THE CORVALLIS GAZETTE.

TUESDAY, JUNE 3, 1902.

DIVIDED VHE OFFICES.

Much difficulty is experienced in securing complete returns from outside precincts in this county. Majorities on offices where the contest was hotly waged were received quite early and by ten o'clock this morning it was known that Moses had been elected clerk over Wilson by 21 votes, and Watters had defeated Woodson for judge by 34 votes. With Alsea to hear from Watters was but two ahead, but that precinct gave Watters 32 majority.

Mr. Woodson's great popularity in Corvallis where he is known is attested by the fact that he carried this city by 79 votes, running ahead of his ticket. The race that he made in the county greatly surprised his opponents. Sheriff Burnett has the largest majority of any democratic candidate.

The republicans have elected senator, representative, commissioner, recorder, constable and coroner; the democrats have judge, clerk, sheriff, assessor, treasurer, surveyor, and justice of the peace.

Congressman Tongue has run ahead of his ticket in this county and district, while Furnish will carry the county by a small majority.

ALL BUT GOVERNOR.

The count throughout the state is exceptionally slow, but latest returns indicate majorities of from 8,000 to 10,000 for the entire republican state ticket, with the exception of governor. While the result on this office is still in doubt, the indications are favorable for the election of Chamberlain by a small majority.

Williamson republican, for congress in the second district, and Tongue, republican, in the first district are elected to congress.

The result as a whole is felicitous for republicans, but the real contest was on governor and to this extent the result will be regarded as a democratic victory outside of this state.

HOMER'S ILIAD.

Book II—A Literal Translation by C. MacLean, Ph. D.

Vv. 786-877. The forces of the Trojans:

But Iris swift footed as the wind came quickly a messenger to the Trojans from Zeus the Aegis-bearer with a sad message; and they, all together, both young and old, were holding an assembly at the gates of Priam. And Iris swift as to her feet standing near (the assembly) addressed it; and as to her voice she resembled Polites the son of Priam, who, as a spy sat, trusting to the swiftness of his feet, on the very top of the mound of the aged Aesyetes, watching when the Achaeans might set out with their ships. Having impersonated him (i. e. Polites) Iris swift as to her feet addressed him (i. e. Priam):

"Old man, always to thee injudicious words are dear, as formerly in times of peace: but a mighty war rushes on. Indeed already very frequently have I entered into (i. e. been present at) the conflicts of warriors, but never yet have I seen such and so many people: for truly (in number) like leaves or sand they came over the plain to fight against the city (See Gen. 32:17). "O Hector, thee especially do I command thus to do. For many allies are at the great city of Priam, and one language is to one and another to another of these widely-dispersed men (i. e. the language of these widely dispersed men is different): Let each hero (i. e. commander) give orders to these, whomsoever he commands, and having marshalled (his own fellow) citizens, let him lead these out (from the city to the field of battle)." Thus she spoke, and Hector did not fail to recognize the speech of a goddess, and he straightway broke up the assembly; and they rushed for their arms (i. e. to fetch them). The whole gate opened (i. e. Scaean gates, leading from the city to the plain), and the people rushed forth; and great (was) the din (which) arose. And in front of the city was a steep hill, on the plain away from (the city), accessible on all sides, which indeed men name Batieira, but the immortals the tomb of Myrina agile (in battle). Here then were the Trojans and their allies arrayed into divisions.

Urges Road Meeting.

LOBSTER, OREGON, May 15, 1902.

EDITOR GAZETTE:

There has been much said in regard to the improvement of our roads, and advising our farmers how to do the work. I want to ask a question and say a word regarding the matter. First, I want to know who the roads belong to. One writer says they belong to the farmer. If so, who does the court house and other public buildings belong to? They must belong to the people that live in the cities and towns where they have been placed. Who built those public buildings? Did not the freeholders do the greater part of it? It is easy to figure.

I like to hear and read people's opinions about public or business affairs that we are all interested in, even though it is not right to the point. Such talks or writing often causes people to get the right conclusion. But I do not like to hear a man or men trying to saddle their duty off on some one else, or not have it done at all. Such men are no doubt strong believers in woman's suffrage.

When people start in business, in order to be successful, everything must be put in order. We can not do business at all without roads any more than we could keep the records of the county or do the business without a court house.

I want to say to you, my dear friends, that you had better call a road meeting, allow a certain number to be present from each road district in the county, and adopt some plan. If you do there is no doubt that you will get well paid for your time, and will do more than has been done in the legislature of Oregon They have never made a road or built a fence. And do not mix our bad roads up with political affairs. They are bad enough now, and will not stand mixing.

I will be glad to meet you in a road meeting to try and accomplish some great good. Yours very truly,

FRANK HUGHES.

CHILDREN ESPECIALLY LIABLE.

Burns, bruises and cuts are extremely painful and if neglected often result in blood poisoning. Children are especially liable to such mishaps because not so careful. As a remedy DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is unequalled. Draws out the fire, stops the pain, soon heals the wound. Beware of counterfeits. Sure cures for piles. "DeWitt's Witch Hazle Salve cured my baby of eczema after two physicians gave her up," writes James Meek N. Webster, Ind. "The sores were so bad she soiled two to five dresses a day." Another ridiculous food fat has been branded by the most competent authorities. They have dispelled the silly notion that one kind of food is needed for brain, another for muscles, and still another for bones. A correct diet will not only nourish a particular part of the body, but it will sustain every other part. Yet, however good your food may be, its nutriment is destroyed by indigestion or dyspepsia. You must prepare for their appearance or prevent their coming by taking regular doses of Green's August Flower, the favorite medicine of the healthy millions. A few doses aids digestion, stimulates the liver to healthy action, purifies the blood, and makes you feel buoyant and vigorous. You can get Dr. G. G. Green's reliable remedies at Graham & Wortham.

A PROFITABLE INVESTMENT.

"I was troubled for about seven years with my stomach and in bed half my time," says E. Demick, Somerville, Ind. "I spent about $1,000 and never could get anything to help me until I tried Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I have taken a a few bottles and am entirely well." You don't live by what you eat, but by what you digest and assimilate. If your stomach doesn't digest your food you are really starving. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does the stomach's work by digesting the food. You don't have to diet. Eat all you want. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure cures all stomach troubles. Graham & Wells

DON'T LIVE TOGETHER.

Constipation and health never go together. DeWitt's Little Early Risers promote easy action of the bowels without distress. "I have been troubled with costiveness nine years," says J. O. Greene, Depauw, Ind. "I have tried many remedies but Little Early Risers give best results." Graham & Wells.
