NOT A WEALTHY BODY.

There is a popular but mistaken idea that the U. S. Senate is a body made up of millionaires. It is supposed that money secures a seat in this, the highest legislative body in the country. The recent failure of Addicks to buy his way into the Senate from little Delaware is proof that this is not a correct conclusion. Wealth exerts little influence upon the senate as a body. The wealthiest member has no place on any important committee, never addresses the senate and would not be listened to if he did. The aggregate wealth of a dozen of the richest men in that body is set down as not exceeding $65,000,000. But few of this number would be regarded as rich men in New York City. Only a few senators own their homes in Washington. The majority depend on their senatorial salaries for support, pieced out, it may be, with some revenue derived from work on committees. Hoar is a poor man and lives in a boarding house. Allison is on the same financial basis; yet these two men wield a mighty influence on legislation. Our own Mitchell is a poor man, yet few senators have more influence than he.

So we might follow to the end of the chapter and show that wealth is not the mighty legislative power that many think. The truth is it has less influence on our legislative bodies now than twenty-five years ago. At that time the U. S. Senate was a less numerous body yet there were twice as many rich men in it then as now. The same may be said of state legislatures, especially in the older states. Intellect, educated brains, moral worth and courage never counted for more and mere wealth for less than now. He is an ignoramus or an unprincipled demagogue who asserts the contrary and undertakes to bring our people, especially the youth of the land to accept the view that the rich make and administer our laws.

The communication from Mr. W. H. Curran regarding C. E. Woodson, which appears in another column of this paper, is a deserved tribute to the ability, integrity and sound business judgment of Mr. Woodson from one of the best-known citizens and business men of this county. As Mr. Curran says, Mr. Woodson needs no testimonial in his worth here in Corvallis where he has so thoroughly identified himself with the interests of this city and county, that he has given his time, talents and energies to assist in building up the Agricultural college, the city and Benton county. But Mr. Curran speaks in Mr. Woodson's behalf, that persons who are unacquainted with Mr. Woodson personally shall not be influenced by reports designed to injure him and deceive them.

Mr. Curran has known C. E. Woodson intimately for seventeen years, and he speaks of him in terms that any man should be proud of. Coming as this testimonial does from a man who has been for years the local manager of one of the largest business concerns in this state it will put to rest any charges made that Mr. Woodson lacks business ability, or that he will be imprudent or reckless in the management of the business affairs of this county when he is elected to act as judge of the county court.

Suggestions on Roads.

EDITOR GAZETTE: Will you permit me through your paper to call the attention of our citizens to what seems to me to be a very practical and comparatively inexpensive method of improving some of the roads of Benton county, especially those near the centers of trade? It is that practiced by the late Mr. Wallace, of Salem, who bought a few years ago a large fruit farm a few miles west of Salem, in Polk county, the one which Prof. McElfresh, formerly of the Agricultural College, now superintendent. Mr. Wallace paid 20 or 25 cents per load for all gravel dropped on the road from Salem to his farm. He got all the teamsters to put a wheel or two on their wagons, in their wagons so that when they went to town with wood or any other load they could return with a load of gravel, picked up at the river, and place it on the road. All the farmers took to the plan with enthusiasm and not only benefited their roads, but earned enough money each day to more than pay all expenses of the irregular business. It is said that road is now nearly perfect. It is reported that the Marion county court has made a similar offer to the farmers and teamsters of that county.

Corvallis and Benton county jointly own a fine bed of gravel at the edge of Corvallis, and if the farmers of the vicinity favor the plan of hauling gravel on their return trips from town, and the county court think the plan advisable, the farmers and teamsters would earn some money and lose but little time, and the county revenue sure, substantial improvements of some of its roads. It is probably the same facilities for securing gravel exist at Monroe and Philomath. After the roads are well improved in all directions for a distance of eight or ten miles from these centers there would not be a great deal of the much traveled road of the county to be improved. A man ought to load his wagon in 20 minutes and unload it in ten minutes, and really not spend in roadwork each trip more than half an hour. His team would thus work going and returning from town, which is good economy of time; but the great end to be accomplished that of securing good highways would be certain. In five years time great improvement could be made with little expense either in time or money. Where there is so much road making material at hand, and where the roads are so bad for so long a time each year as in the Willamette Valley, it does seem that some plan might be devised to improve them. I now feel, after reading the foregoing, that I may be considered as too officious in suggesting anything on road improvement, if so, pardon me, I hope we may secure soon better facilities for travel on our highways.

Yours truly, W. E. YATES. Corvallis, May 13 1902.

Brain-Feed Nonsense. Another ridiculous food fat has been branded by the most competent authorities. They have dispelled the silly notion that one kind of food is needed for brain, another for muscles, and still another for bones. A correct diet will not only nourish a particular part of the body, but it will sustain every other part. Yet, however good your food may be, its nutriment is destroyed by indigestion or dyspepsia. You must prepare for their appearance or prevent their coming by taking regular doses of Green's August Flower, the favorite medicine of the healthy millions. A few doses aids digestion, stimulates the liver to healthy action, purifies the blood, and makes you feel buoyant and vigorous. You can get Dr. G. G. Green's reliable remedies at Graham & Wortham. Get Green's Special Almanac.

CHILDREN ESPECIALLY LIABLE. Burns, bruises and cuts are extremely painful and if neglected often result in blood poisoning. Children are especially liable to such mishaps because not so careful. As a remedy DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is unequalled. Draws out the fire, stops the pain, soon heals the wound. Beware of counterfeits. Sure cures for piles. "DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured my baby of eczema after two physicians gave her up," writes James Mark N. Webster, Ind. "The sores were so bad she could not sleep for five days." Graham & Wells.

CHILD WORTH MILLIONS. "My child is worth millions to me," says Mrs. Mary Bird of Haverhill, Pa. "yet I would have lost her by a cough had I not purchased a bottle of One Minute Cough Cure." One Minute Cough Cure is sure cure for coughs, croup, throat and lung troubles. An absolutely safe cough cure which acts immediately. The youngest child can take it with entire safety. The little ones like the taste and remember how often it helped them. Every family should have a bottle of One Minute Cough Cure handy. At this season especially it may be needed suddenly. Graham & Wells.

ADJUDICIAL INVESTMENT. "I was troubled for about seven years with my stomach and in several years' time," says F. J. Smith, Sencville, Ind. "I had spent $1,000 and never could get anything to help me until I tried Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I have taken a few bottles and am entirely well." You don't live by what you eat, but by what you digest and assimilate. If your stomach doesn't digest your food you are really starving. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does the stomach's work by digesting the food. You don't have to diet. Eat all you want Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and all your stomach troubles. Graham & Wells.
