

AN ADMONITION.

It is altogether probable that Mr. Mitchell will oppose the re-election of Senator Simon, for he doubtless feels that there are other men who would be more subservient to him than Mr. Simon has been, or is likely to become. It would appear that Mr. Mitchell is ambitious to be the senior senator from Oregon. His long service in the senate entitles him to recognition as not only the older but the better senator. This is quite natural. But there are those who believe that this laudable ambition is likely to become meanly envious and bitterly jealous. Many people believe that this spirit possessed Senator Mitchell and influenced him to oppose the re-election of the late Senator Dolph.

While Mr. Mitchell will not openly oppose Senator Simon, it would be wholly in keeping with the methods large numbers of republicans impute to him, if he should use all his influence to defeat Mr. Simon's re-election. Indeed, it is rather expected by his personal following that Mr. Mitchell will name the next U. S. senator, and that it will not be Mr. Simon. The unanimity and positiveness with which democrats assert this might give rise to the suspicion that we have not yet seen all the influences which brought Mr. Mitchell democratic support last winter. It may involve his support of a democrat to succeed Mr. Simon. However improbable this may appear it is not beyond the range of possibilities. Mr. Mitchell's influence may be able to thwart Simon's re-election, but unless he carries his support over to a democrat, he will not name Mr. Simon's successor. Senator Simon will, if unable to encompass his own re-election, have more than a little to say who shall succeed him. He will be succeeded, if he must be, by a republican; of this democrats may be assured. He will be such a republican as Mr. Mitchell cannot dominate; of this "the Mitchell push" may be advised.

The jealousy and little personal ambitions of Mr. Mitchell, nor of anyone else, for that matter, will not be permitted to muddle the work of the next legislature. Mr. Simon has been a leader "a boss" if you will in the politics of Multnomah county and the state for quite twenty years, but never in all that period has he resorted to such disreputable and despicable measures as characterized the course of the opposition to Mr. Corbett last winter. The truth is that all through his political life he has been remarkably free from any just charge of supreme selfishness. Many republicans believe that he should at once force Mr. Mitchell's hand, so that his opposition, if opposition it is to be, will be driven from covert into the open. It is pointed out that Mr. Mitchell has control of the federal patronage, and has controlled it for four years. It is argued that Mr. Simon should now demand control of this. The administration will, in all probability need Mr. Simon next session of congress and might be willing to turn the federal patronage over to him, especially since Mr. Mitchell will not again need its usufruct for four or five years.

If Mr. Simon thinks this should be done he has the nerve to demand it. It is a safe guess, however, that Mr. Mitchell will not willingly let go, especially if he is determined to oppose Mr. Simon.

The simple purpose of the GAZETTE at this time is to warn all concerned that the republicans of the state will not suffer the party to be brought under public reproach through the overweening ambition of any man. They have had enough of this.

A Benton Trip.

The Homestead "hustler," made a trip through the northern part of Benton county last week and the following extracts are clipped from his notes: Mr. Harding is the vet man of Benton county, and last year threshed 450 bushels at 3 cents per pound. This farm also has a large dairy herd, all of the milk being taken to the Corvallis creamery. We turned west at or near Granger and make a halt for dinner at the farm of W. A. Beal, who by the way, is an old settler of this neighborhood, and a prosperous farmer. The Wiles farm was next on our route, and is located at the foothills before ascending the stock farms near. On this place is some good stock. The next stop made was at the ranch of J. H. Moore, new comer to Oregon, but a warm friend of farm papers and good stockmen. Mr. Moore has a beautiful two-year old Norman stallion, recently imported from the state of Illinois, and a colt that the people of Benton will hear more of before many years elapse.

At the home of S. H. Moore, a son of the above gentleman, was our next halt, and here we spent the night with one of the most pleasant gentlemen who lives in this valley. Mr. Moore is a new comer, and is widely known as the man who owns the "mule-footed" hogs, or hogs without a cloven foot. We saw some of these animals and can truthfully state that they have a solid hoof. Mr. Moore owns 900 acres and has a fine herd of cattle and lots of sheep and horses to eat up the bountiful crop of grass that grows on this place. A few of his cattle died last fall from eating smut hay, but at present everything on the Moore ranch is healthy.

T. C. Baker is the last man on the creek before you strike the high mountains, and while here the hustler was shown some fine Angora goats, a lot of Shropshire and Cotswold sheep, an Aberdeen bull and a great number of fine cattle. Mr. Baker also owns the noted White Sulphur spring, located 1 1/2 miles from his residence, and was making preparations to move up to the spring while we were there, and the family will conduct a restaurant during the summer months.

Corvallis Won.

The consensus of opinion of Corvallisites who spent the 4th away from home, is that the most enjoyable time was found at Philomath. The big grove west of town was filled with humanity, and the cool shade made witnessing the program a pleasure.

The sawing contest was most exciting. Philomath won in 65 seconds. Dusty evened matters by walking away with the tug-of-war event. The most interesting feature of the program was the clay pigeon match. Three teams were entered, Philomath, Dusty and Corvallis, and so close was the contest that the last shot won the event.

The teams and individual scores follow: Dusty team:— Ed Starr, 4 3 3 2—12. C R Barclay, 3 4 3 3—13. F Porter, 3 1 0 1—5. Fred Henton, 3 2 2 3—10. E Bennett, 3 1 5 2—11. Total score, 51.

Philomath team:— Ed Bryan, 3 5 5 2—15. N M Allen, 4 5 4 2—15. E Bethers, 1 2 2 2—7. Guy Frink, 3 2 3 3—11. W H Newton, 3 5 3 4—15. Total score, 63.

Corvallis team:— Frank Lilly, 3 2 5 5—15. Robert Huston, 4 1 3 2—10. Thos Callahan, 1 4 2 2—9. Grant Elgin, 3 4 3 4—14. Alex Rennie, 4 4 4 4—16. Total score, 64.

Philomath is not yet convinced that Corvallis has the better team, and a challenge has been issued to the Corvallis club, which has been accepted, to try conclusions again next Saturday. Each team will be strengthened by an additional marksman, Telt Burnett being chosen by the home club, and Frank Williams by the challengers. The contest will take place on the flat south of this city.

A Bunco Girl.

A live business was done across the river last week by a young girl, who undoubtedly has an accomplice, in the sale of silverware, says the Albany Democrat.

This was the way she did it: Dressed rather poorly, she told of having just arrived with her parents from the East, getting here without any money, and as it was necessary for them to have some to live, she wished to borrow a little on some silverware, which she had with her and presented for inspection. Her folks needed $6 badly, and this would be returned in a few days, as soon as they could hear from the East. Five different men are known to have given her the $6 and taken the silverware as security. How many others invested is not known. The silverware is, of course, cheap, so that Question Answered. Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mother and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to cleanse out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. Get Green's Prize Almanac.—Graham & Wortham.

You will waste time if you undertake to cure indigestion or dyspepsia by starving yourself. That only makes it worse when you do eat heartily. You always need plenty of good food properly digested. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the result of years of scientific research for something that would digest not only some elements of food but every kind. And it is the one remedy that will do it.—Graham & Wells.

"I had a running sore on my breast for over a year," says Henry K. Richards, of Wilkesville, N. Y., "and tried a great many remedies, but got no relief until I used Banner Salve. After using one-half box, I was perfectly cured. I cannot recommend it too highly." Graham & Wortham.

A bad complexion generally results from inactive liver and bowels. In all such cases, DeWitt's Little Early Risers produce gratifying results. Graham & Wells.
