PRINCIPLES AND MEN.

Principles without courageous men to advocate and apply them are of little benefit to mankind. Men devoid of right principles are a positive calamity to the communities in which they move. But when correct principles and wise measures are supported by good men the result cannot fail being altogether desirable. The republican party has ever been most fortunate in the principles and measures it has adopted and the men it has selected to set them forth. The recent state convention maintained the record of the party and gave a clear and forcible statement of those principles and measures which republicans of Oregon hold to be right and essential to the public weal.

Some of these relate to the nation; others to the state. Of the latter we may notice a demand that the next legislature enact a law placing all public officers of the state upon reasonable salaries which shall be their sole compensation. The creation and maintenance of a mining bureau by the state is favored. The speedy improvement of our rivers and harbors and the construction of an isthmian canal is urged upon our delegation in congress. The legislature is requested to enact such additional laws as may be necessary to foster and support our fisheries. The passage of the oleomargarine bill, or Groat law, by congress is insisted upon. The constitutional amendments providing for the initiative and referendum is favored and recommended to the people of the state. The legislature is asked to extend the principals of the Lockwood primary election law to all the precincts in the state. The election of United States senators by popular vote is recommended. The passage of the Mitchell-Kahn or Chinese exclusion bill now before congress is demanded.

These are the chief measures of local importance embodied in the platform adopted by the convention. They are of wide range and embrace quite all that our people desire and that would be of much public benefit.

It is rarely that we read a party platform that is so earnest, so concise and so direct in its utterances as this published by our state convention. It is not for the purpose of capturing votes; it means business.

Further evidence of this is found in the nominations made. From top to bottom a good, strong ticket was formed by naming men well qualified to fill the requirements of the office for which they are selected.

Naturally the chief interests center upon the selection for governor. Mr. Furnish is easily the most prominent business man in Eastern Oregon. He has won his way from the very foot of the ladder by unimpeachable integrity, unflinching energy, and consistency of purpose. His impulses are manly and generous, and his decision of character of the first order. These characteristics of the successful business man he will carry into his conduct of the state government. He will be governor.

The renomination of Judge Bean, Secretary of State Dunbar, Treasurer Moore and Superintendent Ackerman is a fitting tribute to the efficiency and fidelity of these officials. The nomination of A. M. Crawford for attorney general, and J. R. Whitney for state printer met with hearty approval.

Good men have been selected for joint senators and representatives, and the several counties have formed strong legislative tickets. The party is in good shape, and it will elect its ticket next June.

County Court.

Commissioners' court convened in regular monthly session last Wednesday, April 2nd, and aside from auditing bills and transacting general routine business, attended the following public matters:

In the matter of the State of Oregon vs James R. Allen, A. L. Clark, justice of the peace in and for Alsea precinct, presented his cost bill, which was approved and ordered paid.

In the matter of opening of G. L. T. Thompson road in Fairmount precinct, on petition of various persons showing that said road was duly located and established the road supervisor of said district was ordered to proceed at once to open said road for its entire length for the use of the general public.

The petition of A. Bicknell for rebate of taxes on account of having in use on the public highway a wagon with tires more than 3 inches wide, the court saw fit to deny.

The petition of John Stahlbusch for witness fees in the case of the State of Oregon vs John Doe was denied, the court holding that he had already been paid the lawful sum for such service and that the fees asked were unusual.

The matter of petition of Huston & Bogue for rebate of taxes was continued for further investigation.

Petition of E. P. Greffoz for rebate of taxes in the sum of $9.72 was granted and the clerk was ordered to draw a warrant in his favor for said sum.
