Roy Woodcock went over to Newport, Friday, for a short outing.

Born, Friday, August 30, in this city, to Mrs. Princess Hubbard, a son.

Miss Mabel Withycombe returned Friday from Newport where she has spent the season.

It is reported in this city that several Albany girls recently had the "goo-goo" removed from their eyes.

Attorney J. F. Yates returned home, Thursday, from Detroit, where he enjoyed a brief outing hunting and fishing.

Our new stock of Mens clothing will arrive this week. Latest styles, elegant fitters for good dressers. Nolan & Callahan.

Ladies Tailor-made Suits to order. Our book of Samples for Fall has arrived. We take measure and guarantee a fit or no trade. Nolan & Callahan.

Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery, parents of Mrs. T. W. Dilley of this city, arrived Saturday, from their home in Seio, for a couple of days visit with the family of their daughter.

Mordant Goodnough writes that he arrived in Ashland last Wednesday. At the time of writing he had not looked over the town to any extent, but he seemed very favorably impressed with what he had seen.

Miss Anna Hannah has been elected queen of the Baker City street fair and carnival to be held September 3-7. Miss Hannah graduated from the O A C in the class of '95. A very good picture of this lady appeared in Sunday's Oregonian.

Friday, J. R. Brown, of Philomath, left a sample of oats at this office for Henry French, they will go to swell Benton county's exhibit at the state fair at Salem the latter part of this month. The oats are very fine and are of the variety known as the Golden Giant.

The families of William Greese, James Flett and Abe Locke broke camp at Sulphur Springs and returned to their homes, Friday, after an outing of several weeks duration. Mrs. Thos. Whitehorn, who was camped down there, came home Sunday. This is a resort that is more fully appreciated each year.

Four prisoners in the penitentiary at Salem recently showed signs of insanity and last Thursday were committed to the asylum. Among those committed were Henry Kabil, who was sent up November 9, 1900. He stole a wagon and team of Mrs. S. A. Cooper in the spring before his commitment and was given a two years sentence.

Jessie B. Stump, an Oregon pioneer of 1854 and a member of the Oregon Legislature in 1876 and 1899, died at his home near Saver, Polk County, Thursday, of heart failure. He was in good health until the hour of his death. He had been an active worker in the State Grange, and in 1891 served as state treasurer of the order. He was born in Ohio in 1832. His son, Fred, was a member of this year's graduating class of O A C.

A message received in Eugene a few days ago from Mr. C. A. Redmond, manager of the University of Oregon football team, who is now in San Francisco, states that he has made arrangements with "Locomotive" Smith who played halfback on the University of California team last year, whereby Smith's services will be had as coach for the Oregon team the coming season. The action of manager Redmond is subject to ratification, but there is no probability of its being changed. Smith is recognized as one of the best football men on the Coast, and it is hoped that under his guidance the university will be able to play a stronger team this winter than ever before, and probably make some strong games with California teams, as well as those of the Northwest.

W. A. Sanders, Jeweler. Miss Grace Gatch is home from the coast.

Grant Elgin drove down to Buena Vista, Saturday.

A new sidewalk has been laid in front of the M. E. Parsonage.

Father Jurek is home from a two week's business trip in Lincoln county.

Miss Anna Denman closed a very successful term of school at Norton last Saturday.

Supt. Denman and Attorney W. E. Yates drove over to Albany on business, Friday.

Charlie Porter is enjoying his annual outing, and is visiting various sections of the county.

Capt. G. A. Robinson was sheriff of Benton county during the absence of M. P. Burnett in Portland.

Sunday, George and Miss Nora Miller left for the yards near Buena Vista, where they will pick hops.

Prof. McKellips arrived last Thursday from his annual visit to his old home in Posey county, Indiana.

Our new Fall stock of Ladies Tailor-made Suits, separate Skirts, Jackets, Capes, Cloaks and Dress goods have arrived. Nolan & Callahan.

A party of forty-five hop-pickers, from Lincoln county points, passed through Corvallis, Saturday, for the Buena Vista yards. There was only one man in the party and he seemed to realize his position.

Saturday, W. A. Buchanan, clerk of school district No. 9, received the resignation of Mrs. May Nelms, one of the teachers chosen by the board of directors to teach in the Corvallis public schools during the coming school year.

At an early hour yesterday morning men, women and children began crossing the river for the hop yards. Most of them began picking in Alex Campbell's yard. It is a small yard and can be picked in a couple of days.

Harry W. Davies, of Tacoma, and Miss Susie Ida Stimpson, were married at the residence of the bride's parents at Newport, Or., Aug. 29, 1901, Rev. Chas. Booth officiating. Miss Stimpson was a former student of O A C.

C. H. Markham, general freight and passenger agent of the Southern Pacific lines in Oregon, well known in Corvallis, has been promoted to the position of assistant freight traffic manager of the Southern Pacific Company, with headquarters at San Francisco.

Herbert Condon passed through Corvallis, Friday en route to Newport, in response to a telegram informing him of the serious illness of his mother. Mrs. Condon has been at the coast for the past month. She is 70 years of age and has been in feeble health for some time.

By the end of the present week there will be little, if any, unthrashed grain in Benton county. The Zierolf Brothers' machine and that of N. S. Lilly are about the only ones that will have a full week's run. In nearly every instance the grain turned out well.

A fine Coiswold buck reached this city Saturday. It was shipped from the farm of Thos. H. Brunk, near Eola, Oregon, to S. K. Brown of Philomath. To the Gazette's informant it looked to be a very fine animal, and men versed on the good points of a buck speak in its praise.

Quite a large party of hop-pickers left Sunday, for the Scott-Taylor yards near Buena Vista. Many of the pickers have worked in these yards for years. Among those who went from this city are, Mrs. Aea Alexander and daughters, the Misses Elgin, Ethel Linville, John Day and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Hank Bier, Frank Thrasher and Glen Gillette. It is thought that a number of other Corvallis pickers will go down to these yards to pick.

Friday, W. G. Davis and family arrived from Laurel, Nebraska. They shipped a car of household effects and a fine driving horse. A man is in charge of the car and will hasten its arrival. Meanwhile, Mr. Davis and family are stopping at the Occidental hotel. They are to occupy the Presbyterian parsonage. Mr. Davis is a man of much experience in the banking business and may make Corvallis the center of future operations along this line.

The dairying industry of the Willamette valley has wonderfully developed in the past two years, and there has been a large increase in the number of all kinds of live stock kept on the farms. But there needs to be a great deal of development yet along these lines. A big pile of straw was seen burning on a Marion farm. And yet the land looked hungry and thirsty for the manure that might be made from this straw, if it were used in connection with the dairying industry or with the keeping of other kinds of live stock—if it were put through barns or feeding sheds or corral. There is no greater waste on a farm than burning of straw.—Statesman

J. Wrago arrived home yesterday. Clem Hodcs is home from a week's visit at Newport.

Professor and Mrs. Fulton returned home from the coast yesterday.

Our new outing flannels and flannellets have arrived. Nolan & Callahan.

Roy Bier went to Portland, Monday, where he hopes to obtain employment.

Miss Griffin returned to Eugene, yesterday after a visit with friends in this city.

J. D. Mann & Co. have just received a line of new carpets. Some beautiful designs.

J. J. Safford arrived home, yesterday, from the coast, where he had passed the summer.

A new side walk has been built in front of the property occupied by Miles Starr, on 5th street.

Arch Horning came out from Yaquina City, Saturday, for a few days business visit in Corvallis.

Miss Grace Scott returned to The Dalles, Friday, after a visit of two weeks with her parents in this city.

Our Ladies garments for Fall are all New York made; strictly up-to-date in style and fit.—Nolan & Callahan.

Miss Nellie Holt, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. W. H. Quason, at Stayton, returned home last Thursday.

Miss Bessie Irvine went to Lebanon, Friday, where she will be employed in the Criterion office for a month or more.

Victor Moses, of this city, and his brother, Jessie, of Philomath, drove over into Linn county, Saturday, and visited relatives until Monday.

Sheriff and Mrs. Burnett arrived home from Portland, Monday. Mrs. Burnett has been visiting for the past month with her mother at Baker City.

Proprietor Garhard, of The Book Store, expects an invoice of the new books selected by the text book commission, daily. He is prepared to receive old books in exchange, and, until the new ones arrive will issue due bills for old books brought in.

Mr. John Whitaker was in Corvallis, Saturday. Speaking of the hop outlook he said that while his crop would be light the quality would be first class. Ten days of fine weather will see the crop gathered and past all danger from atmospheric conditions.

R. G. Myers was in Corvallis yesterday, en route to his home in Alsea. During the past month Mr. Myers has had charge of the threshing outfit of Ohling & Kempf, of Linn county. So far as is known this machine just about made the record run of the season. One day they moved twice and thrashed 2,890 bushels of oats. On this occasion they quit an hour before the usual time.

Of one thing we may rest assured: It Benton county does not take first place at the State Fair, she will at least have a most creditable exhibit. Mr. French has been untiring in his efforts to bring this about and the GAZETTE has done what it could to assist him. If the specimens left at this office are to be taken as a criterion of the exhibit gathered by Mr. French, the county that beats Benton for the prize may indeed be proud. Last week Wm. Reed left with us samples of grain sown in March that were beautiful; one a specimen of Odessa wheat, and the other White Russia oats.

Last Thursday, the State Board of Education issued life diplomas to four teachers, graduates of chartered institutions prior to September 1, 1899, who have had six years experience in teaching. Among those graduate diplomas was Miss Adda Bristol, a graduate of O A C, formerly of this city, but now a resident of McMinnville.

County Treasurer Buchanan had the last one of the county school superintendent's warrants on the apportionment of April 1, 1901, on the school fund, returned to him, Saturday. It was drawn by Supt. Denman in favor of Adam Wilhelm Jr., clerk of school district No. 25. The warrant was drawn for the sum of $125.92. Mr. Buchanan is now in receipt of all the warrants drawn on the apportionment of last April.

Some time ago J. R. Smith & Co. ordered a late model Gar-Scott clover huller for G. Harding and Dick Kiger. The machine was ordered direct from the factory at Richmond, Indiana. Thursday evening it arrived in Corvallis and since then has attracted considerable attention. In general appearance it resembles an ordinary threshing machine, although it is considerably smaller. It has about a 28-inch cylinder. Just what its capacity is no one seems to know, but this general supposition is that it will hull between 50 and 100 bushels of clover per day. It will be several weeks yet before it is put in operation. It is likely to prove a profitable investment, as clover seed sells all the way from 10 to 20 cents per pound. The huller, laid down here, cost $535.

A Letter From Texas.

F. P. Morgan, of this city, received a letter recently from his brother, who lives in Texas. It is a very interesting letter and among other things, contains the following account of crop conditions:

"You ask of crop conditions here this year. They are nearer a complete failure over the entire state than ever before. There will not be over one-half crop of anything raised in any part of the state and in many places the yield will not be more than one-fourth to one-third of a crop. Now, you may think this an exaggeration, but it is a fact. The crops in Western Texas were very late on account of late cold and dry spring. When they did come up the grasshoppers eat them up entirely as far east as Abilene. Later the drought struck the country and, as there is no grass or water, stock is starving and it is predicted that before winter there will be very few cattle in the western country. In a few of the Northwest counties some showers have fallen and there is some vegetation there. In all of Southwest Texas as far east as Dallas there will not be more than a quarter of a crop of anything raised. The people are in an awful fix. The failure is much worse than in 1896 and 1897, when we had two successive droughts. Corn is worth $1 per bushel now, and none for sale. "Starvation is staring many poor people in the face in Western Texas and in some other parts of the state. I am very glad that I got out of business the first of the year when business was good. Business is so dull here that merchants are hardly paying expenses. People are having to spend their cash to send off after corn, wheat and hay. Formerly good hay was worth $5 per ton, now the best worthless grade sells at from $1.2 to $1.5 per ton. All of the hogs in the country have been sold and shipped out of the markets on account of there being nothing to feed them on."

E. H. Morgan's letter was written at Granbury, Hood county, Texas. This is in the central part of the state. For many months just past Mr. Morgan has been engaged as traveling salesman for a large drug establishment and has been in a position to ascertain the exact state of affairs. The writer gives it as his opinion that if the people realized what Oregon offered in the way of climate and crops there would be a large emigration to this country. Some people intend coming any way, and in all likelihood Mr. Morgan will join us next year.

Without Money or Friends.

We were not aware that The Dalles is considered a Mecca for romantic, or for that matter, any other runaway couples; but at least one couple evidently considered it so. About a week ago George Armstrong, aged 23, and Eva LeMasters, aged 16, broke loose from all restraint and ran away from Corvallis. Word was telegraphed to our marshal to look out for them and photographs of them sent, which that officer showed to Deputy Sheriff Wood. Yesterday as the latter keen-eyed official was walking up Second street he met a suspicious-looking couple which he at once decided were the runaways and watched them enter the Union street lodging house. He then informed Chapman, who followed and interviewed them, but to no avail as neither had the least regard for the truth. Later, in company with Wood, he returned, and this time they confessed. Word was sent at once to the sheriff of Benton county, who answered that they need not be held as it had been decided it was useless to attempt to do anything. The young man left yesterday afternoon for Hood River and the young woman had left the lodging house last evening. She is without money or friends and her future may be imagined.—Dalles Chronicle.

To School Patrons.

Supt. Denman has received for distribution a "Text Book Circular to School Officers," which was recently prepared by State Superintendent J. H. Ackerman. It contains the list of text books adapted and reported in accordance with the provision of the legislative act covering this matter, by the State Board of Text Book Commissioners to the State Board of Education, with full title of each book, date of copyright, the exchange, and the introductory and retail price thereof. The exchange price on the first, second, third, fourth and fifth readers is respectively 13c, 15c, 20c, 25c, and 30c; on "The American Citizen," 40c; "Introductory Lessons in Grammar," and "Graded Lessons in English," 18c and 20c respectively; "Elementary Arithmetic" and "Practical Arithmetic," 13c and 23c respectively; "Geographies," 50c and 60c; "Word Lessons," 10c; "Histories," 30c and 50c; "Physiologies," 20c and 30c.

The circular also gives explanations and information concerning the exchange price, introductory price, retail price, and other valuable information. The depositories in Benton county are given as Corvallis, Philomath, Monroe and Dasty. The circular will furnish just such information as each board of directors need. Supt. Ackerman has recommended that the circulars be mailed to each director personally so that they may familiarize themselves with the matter at once. Supt. Denman will mail them to the various school officers of our county immediately.

Made Some Money.

W. S. Wright arrived in Corvallis, Saturday, and, yesterday, passed on to his home in Yaquina City. On the first of last April he went to Hame's Station, on the lower Columbia, to take charge of a gill net for a friend during the salmon fishing season. The season opened April 15th, and closed August 15th.

He operated a boat and net on shares, and according to this statement when he visited this office yesterday, it was not very profitable during the first few months. On the Fourth of July he was out of pocket $66 more than he had taken in. Directly after this the run of salmon increased and for about a week during the latter part of July the run was enormous and the boat averaged from 600 to 800 pounds of fish per night. The price paid for fish during the entire season averaged about 6 cents per pound.

Mr. Wright's best night's catch netted him $38 for himself. For about a week, during last of July he averaged from $20 to $30 per night. At the close of the season he paid Seattle a short visit. He took fishing gear over to Yaquina with him and it the prospects are promising he will operate there this fall.

The attempt to repair the old tin roof on the city hall, by applying Iron clad Cement Paint, did not result satisfactorily. The test to which it was subjected, was a severe one, but the contractor was perfectly willing that it be made. Fire hose was connected to a hydrant and the nozzle end carried up on the roof where a stream under heavy pressure was directed on the newly-treated tin. The contractor gave the city a five-year guarantee.
