LOCAL NEWS.

Miss Hattie Gillette went to Newport Wednesday.

Tuesday J. D. Mann returned from his outing at the coast.

Father Jerek left Tuesday for a couple of weeks' absence on business.

Prof. J. B. Patterson intends making a trip to Southern Oregon next week.

W. O. Heckart and workmen are now engaged on the construction of the pine dryer at the college.

Harry L. Walden left a few days ago for Eureka, Humboldt Co., Calif., the headquarter of his company.

Mrs. Dixie Haggy and daughter, of Solo, are visiting in this city, the guests of T. W. Dilley and family.

Dr. Bowen Lester, who is at the coast, recently wrote a friend that his health was improving and he is getting fat quite rapidly.

Patrons of the Magnolia laundry leaving their laundry at C. A. Gerhard's on Wednesdays can have it returned the following Friday.

Roseburg is to have a street fair from September 17th to the 20th. Corvallis, Albany and Independence are altogether too busy to engage in frivolities.

Harry Withycome intends accompanying Raymond Henkle to San Francisco in order that he, too may take a special course in pharmacy. The boys did intend leaving next Monday, but as the boats are tied up on account of labor troubles, they will not get away for a few days later.

Rev. Luther and family left Corvallis, Wednesday morning, by team, for The Dalles. He has made this his headquarters for several years while canvassing the country selling musical instruments. It is his intention to engage in this business in the vicinity of The Dalles.

Miss Delpha Heanel, of Monroe, arrived in Corvallis during the fore part of the week and is taking the teachers' examination for county papers. Under the old school law she held a state certificate, but the new law has somewhat changed her plans for the future and she is taking out county papers. However, when she has taught forty-five months she will be allowed her life diploma.

E. W. Strong received a letter a few days ago from his wife, who is summering at Belknap Springs. Mrs. Strong stated that just previous to writing there had been a terrible thunder storm and the rain poured down in torrents for more than two days. Some of the campers became alarmed at the violence of the thunder storm and moved away. At present there is no hotel at Belknap and a large tent is utilized for that purpose.

Henry Ambler, the genial and business-like real estate agent of Philomath, was in Corvallis, Wednesday, attending to business. While here he stated that there was a prospect of a lively real estate business in this section during the next few months. There are many new-comers in Benton county at present, and a large portion of them have come to remain. Many of them are people of means and have come to remain permanently. Such residents are certain to buy property. In fact, quite a number are at present looking over the county with a view to buying homes.

A few days ago the task of laying the piping of the big prune dryer of the Benton County Prune Co. was completed. About 5,000 feet of pipe was connected. On running steam through the pipes it was found that there were only two leaks in the entire system, and fortunately they were in places easy access. Work is being pushed as rapidly as possible at present on the wood work of the big dryer. For Mr. Johnson, the manager, realizes that there is no time to spare if he has everything in readiness by the time the prunes will be ready for drying. However, it is thought that the prune crop will be a little later than usual this year.

W. A. Sanders, the watchmaker, Roy Raber went to Portland, Monday on business, returning Wednesday.

Remember our reduction and remnant sale will close Saturday, August 31st. Nolan & Callahan.

Mrs. Martha Burnett and Mrs. Pernot were bayward passengers Tuesday. They will occupy the Pernot cottage at Newport.

Attorney and Mrs. J. N. McFadden went over to Siletz Wednesday, where Julian has some legal business. They will return Saturday.

Paddock & Sheasgreen contemplate putting in a new prune dryer in their orchard across the river in Linn county, a few miles east of this city.

Wm. Cress and wife, Mrs. Gussie Heckart, and the family of Jas. Flett formed a party that went to the Soap creek sulphur springs last Tuesday. They will remain several weeks.

Marion Wood, whose appointment as assistant professor of agriculture in the agricultural college of Idaho we noted some time ago, leaves with his family for Moscow, August 20th.

Mrs. C. A. Stevens, nee Hattie Wright, who has been visiting relatives in this city, left for her home in Calistoga, Calif., yesterday. That city was nearly destroyed by fire during Mrs. Stevens' absence. Fortunately her husband suffered no loss to his property.

Supt. Denman is holding the regular quarterly teachers' examination this week. There are not many applicants—only nine, one of whom is taking the examinations for state papers. W. T. Wyatt, of Philomath, and N. Tartar of this city, are assisting Supt. Denman in the examinations.

After a residence of many years in this city, Mr. and Mrs. John Zeis, bade Corvallis farewell Wednesday. They have disposed of all their interest in this section and will make their home in Redding, Calif. During their residence here they made many friends who regret to have them take their final departure.

The question of holding a regatta at Newport was recently raised at that resort. In event of a regatta being held at Yaquina bay, W. E. Yates, of this city, is reported to have declared that Corvallis will put a boat on the bay and defend the cup against all comers. This would be a great attraction to offer for next summer.

Since last winter the health of Jack Thomas has been very poor. He has not recovered from an attack of typhoid fever sustained at that time. Wednesday, Oliver Treese moved Jack and his effects from his quarters on Main street to Amos Kisor's. Here Jack will have good care, which he needs, as his condition is considered quite serious.

Some five years ago, Mr. Osborne, who lives near Dallas, killed a wild goose and found two large grains of wheat in its crop. He planted them and replanted them and replanted the product until now he has 2 1/2 acres of fine looking grain. The heads are extra long and the grain large, the yield being perhaps one-third more than ordinary wheat. He has no name for the new variety, but believes it to be a prospective big thing.—Albany Herald. If our farmers wish to be up to date they must not allow a wild goose with "two large grains of wheat in its crop" to go astray—such a goose is akin to the goose that laid the golden egg.

Charley Hout, of the Palace Market, was the victim of quite an accident last Wednesday. Shortly after 10 o'clock in the morning, while cleaning a sausage mill, he got the second finger of his left hand caught and it was nipped off just back of the nail. It seems that he had the machine out of gear and threw it in gear again and gave it a quick turn, forgetting the position of his left hand, which was in the grinder. After the accident Mr. Hout went to Dr. Gathe, who amputated the injured finger at the first joint in order to draw the skin over the end of the bone that it might heal. It is hoped that Mr. Hout will soon be about to take hold of things again. Last year Mr. Hout's brother, Clarence, had his hand in the same machine, but escaped with slight damage.

Agates are reported to have been plentiful at Newport this year as usual. It is a very peculiar fact that water agates are found in no other place in the world except on the beach for a few miles at Newport. At first the theory was that the agates were washed up on the beach from the bottom of the ocean, but the question arose that if they could be washed up there why not elsewhere? Now the generally accepted theory and the one which is undoubtedly the true one is that they are in the cliffs, and are washed out as the cliffs gradually crumble away during the winter. This fact was demonstrated this summer by an Albany lady who dug a water agate from the side of the cliff. She had seen the edge of the stone protruding from the cliff, and when she dug it out she discovered that she had found an excellent water agate.

Editor and Mrs. B. F. Irvine go to Newport today for a short stay.

F. G. Sheldon, of Newcastle, Wyoming, is a recent arrival in Corvallis.

Misses Bertha Thrasher and Nettie McCollough are visiting in Albany.

Frank Bowersox, of Salem, passed through Corvallis, yesterday, to join his family at Newport.

J. H. Harris and family and Mrs. John Fulton were among those who went to the coast Thursday.

Norm Lilly threshed over 100 acres of oats, this week, for Jim Irwin. They averaged mighty well.

Prof. Holmes and family are occupying the Marion Woods residence at the corner of 9th and Jackson streets.

Austin Craig, formerly of this city, is now city recorder and attorney-at-law in the new town of Whitney near Baker City.

Services at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Christian Endeavor at 7 p. m. All seats free. You are welcome.

It will require 8,500 feet, running measure, of wire cloth 30 inches wide to furnish the fruit trays for the new prune dryer on the Benton County Prune farm. The trays will be 30x42 inches.

Twelve old soldiers, members of a Portland post, made their annual pilgrimage to Lincoln county yesterday. They have taken up claims near Siletz agency and are spending the time required by law upon their places.

Morning services at the Christian church next Sunday, Mrs. Ella Humbert occupying the pulpit. Subject—"The Restfulness of the Rest which God Prepares." A cordial welcome is extended to all. There will be no services in the evening.

Wednesday, Mordant Goodnaugh, of this city, rode over to Albany to attend some business. While there somebody stuck a needle in the tire of his bicycle and Mordant did not discover it until he was well on the road home. He was obliged to walk on into town. He reported the walking good, but he seemed quite warm—not altogether caused by the weather, either. He must be a peculiarly organized animal who can derive any enjoyment in perpetrating a trick of this nature.

A rather curious but probably harmless "bug" has been sent to Secretary Lamberson, of the State Horticultural Society, which he has sent to Prof. Cordley at Corvallis to be classified. The bug is over an inch in length, and is striped black and white, like the garments of the convicts in the state penitentiary. It has antennae, or feelers, as long as itself, divided in many points or sections, black and white alternately. There are so many injurious insects these days that farmers and orchardists are suspicious of any strange bug they come across, and send in for examination all the bugs they are not acquainted with.—Oregonian.

There was a very pleasant party given on the lawn of the M. E. church last Tuesday evening in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Luther and Mrs. and Mrs. Carl Zwicker. There were addresses of welcome made and responses. Music, conversation and refreshments assisted to pass a delightful evening and there were many present to enjoy the occasion. Rev. Luther and family were to take their farewell of Corvallis on the following morning, while Mr. and Mrs. Zwicker will leave in a couple of weeks for the Sound country in Washington. They hold stock in a socialistic colony up there and will leave with the intention of henceforth casting their lot with the colonists.

A Bashful Lover.

The father of a 17-year-old young lady, in town this week, told the following story on a young man who stopped at his home one night lately. The young man called on his daughter to spend the evening, and when he got ready to leave he realized that a heavy rain storm was raging. He had no umbrella or rubber coat and when the girl's father asked him to remain at the house he readily consented. He is a very bashful young man, and next morning when he was invited to a seat at the table very reluctantly accepted. He was very nervous and agitated. He sat opposite a mirror and discovered that he had forgotten to comb his hair; then he dropped his fork on the floor and as he stooped to pick it up, he upset his coffee. Matters went from bad to worse until finally in despair the young man quit eating and put his hands under the table. The loose fold of the tablecloth was lying in his lap, and when he touched it he turned pale. He thought it was his shirt, and in his nervous excitement had forgotten to put the garment inside his trousers. That accounted for the smiles and his embarrassment. There was no time to lose. He hurriedly stuffed the supposed shirt inside his trousers. Two minutes later, when the family arose, there was a crash. The dishes lay in a broken mass on the floor; the young man pulled two feet of table cloth out of his trousers and fled through the door. He is yet in the woods back of his home near Philomath. The young lady he called on is open for engagement to a less nervous young man.

Council Notes.

At its regular meeting Monday night, all members of the city council were present except Councilmen Hedes and Nolan.

Probably the matter of most importance considered was the offer of the Water company for a new franchise. This matter came before the council at its regular meeting a month ago. The subject was again discussed Monday night with the result that the council voted to refer the matter to a committee of three to be appointed by the mayor. This committee will investigate the prices paid and terms of contracts entered into with water companies by the various cities of the valley, and report the result of their labors to the council.

The expenses of Chief Engineer Sheasgreen to attend the convention of Pacific coast chiefs at Tacoma will be paid by the council.

The petition of the GAZETTE Pub. Co., asking that the rent on the building now occupied by them be made to conform with the present rate of rental for like property, was referred to the finance committee.

The report of the chief of police was read and placed on file. Bills were allowed amounting to $294 on the general and $66.75 on the street fund.

The fire department wishes to secure the tower of the old engine house for the purpose of drying their new hose, and this matter was referred to the finance committee.

It was ordered that the fire apparatus be painted and repaired, and that repairs be made to the door of the city jail.

Mrs. Amelia Fisher.

After an illness of several weeks, during which time she failed so gradually that the end when it came was unexpected, Mrs. Amelia Fisher died at her home in this city Thursday morning, August 15th. The funeral services will be conducted by Dr. E. J. Thompson at the family residence this afternoon at 4 o'clock, interment will be made at Crystal Lake cemetery. Amelia Diller was born in Germany in 1836. With her parents she came to Corvallis in the pioneer days, and was married to E. W. Fisher, who survives her, in this city in 1857. Her father died several years ago, but her mother is now living at Oregon City.

After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Fisher moved to their farm home two and one-half miles north of this city. Later they purchased property in Corvallis and occupied their residence in here during a portion of the year. Mrs. Fisher was the mother of eight children, of whom the following survive her: Mrs. Emma Raber, Mrs. Lena Raber, Mrs. Mary Thompson, Anna, Clara, Chas. and John. Mrs. Fisher was a woman of sterling qualities, industrious, frugal, kind and generous; a willing helpmeet, loving mother, sincere friend, obliging neighbor. Those who knew her best will most deeply mourn her loss.

New for Oregon.

Rev. J. Waggoner, a Christian minister who visited Corvallis during the past few days is manager of the California Lecture Bureau, of San Francisco. While here he arranged to give a course of lectures to our citizens. Rev. Waggoner has been on the road handling attractions for this bureau during the past two seasons, but has decided to quit the road in the course of a month. It is his intention to settle in Independence. His family are at present living in San Francisco, but as soon as everything is in readiness they will move to our sister city.

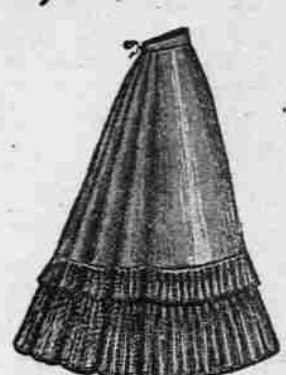

It is the reverend gentleman's intention to start a bureau in Independence. He informs us that it is his belief that a good wide-awake bureau will do a splendid
