Little Veva Wells has been seriously ill for the past week with kidney trouble. Mrs. Jane Michael, mother of Mrs. Fruit, is very ill at her home on Third street.

William Hare, formerly of this city, is dangerously ill with mumps at his home in Albany. Among departing students homeward bound Friday, were Ivan Brown and Edgar Tully.

Mrs. S. A. Cooper and her son left Wednesday for a visit with relatives in Eastern Oregon. Misses Mabel Davis and Edna Groves have been the guests of Eugene friends since Thursday.

Our men's and boys' clothing stock is the largest we ever owned; correct styles. Nolan & Callahan. Miss Gertie Barclay returned to her home at Irish Bend, Friday, after a visit with friends in this city.

Lewis Burnaugh, the well known student and athlete, left Thursday for his home at Elgin, Union county. S. B. Bane is slowly recovering from a severe attack of rheumatism that has for sometime confined him to his home.

Fred Colvig left for Portland a few days ago with a view to accepting a position with a large drug firm there. Mrs. Hattie Hovendon, formerly Miss Hanna and well known here, was the guest several days last week of Mrs. John H. Simpson.

Miss Maud Weldon, who arrived several months ago from California and has since been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Bane, left Friday for Portland, to remain. Prof. J. B. Horner left last Friday to visit the Eastern Oregon towns in the interest of the Newport Summer School, and as he passes along he will drop a few good words for O A C. The trip will be made by rail and wheel and will last about three weeks.

Ernest Redd, who graduated from O A C this year, left for his home in Carlton, Saturday. This fall he expects to attend an Eastern college. No student who ever attended college in this city made more sincere friends here during his stay than did Ernest Redd, and we wish him well wherever he may drift and in whatever course of life he may conclude to engage.

The death of Capt. N. P. Stevens occurred last Thursday morning at the home of his nephew, Austin Rosebrooks, of Toledo. Capt. Stevens was at one time a resident of Corvallis and was quite well known here. His early life was spent on a sailing vessel at the early age of eighteen years. When death overtook him he was in his 83rd year.

Students in college do not, as a class, take to the study of agriculture. California graduated but one student from this course. Secretary Wilson, on his recent visit, said that the government could give employment to several and has had to import help from other states to do government work. Oregon makes a better showing than this and as compared with other states makes a good showing. It is a line of work that pays.—Oregon City Enterprise.

To judge from the following one is forced to admit that the "oil boom" is still somewhat in evidence. The Yaquina Bay News says: A company has been formed at Toledo and last week incorporated under the state laws. The incorporators were understood are B. F. Jones, O. O. Krogstad, A. O. Krogstad, of Toledo, and Mr. Edwin Stone of Albany. The object of the company is to bore for oil in this county and large tract of land has been bonded above Toledo.

For fine dress goods, silks and velvets go to Nolan & Callahan. Go to Young's Cash Store for all kinds of fancy flower baskets. Attorney W. E. Yates was called to Portland, Saturday, on legal business.

Prof. J. B. Horner went to Portland, Friday, to attend some matters of business. John Harris, of Wells, is engaged in operating the new rock crusher. Work began yesterday afternoon.

Attorney C. E. Woodson went to Eugene, Saturday, to attend the commencement exercises at the state university. He is a graduate of that institution. Amy Cameron, mother and sister, who were recently burned out, are now occupying the Skipton house just vacated by Prof. McDonald and family.

The first Benton county raised pass and new potatoes appeared on the market this year, June 5th. How many readers will remember the date next year? James McOatland left yesterday for Wilbur, Wash., to enter the general merchandising establishment of his brother. He expects to reside there permanently.

Many Corvallisites attended the school picnic at Croft's grove, in Linn county, Friday. There were numerous features of interest and the day was greatly enjoyed by all. A fire is reported by telephone to have occurred in Monmouth, Sunday afternoon. The postoffice, a store, and a couple of dwelling houses are said to have been destroyed.

Corvallisites will miss the arc light that has been shining so brightly at the top of the O A C administration building. It will be seen no more until college opens next fall. Mrs. Frank Hall leaves tomorrow for her home at Guy, Washington, after a three week's visit with relatives. Miss Lulu Young will accompany her sister home and remain for an extended visit.

There are whispers afloat concerning a wedding which it is said will take place in this city before many moons. According to report, the bride will hail from Corvallis and the groom from Yamhill county. Last Friday was "war" day at the college farm. By 10 o'clock Dr. Withycombe had removed eight or ten of the pestiferous things from horses brought in by owners. A kind of stump puller on an abridged scale is used in the removal.

J. H. Wilson is having the burned portions of his late residence, that was so nearly consumed by fire a few days ago, removed preparatory to rebuilding. When he gets it all removed there will not be much left but the foundation. A very pleasant affair was the picnic given by Mr. and Mrs. Guy Laws and Mrs. Laws, Thursday. It occurred just across the Willamette, and about thirty guests enjoyed the event. In the evening a delicious luncheon was served.

Silo work is in full blast at the college farm. Green clover is being run through the machine and stored away in the silo bins for future use. The new cutter run by steam is a decided improvement on the old tread mill arrangement previously in use at the farm.

Rev. F. L. Moore chaperoned a party of young people to Lebanon last Friday evening, but did not get them home until 3 o'clock Saturday morning. The occasion of the affair was to hear Rev. Morgan, the evangelist preach. He is now holding revival services at Lebanon.

J. B. Patterson, physical instructor at O A C, and George Chatter, who expect to leave about the end of the week for Southern Oregon. If satisfactory arrangements can be made they will do some tramping in Roseburg. The gentlemen expect to spend a couple of weeks in Canas valley.

Saturday at 2:30 p. m. at the United Evangelical parsonage occurred the wedding of Mr. Arthur Price, of Kings Valley, and Miss Lorena Franz, of Hoskins. Rev. L. M. Booser officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Price left for Albany in the evening for a brief visit. They will make their home in Kings Valley where a host of friends wish them happiness and success in life.

Mr. Thomas, buyer for the Union Meat Company of Portland, was in Corvallis last week in the interest of his company. Saturday he shipped two carloads of cattle to the metropolis. They were purchased of Smith & Hout and were in prime condition. The price paid was 44 cents. The deal was made some time ago and the price set. The top price in this city at present is about 4 cents per pound on foot.

J. A. Gwinn, formerly chief engineer on the government tugboat, Mathoma, is now the engineer on the Leona, a new boat that is operated by the Oregon City Transportation Co. The Leona is operated between Oregon City and Portland and makes four round trips a day. Mr. and Mrs. Gwinn are both well known in this city, having at one time made Corvallis their home. They now reside in Oregon City.

Confessed His Guilt.

L. Filly night the store and postoffice at D. was robbed. The store is owned by Arthur Perin and he is also the postmaster. It was found, Saturday morning, that about $38 worth of stamps, as well as some bicycle fixtures and other things had been taken during the night. Suspicion pointed to Wayne Starr but no move was taken towards informing the authorities here in town until about three o'clock in the afternoon, when Sheriff Burnett received a telephone message telling him of the robbery. The sheriff and Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Bryson at once began to investigate the matter, and it was learned that Wayne Starr had crossed the ferry about one o'clock in the afternoon, presumably enroute for his home in Soda-ville.

Sheriff Burnett telephoned to all parts of Linn county to the various officials to apprehend Starr, but could get no satisfaction. However, late Saturday night the sheriff received a communication from Deputy Sheriff McHargue, of Albany, informing him that Starr had been located at the home of his father, in Soda-ville, and that if Sheriff Burnett desired he, McHargue, would go after him. Accordingly it was agreed that he should arrest Starr. This he did about 3 a. m. Sunday.

Sunday forenoon Mr. Burnett and Mr. Bryson went over to Albany after Starr. When arrested he had objected to having his trunk searched, and Deputy McHargue, having no warrant, was helpless to proceed in that direction although he secured several items that would greatly assist the prosecution. The authorities of Linn turned Starr over to the Benton authorities who proceeded to weave a net about him which bewildered him greatly.

At first Starr, who is a young fellow about 22 years of age, stated that he had started for Philomath in response to a telephone message from his wife, and had gone by way of Dusty. He told that it was late when he got there and he slept in a barn, that he had arrived in Philomath about daybreak Saturday morning. When the officials confronted him with the perforated margins of a lot of stamp sheets and asked him to account for them, he said that he had recently been to Eugene and when there had purchased $6 worth of stamps. He was asked if he was acquainted with anyone in that place and replied in the affirmative. Asked if he met any acquaintances, he replied that he but, could not for the life of him remember who they were. He was shown a bunch of his keys and asked which one he used to open the store door at Dusty. He stated that he did not unlock the door, because he found it ajar.

Finally he broke down and confessed the whole affair and Deputy Bryson got a statement in writing from him. He was brought over Sunday evening, from Albany. John Hall, disinterested United States prosecuting attorney, of Portland, will arrive by train today and take Starr to Portland, it being a United States offense. Should Mr. Hall fail to act in the case, which is not likely, the case will be tried in this county.

Licensed to Wed.

Some people claim to judge the prosperity of a country by its marriage roll. If such a method of reckoning were in vogue here at the present time old Benton would "loom up." Since June 17th the following people have been granted licenses to wed by Clerk Waiters: Frank Kamph, of Tangent, and Miss Eva Goodman, of Dusty. George R. Hall, Jr., of Dusty, and Miss Elvira M. Waggoner, of Montrose. Philipp Schweizer and Miss Helena Henkendorf, both of Philomath.

W. M. Yoder and Julia M. Skeels, both of Fairmount. Arthur Price, of Kings Valley, and Miss Lorena Franz, of Hoskins. In most, if not all instances, the marriages of the above-mentioned parties have taken place.

Albany Picnic.

A large number of people went to Albany, Sunday, to attend the picnic. They report an immense crowd. There were three excursion trains from Portland, run by the employes of the various transfer companies of that city. It is estimated that fully 2000 people visited Albany on this occasion from Portland and way points. There was also a train over the C. & E., along the eastern division to Albany. The main attraction of the day was a ball game between Albany and a team from Portland. The game was quite closely contested and was not decided until the ninth inning when Albany scored. At the end of the eighth inning the score was 10 to 10. The final score was 11 to 10, in favor of Albany. Taken altogether the pioneers and excursionists were very orderly. A few fights are reported, but there was nothing very serious about any of these fisticuffs.

Any town fortunate enough to have a crowd of this nature and size call on her to be congratulated, for it goes without saying that Albany is several thousand dollars better off today than she was before they called.

Additional Local.

The thermometer was well up in the 80's Sunday. Mrs. A. B. Cordley returned home from Portland, Saturday. Big bargains in broken lines of boys' and children's suits at Nolan & Callahan's. Mrs. H. W. Hall and son returned home, yesterday, from a week's visit in Portland.

Prof. Skelton arrived home from Portland, yesterday, in company with his little son. He took the child down to have his tonsils, which had been enlarged, removed. The operation occurred last Friday.

Attention of our readers is called to the sensational prices in tailor suits and shirt waists offered in the advertisement of S. L. Kline, on this page. Here are inducements which should not be overlooked.

Miles M. Miller, long years ago local on the Salem Statesman, who made himself a name by his parody on Casabianca, published in that paper, spent last week with his wife and children visiting relatives in this city. He is now located at Colton, Wash., and occupies the position of cashier of the bank in that burg.

"Why not spend the vacation at Yaquina bay, where can be had excellent fare, good fishing, good boating, safe bathing, alluring rides and rambles. The courses and exercises at the Summer school, of 1901, at Newport, will afford great variety of instructions, diversion and entertainment. No other resort offers equal attractions and advantages."

Dolph Erfurt was taken to the asylum yesterday by Sheriff Burnett. He was adjudged insane that morning by Judge Woodward and Dr. Farra acting as examining physician. Dolph is a good boy, and has exhibited violent symptoms only recently. It is hoped that his condition will so improve that he may soon be released.

Mrs. W. H. Wallace died at her home in Junction City last week, of lung fever. She was buried Thursday, at Dusty. The details regarding the death are meager, but she was the wife of Rev. Wallace, who is one of the promoters of the proposed railway line between Corvallis and Junction City. At the time of Mrs. Wallace's death her daughter was in a very critical condition, also having lung fever. Mrs. Wallace is said to have been a very refined and intellectual lady and was about 87 years of age at her death.

Corvallis merchants are now offering 13 1/2 cents per pound for wool, an increase of 1/2 cent per pound over the price paid last week. The farmer who permits the Independence papers to "jolly" him into hauling his wool to that city in the belief that he can get a cent more a pound for it there, is foolish, that's all. The West Side says that merchants of independence are paying only 13 cents for wool.
