You can celebrate the glorious 4th of July in style if you buy your outfit from Nolan & Callahan. Mr. and Mrs. Bicknell, of near this city, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Bicknell, of Fair Oaks, Southern Oregon.

The Presbyterian parsonage is being thoroughly overhauled, repainted and re-papered with a view to renting the property. Wild blackberries made their first appearance in the Corvallis market, Tuesday, June 25th. Who will remember this date next year?

Mrs. Herten, of this city, mother of Miss Addie Herten, has been quite ill during the past week, but her condition is improved at present. Attorney E. R. Bryson drove over to Albany, Wednesday afternoon, to meet his wife, who has been visiting Eugene relatives, and bring her home.

Ernest Redd arrived yesterday from his home in Carlton to play with the band tomorrow noon on the arrival of the River and Harbors committee. Miss Beattie Irvine leaves today for Brownsville, where she will visit her brother, Douglas, and also prove up on a timber claim she has near that place.

Rev. L. Myron Boezer will preach in the United Evangelical church Sunday morning and evening. Practical gospel themes will be presented. All are invited. Norris P. Newton made this office a call during the past few days. He is certain that those who attend the Fourth of July celebration at Philomath will have a most enjoyable time.

Tom Manteth, who formerly held a position in the establishment of F. L. Miller, this city, has accepted a situation with an Eastern house and will be a traveling salesman for the same. Miss Nettie McCullough, of Portland, arrived in this city, Sunday, and is the guest of the family of Cal Thrasher. She will remain here for a week or longer. This city was at one time Miss McCullough's home.

I. R. Daniel will play tuba with the Harrisburg band at Albany on the Fourth. Charley Barnhart and Victor Moses are to play with the Philomath band boys on this occasion, playing tuba and baritone respectively. Corvallis will be visited next Tuesday by a company of cavalry from Vancouver barracks. They are to go into camp on the flat just above town. The advance man of the company was in Corvallis, last Saturday, making arrangements for the company during its brief sojourn in this vicinity.

H. A. Soogin left yesterday for his home near Brownsville, to remain during his father's absence in Eastern Oregon. There will be preaching in the M. E. church, South next Sunday at the hours of 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. A cordial welcome to all.

Richard Evans, of Waldport, is in the city as a delegate from Lincoln county to the meeting of Western Oregon farmers held here yesterday. S. Chipman, of this city, has been elected vice-commander of the G. A. R. of Oregon by the 20th annual encampment of that organization now in session at Forest Grove.

Rev. Farrier left, Tuesday, for Seattle, after a short visit with relatives in this city. His son, Warren, will remain here for three weeks, the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Altman. Fred N. Stump, of Suver, a graduate of this year's class, O A C, was in town, Wednesday. All who attended the performance of "A Modern Ananias," given by the seniors a few weeks ago, will remember him for his clever work in the role of Dashwood.

Paul Dodels is erecting a fine country residence on his farm near Wells. The building is now well started and Mr. Dodels deemed it wise to place an insurance on it. Accordingly Cal Thrasher went down Tuesday and insured it for $1,400. It is to cost $2,200.

Ed. Dunn, who is now traveling salesman for Fleishner, Meir & Co., of Portland, was in Corvallis for an hour or two, Wednesday, while on his way to the bay. He will pass through this city again tomorrow en route to Portland. Mr. Dunn's business territory is mostly in the Spokane region.

It is sincerely hoped that our citizens will clean up the streets and alleys and have everything looking like a new dollar on the arrival of the River and Harbor committee tomorrow noon. There is an abundance of rubbish of various description, as well as weeds, that should be cleaned up anyway.

Geo. Cathey, son of Dr. B. A. Cathey, of Corvallis, is in the city visiting relatives, having come up on his bicycle, riding from Corvallis to Oakland, 95 miles in one day. He was accompanied by Prof. J. B. Patterson, of the Oregon Agricultural College, who is now visiting friends in Camas valley.—Roeburg Review.

A letter from Dr. Jas. A. Harper, now in Chicago, to the GAZETTE, states that Dr. Harper has taken unto himself a partner for life. He is taking a special course in dentistry at the Northwestern university, of which institution he is a graduate. Together with Mrs. Harper, he will leave for Corvallis about the first week in July.

A letter received by relatives in this city bears the intelligence that Glen Gillette and Frank Thrasher are both employed at present in a hay field near Pendleton. They are getting $1.50 per day. They state that everything in the neighborhood of Walla Walla is overdone, and employment is hard to find, owing to the fact that people have been encouraged to go there in numbers beyond reason.

Sheriff Burnett received a telephone message, Wednesday forenoon, from Frank Durbin, of Salem, who is sheriff of Marion county, telling him of a horse theft. It appears that Tuesday night a span of horses were stolen at Salem and the party made good his escape. With the animals taken were two halters and a bridle. Which way the party headed is not known, so it may be well for everybody to be on the watch. The description of the animals is as follows: Two bay horses, geldings, matched team, weight about 1,150 pounds each, one nine years old and the other ten, white stars on their foreheads, shod all around. After standing awhile one of the horses will be lame in the left hind leg.

Bargains in all summer goods at Nolan & Callahan's. Geo. W. Wicks, THE dairyman of Marion county, is in the city.

T. L. Davidson, ex judge of Marion county, visited Corvallis this week. Mrs. Espey and daughter, Miss Kate Daniel, arrived home from Independence, yesterday. Sol M. Stook arrived in Corvallis yesterday and renewed his acquaintance with old-time friends.

Frank Conover and family, formerly of this city, are now residents of Butte, Montana. Mothers, go to Young's Cash Store for children's ready-made waists. A new line just arrived. Mrs. E. H. Taylor and son, Zach, arrived home, Wednesday, from a visit of some duration at Pataha, Wash.

For draperies, lace curtains, portieres, lounge covers, bagdads, table linens, towels and napkins, Nolan & Callahan. Miss Lena McCormick and mother moved into one of the Kiger cottages, just north of the school house, last Wednesday. Ex-Senator A. J. Johnson, of Seio, now bank inspector, paid the First National of this city a business visit Wednesday.

Mrs. Agnes Thompson offers for sale up to July 1st the furniture, stoves, etc., at her residence, corner Fifth and Jefferson streets, Corvallis. Bruce Burnett now holds a position with Wells Fargo & Co's. Express. He is a messenger for the company and has headquarters at Portland. He makes the run between Corvallis and the metropolis, with occasional runs over the East Side.

The Woodmen will hold a meeting tonight and it is hoped that there will be a large attendance. Two initiations are scheduled for this meeting. There will be Woodmen present from Dunst on this occasion and a good lively time is assured. Yesterday there was a man and his wife in town in a buggy. Each carried a child in arms. They drove a team with a colt at each side. A cow was led behind with a calf at her side. One spoke.—Eugene Register.

Colonel Emmett Callahan, who has just returned to Baker City from an extended visit East, states that the Oregon exhibit in the mineral department at the Pan-American Exposition, is conceded to be the best of its kind from any state in the union.

Hugh Herron of Irish Bend, while in town a few days ago rented one of the Hufford houses for the occupancy of his daughters, who will attend the O A C on the opening of that institution next fall. The house rented is just north of the John Osburn residence.

People are beginning to cast their eyes about for a fitting place to spend their summer vacation. Many will go to the coast, others will visit the various springs, and a large number will tie themselves to the mountains. Of the latter, Aleson will undoubtedly get a large majority.

We predict that W. E. Yates will soon be heard by the general public in 'cello solos. He has purchased a 'cello for himself with a view to establishing a little musical circle in his own family, and the idea is commendable. He purchased the instrument of I. R. Daniel, who immediately telegraphed Sherman Clay & Co., of San Francisco, to send him another high-class 'cello. Mr. Daniel's instrument is expected to arrive in this city today or tomorrow.

According to I. R. Hicks, who is gaining renown for his weather forecasts, it is doubtful, indeed, if the weather will be favorable for the various Fourth of July celebrations and picnics. Mr. Hicks states that his forecast of the western coast is that the weather will be stormy from the 1st to the 6th of July, with the storm center about the 3rd. He states that the storm will be at its worst from the 3rd to the 6th. We hope that for once in his career the gentleman is mistaken.

Mr. Henry French informs us that contributions of small fruits for the Benton county exhibit have been made by Mesdames H. M. Fleming, O. M. Smith, L. V. Flint, F. O. Wilcox, Dunham, and R. W. Taylor. Mr. Dunham has contributed some specimens of wheat and oats 6 feet, 5 inches in height, while some fine specimens of rye and vetches 7 feet in length were brought in by Thos. Bouldon. Mr. Bouldon expects to raise a crop of corn yet this year on the land upon which these grasses were grown. E. J. Harrington is credited with some remarkable vetches, 8 feet 5 inches in length. T. C. Baker is preparing a complete exhibit of early specimens of grass and fodder plants grown in his section of the county. He already has about 175 excellent samples.

REPRESENTATIVE FARMERS.

Over One Hundred of Them Visit the College and Corvallis.

The members of the Rivers and Harbors committee will have to put forward their best foot if they hope to make a more favorable impression on this community than the distinguished-looking farmers of the counties of Western Oregon, now visiting Corvallis and the college. Taking time by the forelock a number of these gentlemen reached this city in advance of the time set for their arrival—12 o'clock yesterday. Of the 125 or 130 members now here, all but 30 or 40 arrived on Wednesday's trains. These and the citizens league were at the depots to welcome yesterday's arrivals.

After dinner the excursionists were escorted to the college where they were shown the farm and buildings of that institution. An interesting feature of the informal program of the afternoon was the filling of a large silo with clover from the college farm. Steam was gotten up and the various machines were put in operation in the large iron and wood-working shops. Last night C. L. Smith, of Minnesota delivered an address at the college chapel. Besides the delegates many farmers from this vicinity, who came in to take advantage of the opportunity offered to gather new ideas by contact with those from abroad, were present at the lecture. The college quartet rendered several delightful numbers at this meeting.

After the address the visitors were invited to a banquet at the city hall by the citizens league. A large number attended. The Corvallis orchestra furnished music for the occasion. The benefit to the farmers of the Willamette valley which will result from this visit of these men, prominent in the various fields of agriculture, will be considerable. The knowledge gained by them concerning methods used at the college and the general workings of that institution will be largely disseminated. Then, too, Corvallis and the college will receive many benefits indirectly from this visit in the time to come.

The Salem Statesman of yesterday contains the following item, which reminds us that one must go away from home to learn the news:

"In this city at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Alexander, on 12th street, Yew Park, June 26, 1901, Mr. J. W. Foster and Miss Lora C. Alexander were married.

"The ceremony was performed in the presence of a few invited guests, and Rev. John Parsons, D. D., pastor of the First M. E. church officiated. Mr. Foster is a prosperous young business man of Corvallis, and his bride is an accomplished young woman who recently moved to Salem. The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and after the ceremony a delicious lunch was served. Mr. and Mrs. Foster left on the afternoon train yesterday for Seattle and Victoria, and they will return in about two weeks. They will make their home in Corvallis."

The GAZETTE endorses the kind words of the Statesman and extends congratulations.

Our Distinguished Guests.

Corvallis is to be the recipient of an unusual honor tomorrow. The Rivers and Harbors committee of the house of representatives will be our guests. With the committee are Congressman Tongue and a number of distinguished gentlemen of Portland and Astoria. The party numbers in all about 75 persons. They arrive by special train at 12:30 p. m., over the S. P. from Portland. The train will stop at the crossing on Madison street, where the party will be met by the band and the Citizens' League, acting as a reception committee, and escorted to the city hall. Here they will partake of a substantial dinner, provided by the league and served by the ladies of the Coffee Club. There will be no speeches or formal program. After dinner the party will be escorted to the C. & E. depot where they will take the train for Albany at 1:15. At Salem they will board a river steamer and proceed to Portland.

Parties wishing to locate on government land will do well to consult F. KUCKEN, Aleson, Or.

Manager Groves has arranged with Wiedemann's Big Show for a week's engagement, opening on Monday, July 1st, presenting the four act comedy, "Down in Egypt," a play written by Tom Wiedemann. It is a story of Southern Illinois, a portion of which is known as "Egypt." The plot is on the same lines as "In Old Kentucky" and the cast is made up of clever people in their respective lines. Between acts six strong vaudeville features are introduced including Nellie Wiedemann, the electric dancer; Chas. Barrington, the human orchestra and animal imitator; the Mullally Sisters in a unique singing and dancing act; Petite Zella Marie the child artist and Miss Clare Confield the superb contralto vocalist. The solo orchestra is a feature that will please lovers of high-class music. The prices are 10, 20 and 30 cents. The sale of seats opens on Friday.

Additional Local.

Eggs are 13 cents per dozen in Albany. Who's the farmer's friend.

"Bull Breeches," strongest working pants made. No rips. Nolan & Callahan.

A. M. LaFollette, of Marion county, attended the farmers' convention here yesterday. Mr. LaFollette prepared the exhibit which took the state prize last year.

Putnam Fadeless Dye, Turkey Red, is the fastest and brightest Red Dye stuff known, very desirable for carpets, mittens, stockings, etc. 10c. per package. Sold by Graham & Wells.

Geo. E. Fish and wife, who have made McMinnville their home since last November, left yesterday afternoon for Bay City, Michigan, to reside permanently. They will spend a week at the Buffalo exposition.—Telephone-Register.

B. F. Grant, of Harlan, was in the city Wednesday. Mr. Grant has been a resident of Lincoln county for 30 years. He has great faith in the future of that county. The farmers of that section are turning their attention more and more to raising cattle, sheep and goats. In Mr. Grant's neighborhood alone there are 800 sheep and 200 or 300 goats. Years ago it was impossible to raise these animals on account of the depredations of bear and cougar, but these beasts of prey give little trouble now.

At a regular meeting of Oregon Council No. 2, A. F. & A. M., of Corvallis, Wednesday evening, the Royal Master and Select Master degrees were conferred upon W. E. Yates, S. L. Kline, J. B. Irvine and G. M. Vanderpool. Visiting members from Albany Council present, were D. P. Mason, J. P. Galbraith, Clay Marshall, B. D. Seeley and others. After the degrees were conferred, all partook of a sumptuous spread in the banquet hall, where were furnished those present all the "Good things of life."

In the case of G. F. Luckey, administrator, against Lincoln county, brought for $5,000 damages, resulting from the death of the mother of the plaintiff on account of bridge of defendant falling in, after a partial trial in the circuit court at Albany the complaint was withdrawn and the privilege of bringing a new trial was granted. This suit is under the new law holding counties responsible for damages on account of defective bridges, and even with a law covering the case it is being found difficult to bring an action in a manner that will enable the case to reach the jury.
