B. W. Wilson was among the Corvallisites who went to the seashore last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kerr and son, Meit, went over to the coast, Saturday, for a few days' outing.

Mrs. Minnie Lee was a passenger to the coast Saturday. She intends remaining a couple of weeks.

John Benson, now of Portland, was in Corvallis during the past few days, looking over the scene of his old "stamping grounds."

Mrs. Sherman Wade arrived in Corvallis, Saturday, from her home in Olex, Or. She will visit with relatives for a couple of weeks.

Miss Agnes Klecker, of Portland, who visited in this city last week, left yesterday for the coast, where she will remain for a week or so.

Misses Leona Smith, Martha Fischer, Edna Irvine and Mabel Withycombe, departed for the coast, Saturday. They will be guests at the Withycombe cottage at Newport for a week or longer.

Miss Ethel Woodbridge, of Portland, arrived in this city last week for a visit with her cousins, Mrs. A. V. Fullington and Miss Alice Horton. She will remain for two or three weeks.

There is talk in certain quarters of Lincoln county of making Hon. Wallis Nash the next judge of that county. If such should come to pass Mr. Nash will be a credit to his county and he is thoroughly capable in every way.

H. V. Meade, of Grant's Pass, arrived in Corvallis, Thursday, for a brief visit with his sister, Mrs. V. E. Watters. Mr. Meade is connected with the Mining Journal published in Grants Pass. He departed for his home, Friday.

Mrs. S. H. Horton, of Monroe, was visiting this city during the latter part of last week. On her return home she was accompanied by Mrs. A. V. Fullington and Miss Ethel Woodbury, who will remain in the county for a week or longer.

Mart Spangler, of San Francisco, has written his father, J. A. Spangler, of this city, that in case his branch of the labor union in San Francisco is ordered to join in the strike at that city he will embrace the opportunity to make a short visit home.

Albany people who heard the lecture of Wallis Nash at Newport on the subject of music compliment it highly. Among other things Mr. Nash gave a golden truth in the statement that when members of church sing for the glory of the church and not for their own glory there will be no trouble in having harmonious choirs.—Democrat.

On the 11th of last April Mrs. Clara O. Ascher was committed to the asylum from this county. The superintendent of the asylum discharged the patient August 6th and informed the authorities here that she was greatly improved and was out on three months leave of absence to determine if her cure was lasting.

A letter received in this city a few days ago stated that John Osburn's health had been wonderfully benefited since he went to Southern Oregon. He recently spent three weeks at Tolmann Springs and took vapor baths. He is now in splendid condition and is enjoying very good health for a man who is 73 years of age. He contemplates a trip East this fall and may spend the winter with his sister who lives in Pennsylvania. Mr. Osburn is staying with his daughter, Mrs. J. J. Houck, at Gold Hill. Dave Osburn is also down there and likes the country very much, so much, in fact, that he may remain in that section.

W. A. Sanders, THE watchmaker.

Mrs. O. B. Conner and children are visiting at the coast.

Frank and Eibert Strog leave for the coast, today.

Harry Waldon, formerly of this city, passed through Corvallis, Saturday.

Mrs. Frank Bowersox, nee Lilly Kerr, of Salem, went to Newport, Saturday.

Miss Lotta Rose returned home, Friday, from a year's absence in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Strong go to Newport today for an outing of a couple of weeks.

O. J. Blackledge and family returned Saturday from their outing near Grass Mountain.

P. M. Zierolf is having a new coat of cement placed on the concrete walk in front of his grocery.

Miss Ivy Burton, salutatorian of the class of '01, of O A C, was a C & E. passenger to the coast, Saturday.

Clem Hodas has a display of rare coins in the show window of his father's grocery. One German silver piece bears date of 1781.

John Berry is visiting at the home of his sister in Fossil, Or. A recent letter from him states that his health is slightly improved.

The wedding of Miss Carrie Lyford, formerly of this city, now occupying the chair of Household Economy in the state agricultural college at Lansing, Mich., and a professor in that institution is to occur shortly.

Invitations are out for the wedding of Mr. Sherwood Hopkins Adams, of San Francisco, and Miss Esther Van Tyle Avery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Avery, of this city, at the Episcopal church in Corvallis, September 4th, 1901.

A. J. Hale, recently of South Dakota, paid this office a visit last Thursday. Since leaving Dakota, Mr. Hale spent some time in California, principally in the Santa Clara valley. He considers Oregon a more desirable state to live in.

M. Ek, formerly of Silverton, is now owner and proprietor of the Corvallis Ice works, the deed was transferred Saturday. Mr. Ek is a practical cabinet maker of many years of experience. It is his intention to build an addition to the ice factory to be used as a cabinet shop and he will occupy his time this winter with that kind of work.

Last Saturday Major Bruce left at this office three cuttings of alfalfa, taken off the same piece of ground this season on his farm south of this city. These specimens will form part of Benton county's exhibit at the state fair. As we stated in a former issue, Mr. Bruce raises the finest alfalfa in this section of the state.

Sheriff W. W. Withers, of Lane county, passed through Corvallis, Sunday, with a horse which was stolen about the middle of July from a farmer in his county. The culprit was arrested in Douglas county some time ago, but the animal was recovered from a party near Independence who had a bill of sale for it signed by George Arnold, an alias.

Next Monday, Raymond Henkle expects to leave for San Francisco. It is his intention to take a post-graduate course in pharmacy at the affiliated college of Berkeley. The affiliated college bearing the name of Berkeley is situated in San Francisco and this is the first year of its establishment. Raymond will be a member of its first post-graduate class. The course will take nine months for completion.

Saturday was a busy day at the college farm. The little threshing machine was in use harvesting the various kinds of grain that have been raised this year for experimental purposes. In the forenoon a small section of log chain was run through the machine. This caused internal trouble and it didn't turn out the best in the world. However, the delay caused was only of short duration.

John Pyat was the victim of quite a serious accident, Friday afternoon. He was employed with the Joseph Hunter threshing machine, driving a bundle wagon. While unloading it at the machine, something passed through the cylinder that made an unusual noise and frightened the team, and they took to their heels. Mr. Pyat was thrown from the wagon and quite a gash cut in his head. At the time of the accident the machine was at work on the Whiteside place near Philomath. Mr. Pyat recently came here from the vicinity of Scio.

Reader Bros' outfit thrashed a 100-acre field of wheat in the Abraham neighborhood last week that yielded an average of 37 1/2 bushels to the acre. An 18-horse power compound engine drives the machine, and there are 23 men in the crew. They are threshing 2,000 bushels per day. In the field above mentioned three settings were made, the time lost between each setting being only 14 minutes. The grain was very clean and there was practically no waste. Nearly all the grain in that neighborhood is fall wheat. The farmers are well pleased with the yield and the quality is No. 1.

Miss Agnes Klecker went to Newport yesterday.

J. M. Nolan came home from the coast yesterday.

Mrs. U. G. Barry, of Peoria, is visiting in this city.

Prof. J. B. Horner made a flying trip out from the coast yesterday.

Recorder Elgin returned, Monday, from his fishing trip up on the Santiam.

Mrs. Jas. Jacobs and daughters returned from an extended visit in Portland, Monday.

Mordant Goodnough expects to leave for Grant Pass on a business trip the last of the week.

The theatrical season in Corvallis is to be opened in September with the grand old play "East Lynn."

Chas. Small and wife returned yesterday from a month's outing at Newport much improved in health.

Misses Kate Gerhard and Miss Yete Wald rode over from Albany Sunday afternoon. They returned home yesterday morning.

Two carloads of decayed granite arrived last week for use on the new walks at the college and it is now being spread and rolled.

B. E. Kennedy, business manager of the Pendleton Tribune, passed through Corvallis, yesterday, with his family en route for the coast.

Hallie Wilkins returned home, yesterday morning, from a three-week's visit at the Spencer farm in Lane county. He reports fine crops in that section.

If farmers, who have grasses or grains of any description which they wish to send to the Portland fair, will leave these specimens at the S. P. depot they will be shipped free of charge.

Gov. Geer and wife, ex-speaker of the house of representatives, Hon. Geo. H. Williams and Frank Davey all passed through Corvallis, yesterday, en route from Newport to their homes.

After a pleasant visit in Corvallis with the family of his son Mr. Thos. Miller leaves with his wife for his home at Clearfield, Iowa, today. Mr. Miller is highly pleased with Oregon, and the many friends he and his wife have made in Corvallis hope that they may return and make their home with us.

On account of being somewhat intoxicated and raising a disturbance on the streets, Thursday, evening, Ed Lasky was given a light sentence to serve out in the basement of the city hall. This did not suit the gentleman and he started in to demolish the general appearance of his environments. He succeeded so well that Saturday morning he was given an additional sentence of 20 days and shipped to the county jail, pending repairs on the city "jug."

"That was one of the most instructive and logical lectures ever given in the state" was the utterance of a visitor at the close of Mr. Nash's lecture last evening. Mr. Nash who is president of the Willamette Valley Choral Union is preparing the way for the great musical event of 1902; and his address on music as a culture study at the Auditorium last evening was his first public utterance on the subject. There will be no less than 1500 people at the May festival at Corvallis, and the indications are that the finest musical talent of Oregon will be secured for the occasion. Mr. Nash deserves every possible encouragement in this great enterprise, and a cultured public will respond.—Yaquina Bay News.

County Court.

On Wednesday, August 7th, the regular monthly meeting of the county court for Benton county was held. Court held during Wednesday and Thursday, and was adjourned until next Thursday, August 15th, at which time matters relating to bridges will be discussed. The usual monthly bills were audited.

In the matter of the State of Oregon vs. R. O. Loggan the fees of the justice of the peace, sheriff, witnesses, jurors, etc., were ordered paid.

In the matter of bridges at Grange Hall and Race near J. M. Currier's, the repairing and general overhauling was placed in the hands of Commissioner Irwin to have the same put in such condition as in his judgment was proper.

In the matter of Jas. Bruce, who petitioned for a rebate of taxes paid in excess of what they should in justice have been, his claim was found to be just and Clerk Watters was authorized and directed to draw an order in favor of said Jas. Bruce for the sum of $11.26.

In the matter of certain land sold by the sheriff of Benton county, for claimed delinquent taxes, and sold by sheriff to Edward Walden on the 5th day of September 1891, it was found that said Edward Walden was entitled to the sum of $163.21.

The coroner's report of the inquisition on the body of Reese P. Beery, who fell from the ferry boat at Corvallis a short time ago and was drowned, was found to be correct and all the items of the farmers are making money in butter and cheese, and makes the following statements: Butter having sold for about 17 cents a pound all summer, shows a good, healthy tone in the market generally, although at times it has been a trifle lagging. At this figure it is said creamery and dairy men can make money "by the barrelful," as one commission man remarked today. While he may be a little off on the barrel proposition, it is generally contended that farmers producing butter at 17 cents a pound do much better than on wheat at an average price. The demand, too, for Oregon butter has been and continues very good throughout the North and East, and an average of 24,000 pounds are handled weekly through Portland. This speaks volumes in favor of diversified farming, a subject now being given considerable attention by farmers in the Willamette valley. Cheese is also a commodity meeting with ready demand and manufacturers are pleased with the outlook.

From Wells.

Mounted on his cayuse, Claude Lee came down from Junction City, Thursday, to officiate as "strawbuck" for a local threshing outfit.

Miss Maud Buchanan is the guest, for a week or two, of relatives in Bucua Vista.

Zella Dodele is rapidly recovering from her recent serious illness.

A finer apple crop is rarely to be seen than that of this season. The trees are so heavily loaded with fruit that the boughs bend under the weight.

Miss Mattie J. Lee, who will teach the seventh grade of the Corvallis public school this year, returned Friday from an extended visit with relatives at Winlock, Washington.

The Wilson-Hall-Beal thresher began threshing on the Jack Hall farm, Thursday. The grain is first-class and the yield very good. Some annoyance was caused by the cook-wagon breaking down; but dinner was served in time by the ladies in charge, and no further trouble occurred.

Not of least importance among crops in this locality is the China pheasant. Probably at no time have these tempting birds been more plentiful, and farmers will be obliged to post trespass notices on every fence during the open season if they secure a just share of the pheasants which they have furnished grain to fatten. City sportsmen should watch for these notices, and save themselves trouble.

A thunder shower, Wednesday morning, caused considerable uneasiness among farmers in this locality. The rainfall was of brief duration, however, and the present weather is ideal for threshing.

Oregon Blankets for Indians.

Chief Johnson, the most prominent Indian in Alaska, and a ruler over 7,000 of his tribesmen, made his annual visit to Salem yesterday to buy his winter stock of blankets and woolen goods at the Salem woolen mills. Chief Johnson is a merchant and operates large stores at Juneau and Dyea, and supplies the smaller Indian chiefs with the goods they require. His purchase yesterday was principally blankets. He left by the afternoon train for Portland, going thence to Seattle, and expects to sail for home in a few days. He is an interesting figure and wields a great influence among the Southeast Alaskan Indians, where he is looked up to as a leading judge.—Statesman.
