Candidates, if you ride a Rambler bicycle you will be sure to get there in a hurry. J. K. Barry, agent, at Bicycle Hospital.

May 6th was the anniversary of the tolling of the wagon bridge across the Willamette at Albany. The receipts for the year approximate $3,500.

Mrs. C. F. Hotchkies had a fall on the sidewalk a little more than a week ago that bruised her up considerably. In the fall she broke one of her thumbs.

Tam Case has disposed of his interest in the O A C barber shop to his former partner, E. A. Cummings. Mr. Case will leave shortly for Eastern Oregon to seek a location.

The O A C band boys are in a quiver of excitement at present over their trip to Newport next week. They will constitute an orchestra among them and will give a dance while they are over there.

Colonel Phillips and J. F. Yates, of this city, will address the voters of Kings Valley in the school house at that place on the evening of May 17th, at 8 o'clock. All persons, irrespective of party, are cordially invited.

A fine concert grand Chickering piano arrived from Portland, Friday, for use during the May Festival. It was furnished by the Eilers Piano House and the only expense was the cost of carriage. It is a splendid instrument.

The Corvallis (Oregon) creamery has received an order for two hundred 100-pound boxes of butter. This certainly speaks well for the reputation of H. W. Kaupisch, proprietor of the creamery, as a maker of butter, says the Pacific Homestead.

J. W. Moore, father of Mrs. S. N. Wilkins, arrived from his Eastern Oregon home last week for a short visit with relatives in this city. He leaves shortly for a six-weeks' trip through California, going as far south as Los Angeles. He will be accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Vineyard Brock.

Mrs. S. R. Withrow, of Corvallis, who went to St. Louis about six weeks ago for treatment of cancerous disease, is reported to be improving. She was given up by the doctors in Oregon, but is now able to walk several blocks. When the plaster was taken off apparently all the cancer came with it and instant relief was experienced.

James Lane, of Indiana, a brother of W. G. Lane, of this city, arrived in Corvallis, Friday. He was accompanied by a gentleman by the name of Woods and together they went to Southern Oregon, leaving here Saturday. It is surmised that the gentlemen went down there to look up timber land. They will return here shortly.

Wayne Osburn, who recently completed his course at the U. S. naval school at Annapolis, is now at the home of his parents at Eugene. It is stated that he has a commission on the battle ship Oregon. He is related to James and David Osburn, of this city. Congressman Tongue secured his appointment to the naval academy.

J. A. Spangler took a class of O A C students out Saturday afternoon and gave them a lesson in practical engineering with the traction engine. He had nine students with him, one of whom was a girl, Miss Minnie Smith. Each student was given an opportunity to handle the engine and the young lady managed it as well as any of them.

J. R. Smith and wife arrived home from a trip to Portland and other places, last Friday. While in Portland Mr. Smith ordered the pipe for the various sewers that are to be constructed in this city by J. R. Smith & Co. There will be five carloads of pipe altogether. Work was commenced yesterday on the sewer near the J. W. Wilbank's property. Fifteen or twenty men will be employed. One carload of pipe was expected up with the freight last night.

John W. Simpson was out on Oak Creek a few days ago and caught a string of 30 fine brook trout. John has a pretty good record as a fisherman, but he has a scheme for baiting trout that appears to be irresistible. He catches chubs in the Willamette river and cuts a strip of flesh from the backs of them. These pieces of flesh he gives a liberal dressing of equal amounts of sugar and salt and places in a vessel. When treated in this manner, he says the bait will keep good all summer. The sweet taste is what gets close up to the trout, and John says that by resorting to this method he can catch trout where there isn't any.

W. A. Sanders, Jeweler.

Lebanon has announced her intention to celebrate the Fourth of July.

Dr. Harper has been quite sick for the past several days with tonsillitis.

Clayton Herron came up from Portland on the excursion train, Sunday.

Wool and mohair is beginning to come to town. The latter is worth about 25 cents per pound.

Miss Adelaide Greffoz came up on the excursion Sunday, from Portland, and enjoyed a brief visit with old friends.

Miss Juliet Fullerton, accompanied by her niece, Cornelia Glass, left yesterday for Corvallis to visit her parents.—Oregon City Enterprise.

The force of this office is again under obligations to James Bier for a treat in the form of a case of his superb soda pop. From the "devil" up we take off our hats to James.

The Oregon State Fair Association is offering liberal prizes again this year for the best county exhibit of agricultural and horticultural products. The first premium will be $300.

Mr. Weitman, who was sinking a well on College Hill for Miss E. J. Chamberlain, struck an abundance of water at a depth of 165 feet. He is now drilling for Mrs. Ida Callahan.

There is quite a hustle for timber land now-a-days. The Misses Mary, Emma and Olive Thompson recently returned from a trip into the Siuslaw country, where they secured timber claims.

It is generally believed that there will be an abundance of apples and cherries in this section this year. However, among prune growers there seems to be a fear that the prune crop is a trifle short.

Miss Minnie Logan, who is attending high school in Portland, came up on the excursion train from Portland, Sunday, for a brief visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Logan, and her sister, Miss Bessie Logan.

Rev. Carl D. Thompson spoke on the political issues of the day from the standpoint of a socialist at the church Saturday afternoon. Those who heard him, credit Mr. Thompson with being a splendid speaker.

Mr. Eggie, who lives just east of Corvallis, took nine hogs to Shedd's last week and sold them for 6 cents per pound gross. The lot weighed 1790 pounds and they brought $107.40, or practically $12 a piece. There is money in hogs.

Sidney Trask came over from his home at Tangent, Saturday, and returned home, Sunday. He came over after his wife, who had been at the home of her parents, Rev. and Mrs. P. A. Moses, for more than a week, receiving medical treatment.

Prof. F. S. Haroun, who is in charge of the business department of Philomath College was in from that place, Saturday. He evidently intends setting a pretty hot pace for some one in his part of the world, because he purchased a new B & H "bike" of Dilley while in town.

W. W. Linten, of Grand Travers county, Mich., is one among the large number of home-seekers who are arriving in Corvallis, daily. He is very much pleased with Oregon, and Benton county in particular. He expects to locate in this county providing he can find a farm that suits him.

Memorial Day is close at hand once more and the usual preparations are in progress to fittingly observe the occasion. This is a day that brings reflections and sad memories and has a tendency to make "all the world akin." It is a duty of love to remember the departed. And to visit their places of rest and place flowers over them brings its reward in many ways.

Next Sunday there will be an excursion to Salem on the Steamer Peoria. She will leave Corvallis promptly at 9 a. m., and returning will leave Salem at 4 p. m. sharp. This will undoubtedly be a splendid trip, and aside from the beautiful views to be had on the river, those who go will have an opportunity to see the capitol of the state, the penitentiary, asylum, and various other state buildings.

In department No. 2 of the Circuit Court Attorney Carey F. Martin on yesterday commenced a proceeding for a divorce from his wife, Adda D. Martin, on the ground of desertion. The complaint alleges that the parties were married in 1896, and lived together until 1898, when the defendant left the home of the plaintiff and has not since returned. The complaint alleges that in 1899, the plaintiff, being unable to induce his wife to return, divided his property with her, giving her one-half of all he then owned whether acquired during their married life or previous thereto. The complaint asks for no costs, and contains nothing indicating domestic unhappiness other than simple desertion since 1898.—Statesman. Mrs. Martin was formerly Miss Adda Davenport.

T. T. Vincent.

"The Abe Lincoln of Benton," is what his friends call T. T. Vincent, republican candidate for recorder of Benton county. There is much in Mr. Vincent's appearance and manner to justify this sobriquet. Tall and angular, with a swinging gait; kind and gentle in his manner; possessed of a benign countenance and a genial smile, Mr. Vincent attracts attention and makes warm and abiding friends.

Mr. Vincent was born in Allen county, Ohio, March 14, 1853. His parents moved to Minnesota in the fall of the same year. He completed a thorough public school course, and attended the state university of Minnesota at Minneapolis for several terms. Having his own way to make in life, he began teaching when 18 years of age, and taught four terms in Minnesota, coming to Oregon in 1875. He continued teaching in Marion, Polk and Washington counties until 1884, when he was elected county school superintendent, of schools in Washington county. He was re-elected in 1886, practically without opposition.

Mr. Vincent then engaged in the lumber business in Yamhill county for two years, and in 1890 was one of the original organizers of the "Capital Lumbering Co." of Winlock, Wash., with a capital stock of $50,000. He was president of the company and general manager of the business. The firm employed, in 1891, between 50 and 60 men.

Mr. Vincent retired from the above firm in 1892, and in 1893 bought the old "Brit Wood" place in Kings Valley, this county. For the last few years he has been living on his farm, and has been teaching in Kings Valley and schools adjacent to his home.

He is highly respected by his neighbors and acquaintances for his sterling integrity, his upright and consistent life, and for his genial and agreeable manners.

He has the confidence of all his friends, who number some of the most prominent men in the state.

Writing under date of Nov. 4, 1900, from Eugene, the late Professor E. B. McElroy said: "It affords me pleasure to say that I have been personally acquainted with Mr. T. T. Vincent, of Kings Valley, this state, for many years, and I certify to his personal worth, his educational qualifications, and his ability as a teacher."

J. N. Hart, ex-superintendent of schools in Polk county, writing from Dallas, Nov. 2, 1900, said of Mr. Vincent: "Prof. T. T. Vincent is one of the most successful public school teachers in this county. During my term as school superintendent of Polk county I had the opportunity to gain a personal knowledge of his work, and I can say it ranked along with the best."

D. M. C. Gault wrote, under date of October 26, 1900, from Hillsboro: "I have known T. T. Vincent for nearly, or quite 20 years, and have known him as an honest, conscientious, capable man, and can see no reason why he should not be successful wherever employed."

No further proof than this is needed of Mr. Vincent's standing throughout the state. He is even more highly regarded here at home. He is thorough, capable, an excellent penman, and will make as good a recorder as Benton county ever had.

Geo. H. Waggoner.

Geo. H. Waggoner has given such excellent satisfaction as county surveyor for the past two years, that the recent republican convention rewarded him with a second nomination. If splendid service and unexcelled fitness count for anything, the nomination should be paramount to an election. The difficult task of finding and locating the disputed boundary line between Benton and Lane counties was completed with such accuracy and dispatch by Mr. Waggoner that not one word of complaint or dissatisfaction has been heard. All other business of this nature done by him for the county has met with the same approval.

Mr. Waggoner has been a resident of this county for the past 25 years. With his family he now resides about two miles south of Dusty. He was born in Linn county in 1866. While the greater part of his life has been spent on the farm, his education has not been neglected. He is a college graduate with a B. S. degree. For the past ten years he has been actively engaged as a surveyor, having adopted civil engineering as his occupation. He has been a lifelong republican, but his acquaintances and neighbors of all parties will be glad to give him their support.

Local Field Meet.

A local fieldmeet at the college Saturday afternoon attracted quite a number of students and townspeople. Considering the condition of the track and the rawness of the weather, the records made were favorable.

A new feature at these games was introduced by the young ladies of the college. They served ice cream and cake at the army entrance during the progress of the games on track and field. The idea proved quite popular.

Following is the order of events and records made:

- 100-yard dash—Moore, 1st; Woodcock, 2nd; Carnahan, 3rd; 11 4-5 sec.
- 220-yd—Gellatly, 1st; Tully, 2nd; Burnaugh, 3rd; 26 1/4 sec.
- 440-yd—Steiner, 1st; Farra, 2nd; Hains, 3rd; 62 sec.
- Half Mile—Farra, 1; Steiner, 2nd; Belknap, 3rd; 2:25.
- 1 Mile—Gardiner, 1st; Larson, 2nd; Wallace, 3rd; 5:38.
- 120 yd Hurdle—Woodcock, 1; Cate, 2; Cathey, 3—18 1/4 sec.
- 220 yd Hurdle—Cate, 1; Cathey, 2; Woodcock, 3—30 sec.
- Broad Jump—Burnaugh, 1; Moores, 2; Cathey, 3—18 ft. 6 inches.
- Pole Vault—Woodcock, 1; Gellatly, 2; Rhinehart, 3—9 ft. 4 inches.
- Discus—Burnaugh, 1st; Allen, 2nd; Hinrichs, 3rd; 88 ft 4 in.
- Shot put—Burnaugh, 1st; Allen, 2; Wilkes, 3; 32 ft.
- High Jump—Thompson, 1st; Burnaugh, 2nd; Moores, 3rd; 5 feet.

What Mr. Kaupisch Said.

Manager Kaupisch, of the Corvallis Creamery, said to the GAZETTE man yesterday, the conversation having turned to the subject of the new enterprises recently established in this vicinity and the kind of encouragement the people were giving them: "There is no accounting for what people will do. They get into an old rut and it is difficult to get them out of it. For instance, they now have the opportunity to get fresh butter every day at the Corvallis Creamery. Every roll is full weight, 32 ounces, and guaranteed absolutely pure. The price is 35 cts. per roll. Yet you will find people who still keep on buying store butter that is invariably light in weight, of unknown age, and with no one to stand sponsor for its purity. If they were getting it cheaper than they can get butter at the creamery, that might be an inducement. But they can't. They pay 35 cents per roll for it, and as a rule it doesn't weigh over 1 3-4 pounds to the roll. Our creamery is near Main street, and very convenient for shoppers, being only one block east of the Occidental hotel. The highest market price is always paid for cream and butter fat."

The Festival.

This will be a week never to be forgotten by the music lovers of Corvallis and the Willamette Valley in general. The first concert will be given in the Armory tonight. It will be an orchestral concert by the members of the Portland Symphony Orchestra. Tomorrow evening Mendelssohn's "Hymn of Praise" and Rossini's "Stabat Mater" will be produced by the orchestra and a chorus of about 200 voices, and on the following evening Handel's "Messiah" will be given by the same people. Beyond a doubt, this will be the greatest thing of the kind ever given in the Pacific Northwest and no one can afford to let such an opportunity to hear such world-renowned works escape them.

Everything that would in any way assist in making this artistic success has been looked after. The advance sale of seats has exceeded all expectations, so that the financial end of the undertaking is on a safe basis and the artistic side of the matter is equally assured. There is no better building in the state for the production of these musical master-pieces and the placing of 100 electric lights above the orchestra and chorus and the fine stage decorations will make the whole scene resplendent—music, beauty and light. Here's to the success of the May Festival of Music as Corvallis will give it.

Out of Litigation.

The Hotel Corvallis property which has been in litigation for the past 10 or 12 years is now out of the hands of the courts. In pursuance of an order of the circuit court issued last March the property was sold at sheriff's sale last Saturday afternoon. The property was sold in three parcels, and was bid in by E. T. Taggart, of Portland, acting for Francis I. Dunbar. The first parcel, a half lot, brought $2,000; the second, a full lot, $3,500; and the building $2,000. While the property is in the name of Francis I. Dunbar, Mr. Swanson is believed to be the equitable owner.

Mr. Swanson was present during the sale. Business called him to Portland, but he will return Friday at which time it is believed that he will let contracts for extensive repairs on the building. It needs a new roof. The lower floors need raising and bracing, and the south side of the hotel should be covered with galvanized iron or be otherwise protected. Mr. Swanson will, in all probability, fit the building up for a hotel and have it in operation as soon as possible.

FURNISH AND FULTON

Will Speak at Opera House This Afternoon.

W. J. Furnish, republican candidate for governor, accompanied by Hon. C. W. Fulton, will be in Corvallis today. They will make addresses at the Opera House this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. A program has been arranged and a rousing good time will be enjoyed by all who attend. Mr. Fulton is the best orator in Oregon, and the most popular man in the republican party in this state. His arguments are always logical and convincing and his style is clean and forceable. Every body is cordially invited to attend these exercises.

The Big Excursion.

The Past Grand Sachem's excursion from Portland to this city and return last Sunday, brought 2,700 people to Corvallis. Three trains of 11 coaches each arrived over the C. & E. from Albany a few minutes apart, the first section reaching here about 2:30 p. m. After a stay of nearly two hours, during which time a number of the excursionists visited the Agricultural College and inspected the city, the train left over the Westside for Portland.

The afternoon was delightful and hundreds of Corvallisites were at the depots to welcome the excursionists. The following were among the former Corvallisites who took advantage of this opportunity to visit old friends and old scenes: Mrs. O. M. Rose, Misses Carrie and Sarah Harris, Adelaide and Rosalie Greffoz, Jessie Hufford; Messrs Lee Beach, Harris, Geo. Bigham, Arthur Bier, Ernest Redd, and Eugene Allphin.
