at Bandon, Oregon for some time, recently arrived in Corvallis and have been the guests of Mr and Mrs Lee Henkle and family, who are relatives. They are now out at Dusty visiting with Mr. Reis' parents. In the course of a week Mr. Reis will go to Portland, from which place he will start on the road for a wholesale house. His route will take him through Idaho and that section of country. An interesting item in connection with their journey to this city is the fact that before leaving Bandon, Mr. and Mrs. Reis shipped two trunks and a box to Corvallis in Lee Henkle's name. Their effects did not arrive at the time they should, and it later developed that they were held in Portland with a quite a bill against them and that either a trunk or the box was broken. This matter has been satisfactorily straightened out.

MONDAY'S ELECTION.

Our Citizen's Refuse to Be Divided on the Question of Enforcement of Laws.

The result of Monday's election seems to give general satisfaction; and, with all the candidates good and law abiding citizens, it would seem that the result could not be other than satisfactory. While there were two tickets in the field, they presented exactly the same list of candidates with the exception of one councilman in each ward. Each ticket declared for "Law and Order," more in jest than in earnest apparently, for the people of this community are a unit for good laws and their enforcement, and in no city in the state is there less reason for a moral crusade. The very fact that all the candidates in Monday's election were reputable business men is evidence of this.

That visitors to our city are impressed with the purity of our moral atmosphere, it is only necessary to repeat the words of Col. Holt, the noted evangelist who conducted a series of revival meetings at the M. E. church last December. In conversation with the GAZETTE man, Col. Holt said: "No town in the state of Oregon has had more unjust calumny heaped upon it than has Corvallis. From the reputation of your city, gained abroad, I expected to find a little hell on earth here. Imagine my surprise, when I learned from personal experience that the moral atmosphere of this community was exceptionally pure."

That there is room for improvement in our social conditions no one will deny, but any attempt to organize a crusade or make an issue of something which does not exist is bound to terminate in a farce. That is why everyone was in the best of humor Monday, and all have been laughing ever since.

"Improve the morals of the individual, and the morals of the community will take care of themselves," is the axiom of the practical reformer.

The churches of Corvallis, the agricultural college, the various literary and religious societies, and the fraternal orders, each in its proper sphere, are exerting an influence which gradually but surely is making this the cleanest and most desirable residence city in Oregon. It is to the credit of the entire community that there is no talk of a movement to counteract this influence. When there is such a movement it will be time to put up a "Law and Order" ticket.

The result of the election Monday is as follows:

Mayor, M. S. Woodcock, no opposition, 372 votes.
Councilman—1st ward, D. C. Rose, 64; J. B. Irvine, 60; 2nd ward, Wm. Cress, 68; Geo. W. Smith 59; 3rd ward, A. Hodes, 66; D. M. Smith, 59.
Police Judge—E. P. Greffox, 250; E. R. Bryson, 133.
Chief of Police—Asa Alexander, 200; G. A. Robinson, 175.
Treasurer—Wm. McLagan, no opposition, 380.

Three Weddings.

One of the prettiest weddings seen in Corvallis in a long time occurred at the home of Mrs Ruth N. Clark at 10:30 Tuesday. The bride was Miss Jennie Clark, and the groom, Clean Winslow, of Newberg.

The parlor was beautifully decorated with cut flowers, ferns and snowballs, the predominating colors being pink and white, and under a large arch of ivy, from which was suspended a bell of calla lilies, the ceremony was performed by Rev. P. S. Knight.

The bride wore an elegant costume of white silk organdy, trimmed with lace, ribbon and rhinestone ornaments, and carried a bouquet of roses tied with white satin ribbon. The traveling suit was pearl gray cloth. The wedding march was rendered by Miss Hettie Lilly. After the usual congratulations, an elaborate wedding dinner was served. Many handsome presents were received from relatives and friends. Because of a recent death in the family, the wedding was a very quiet affair, only the immediate relatives of the interested parties, being present.

At 1:15, amid showers of rice and old shoes, Mr and Mrs Winslow started by carriage for Salem, where they will visit relatives for a few days. They will be at home to friends after June 15th, in their future home at Newberg. The bride is one of Corvallis' loveliest girls, respected and esteemed by all. The groom is a graduate of O A C and a young man of sterling worth. He is engaged in the jewelry business at Newberg.

The best wishes of a multitude of friends are extended.

The home of Mrs. Sarah Cauthorn was the scene of a pleasant social event, Wednesday. The occasion was the marriage of Miss Frankie Cauthorn of Corvallis, and Archie McIntyre of Athena, Eastern Oregon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. A. Lark at 11 a. m., in the presence of the family and a few intimate friends. There was a profusion of roses tastily arranged about the rooms, and after congratulations had been offered, the merry company partook of a sumptuous wedding lunch. The bride's gown was of white swiss, with real orange blossoms from California, and she carried a bouquet of white roses. The wedding march was by Miss Carrie Danneman. Many handsome presents were received, consisting principally of silverware.

At 1:20 Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre left for Portland, where they will spend a few days before proceeding to their new home.

Mrs. McIntyre graduated from O A C with the class of '99. She is one of Benton's fairest daughters, and a host of friends wish her a happy future. The groom is a former O A C student, and an enterprising rancher of near Athena, where the home of the young couple is to be. The GAZETTE joins in hearty congratulations.

There was a quiet wedding at the M. E. parsonage Wednesday evening. The interested parties were William J. Moore and Miss Lottie Mitchell. The ceremony was performed at eight o'clock by Rev. Frank L. Moore, only a few relatives and intimate friends being present. The bride was attired in a becoming costume of gray. The newly wedded pair will reside in Corvallis and numerous friends wish them a pleasant journey through life.

Team Runs Away.

Rube Kiger's team got away from him early yesterday morning and took a little spin. Mr. Kiger was hauling some old bridge lumber home from a point near the Fischer flouring mill and just as he was going up a slight rise of ground the double-trees broke. This let the team, which is quite spirited, bolt ahead, and sooner than take the risk of being pulled off the wagon Mr. Kiger let go the reins, but not before his hands were somewhat skinned and blistered. The wagon ran back down the decline and the team came on to town at a lively gait. They ran down First street and by the time they had arrived at the planing mill had slackened speed considerably. George Kisor, who was at work in the rear end of the brick livery stable, chanced to see the horses and by running cross-lots caught them. The whole affair terminated in a very lucky manner—nobody was seriously injured, not even a horse, and the extent of the damage can be remedied with $2.50.

Struck a Cable.

Tuesday, while assisting to bring a raft of logs down the river from near Harrisburg to the Corvallis Sawmill, William Beckwith had a narrow escape from what might have caused death. Everything went well with the rafting party until they reached the Stalbusch place, a few miles above this city, where it seems there was a cable stretched across the river, so low that it caught on the corner of the raft. The raft of logs, moving as it was, tightened the cable until the tension was very great, when it suddenly freed itself, and whether Mr. Beckwith was struck by the rebounding cable or in the shock lost his balance and fell, is not known. At any rate he fell down on the raft and was rendered unconscious for quite awhile. For a time much anxiety was experienced regarding his recovery. However, he was about as usual the next day and felt none the worse for his mishap.

The New Staff.

At a joint meeting Tuesday afternoon, in Prof. Horner's room at O A C, in which the different societies were represented, officers were elected to take charge of the college "Barometer" during its publication next year. The following selections were made: James Zurcher, editor-in-chief; Miss Edith Howard, business manager, and Miss Elizabeth St. German, secretary. The editorial staff was also elected and consists of two members from each of the eight societies, making sixteen in all. The duties of the staff will be individually assigned next week. Chas. H. Horner, the present editor-in-chief, presided over the meeting with fairness to all candidates, and there is no doubt but Mr. Zurcher will prove a worthy successor of Mr. Horner. Miss Howard is the present associate editor of the Barometer and there is no fear entertained as to her fitness for the position of business manager.

Through some mistake the GAZETTE said in the last issue that the Union picnic at Dusty would be held June 18th. It should have given June 1st as the date.

Owing to the fact that the District Conference of the M. E. church South, is in session this week at Tangent, there will be no preaching at their church in this city on Sunday, Rev. Lark being in attendance at conference.

Miss Bessie Chipman passed the 12th milestone in her journey of life Saturday. The event was celebrated with a party, about a dozen little friends of the youthful hostess being present. Ice cream and cake were closing features of the afternoon.

At the conclusion of the Christian Endeavor convention held in Salem recently, representing the various organizations of this nature in the state, Rev. G. S. O. Humbert, pastor of the Christian church of this city, was elected first vice-president of this association for the ensuing year.

The picnic season is not to be ignored this year, judging from the number now scheduled to take place. Besides those announced at Beaver Creek, Wells and Dusty, another is to be given at Herron's grove, south of Monroe, a week from tomorrow. Numerous Corvallisites expect to attend.

Julius Joseph, one of Albany's pioneer residents, died in that city Monday night. He was a veteran of the Civil War and a member of the G. A. R. of Albany. For many years he had been manufacturing cigars. He was respected by all, and at the time of his death had reached the age of 64 years.

A fine new lathe was received by Berry Brothers yesterday for use in their repair shop. This firm is now prepared to do all classes of repairing in the most workmanlike manner. Their shop is on Main street, just south of J. H. Harris' store. Their customers are assured courteous treatment, and satisfactory work is guaranteed.

Wallis Nash, who, for several years, has been leading a sort of patriarchal life on his extensive stock ranch in the Coast Range, near the line of the Corvallis & Eastern Railway, is in Portland, says the Oregonian. Four of his sons have gone into the world and are successfully making their way, and now his remaining son, who, it was supposed would succeed him in the patriarch business, has decided to take a university course and try his luck in the busy haunts of man. Mr. Nash has no idea of remaining alone among his herds of cattle, and as dairy farming is taking the lead now, and his extensive ranch and more extensive range are admirably adapted to this business, he has advertised his place for sale, and intends to locate in Portland.

BANNER SALVE

the most healing salve in the world.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mother and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to cleanse out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Get Green's Prize Almanac.—Graham & Wortham.
