

JUST DISCIPLINE.

It is amazing that so old and experienced a soldier as General Miles should place himself in such a predicament as must expose him to just and prompt reprimand.

It is matter for congratulation that the army has a commander-in-chief intelligent and courageous enough to administer its disciplinary regulations even though the major general commanding it be the offender.

General Miles has been a brave soldier whose merit has been recognized and amply rewarded. So was Liscom who fell at Tien Tsin and Lawton who fell in the Philippines; so are Ludlow, Wood, Green, Chaffee and Young. Some of these, like Miles are not West Pointers, but are men who came up from the ranks of volunteer regiments through the most gallant and heroic conduct in the campaigns of the civil war, and subsequent rugged service. For service and courage and knowledge of the art and science of war they are not overshadowed by the greater merit of General Miles.

It is altogether probable that none of these would ever so heedlessly expose himself to the merited rebuke of a superior as Miles has done. Had they done so there can be little doubt the Major General commanding the army would have administered it, for he has ever been a stickler for discipline. This makes his own infraction the more difficult to understand.

There has been more than a suspicion that Miles is inordinately vain and quite ambitious. He is flattered by the aristocratic society of the country. He is a "society lion" in Washington and New York. Mrs. Grundy everywhere never tires of patting him on the back and chattering in his laudation. This answers the question, "Upon what meat doth this, our Czar feed that he hath grown so great?" The flatteries of society have quite spoiled him. This incident, humiliating as it must be to him, will do him the kindly office of recalling him to his official senses, and may quiet a tongue too prone to promiscuous wagging.

The people will appreciate the strong hand of the Commander-in-Chief.

Time to Act.

Levi Conner, a farmer near Dallas, Polk county, was recently robbed of $1,000. He had deposited the money in his barn, but the thief found it. Hold-ups and robberies in and about Salem and Portland are of daily occurrence.

While officials are on the salary system there is no incentive for them to look up criminals and, in fact, the incentive is the other way, because the danger to person and the expense in hunting criminals reduce the salary and consume time. While officers received their pay in fees there was a strong disposition to arrest criminals and bring them to justice. In those days unless they obtained fees their income was short. There is another danger under the salary system that when the officers get fat salaries an occasional one, and sometimes the police officers of a whole town or county, become anxious to increase their pay over the amount of their salary, and in order to do so, it has been claimed that the criminal and robber and hold-up class become very familiar business terms with the officials.

The Portland police and detective force have been known to catch a murderer when some woman forced the information on them, but the robber or hold-up class they seldom ever find time to catch. It was said some days ago that Portland people could do anything they undertook. This, however, referred to the subscription of stock for the Lewis and Clark celebration. Portland people could perform many other things as well. Country people often wonder why Portland's best class of citizens don't organize to banish the robber, hold-up and murderer class from their community. If people having the administration of the laws will not attend to it, the well-meaning people by organization to accomplish those results can readily do so if they proceed on proper lines. Anything outside of law and order is to be deprecated, and still there are times when a community becomes so congested that it is proper to bring about order at all hazard, and get to the conditions of law and order as soon thereafter as possible. There are many people who are fearful of trusting themselves to go to Portland except they are compelled to go strictly on business and this fear will remain well grounded until Portland's better class of people organize to bring about order. The attractions of the criminal class to Portland with little or no fear of being apprehended, permits them to scatter throughout the state. So serious is it becoming that other parts of the state are becoming interested in the problem.

Whatever disturbs the quietude of other portions of the state. At this particular time, interest in the affairs of Portland must be more intense than at former periods, because in the celebration to come off at Portland in 1905 every citizen of Oregon will necessarily have a just pride in the success of that enterprise, and in order to contribute to its success nothing can do more than for the whole world to be made to understand that the people of Portland control the methods of quickly apprehending and punishing the criminal classes who destroy life, rob and plunder. It is not now too late, but it is yet time and very necessary that Portland's good citizens organize in the very strongest possible way to stamp out the irregularities and dangers mentioned. Large numbers of people are not going to rush to any place if they understand that robberies, hold-ups and murders are committed daily and without arousing an indignant public to prompt action and punishment of the offenders.

Another Barge.

Agent Thayer was informed that the steamer Modoc left Portland yesterday morning with a large barge in tow. She is expected to arrive this morning. Everything that can possibly aid in the work of raising the Ruth will be brought along.

A diver's suit will be brought up so that in case it is necessary a diver can be sent down to investigate the state of affairs underneath the Ruth and possibly assist in placing chains beneath her to be used in hoisting. It is declared that when this large scow arrives they will be able to either raise her or pull her in two.

There has been much speculation in the minds of a great many as to what the Ruth cost. A party of men were guessing at her cost a few days ago. There was a wide difference in the "landsmen's" guesses. They ranged from $3,000 to $110,000. It is a matter of truth that those who proved to be widest of the fact regarding the cost of the boat were the most positive that they were right. The Ruth cost $24,500. She was fitted with the very best machinery for a boat of her size. Her boilers had stood a cold water test of 450 pounds pressure. She was a splendid boat in many ways and was a favorite along the river. It is sincerely hoped that she can be saved.

Brain-Food Nonsense.

Another ridiculous food fat has been branded by the most competent authorities. They have dispelled the silly notion that one kind of food is needed for brain, another for muscles, and still another for bones. A correct diet will not only nourish a particular part of the body, but it will sustain every other part. Yet, however good your food may be, its nutrition is destroyed by indigestion or dyspepsia. You must prepare for their appearance or prevent their coming by taking regular doses of Green's August Flower, the favorite medicine of the healthy millions. A few doses aids digestion, stimulates the liver to healthy action, purifies the blood, and makes you feel buoyant and vigorous. You can get Dr. G. G. Green's, reliable remedies at Graham & Wortham. Modern Surgery Surpassed.

"While suffering from a bad case of piles I consulted a physician who advised me to try a box of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve," says G. F. Carter, Atlanta, Ga. "I procured a box and was entirely cured. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is a splendid cure for piles, giving relief instantly, and I heartily recommend it to all sufferers." Surgery is unnecessary to cure piles. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve will cure any case. Cuts, burns, bruises and all other wounds are also quickly cured by it. Beware of counterfeits.—Graham & Wells.

Editor Lynch of "Daily Post" Phillipsburg, N. J., has tested the merits of Foley's Honey and Tar with this result: "I have used a great many patent remedies in my family for coughs and colds, and I can honestly say your Honey and Tar is the best thing of the kind I have ever used and I cannot say too much in praise of it."—Graham & Wortham.

Good Advice.

The most miserable beings in the world are those suffering from Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. More than seventy-five per cent. of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effects: such as Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Habitual Constipation, Palpitation of the Heart, Heart-burn, Waterbrash, Grawing and Burning Pains at the pit of the Stomach, Yellow Skin, Coated Tongue and Disagreeable Taste in the Mouth, Coming up of Food after Eating, Low Spirits, etc. Go to your Drugist and get a bottle of August Flower for 75 cents. Two doses will relieve you. Try it. Get Green's Prize Almanac. Graham & Wortham.

Reliable and Gentle.

"A pill's a pill," says the saw. But there are pills and pills. You want a pill which is certain, thorough and gentle. Mustn't gripe. DeWitt's Little Early Risers fill the bill. Purely vegetable. Do not force but assist the bowels to act. Strengthen and invigorate. Small and easy to take.—Graham & Wells.

J. W. Bryan of Lowder, Ills., writes: "My little boy was very low with pneumonia. Unknown to the doctor, we gave him Foley's Honey and Tar. The result was magical and puzzled the doctor, as it immediately stopped the racking cough and he quickly recovered."—Graham & Wortham.

Foley's Honey and Tar cures colds, prevents pneumonia.

Satisfied People are the best advertisers for Foley's Honey and Tar and all who use it agree that it is a splendid remedy for coughs, colds or sore lungs. Graham & Wortham.

A Physician Testifies.

"I have taken Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and have never used anything in my life that did me the good that did." says County Physician George W. Scroggins of Hall County, Ga. "Being a physician I have prescribed it and found it to give the best results." If the food you eat remains undigested in your stomach it decays there and poisons the system. You can prevent this by dieting but that means starvation. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat. You need suffer from neither dyspepsia nor starvation. The worse case quickly cured. Never fails.—Graham & Wells.

Chas. Replage, Atwater, O., was in very bad shape. He says: "I suffered a great deal with my kidneys and was requested to try Foley's Kidney Cure. I did so and in four days I was able to go to work again, now I am entirely well."—Graham & Wortham.

That we met at the office of the Public Judge of the City of Corvallis, on the 12th day of Nov. A. D. 1901, at 3 P. M., were present (of our views) S. L. Henderson and Virgil E. Watters, and after hearing the objections of Mr. B. F. Hyland and having carefully examined the line of said proposed sewer and the adjoining property, we adjourned to meet Saturday Nov. 16th, 1901, at 9 P. M.

And now having carefully considered said matters find: That said proposed sewer will be 208 feet in length; that a man-hole and two catch basins will be attached thereto and located in the streets of Corvallis. That the contract to construct said sewer has been awarded in the sum of $448.75. That the expense of the construction of the 98 feet and man-hole and basins, amounting to $225.75, should be borne by the City, and that the property owners are equally benefited in proportion to the number of lots owned.

We therefore estimate and assess the proportionate share of the cost of said sewer as follows:

That the City of Corvallis pay for the 98 feet in the streets, including man-hole and basins amounting to $225.75

That M. J. Lewis as the owner of Lots 2, 3, 4, & 5 of said Block 15, pay, $ 97.67

That M. E. Lee as the owner of lots 6 & 6 1/2 of said Block 15, pay, $ 48.88

That J. M. Nelson as the owner of Lots 7 & 8, said Block 15, pay, $ 48.88

That E. F. Hyland as the owner of Lots 9, 10, 11, & 12 said Block 15, pay, $ 97.67

Respectfully, V. E. WATTERS, S. L. HENDERSON

That the property declared by ordinance to be directly benefited by said sewer is all of Block 15, original town of Corvallis, and all of Acker's street included between said 4th and 8th streets Corvallis, Ore.

That within ten days from the first publication of this notice, if any person claiming to be the owner of any property situated and determined by said sewer to be directly benefited by said sewer or drain is hereby required to file with the Public Judge of Corvallis, any objections he or she may have to the findings and determinations of said viewers.

Public Judge of the City of Corvallis.
