LOCAL NEWS.

The Gordon Hat.

Hicks prophesies unusually good weather for the month of April. Regular meeting of the Ladies Coffee Club next Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

George Briggs, a student of the O A C, went to Portland, Wednesday, to remain until Tuesday.

Almost a dozen residents of Alsea were down to Oregon City during the week to file on timber claims.

The Church and Sunday School will unite in Easter Service at the Congregational church next Sunday. There will be special music by Miss Philbrick.

M. H. Kriebel and Col. Garrigus, who have been in Corvallis for the past month or longer working in the interest of an insurance company, returned to Portland, last Wednesday.

Presbyterian church—services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m., Sunday School at 10 a. m., Christian Endeavor at 6:30 p. m. You are cordially invited to attend all these services. ANDREW CARRICK, Pastor.

Otto Headrick, who has been located in Seattle for the past year or more, recently came back to Salem and has purchased a dray business in that city. Otto is a brother of Grover Headrick, of this city.

Word has reached us to the effect that Mrs. Ira Hunter, now of Waterville, Wash., is quite seriously ill. The nature of her illness is not known, but her many friends in this city will be sorry to hear of her trouble.

About 1,100 Benton county voters have registered up to date. There are still about 900 to be registered by the 15th of May. From now on twenty or more voters must be registered per day in order to be prepared for casting a ballot on election day.

Jesse B. Irvine exhibited a very fine Banded Plymouth Rock pullet at this office a couple of mornings ago. It was unusually fine and large—its weight was 10 1/2 lbs. Mr. Irvine says that he has twenty Banded Plymouth Rocks and that he gets 16 eggs a day.

Baptist church: Sunday morning, "An Easter Sermon," illustrated by large pictures drawn by the pastor. Evening subject: "Angelic Curiosity." Sunday School and Young People's meeting as usual. You are assured of a hearty welcome to all these services.

John Gault, of the O A C football team, received a letter, Wednesday, from Fred Herbold, who is at present at Butte, Montana. From the letter it is almost certain that Herbold will coach for O A C next season, if the boys decide to accept his services, and it is quite likely that they will. Those having the choice of a coach in hand seem quite favorable to Herbold.

Our informant was mistaken when he stated to us recently that Mrs. Reavis had taken her departure for Chehalis, Washington, and that the old gentleman would occupy his cottage alone in the future. The woman in question was a single lady and had a right to go when and where she pleased. Her employer paid her off and she departed for Chehalis, where she has friends. Reavis was not her name.

Isaac Meskimen, who was called to this city by the death of his father, David Meskimen, in this city last Saturday, started on the return journey with the remains to their old home in Stafford, Kansas, Wednesday. This is the close of a very sad chapter in the history of the Meskimen family and every citizen in this section who is cognizant of the facts in the case extends his fullest sympathy.

Gibs Alphin, who has been steamboning on the river this winter arrived in Corvallis, Tuesday morning, for a lay-off of a few days. He has not been feeling very well of late. Gibs is a great hand to gather things about him. He states that he only had a newspaper when he took passage on the boat at Portland for Corvallis and that when he arrived here he had to get a dray to take his things home.

Sheriff Burnett left here at 5 o'clock Tuesday morning for Salem, having in charge Chas. Thomas, who will serve two years in the penitentiary for forging checks. They drove over to Albany and caught the 7 a. m. train for Salem. By 8:15 Mr. Thomas was lodged in the pen. Mr. Burnett thinks that Thomas is a man who has been well educated and has good family connections, but has fallen a prey to a life of ease and dissipation which finally landed him where he is.

W. A. Sanders, Jeweler.

Dick Smith is home from a social visit to Portland.

Next Sunday is Easter and the termination of Lent. Colored eggs will be in style.

Perhaps the first party in town to make hay this year was the janitor at the court house, W. G. Lane.

Titus Ranney and L. L. Matoon, both of Summit, were in Corvallis during the week attending some business.

Miss Mary Wilhelm, of Monroe, took the Wednesday morning boat for Portland, where she will visit for a couple of weeks with her brother George.

The second or winter term of school at the O A C closes with this week, and as a consequence many of the students have been on pins and needles of late.

Rev. Mark Noble is able to be on the streets again after a severe attack of rheumatism. He feared at one time that he was going to have a spell of rheumatic fever.

T. W. Dilley entertained Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hagey last Monday evening with some excellent music over the telephone from Corvallis.—Lebanon Express-Advance.

The Easter cantata, "Resurrection," by H. W. Porter, will be rendered by the choir in the Presbyterian church on Easter morning. This is a grand piece of sacred music for that momentous occasion.

County Treasurer W. A. Buchanan has another call for warrants in this issue. The call is for all warrants outstanding up to and including those of February 6th, 1902. The call will be found in another column.

Easter service at the Methodist Episcopal church. Sunrise Praise service at 11 a. m., and at 7:30 p. m. occurs the annual Sunday School Easter program. 150 printed programs have been provided and an interesting evening is expected.

The citizens of Cottage Grove want Dr. B. R. Job for mayor. Like Job of old the office may be of little comfort to him but as a good citizen he will probably not shirk the responsibility if it is thrust upon him.—Eugene Register.

Mrs. Martha Armstrong arrived in Corvallis, Tuesday, and will visit relatives and friends of this section for a few days. She has been up in Idaho for the past year or two. Mr. Armstrong holds a good position in the vicinity of Gem, Idaho.

Sheriff Burnett exhibited an old bill that had been made out to his father, at San Jose, California, Feb. 6th, 1853. One of the items of the bill is a 50 lb sack of flour and the price was $10. Other items are proportionately high. Think of the difference in the price of flour now and fifty years ago.

Wednesday was the birthday of Kratz Cronise. He was sixteen years old. A surprise party was given him in the evening and a number of his young friends were present. Games of various kinds were played and many other entertaining features were engaged in to make the evening enjoyable.

Wednesday's dispatches contained intelligence of the suicide at Ashland of I. R. Garrett, a native of Benton county, Oregon, and 36 years of age. The deceased leaves a wife and three small children. It is believed here that the suicide was I. A. Garrett who resided south of this city and left here about a year ago with Jesse Porter. The body was discovered in Bear creek in a deep pool 1 1/2 miles north of Ashland. Tied to the man's neck with a towel was a 25-pound rock, indicating careful preparation for self destruction. The cause of the rash act is supposed to have been despondency, the result of sickness and lack of funds.

Few captains of river steamboats would go out of their way to do an act of mercy for a dumb brute as Captain Allen, of the Pomona did last week on his run between this city and Portland. He noticed a ewe and a couple of lambs that in some manner had fallen over a high bank and were unable to get back. The animals were held prisoners at the water's edge. The captain changed the course of the boat and went to their assistance. Deck hands were sent ashore and after much trouble, and some delay, the animals were placed in pastures green. Should ill-luck befall Capt. Allen he can get a recommendation for a position on a stock farm from any passenger who was on the boat at the time of this incident.

Milton Morgan, of the GAZETTE force, who returned during the first of the week from a visit in Portland and other points, reports having seen the miniature steamer that was recently built by the ingenious Chinese cook, Joe, of the steamer Leona, on exhibition in the show window of Woodward & Clark, in Portland. A tank had been arranged for the boat in the window and cards set forth the facts in English and Chinese, regarding its construction. It attracts crowds of spectators of all nationalities and seems to be of particular interest to the Chinese.

The GAZETTE was the first publication to draw attention to the genius of this cute Celestial and gave a very full account of the Chinaman and his work.

Sounds Like Fiction.

Once in a great while human nature gets slightly out of its usual course. A year or more ago J. W. Simpson, of this city, drove a single horse and a road cart down to Buena Vista. While there he met a party who wanted to buy the horse, and he sold it—on time. Time went on and he heard nothing from the purchasing party. Mr. Simpson also left the cart and harness in the care of the same party. A short time ago he heard that the party was making preparations to leave his section of the country and said to himself, "that's the last of my horse, cart and harness." In this he was mistaken, for directly afterward he received a check for the price of the horse. Following this surprise was the notification that the cart and harness had arrived in Corvallis—they had been shipped up by boat.

Mr. Simpson was delighted with the way affairs were turning out, but was still further pleased to find that his harness had recently been washed and the cart greased. This is almost like a fairy story.

Is Home Again.

About a year ago R. B. Trenholm, of this county, was accidentally shot. The charge took effect in his right shoulder and everything possible was done for him, and he was finally sent to the Good Samaritan hospital in Portland. Here it was found that the arteries were so lacerated that it was necessary for him to submit to an operation. His shoulder blade was sawed through in two places and turned down forward, the arteries were rearranged so that they connected with his right arm, the collarbone put back in place and fastened there with silver wire. Mr. Trenholm returned to his home near this city, Monday, after a term of three months in the hospital. So far as is known he is the sixteenth man to successfully undergo this operation. He is still quite weak, but is getting along as well as could be expected.

Forbes-Pagenkopf.

There was a pretty home wedding at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. August Pagenkopf, of Wells, at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. The bride was Miss Ida Pagenkopf, well known in Benton and other Oregon counties as a highly successful school teacher; the groom, Mr. Forbes, operates a dairy farm at Montavilla, four miles from Portland. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Pierce, of Albany, in the presence of members of the family, and the newly married pair left on the afternoon train for their home at Montavilla.

Many friends in this vicinity join in sincere good wishes for the future of this estimable young couple.

From Wells.

Mrs. Ida Harris has been seriously ill with pneumonia for the past week.

A. J. Hall, this week, purchased a fine 3-year-old Clydesdale colt from Ed Wiles. The price paid was $125.

A Big Buy.

After some slight hitches, the deed in a large real estate transaction changed hands yesterday. Last January, so we are informed, R. S. Bain contracted with Peterson and Robinson to sell the farm belonging to his brother, Rev. C. Bain, of Oakland, Calif. for $10,000, cash. The property is one and one-half miles west of Corvallis, contains 200 acres, and is known as the old Bennett place. Peterson and Robinson were to receive a commission of 2 per cent.

Last Tuesday S. L. Kline purchased the place making a payment of $700 to bind the bargain. But Mr. Bain refused to sign the deed, stating that he had decided to ask $50 per acre for his place. Wednesday morning, Mr. Kline made Mr. Bain a tender of the $10,000 asked by Messrs. Peterson and Robinson in accordance with their contract with Mr. Bain, which was refused. Thereupon Mr. Kline served notice on Bain that he would begin suit for damages, and Peterson and Robinson began action for their 2 per cent.

After conferring with his brother by wire, Mr. Bain decided to give the deed. It is unfortunate that these hitches should occur, as it creates a bad impression upon Eastern purchasers who are now flocking to this section. They want to know that when they have made a purchase the deed will pass to them without wrangling and delay.

Coming First Class Attraction.

The attraction of the season will be "A Trip to the Circus" the famous comedy drama which has attained the greatest success in the East and is now being presented for the first time on this Coast by Homer E. Gullbault's Company. This is one of the most extensive dramatic organizations touring in the West. It comprises a company of fourteen people and in addition carries its own band and orchestra.

Mr. Gullbault is one of the most successful of the younger generation of actor managers and his name is synonymous for high class attractions. His present organization is composed of clever people and the specialty features are especially attractive.

The Company plays here at the Corvallis Opera House on the evening of Thursday, April 3rd. Popular prices—25, 35 and 50 cents. Reserved seats on sale at Graham & Worthams.

Other Delegates.

It is almost impossible to present a list of names without error, where they must be obtained from various sources. This explains the reasons for the few omissions in the list of delegates to the republican convention to be held in this city today, which appeared in our last issue. The delegates from Fairmount are W. D. Risley, E. B. Small, and Messrs. Durbin and Coggall. J. L. Caton is a delegate from Dusty, while J. H. Wilson should be added to the list from Corvallis No. 4, and H. H. Glassford to Corvallis No. 1.

Call for Warrants.

Avoid the Penalty.

Taxpayers of Benton County: While not required to do so, I call your attention to the fact that the time for getting 3 per cent rebate for payment of taxes expires Saturday, March 15th. You are allowed by law to pay half of your taxes on or before April 7th and the balance on or before October 6th without rebate or penalty. If one-half is not paid by April 7th the law requires you to pay a penalty of ten per cent and interest at 12 per cent from April 7th to date of payment. I will be required to collect the penalty and interest, for the law exacts it and I will have no discretion in the matter. Corvallis, March 7, 1902. M. P. BURNETT, Sheriff Benton Co.
