Mr and Mrs E. R. Bryson left Sunday for a visit with relatives in Portland.

Oregon fruit won 80 medals at the Pan-American exposition, and prizes were also awarded this state on three kinds of nuts.

Rev. R. L. Melley, of this city, delivered one of the addresses before the session of the Willamette Presbytery held in Salem last week.

While in Corvallis last week, Judge Stewart of Lincoln county purchased a Jersey calf from the college, and shipped it to his farm near Toledo.

The wife of Jesse Gross at Corvallis who has been quite sick is much better. George Gross expected to leave for Corvallis on yesterday's train but on account of her improved condition will not go at present.—Register.

Dr. Withycombe and Professor Kent returned Sunday from Elkton, Oregon, where they took part in the program of the Farmers' Institute held at that place Friday and Saturday, under the auspices of the Agricultural College.

The George Brown stock farm of 80 acres, situated four miles west of Philomath, was purchased last week by F. N. Toothacre, of Salem, late of Nebraska. The deal was made by Henry Ambler, the rustling real estate agent of Philomath.

Hon. W. E. Yates left yesterday for Canyon City, Grant county, where he is to appear as counsel in an important case to be heard before the circuit court which convenes at that city next Monday.

Miss Jessie Buoy, who has been quite ill in this city for the past several weeks, is improved much in health and expects to return to her home in Toledo this week. Her brother, W. H. Buoy, and family are now at Toledo on a protracted visit, after an absence of some months at Astoria.

Owell Bros. of Central Point, who are the largest growers of apples in southern Oregon, have gathered their crop of apples. It amounted to 40 cars of 600 boxes each. All of the Newton Pippins grown by them have been contracted for by the London, England, market, to reach which the cost per car is $600.—Jacksonville Times.

The revival meetings at the Christian church began with a good interest and the meetings of the church are delighted with the work of Evangelist Burton. They expect a great meeting. Rev. Burton is logical, eloquent, earnest and Christ-like in his presentation of the truth. The subject of his sermon for this evening is: "The Greatest Mistake of all." On Wednesday evening: "Supreme Realities."

Monday the government commenced the long deferred payment to the Siletz Indians of the purchase price of the reservation lands for which, at its last session, Congress appropriated $85,000 says the News. The rate per capita will be $196.46. The payment will be made alphabetically and the settlement of estates of deceased Indians will be taken up last. We understand that the settlement of quite a number of these estates will be held up on account of irregularities of the administration thereof. The payment is being made by Special Indian Agent D. W. Manchester, of Cleveland, Ohio, who has been at the Agency for some time past arranging the preliminaries.

Numerous cases of poisoning due to drinking "loaded" apple cider are coming to light and investigation is being prosecuted. Some of this cider, known to have been manufactured at Salem, is being analyzed at the Agricultural College, by the station chemists, and as soon as the State Dairy and Food Commissioner has received his returns, he will attend to the manufacturer who placed it on the market. There are those who believe that the cider was rendered poisonous by having been shipped and handled in unclean vessels, but chemist Kniseley has found the cider contained sodium fluoride, a deadly poison. The drug was used by the manufacturers for the purpose of preserving the cider. The symptoms of those who partook of this beverage are those of poisoning—violent cramps, followed by vomiting. The reason no fatalities are reported in connection with the cases is that only small amounts of the cider were taken into the stomach.

Report says that diphtheria has again developed in the vicinity of Dusty. A little child of George Wagner is dangerously ill but was still alive Friday morning. George Buckingham has one child down and other children of the family are expected to contract the dread complaint.

Complaint comes from local business men, as well as from those of other towns in the valley that, there is a shortage of cars in the S. P. freight service, and as a result shipments are long overdue, and trade conditions are badly upset. Another matter of grievance is the fact that the railroad company apparently gives little heed to the request of shippers that more cars be added.

Manager Kaupisch, who has had charge of the skimming station of the Hazlewood Creamery Co. in this city for the past two years, has tendered his resignation to take effect the first of December. Mr. Kaupisch will establish a plant here for making butter on a large scale and begin operations about the first of the month. The building will stand near Sheasgreen & Buxton's box factory on the river bank.

The coolness and prompt action of Jas. Berry of the Bicycle Hospital prevented a conflagration yesterday morning about 8:30. An alarm was sent in and the department responded in a jiffy, but its services were not needed. A tube blew out of a gasoline brazer, while that machine was in operation, and the wall opposite was soon in flames. Mr. Berry snuffed off the flow of gas, and extinguished the blaze with a bucket of water.

The jury awarded a verdict of $325 for the plaintiff in the case of Luckey vs Lincoln county which was tried in Lane county last week. The action was for $5,000 damages. The jury is said to have stood six for the defendant on the first ballot. Two were in favor of $1000, and the other four were scattered in sums ranging from $100 up. The jury finally added the total amounts together and decided by 12, and the $325 verdict was the result. The county will probably appeal the case to the Supreme Court.

In keeping with its purpose to do all in its power to promote the interests of farmers tributary to its road in the Willamette valley, the S. P. railroad company is now distributing, gratuitously, the choicest seeds it has been able to obtain. These comprise about 100 varieties of wheat, oats and barley, and include wheat and oats from Oregon, Washington and British Columbia, barley from Germany and wheat from Shanghai, Australia, Argentina and New South Wales. Samples have been sent to Henry L. French of this county.

During the last 15 days of the open season, which expires December 1st, China pheasants may be sold in the markets. This selling of game however, is permitted only under certain conditions, and with certain restrictions. Non-resident market hunters are required to pay a license fee of $10, and all market hunters, whether resident or non-resident are restricted to 10 birds a day. Compliance with regulations is also required of those who handle game intended for sale. Those purchasing for the purpose of sale are required to keep a record of all purchases open at all reasonable times to the inspection of the game warden and his deputies.

Saturday Night's Concert.

The concert given at the college chapel, Saturday evening, under the auspices of the societies of that institution, was the musical event of the season, and the equal of any purely musical program heard in Corvallis. The numbers were all from the works of the masters, with the exception of the compositions of Ruthyn Turney, and these suffered little by comparison.

With the first number, the piano solo "The Star Spangled Banner" (Concert Paraphrase) by Troyer, Mordant Goodnoy won the favor of his audience, and their delight grew as the program proceeded. Mr. Goodnoy has a "glibness" of touch, brilliancy of technique and masterful grasp of interpretation which place him in a class with artists many years his senior. His rendition of Moszkowski's "Valse Brillante" in A-flat, was accorded a double encore.

There is an artlessness in the manner of Miss Mabel Cronise which adds charm to her efforts on the concert program. Her rendition of Gounod's "Tell Me Beautiful Maiden" was accomplished with such ease and absence of affectation, as to command admiration. While not powerful or possessed of the dramatic quality, her voice is sympathetic, and under perfect control, and her interpretation is artistic.

Ruthyn Turney was tendered an ovation at his first appearance, and at the conclusion of his first number, his own difficult and beautiful "Fantasie," he was given an enthusiastic recall. His playing is of nature which "takes hold" of an audience and the more he is heard the greater he is appreciated. The "Mazurka de Concert," by Musin, which makes such demands upon the technique, was performed with consummate skill. At times the notes seemed scarcely more than whispers, and when the bold voice of the G string resounded like that of the trombone, one could scarcely believe that the same instrument was capable of such variety of sound.

The Musical Festival.

Hon. Wallis Nash addressed the student body at O. A. C. yesterday morning on the subject of the musical festival to be held in this city next spring and the enthusiastic reception accorded his remarks showed that he had struck a responsive chord. He told them that he expected the college to furnish a chorus of 100 voices, to which should be added 50 from Corvallis making the local contingent 150 strong. Albany will bring 60, Eugene 30 or 40 and Salem as many more, so that at the least calculation 200 voices will be heard in the rendition of the oratorios. The Portland symphony orchestra of 30 pieces the finest organization in the Northwest will accompany the singers, if present negotiations succeed.

This evening at 7:30 o'clock, at the Presbyterian church, a meeting will be held to formally launch this excellent enterprise. The people of Corvallis know no such word as "fail", and when they stand sponsor for an undertaking the only question is "how great a success can we make it?"

Daily Boat Service Assured.

We called attention last week to the fact that arrangements were pending whereby Corvallis might have a daily boat service this winter. A plan has been perfected which assures such service.

Under the new schedule which will take place as soon as the water has reached the proper stage, the O. R. & N. Co. will operate the steamer Ruth between Portland and Corvallis and way points. She will leave Portland every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 6:45 o'clock a. m., and returning will leave

Corvallis at 6 o'clock a. m. On the other hand the O. C. T. Co. will operate its steamer Pomona on the same route and she will leave every Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, making a daily schedule. On the McMinnville and Dayton run the O. R. & N. Co. will operate its steamer Modoc, which will leave Portland at 7 a. m. every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. The O. C. T. Co. will operate on the same run the steamer Altona, which will leave every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at the same hour. In this manner the McMinnville-Dayton country will have something they have never had before, and that is a daily steamer service. The O. R. & N. will operate the steamer Elmore to clear up any surplus freight which may accumulate at any river points. All tickets sold will be interchangeable, so that a passenger leaving on an O. R. & N. boat one day may return on an O. C. T. steamer the next day. The new arrangements mean practically a division of the Upper Willamette and Yamhill River countries by the two companies, and each will gain by the arrangement.

Has a Snap.

The editor of a country newspaper has no business to make mistakes, says Truth. He has no business ever to get anything into his paper that people do not like. He ought to know what would suit each individual or he ought to take each item before it is published and let the person whom it concerns censor it. An editor has plenty of time to do this, as all he has to do is to hunt news and clean rollers, set type, clean the floor, pen short items and hustle advertising, fold papers and write wrappers, make paste and mail the papers, talk to visitors and distribute type, carry water and read proofs and correct mistakes, hunt the shears to clip articles, dodge the bills and dun the delinquents, take cussings and tell subscribers that he needs money. An editor has no business to make mistakes while attending to little trifles like these, and living on oatmeal soup, flavoring, imagination; wearing old shoes and no collar, a patch on the equator of his pants, and at the same time turn a smiling countenance on the man who tells him that his paper isn't worth the subscription price and anyone could run a better one with their eyes shut.

Commissioners Court.

The regular term of commissioners court for November was in session last Wednesday and Thursday. The following business was transacted.

The cost bill amounting to $65.25, in the matter of State of Oregon vs. Henry Haskins, was allowed.

The cost bill in the cause of the state of Oregon vs. Pearl Cooper, amounting to $33.30, was allowed.

The cost bill of M. M. Waltz, J. P., in the cause the state of Oregon vs. Henry Haskins, amounting to $4.50, was allowed.

In the matter of the changing of the boundaries of Alsea precinct, which came up for consideration upon the representation of Willis Vidito and W. J. Howell, showing that the boundaries of this precinct should be changed so as to embrace territory now lying within the boundaries of Willamette and Belfountain precincts, it was ordered that these changes be made.

In the matter of repairing the county road from Corvallis to Philomath, it appearing upon the representation of Thomas H. Cooper that this road is in a very bad condition in vicinity of Oak Creek and that if the same is not repaired and put in proper condition soon, said road will be practically impassable during the coming winter, it was ordered that when an amount not exceeding $150, now being subscribed, is secured the court will donate a like amount, dollar for dollar.

The semi-annual reports of the sheriff, clerk, and treasurer were presented and ordered spread upon the journal of the court.

The Philomath Road.

Thos. Cooper was in town Saturday. He has supervision of the improvement of the road to Philomath, and informed the GAZETTE man, that work on that thoroughfare is progressing nicely. Already $140 of the required $150 necessary, with what assistance the county is to give, to complete the improvement has been subscribed. Work has been in progress for a week, and six teams are hauling gravel at the rate of 43 loads per day. The road has been graveled well from the foot of the hill near Rose's orchard. The average price paid per load is 40 cents, and with the $300 at command operations may continue until the first of December at which time the road will be in good shape as far as the Prier Scott place.
