Bert Timmons, recently of Kentland, Indiana, is now thoroughly settled on his 200-acre farm near Fern. He appears to be quite well satisfied with the country and his prospects.

A man by the name of A. J. Parrot, of Portland, claims that he has invented a flying machine that will fly. It is just about what one would expect of a parrot. Parrots are not much for flying, however.

Trout-fishing season is now at hand and many of our local sportsmen have already tried their luck. As far as is known no very large catches have been made. Speckled beauties seem to be fewer and further between each year.

It is pretty hard to determine just how the problem was figured, but a German scientist has figured that at 10:40 on the morning of the 29th of this month it will be just a billion minutes since the birth of Christ, and yet—figures don't lie.

J. K. Berry, of the Bicycle Hospital, has just received another large consignment of Rambler bicycles, of all grades. He reports the Rambler trade unusually strong this year, and expects to sell many more wheels when the roads get better.

M. A. Miller, of Lebanon, has been nominated for State Senator in Linn County. Of course he still believes in and will have nothing less or else than free silver at 16 to 1 in defiance of all the nations and laws and peoples and events of earth, heaven, or—the other place.—Telegram.

Luke Thornton, who slipped and fell while wheeling wood pulp at the paper mills several weeks ago, sustaining a fracture of a knee cap, has not materially improved. He will likely be a cripple for life.—Oregon City Courier-Herald. Mr. Thornton resided in Corvallis for a number of years.

The memorial addressed to congress, which was recently circulated in this city in behalf of the late Colonel Kelsa's widow, is now being circulated in Portland. It is prayed that in view of the many services rendered his country by the deceased colonel congress will grant his widow a pension.

Word has reached Corvallis to the effect that Miss Emma Thompson, who has been in Boise City, Idaho, during the past winter, has gone to Silver City, in the same state and will be engaged as a compositor in a newspaper office there. Mrs. Agnes Thompson and daughters Misses Mary and Olive, are still in Boise City and seem to be well satisfied with life there.

J. M. Cameron is in Portland at present purchasing a stock for the new harness shop that he is going to open in this city. He has leased the quarters at present occupied by T. W. Dilley as a bicycle shop and will open the new shop about May 1st. Mr. Cameron will have to occupy the portion of the building that is at present used as a sample room. It is his intention to operate two shops in the future—the one he is at present running will be kept in operation. It is Mr. Cameron's intention to make his new shop the largest, most attractive and complete of any that has ever been operated in this section of the country.

Agent Thayer, of the O R & N, says that everything indicates that boating can be carried on until a late period this season, as the water at present is about six feet above the low mark. In speaking of the light-draught boat that is at present under construction at Oregon City, he stated that the craft will be able to reach Corvallis at any time during the summer, as she will not draw more than 15 or 16 inches of water with a cargo of 25 tons. This will be a good thing for our merchants, as it will afford competition, and this is always a pretty healthy feature in transportation. Our merchants, according to Mr. Thayer, if they are wise and have an eye to their future interests, will at least patronize the boats enough to encourage them to continue on the route, so that opposition may be maintained.

Lost. A small black Jersey cow, giving milk. Leave word at Fruit's Livery stable. CLARENCE KOON.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

Full County Ticket Named Saturday—Mc won out in the Judgeship Fight.

The democratic convention met at the court house last Saturday and ratified, as nearly as it was in the power of the leaders in this city to do so, the ticket which has heretofore appeared in the GAZETTE. Peter Rickard was placed in nomination for the legislature by Judge McFadden, but he declined. For clerk, Judge McFadden placed Johnny Erwin in nomination in open convention, after he had been beaten but a few moments before in caucus, and he was defeated by a vote of 53 to 42. As we stated in last Friday's issue, Henry Hector was nominated for commissioner and the office of senator was left vacant. Here is the ticket:

Senator—Hugh Finley. Representative—V E Watters. Sheriff—Telt Burnett. Clerk—Victor Moses. Recorder—Grant Elgin. Assessor—Howard Bush. Treasurer—W A Buchanan. Commissioner—Henry Hector. Surveyor—Thos Jones. Coroner—B F Irvine. The morning session was called to order by Robt. Johnson. For temporary chairman B. F. Irvine was elected by acclamation. M. Wilhelm and Lee Hill were made secretary and assistant secretary by acclamation. McFadden moved for appointment of committee of three on credentials. Other committees provided for were, order of business, resolutions, and permanent organization.

A motion to nominate the entire county ticket at the afternoon session, was carried. In the interim, while committees were being selected, McFadden moved about conferring with various delegates.

McFadden moved that the various committees report at 1:30 p. m. After this motion carried, the following committees were announced:

Credentials—J D Howell, W L Price, W H Malone. Order of Business—G V Skelton, A J Hall, G A Peterson. Permanent Organization—P Avery, J Harris, H J Reese. Resolutions—T Smith, W S McFadden, J E Johnson.

AFTERNOON SESSION. The convention was called to order at 1:45 p. m., and the report of the committee on permanent organization, recommending that the temporary officers be made the permanent officers, and asking that Mr. Hill, who was ill, be replaced by Mr. Howell, was adopted.

The committee on credentials had just been accepted when J D Howell moved that the convention go into caucus for 15 minutes. McFadden suggested that all committees be heard first, but the motion prevailed. In dismissing the audience chairman Irvine said: "I must unwillingly request all not delegates to retire. I dislike to do this, but we don't want to wash our dirty linen in public."

The washing must have been a considerable one, for the caucus was not raised for nearly an hour. At its conclusion the committee on resolutions reported and McFadden read the resolutions. The chair announced that nomination of officers was now in order.

Tyra Smith moved that, "as no person was desirous of the office of senator, selection be left to county central committee." The chair was willing to entertain the motion, but stated that nominations for the office were still in order. P Avery was nominated, but declined. McFadden nominated Peter Rickard, but that gentleman said he was not a candidate for that or any other office. Finally Mr. Smith's motion prevailed.

For representative, Hugh Finley, of Corvallis, was nominated by acclamation. For county judge, V E Watters, of Corvallis, was nominated by acclamation.

For county clerk, a delegate nominated Victor Moses. McFadden nominated Johnny Erwin. He said Mr. Erwin had been a candidate two years ago for the office of recorder, but when he failed to secure the nomination he took defeat gracefully and put forth every energy to elect his successful opponent. In consideration of all this he should be given the nomination he now sought. But the convention stood by its decision in caucus and nominated Mr. Meses of Corvallis, with a change of only one vote.

For sheriff, M P Burnett was nominated by acclamation. For treasurer, W A Buchanan, of Corvallis, was nominated by acclamation.

For recorder, Grant Elgin, of Corvallis, was nominated by acclamation.

For assessor, the names of Howard Bush, of Kings Valley, and Willie Rickard, of Willamette, were placed before the convention. The vote resulted, 56 for Bush and 40 for Rickard.

For commissioner, Henry Hector of Granger, was nominated by acclamation.

For surveyor, Thos. Jones, of Corvallis, was nominated by acclamation.

McFadden moved to leave the office of coroner vacant, as they "expected to have no one to bury in June." Irvine reminded him that the position had no nominee for this office either, implying that the republicans were not expecting many casualties. Some one placed B. F. Irvine in nomination. He sought to dodge the impending honor by stating that there was a motion before the house. His call for the "aye" vote met with no response, but the "noes" seconded like a clap of thunder. Robert Johnson moved that the office of coroner be presented to Mr. Irvine by acclamation, and it was so ordered. Mr. Irvine accepted in a neat speech.

The following were elected delegates to the state convention: W. S. McFadden, B. F. Irvine, Mat Wilhelm, Robt. Johnson, W. H. Malone, Jacob Wrage and P. Avery. For justice of the peace of the Corvallis precincts, E. Holgate was endorsed. The following precinct committeemen were elected: Corvallis No. 1—J D Wells. " " 2—Chas. Heckart. " " 3—S L Henderson. " " 4—T B Davis.

Soap Creek—Joe Smith. Fairmount—Henry Hector. Alsea—A L Clark. Willamette—James Irwin. Summit—Fred Duncan. Monroe—C J Rails. Dusty—C E Banton. Wren—James Robinson. Kings Valley—W S Allconr.

He Wanted a Life-Preserver. A man sometimes renders himself ridiculous by over officiousness and by being over-zealous of his rights. On the other hand, public servants are often to blame for carelessness and negligence in the discharge of their duties. A striking example of both sides of the proposition was afforded by an incident which took place on a Willamette river steam boat about a week ago. A gentleman on board the boat, on retiring for the evening, could not find a life-preserver under his berth where he thought it should be and proceeded to hunt the boat over for the same. He made considerable powwow about life-preservers or the absence of them. He stated that he had traveled the world over and had figured in a shipwreck or two and he demanded a life preserver. On going to one of the officials on the boat the gentleman was informed that if the boat should sink there was no place in the river where she would go down entirely out of sight. Still this did not quiet the traveling man's fears. He made great demands for his rights and really the matter became interesting for fellow passengers. Finally, the officer dealing with the proposition became vexed and went and began throwing out life-preservers for further orders. The officer is said not to have been very courteous in the manner in which he "lammed" life-preservers about. Now, here is the idea in a nutshell: It is believed that the law requires that life-preservers be kept in the staterooms and other places handy for passengers. If it is necessary to have them on board any steamer it would seem to be equally necessary to have them where they could be found without search. The above account was furnished us by a party who was an impartial witness of what transpired on this occasion and the conclusion is that while the traveler was perhaps a trifle too officious and made himself a laughing stock, one of the officers was somewhat lacking in courtesy and attention to his duty.

Two Deaths.

The death of E. J. Elliott occurred at his home about four miles north of this city, last Saturday morning. He was a little more than 37 years of age and was a single man and resided at home with his mother who is an invalid. The deceased was a native of Benton county and was born on the farm where his death occurred and where he passed his entire life. He was a highly respected young man and besides many friends who mourn his loss he is survived by his mother and four brothers.

The cause of death was acute meningitis and he only suffered a day or two before death resulted. The remains were interred in the Locke cemetery at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The funeral services were held at the family home and were conducted by Rev. F. L. Moore, of this city.

The death of Mrs. Mary Milhollen occurred at 7 o'clock Friday evening, at her home a mile or two east of this city, at the age of nearly 67 years. A short time ago she suffered a stroke of paralysis from which she never recovered. The remains were interred in the Oakville cemetery at 11 o'clock Sunday morning and the funeral services were conducted by Rev. Henderson.

Her maiden name was Mary Sherer and she was born June 1, 1835, in Ohio. At the age of 17 she came to Oregon and took up her residence in Linn county, where she resided until death. She was united in marriage with David Milhollen, who, with three daughters and a son, survives her.

The deceased was an estimable christian woman and aside from a large circle of relatives had numerous friends who will mourn her loss.

YOUNG MEN'S STYLE

One of the most successful and popular clothing styles for young men ever designed was Hart, Schaffner & Marx' original "Varsity" sack.

This season's Young Men's Style is quite different in cut, but not in its promise of great popular favor, among men who seek the latest and best style; nor in the excellent quality. The "flare" in the skirts is gone and the front of the coat is changed decidedly, but it's the style all right. If you want to have the right thing you must find the H. S. & M. label; other makers may try to imitate the style; the label is your clothes-insurance policy. We add to the makers' own guarantee of your satisfaction.
